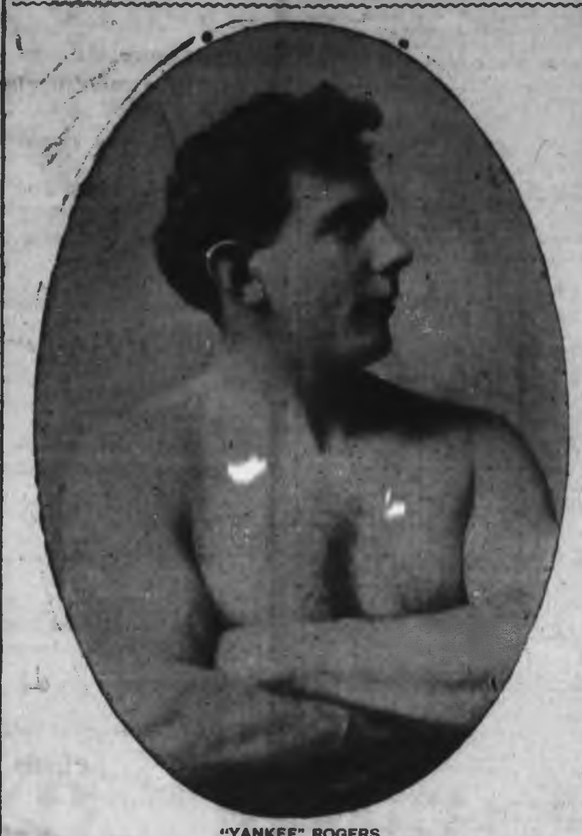
Mohl will show exactly how strong a grip he has by bending into staple shape a number of six-inch spikes with his hands. He will also drive one of these spikes, which will be purchased from some hardware store in the city, through a piece of floor boarding over one inch thick. This also with his hand and without the use of anything excepting a pocket handkerchief with which to protect the palm of his hand from injury. Both these tricks are well worth seeing, and after the wonderful exhibition he gave before an immense crowd in the Peterborough Bowling Alleys last night, the public can and will see that Yankee Rogers is up against the real thing now.



"YANKEE" ROGERS,

MOHL'S WONDERFUL FEAT WATCHED BY BIG CROWD

Several hundred people, of which many were ladies, were present at the Peterborough Bowling Club's alleys last night to watch the exhibition given by Fritz Mohl, the German heavyweight wrestler, who meets Yankee Rogers to-night, and they were amply rewarded. The exhibition given by the big German was a wonderful one, and it was no wonder that the spectators broke out into enthusiastic applause at the conclusion.

Taking up his position at the end of one of the chutes with the pins set in position before him, he gave the signal and Mr. Hemstead, the swiftest bowler in Peterborough, commenced hurling his famous cannon ball expresses at him. Mohl calmly waited until the ball had reached the pins and then caught the swiftly moving missile, while the pins flew all around him. He repeated this risky trick several times, and then removing the pins, allowed Mr. Hemstead to roll the duck pins balls at him. They are much lighter and are hurled down the alley at a speed so great that their flight can hardly be seen. Mohl, however, caught them like ripe cherries dropping from a tree. The exhibition will not soon be forgotten by those who were fortunate enough to be present.

BURNING PAPER IN THE BACK YARDS

Editor Examiner.

Dear Sir,—This burning of waste paper and other refuse in the backyards has become insufferable. Other writers have drawn attention to the nuisance time and again. Our police have no excuse for not doing their duty. They are armed with a bylaw and authority to enforce it. Then why do they not do their duty? The offence is being committed daily in every backyard contiguous to our business streets, and right under their noses. We never can tell at what hour the offence is going to be committed, or we might close our doors and windows for the time being, but to keep them closed all the time is out of the question. One would supposed that a mere hint would be sufficient to have the nuisance stopped.

A SUFFERER.

DIED

FRISE—At 168 McDonel Street, Peterborough, on August 28, 1908, Johanna Vesper, widow of the late Mr. John Frise aged 67 years. Funeral on Monday afternoon, August 31st, at 2 o'clock to Little Lake Cemetery.

Interesting Budget Of News From St. Luke's Parish Magazine

(St. Luke's Parish Church Work.)

At the Lambeth Conference recently held in London, England, and attended by about 250 Bishops of the Church throughout the world, much attention was given to the subject of "Church Union." The decision arrived at was that every effort should be made to unite the Church of England, the Presbyterian Church, the Norwegian Lutheran Church, and the Moravian Church. There is more in common with us, as far as these Christian bodies are concerned, than, for instance, there is between the Methodists, Congregationalists and Baptists. The former have at any rate some claim to antiquity and apostolic characteristics, the latter have not.

We congratulate Miss Edna Rogers very heartily upon having passed the examinations which entitle her to accept a position as a duly qualified Kindergarten directress.

After an absence of one year in England, Miss Emma Denne has returned home. We extend to her a hearty welcome.

Master Harry Smith, grandson of Mrs. H Denne, sr., has distinguished himself to a remarkable degree, in the recent matriculation examinations, obtaining first place, with honours. He is entering the Royal Military College, Kingston, to pursue his studies. Such achievement is worthy of the highest commendation.

The Harvest Festival will be held D.V., on Wednesday, September 23rd. We should be glad if our friends in the country would save for us some wheat, oats ad barley for decorating purposes. We also solicit contributions of flowers, fruit, vegetables, etc., and, above all, many loyal hands, to make the church appear as attractive as possible. Rev. W B Heeney, M.A., Vicar of Barrie, who is a very eloquent speaker, will be the special preacher.

The 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons, of which Rev. Dr. Langfeldt is Chaplain, will go into camp on August 31st, at Barriefield. Rev. Dr. Langfeldt expects to spend a few days with his Regiment while in camp.

We are indebted to Mr. Frank Burnham for donating to our Sunday School library several useful and interesting books.

Rev. Canon Davidson is expected to sail for home on September 17th, from Liverpool, per S. S. "Kensington."

Miss Violet Dover, who is pursuing post-graduate courses in Germany for the last two years, has received from the University of Breslau the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

The Ven. Archdeacon Batty, of Tennessee, who most acceptably supplied the pulpit at St. John's Church, during Canon Davidson's absence, has returned to his home in the United States. rM. Batty endeared himself to all by his courteous and winning manners, and a host of friends regret his leaving. We were privileged with having him twice at St. Luke's during his two months' stay among us.

It is to be hoped that our citizens, in city and country, will do their best to support the forthcoming exhibition at Peterborough, and help to make it a success. The President, Mr. R H Leary, is a most energetic and enthusiastic member of the Society under the auspices of which the exhibition is to be held. He should be encouraged in his good work. Besides the educational and entertaining aspect, the exhibition is a great advertisement of our city.

Rev. Christopher Lord, incumbent of Apsley, who for the past year has been on leave of absence in England, sailed from Liverpool, August 20th, and will resume charge of the Mission of Apsley upon his return.

ASST. CHIEF TAYLOR'S NARROW ESCAPE; A BABCOCK EXTINGUISHER EXPLODES

Assistant Fire Chief Taylor was painfully injured and had a narrow escape from being killed by the explosion of the Babcock extinguisher while on duty at a fire which broke out in the kitchen of the dwelling house of Mr. Wm. Thompson, 481 Albert street, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Taylor was unscrewing the top of the extinguisher when it exploded, and his left hand was badly injured by the concussion, the thumb being almost torn off, while the fingers were mangled and the back of the hand painfully cut. The top of the extinguisher shot up to the ceiling of the room with terrific force, fortunately missing the assistant chief. Had it struck him he would without a doubt have been killed. His injuries were caused by the concussion and the shock of the explosion was so great that he was hurled against Fireman Geo. Grange, who was standing some feet away, and the two men were literally blown through the kitchen into the shed behind. Mr. Taylor's escape may be considered as a decidedly lucky one.

Despite his injuries he remained on duty until the fire was extinguished, and then had his wounds dressed by Dr. Greer, several stitches having to be put in. The fire-fighter was however, on duty last night.

The fire itself was not of a serious nature. It originated in the kitchen roof from a defective chimney, and the roof and part of the wall were injured; otherwise, there was no damage done.

OBITUARY.

MRS. JOHN FRISE

At the age of 67 years there passed away this morning a well known Peterborough woman in the person of Mrs. John Frise, 168 McDonel street. The deceased had been ill from heart trouble for the past eight months.

She was a member of the George street Methodist church.

Her surviving family are nine daughters, namely, Mrs. J O Miller, Harvey street; Mrs. A Parker, Park street; Mrs. Geo Robertson, 171 Aylmer street; Mrs. C E Chiles, Ottawa; Mrs. J O Bell, Toronto; Misses Eliza and Alzena at home, and Misses Kathleen and Alberta, Toronto.

The funeral will be held on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock to the Little Lake Cemetery.

THE THREE BOYS WERE DISCHARGED

Were Allowed to Go by Magistrate After Receiving Lecture

The three young boys who were found guilty last week of stealing a number of cement sacks from Fl Shuter and from the city, and who were remanded until to-day, appeared before the Magistrate this morning and were allowed to go after listening to a lecture from Mr. Dumble. The Magistrate asked them if they would promise to behave themselves in future if he allowed them to go, and on receiving a reply in the affirmative from each of the three, he dismissed the trio, pointing out to them the serious nature of their offence.

NO BUTTER AND EGGS AT WEDNESDAY'S MARKET

City Folks Go Home Empty Handed—The Price of Hay

Because there were no farmers or farmers' wives at the market hall on Wednesday with butter and eggs a large number of city folk had to go home without these necessaries The reason probably is that the farmers are too busily engaged with the conclusion of their harvests to come to the city.

The hay market is rather lively this week, the best timothy selling at $13.50 and $14.00. The price, however, ranges between $10 and $14. Clover sells at $10 per ton. Hogs are not coming in very rapidly. The price to-day is $6.40.

AN OMEMEE DEPUTATION HEARD

Waited Upon Hon. Mr. Graham to Ask for Grant to Boom the River

Examiner Special:

Omemee, Aug. 26.—Mr. English and family, of the Canadian Electric Company, Peterborough, have been holidaying here.

Miss Morrison, of Peterborough, has returned to her duties.

There is a general feeling of regret about Rev. Mr. Peckover's health not being such as to stand the duties of the three charges here during the fall and winter.

Great encouragement was offered cheerfully by the Minister of Railways and Canals last Friday evening at Fenelon Falls, when he was requested by a deputation from here for a further grant to boom our river and placing buoys in the dangerous places. This was promised to assist in securing the good work already done.

We expect to see two scows of tan bark from North Horney landed here in the near future for the Omemee tannery, when a temporary wharf will be erected until the government wharf is built.

Our Emily and Omemee cemetery is looking fine at this season.

Persons arriving in Omemee are advised to go via the 90-foot tower, 6th concession Emily, near the Fee Settlement. They are operating them now with lights, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Barrow, Jamestown, N.Y., made a flying visit to Millbrook on the 17th inst. Mrs. Barrow is a daughter of Robert Bryans, who some fifty years ago conducted a tinsmith business here. His wife died in May, 1864, and was interred in the old New Connection cemetery. Mrs. Barrow was quite young when she left here with her father. This is the first time she has been here since moving away. During their short stay they called upon Mrs. J. Doak, the Misses Kells, and Mr. T. G. Kells. Miss Annie Kells and Mr. R. J. Doak conducted them to the old New Connection cemetery and assisted in locating the grave of Mrs. Barrow's mother, the spot being marked by a slab of marble which had, unfortunately, been broken off its base. Mr. Barrow, who is a native of the Republic to the south of us, is delighted with the appearance of our village, and the splendid country through which he had for the first time visited, was a revelation to him. Mr. Bryans is still alive and well, living in Jamestown with an unmarried daughter.—Millbrook Mirror.

WEDDING BELLS

BATESON—BRADSHAW

A very pretty wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Bradshaw, Lindsay, when their daughter, Miss Alice, was united by Rev. A. G. Collier to Mr. George Bateson of New York. The bride entered the drawing-room on the arm of her father to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss D. Ruenigk, and was attended by Miss Mabel Adamas as flower girl. The bride was attired in a gown of white silk embroidered mulle and carried a beautiful bouquet of lilies. The flower girl was attired in point d'esprit over white silk and carried a basket of sweet peas. The decorations of the house were beautiful arrangements of green and golden glow.

A sumptuous wedding repast was served, and the happy couple left Lindsay on the 6.20 train for Toronto and other points before going to New York.

The going-away costume of the bride was of new tan and blue cloth with hat and gloves to match.

The many gifts received by the bride were attribute to the high esteem in which she was held.

The bride is a niece of Mrs. John Brown, 525 George street, Peterborough, and is well known in the city, having visited here frequently.

The following were among the guests present—Mrs. A. Gillies of Toronto; Miss Jennie Brown of Peterborough; Mr. A. H. Seymour of Ottawa.

THE STORY OF A WRIT AGAINST LASSWADE MAN

Issued by Mr. Chas. Rishor—Defendant Tries to Get Away

A writ is on file at Mr. Moloney's office, issued by Mr. Chas. Rishor, wholesale grocer, Peterborough, against Mr. John E. King, Lasswade, Hastings county. The former claims $298 owed him by King.

In connection with this case there is an interesting story to tell. The defendant recently disposed of his business in Lasswade and last Saturday left on the excursion for the West, per C. P. R., which passed through Peterborough. Mr. Rishor learned that he was passing through and had P. C. Maharry at the station to arrest him when he arrived. He was successfully intercepted and taken to the office of Mr. D. W. Dumble, solicitor for Mr. Rishor.

The subsequent events are not known, but at any rate Mr. King was allowed to continue on his journey to the West. Some settlement will probably be made.

A TRAMP TENEMENT ON ITS VAGRANT WAY

A manager of a lumber company worked off a little jocular sarcasm at the expense of high city taxes. He said the company had got tired of paying taxes on a tenement house in excess of the revenue from rental and had turned the house on to the street. The homeless house has been wandering around several streets—from Waterford street, its recent location, by way of McDonel street, it has loafed along slowly till this afternoon it has reached Water street, at the corner of Brock. The house which is what is called a "strip house," is being removed by the purchaser, who bought it from the Dickson Company, to Westcott street, where it will be converted into a new dwelling.

WHOLESALE THEFTS CHARGED

Local Youth Taken to Cobourg Where He is Wanted by the Authorities

HE WAS ARRESTED HERE

John Lasure, a local youth of 17 years, was taken to Cobourg this morning by Chief Constable J. C. Ruse, of that town, where he is wanted on a serious charge of theft.

He is alleged to have stolen a bicycle from Fred Barette, of this city, and rode on it to Cobourg. On Friday night he took the horse and buggy belonging to Mr. W. Johnston, of Grafton, from the shed of the Balmoral Hotel, Cobourg, and drove to Peterborough. Another serious charge against him is that of having broken into the trunk of the hostler at the Balmoral and stolen an overcoat, hat, shirt, pair of opera glasses and a razor. All these goods were recovered by the local police. The horse and buggy were found at a local hotel on Saturday evening, after a message had been received from the police department of Cobourg. Shortly afterwards the young man was arrested at another hotel.

Chief Ruse left the city at ten o'clock to drive back to Cobourg. He had the horse and buggy and took the young man along with him. Chief Rouse stated that Lasure is wanted in London on a similar charge and is out on suspended sentence from the local court.

The wheel was left at the hotel in Cobourg.

I will sell by public auction, on Saturday morning, September 12th, on the Market Square, at eleven o'clock, one Rubber Tire Stanhope. This is a high-seated vehicle of the runabout style and is practically as good as new. Sale without reserve.

Death Resulted On Sunday Morning From Injuries He Received In Saturday's Fire

Mr. John W. Greer Who Met With Distressing Accident on Saturday Succumbed to Burns—Was Only Seventeen

HE HAD MANY FRIENDS

John W. Greer, or Johnny, as he was popularly known among his boy friends, passed away at the Nicholls Hospital yesterday morning shortly after 11 o'clock, from burns received in the fire at "My Valet" on Charlotte street Saturday morning.

The hopes which his many friends entertained that his injuries would not prove fatal vanished yesterday afternoon when the report of his death was received. He was conscious, it was learned, early in the morning, and, recognising his father, murmured "Hello, dad." Dr. Amys, one of the doctors who attended him, stated that his injuries were too extensive to hope for recovery, about one-third of the surface of the body having been burned, and congestion of the internal organs set in.

The Accident

Mr. Bruce Rickey, uncle of the deceased and proprietor of "My Valet," stated that he was unable to explain the cause of the accident. Johnny was alone when it happened, and made no later explanation. He was working at a shawl in the cleaning room. He did not go home at 12 o'clock for dinner, as that was the last garment he intended to do. He had arranged to go down the river in the afternoon and would thus have the half day. The accident occurred at 12.30. He could scarcely have been smoking, as his pipe was found in his trousers pocket. When the flames caught his clothing he jumped through a window, the sill of which was only a foot or so above the floor, and knocked the whole frame out in his endeavour to get into the air.

Born at Bailieboro

The deceased was born on the farm of his father, Mr. Jas. Greer, about half a mile east of Bailieboro. He was 17 years and 10 months of age. About a year and a half ago the family moved into Peterborough, Mr. Greer retiring from active work. Johnny took a course in the Business College, but when his father and his uncle, Mr. Bruce Rickey, purchased "My Valet," he later started to work with them.

He was a member of St. Andrew's church choir and secretary of the Bible Class. Johnny had many friends, although having lived in the city a comparatively short time. He was a boy of good habits and a genial disposition.

Besides his parents there is only one other member of the family, a little boy named Bruce, of three years.

The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 1.30 from the residence of Mrs. Geo. Rickey, grandmother of deceased, 108 Aylmer street, and will proceed to the Baptist cemetery at Bailieboro for interment.

Mr. and Mrs. Greer have the sympathy of a wide circle of friends in their sad bereavement.

Settlers Near Stony Lake Fight For Three Days To Save Their Homes From The Bush Fire

Special Staff Correspondent.

Stony Lake, Aug. 31.—Bush fires which commenced nearly two weeks ago and are still raging at the head of Stony Lake have provided a picturesque scene for the sojourners at the lake, but present a very different aspect to the settlers in the neighbourhood who for three days last week had to fight night and day to save their homes from destruction in the rapidly-travelling blaze. The fire started the week before last in the bush at South Bay, originating, it is supposed, from a berry-picking party's camp fire. It spread rapidly, the small amount of rain this season making the bush like tinder. At South Bay, 25 cords of hardwood belonging to P. P. Young of Young's Point were licked up by the flames which, fanned by strong breezes, travelled to the north and east, consuming the bush as it went.

The farms of Thos. Hull and Rich. Swanston at the north side of the lake were in great danger for three days and in the two households every one was called out to fight the flames. Deep trenches were dug around the little farms, and though at first it looked as if the flames would jump them and wipe out the houses, eventually they did their work and the fire fiend turned to one side, baffled.

The fire is still raging. Dense clouds of smoke are noticeable during the day and at night the eastern sky is illuminated by the blaze. Last week when an east wind was blowing part of the time the smoke was blown down the lake so thickly that it resembled a fog.

"Trouble Begins" To-morrow In Ten School Buildings

Sixty-Six Rooms to Accomodate the School Population This Year—The Teaching Staff Complete

EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES

The school holidays have reached their limit and "trouble begins" at 9 o'clock to-morrow in ten schools of the city. The holidays and the return of the school season affect those concerned in different ways. The teachers, many of them, began to feel fatigued with such a lengthy period of idleness and time-killing, and welcomed the advent of a season of work. On the other hand the small boy dreads the closing of the season of bird-nesting, orchard pilfering, and unlimited opportunity for "ball." The inside of a school house is as repulsive to him as the inside of a jail to a normally wholesome man. But he will soon fall into the routine of school work and the domination of discipline and get him to work or may transfer his holidays idling to scholastic scenes, according to his temperament. The schools to be opened to-morrow, have been subjected to the usual furnishing and cleaning (except such as are new, and are in "apple-pie order." All the teachers have reported for duty and the opening of the several schools will be the introduction to what is hoped will be a successful school year:

Collegiate Institute, Central Park, new building 11 class rooms on first and second floors, ten to be occupied this year.

Central School, which will be provided with two additional rooms, released for public school purposes by the occupancy of the new Collegiate Institute building, 10 rooms.

The South Central, Rubidge and Sherbrooke streets, 10 rooms.

The Queen Alexandra School, Barnardo avenue 9 rooms.

The East City School, Mark street, 6 rooms.

The West Ward School, Park street, 4 rooms.

St. Peter's (boys) Separate School, Reid street, 6 rooms.

Convent (girls) Hunter street, 6 rooms.

Lake Street School, Lake street, 6 rooms.

In all 66 rooms in ten school buildings will be used for target practice for the young idea, not to speak of Mrs. E. D. Lewis' private school in the Y.W.C.A. building where public school subjects are taught, and which will open to-morrow at the same time as the other schools.

A Gruesome Find Reported To Have Been Made In Manvers Barn

The rumour of a gruesome story was received this morning from a farm near Manvers. Some time ago a stranger presented himself at a farm house asking for a night's lodging. There was no room to offer him and it was thought that he had gone on his way. On Saturday morning, after a strange odour had been noticed about the barn, the cattle refusing almost to enter it, a search was made and the body of the man was found under the hay.

This report was brought from Manvers this morning by a man who was there, but he did not know the party's name. Owing to the locality being cut off from communication it was impossible to get any further information to substantiate the report.

THE 45TH REGIMENT EN ROUTE

Passed Through Peterborough To-day On Way to Kingston

The 45th Regiment of Lindsay passed through Peterborough at noon to-day on its way to the annual camp at Kingston, the men looking trim and soldierly. The regimental band, under the leadership of Bandmaster Roenigk, accompanied the regiment, which is in command of Col. Sylvester, who is very thoughtful in his treatment of the men under him. One of the privates missed the train, but the colonel ordered the train to wait for him. One of the gallant 45th had a narrow escape at the station here, jumping for it at the same time as a brakeman just as it was moving out, and he narrowly escaped falling beneath the wheels. Among the old reliables with the band were Messrs. Alf. Bates, "Goosie" Taylor and Mark Inglee.

EAST PETERBOROUGH NOMINATION.

As will be seen by advertisement elsewhere in this issue, the Executive Committee of the East Peterborough Liberal Association have arranged for a convention of delegates to nominate a candidate to contest the constituency in the Liberal interest at the coming Dominion general elections. The convention will be held at Norwood on Tuesday, September 15, at one o'clock p.m. The delegates will consist of those who were selected for the several polling sub-divisions of the riding to nominate candidates for the Provincial and Dominion elections. At the conclusion of the nomination proceedings a mass meeting to be addressed by prominent Liberals, and which the general public is cordially invited to attend, will be held.

GROWTH OF CANADA'S EXPORTS

The Conservative Government was relieved of office by the over-whelming votes of the electors of Canada, in 1896, after eighteen years of fair trial of its ability to promote the development of the resources of the country. At the end of this period the export trade in Canada's own products had reached a value of $106,000,000, and foreign products exported made $6,000,000 more. In the fiscal year of the Dominion which closed March 31 last, these figures were more than doubled; the exports amounted to $263,000,000 all told.

Every year of the twelve years since 1896 the exports have shown an increase. The least increase in exports of the products of Canada over the record for 1896 was $13,000,000 in 1897; and the greatest increase, $140,000,000 in 1908. Since the Liberal Government took office, the aggregate increase over 1896, has been $917,000,000 for exports of home products alone, and the increase in exports of foreign produce has been $83,000,000—a total increase of $1,000,000,000 the value of the export trade of Canada since the Liberal Government took office.

A LAY SERMON.

The hum of the Eastern factory is the echo of the hum of the Western thresher,—Sir William Van Horne.

Here is a text for a little lay sermon to show the reflex action of Western development upon industrial conditions and prosperity in Eastern Canada and Ontario. The Examiner has frequently pointed out that railway extension in the West contributes to and indeed creates, prosperity in the east. Railway communication promotes settlement; it renders accessible new regions and settlers can go in and, raising grain, have an outlet. Neither of these things is possible without the railway. Every new home means demands upon the commercial and industrial activities of the East. The new home needs furniture, stoves, etc., and the farmstead needs ploughs, harrows, reapers, threshers, etc., and these requirements will be met by the Eastern manufacturers. Any one can see how the chain of demand and supply has been, is being and will be completed. It one settler creates a small demand, one can readily see how thousands will multiply the demands that must be met. Then the activities called into being by the production and shipping of grain easily suggest themselves. The milling industry of this province, of this city and this district depend upon the production and shipment of Western wheat. These depend upon railway communication to first develop settlement and grain growing and secondly to ship out the products of the soil. The Montreal Gazette states in a sentence, the relation of wheat and wheels. It says:—

> Seventy-two millions (the actual figures being one hundred and seven millions) is the estimate of the wheat harvest in the West this year. . . . That ought to turn some wheels on Canadian railways and in Canadian factories.

This is true and briefly expresses a tremendous fact. What has done this? The Canadian Pacific Railway. Without the building and operation of that railway who will dare to say that there would have been, as there is now, in the Canadian West, a million of population where there were only a few scattered thousands when the railway was built? Who will dare to say that without the railway, there would have been three great provinces, with settled forms of Government and the conditions that make for growth and greatness? Who would dare to say that without the railway there would have been this year a wheat crop of one hundred and seven million bushels and a total grain crop of nearly three hundred million bushels? The wheels of the railway have turned the wheels of the plow, the reaper and thresher in the West, and the wheels of the factories in the East. It is almost an insult to the intelligence of the reader to suggest the reactionary relation of the railway to Western settlement, grain production and commercial activity, and the additional relation of these things to industrial and commercial activity in the East of Canada—in Ontario and the other provinces. The C.P.R. has reached its limit in this sense, that Western development and grain growing have outstripped its capacity. Great as are its transportation facilities, the demand is greater.

We need more railway service; need it both to open up new territory, to give access to new grain fields, and to move the resultant crop and the resultant traffic. The more railways we have the more business we shall have for them. This explains the necessity for the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific, if we would not stand still. The Liberal Government saw its necessity and arranged for its construction which is well under way and seven hundred miles of it, west of Winnipeg, will be available for moving a part of the grain crop this year. The Government will complete this line, which will do as much in promoting national growth of population, industry and trade as the C.P.R. has done, and more, for both will go on increasing as the years roll by. The Government should have the opportunity of completing it, and the people will give them an opportunity of doing so.

The live electors of Canada can sympathise with enterprise and will not sympathise with the Little Canadians, who decry and oppose the building of the railway which is the greatest enterprise of the twentieth century as the C.P.R. was the greatest enterprise and forward step of the nineteenth century. Verily Van Horne was right when he said that "the hum of the Eastern factory is the echo of the hum of the thresher"—"Wheat and wheels," development and progress and national expansion, go together.

DOUBTFUL PATRIOTS.

Canadian Courier.

Occasionally an English-speaking Canadian, whose father and grandfather were born in Canada, will be heard to cast doubts upon the patriotism and loyalty of an Irishman who has not yet forgotten the wrongs of Ireland. Or it may be that he has similar doubts concerning the French-speaking Canadians who love the tricolour, have considerable reverence for France and cling tenaciously to their mother-tongue. Such a doubter believes that to be loyal and patriotic, a Canadian must speak only English words and revere only the Union Jack.

The other day the Canadian Club of New York held its annual banquet and Dr. Macphatter, the president, started his address by saying: "We Canadians, residing in the United States, are three times loyal—we are loyal to the land that gave us birth (cheers), we are loyal to the institutions and government of this great Republic (cheers), we are loyal to the Anglo-Saxon race (cheers)." The pictures of the banquet show that a British flag was hung beside the Stars and Stripes. The speakers of the evening were mostly Canadians—Hon. Charles Marcil, Deputy Speaker of the House of Commons; Mr. Hugh Guthrie, M.P., of Guelph; Hon. Justice Longley, of Halifax; Hon. D. C. Fraser, Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia; Mr. R. G. McPherson, of Vancouver; and the Right. Hon. James Bryce, the British Ambassador at Washington. In addition to the Canadians who introduced the speakers, there were two United States orators, Jon. J. Van Vechten Olcott, of New York, and Rev. Dr. N. McGee Waters, of Brooklyn.

As a result of that banquet, did any one arise in the United States to say that the Canadians in the United States were disloyal or unpatriotic? So far as we know, no one was so foolish. Every person recognizes that loyalty to Canada on the part of one of these expatriated Canadians is not incompatible with loyalty to the United States. Their homes, their families and their investments are there and they are just as good citizens as any other class. Perhaps if war broke out between the United States and Great Britain, some of them would sympathize with Great Britain. Perhaps some of them would sell out and come back to Canada. Those who would do this would be but a small percentage.

If we believe that the Canadians in the United States are loyal to the Republic, in spite of their Canadian Clubs and their hanging of the Canadian flag in their homes and banquet-halls, why should we not accept the Irishman and the French-speaking Canadian as loyal subjects of His Majesty and as good Canadian citizens? If loyalty to their native land is no defect in the character of Canadians resident in New York or Boston, why should loyalty to France and the French language be a defect in the French-Canadian?

Again, there is a positive reason why the French-Canadian should be loyal to Canada which does not exist in the case of the Canadian in the United States. The French-Canadian can trace his Canadian ancestry back four, five and six generations. His family tree has its roots deeply fixed in Canadian soil. This element does not exist among the present-day Canadians in the United States.

Looked at in this way, there is little if any ground for doubting the loyalty of the French Canadian. He is provincial, no doubt. He is clannish also, though not more so than the Scotch or the Irish. He has affections and sentiments which the English-speaking Canadian cannot fully understand, but he is nevertheless as good a patriot as the rest of us. He recognizes the prime qualities of the British constitution and form of government with its thoroughly Canadian basis, and when he places these in opposition to the less stable qualities of French republicanism and French infidelity, he cannot be otherwise than thoroughly Canadian and strongly British.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Under the Liberal administration of public affairs in Canada there has been progress all along the line. Under the Conservative regime there was a decline in shipping tonnage, becoming sharper as time passed on. Under a Liberal administration the blue books show that the decline has been arrested and the gain is going forward. The net gain in the registration of ships last year was 392 new vessels valued at $1,700,000.

It is announced that the leader of the Dominion Conservative party, Mr. R. L. Borden, will this week begin in Nova Scotia another speaking tour which will carry him across the Dominion. When he goes into Western Canada the people up, here, says the Manitoba Free Press, will want to know the meaning of his "adequate protection" policy, which, on his last visit to the West, he was very careful to avoid explaining. They are particularly anxious to know whether he is in favour of, or opposed to, the demand of the Manufacturers' Association for higher duties on woollen goods.

Standing The Test.

By W. F. Bryan.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

Excitment was at white heat in the convention town. The ring was in the last ditch, fighting gamely. Robert Woodham, who had led many another forlorn hope and who had grown gray in the service of his party (as he had understood that service), shook his head as he went over the columns of figures in the inner office at the temporary headquarters.

Try as he would he could not figure a victory. The two-thirds rule prevailed and he could count barely a majority for the ring candidate. The nomination of Dudley for governor meant the triumph of the reform faction and the utter disruption of the state machine, for Foster stood pledged to investigate to the fullest the graft charges brought against the ring.

On the other hand, Graham Bailey was secretly pledged to forget the same promises he had made. Apparently both men were eager to uncover the graft that was the disgrace of the party, but Foster alone was sincere.

The exposure of the graft scandals would not affect Woodham directly. He had always kept himself clear of the crooked work in the party. Could it be accomplished quietly, he would welcome the feat of ridding the party of those politicians who were responsible for the scandal, but here lay the trouble! The graft was widespread. Its uncovering would disrupt the entire party machine. New and inexperienced men would be placed in charge of the party interests, and no members of the old ring could find a place in the councils.

To Robert Woodham politics was as the breath of life to his nostrils. He had played the game from the day that he had organized the Junior Marching club in the little village which had been his boyhood home. It was his sole relaxation. Other strategists played chess. He preferred the political pawn to the bits of carved wood or ivory and his board was an entire state.

Now he saw the end of it all. Unless on an early ballot he could swing the doubtful delegates into the Bailey ranks there would be a stampede to Foster. If he could arrange to stampede some of the Foster delegates to Bailey the uncertain delegates would probably follow the lead of the deserters.

As for the hundredth time his eye ran down the column his hands clinched nervously. His glance rested for a moment on Crosby county with its eleven votes.

Crosby county stood committed to Foster. Could Woodham induce them to change it would mean a difference of twenty-two votes for Bailey, the eleven votes added and the eleven taken away from the Foster adherents. The head of the Crosby delegation was Howard Graves. The others would vote as he voted. And only a few days before Graves had asked consent to marry Marian Woodham!

At the time Woodham had refused because Graves was a young attorney still struggling for recognition at the bar, while Woodham was ambitious for his daughter. Now he drew a sheet of paper toward him and wrote rapidly for a moment. Then he thrust the sheet into an envelope and called a messenger.

An hour later Howard Graves, resting in his room at the hotel for the battle of the morrow, received the missive and read it a dozen times before he placed it in his pocket.

It was diplomatically worded. It did not openly bribe, but suggested that the writer had learned that he was mistaken as to Graves' political affiliations. If it was true, as he now had reason to believe, that Graves and the Crosby delegation were in reality supporters of the Bailey boom, he begged to withdraw his opposition to the match Graves had suggested.

Graves was still uncertain when he went into the convention hall the following morning. From his place in the Skeene county delegation Woodham nodded pleasantly to him and with a glance directed the young attorney's gaze into the galleries.

These ran from the four sides of the hall, and directly above the chairman's desk sat Marian Woodham. She had come down in answer to her father's telegram the night before, and they entered the convention hall before he had explained to her the reason he had sent for her.

"You keep your eye on Graves and he will vote right," had been her father's admonition. "Your wedding present will be that house on Maple street, and you can furnish it as you like. I'll take your husband into the firm too."

It was a heavy bribe. The house alone was worth $10,000, and a partnership with Woodham, Calla & Creagh would save Graves a weary struggle. It was scarcely to be wondered at that her face was white and wan as she leaned over the balcony rail and tried to smile at Graves.

She heard as in a dream the preliminaries. The state chairman placed Bailey's name in nomination, and her father seconded it, asking that the nomination be made unanimous. There was a derisive hoot from the opposition at this, and some one nominated Dudley Foster, and some one else made the seconding speech. There were no other nominations, and the chairman of the convention directed that the balloting begin.

It was the custom in the convention for the spokesman of each delegation to announce the vote when the name of his county was called, and the lifeless voice of the clerk began.

From the first it was apparent that the contest would be close, and as Crosby county was called there was a stir through the hall. All the morning there had been rumors that some of the Foster delegates would go over to the ring candidate, and Crosby county had been one of those mentioned. As Graves rose in his place men moved forward on the edge of their chairs and Marian's face went deadly white.

For a moment Graves stood unsteadily regarding the blur of faces, in which Marian's stood out distinctly. Even at that distance he could see that she was intensely interested, and the thought that she counted on his treachery hurt for a moment, even though he realized that it was natural that she should be interested in her father's success.

To him the time seemed an hour; to others it seemed a full minute, though it was not one-quarter of that time. Then with a steady voice Graves answered:

"Crosby county casts eleven votes for the Hon. Dudley Foster."

For a moment there was the stillness of a house of death. Then the ringing cheers broke out, and a moment later Dannon county, one of the uncertain quantities, followed Graves' lead and the stampede was started, but not at all in accordance with Woodham's plans.

The hall was still ringing with the cheers of the triumphant Foster rooters when a telegraph boy approached Graves with a message that he was wanted outside. Quickly he made his way through the jubilating crowd to the hall to come face to face with Marian.

"Forgive me," he said brokenly. "I tried my best to answer your appeal, but my vote was not my own. It was a trust of the people who sent me here and I could not be false to them."

"My appeal!" Marian clapped her hands softly. "You old darling, I was so afraid that you would vote for Mr. Bailey! Do you suppose I would care for a man who had been false to his trust? I knew only this morning why father sent for me. Poor old dad! It will break his heart! But, all the same, you were in the right and I was so foolishly afraid that you might be tempted."

"I was for a moment," he confessed, "when I saw how anxious you were. Then I realized that if I bought your father's consent it would be with my own self respect, and that I never could look you in the face again."

Robert Woodham came wearily from the hall. In the last hour he had aged ten years. Marian caught his arm.

"Dad, dear," she said gently, "I sent for Mr. Graves to tell him that I would marry him, no matter what you said."

"Revolt is in the very air!" cried the old man. "I guess I will have to drop out of politics when even my daughter electioneers against me."

"I didn't work against you. I just left it to Howard," explained Marian. "He stood the test."

Woodham nodded, and with an arm about the shoulders of each he led the way to the committee room. On his right was his daughter and on his left the new found son who had stood the test, and in his heart Woodham was glad that he had.

London Paupers.

In the whole history of the poor law system the figures for the indoor poor of the metropolis have never reached the point now touched by the last official returns. In the forty workhouses of greater London there were 80,183 boarders, and 43,821 people were receiving outdoor relief. This gives a rate of 26.5 paupers per 1,000 of population.—London News.

EQUINOCTIAL STORMS AND UNSETTLED WEATHER DURING FIRST MONTH OF AUTUMN

Professor Iri Hicks Predicts Rain During Periods of September

ELECTRICAL STORMS, TOO

During September the earth passes through its autumnal equinox, and Professor Iri Hicks warns us that this particular season will be attended by the usual equinoctial storms. Unsettled weather will be general and electric storms will be experienced. His forecasts for the coming month, as follows, are none too bright:

A reactionary storm period is in progress as we pass from August into September. Reaction to anti-storm conditions may occur on and touching the 2nd and 3rd, but the presence of the Mercury period, central on the 3rd, together with the increasing force of Earth's autumnal equinox, will cause a continuation of unsettled weather. These combined causes will add emphasis to, and prolong the existence of all equatorial storms that may appear in the regions of our southern coasts about this time.

A regular storm period is central on the 6th, extending from the 4th to the 8th. This period is at the culminating crisis of the Mercury period and promises to bring some decided storms. Storms which may have been sighted off the gulf regions prior to this period will gain new life and energy during the 4th to 8th, causing severe and perhaps destructive visitations along the south coasts and inland toward and over the Great Lakes. As early as the 4th or 5th the barometer will indicate growing storm conditions in western and southern extremes. During Sunday the 6th and Tuesday the 8th, and possibly over the 9th and 10th, these conditions will bring decided September storms progressively to most parts of the country. If West India storms appear along our southern coasts, winds will be northerly over the states generally, backing from north-east to north-northwest, with cold, stubborn cloudiness, and rain for many days; on the other hand, should very low barometric areas come up from the northwest, warm to phenomenally high temperatures will prevail generally, followed by heavy tropical storms. Our belief is that the great storm centres of this period will lie to the southward first, working northward and northeastward up the Atlantic and over most of the states inland.

A reactionary storm period is central on the 10th, 11th and 12th, having full moon on the 10th, between its perigree on the 9th and its passage over the celestial equator on the 11th. The 8th to 15th is at the annual crisis of magnetic antagonism between the Earth and Sun, and the chances are many that the disturbances of the preceding period will last into and reach their final culmination during this reactionary period. Within a period of about five days, taking the 10th as the central day, it will be most natural that many equinoctial storms and seismic perturbations should occur. Behind these storms, beginning in the far northwest, say about the 11th, look for rapid and very decided changes to high barometer, boreal gales and much cooler weather. This change will spread eastward and southward during the 11th to 15th, breaking the heated conditions, with probable frost in many localities northward.

Equinox on the 22nd

A regular storm period covers the 15th to 19th, with Moon at last quarter on the 17th, and at extreme declination north on the 18th. The crisis of this period will fall on the 17th, 18th and 19th. The character of the storms will be plainly indicated many hours before they appear by the reading of any reliable barometer, the direction and force of the wind currents, the temperature and the amount of humidity indicated by the hygrometer, or even the bodily sensations of mugginess. This period, of course, is near the centre of Earth's autumnal equinox, and any one who has done his own watching and studying for any number of years does not need to be informed that dangerous equinoctial storms are liable to appear at this storm period. Such, indeed, is the case at any storm period from the middle of August into October. As is shown by the storm diagram for this month, the centre of the Earth's autumnal equinox falls on the 22nd, but violent storms are no more liable to fall on or about that date than any other periods for weeks before and after. It is always safe to look for the strongest combination of disturbing causes anywhere from one to four weeks before or after the central day or earth's equinox, and figure that the most general and violent storms and other disturbances will develop at this time. The preponderance of disturbance will fall on the side of greatest disturbing causes.

A reactionary storm period runs from the 22nd to the 25th. This period will not come to its full culmination before the time of new moon on the 25th. Low barometer and threatening weather will appear perhaps with storms, before that date but the temperature will keep up, and storm conditions will intensify until after the 25th. Indeed, the moon being on the celestial equator on the 26th, severe electrical storms on and touching that date may bridge the interval and cause a continuance of storm conditions into the last period of the month. The 25th is the centre of another seismic period of about five days.

A regular storm period begins on the 27th and extends to October 2nd, being central on the 29th. As the month goes out low barometer and general storm conditions will be in transit from west to east. By the 29th and 30th wide areas of cloudiness and rain will develop, bringing in a general spell of autumnal rain, wind and disagreeable weather.

Before we close up these forecast pages, now August the 12th, many reports of terrific hail and thunder storms, with local cloudburst in scattered parts of the country, have been reported, showing that the Venus period, which is central on August the 19th is already being severely felt. These same violous, Venus storms, characterized by destructive hail and phenomenal electrical manifestations, are reported as prevailing not only in this, but in other countries beyond the seas. Over two thousand persons perished in a typhoon within a few hours on the Chinese coasts while devastating tempests have swept the seas, and the interior of other parts of the earth. The crisis of this August, Venus period has not been reached at this writing. Readers of forecasts must not forget that we are still in the toils of the great Saturn period, although receding from it, and that the earth's autumnal equinox joins with those of Venus and Saturn in all the storm and seismic perturbations to be expected during August and early September.

While hurtful shortage in rainfall has been experienced in many sections of the country, we are glad to believe that no widespread or general drouth has prevailed over any considerable part of this country. If the Venus storms, already beginning at this date, should distribute general rains over the agricultural centres during August, the general crops of the season may be regarded as matured, so far as moisture is concerned. At the same time, severe and general Venus storms at this time will imply the probability of early and severe frosts. All who have been long familiar with our forecasts, and the principles upon which they are based, remember that excessive electrical storms are certain results of a Venus period, and that "the electric fire of Venus turns quickly to ice." This is often true, even at unseasonable times.

St. Louis, August 12th.

Cornwall Teacher Remembered On Departure To Peterborough

Mr. S. J. Keys, B. A., B. Paed., Presented With Jewel by Royal Scarlet Chapter of Stormont County

ON NORMAL SCHOOL STAFF

Mr. S. J Keys, of Cornwall, who has been appointed to the staff of the Normal School in this city was presented with a valuable jewel of Past Worthy Companion in Command of the County of Stormont Royal Scarlet Chapter of which he was presiding officer before bidding farewell to his friends in the St. Lawrence River town. The Cornwall Standard refers to the occasion as follows:

The departure of Mr. S J Keys, B. A., B. Paed., for nearly seven years Principal of the Model and Public schools here, who has been appointed to an important position on the staff of the new Normal School at Peterborough, was made the occasion on Tuesday evening last by his brethren of Monroe L.O.L. No. 880, and the companions of the County of Stormont Royal Scarlet Chapter, of showing to him the high regard in which he is held and their appreciation of the many valuable services rendered by him on behalf of the Order.

Mr. A. Broder, M.P., for Dundas, who had come down from Morrisburg to pay his respects to the guest as an old resident of his county, delivered one of the interesting addresses for which he is noted, which was thoroughly enjoyed by his audience.

The chairman, Mr. D Monroe, P.D. G.M. of Eastern Ontario, who presided in the absence of the Wor. Master, Mr. A F Birchard, who is absent from town, also delivered a short address, dealing with the principles of the order and the qualifications for membership, after which he called upon Mr. W V Boyd, a Past Master of Monroe Lodge, to read the address to Mr. Keys, in which reference was made to the heavy loss sustained by the order and the community at large by his removal from amongst them. Reference was also made to the splendid work accomplished by Mr. Keys in connection with his profession, and good wishes extended to him for his success in his higher field of labour in advancing the educational interests of the Province.

Mr. Charles G Jamieson, Recording Secretary of the Lodge and Secretary of the Chapter, made the presentation, which took the form of a very valuable Jewel of a Past Wor. Comp. in Command, of which Mr. Keys is at present presiding officer. The testimonial is a chaste piece of the goldsmith's art, of solid gold, suspended from a scarlet ribbon and suitably engraved.

In response, Mr. Keys, who was visibly affected, thanked his brethren and companions for the honour done him. The years he had spent in Cornwall would always be remembered by him as the most pleasant of his life, of which the time spent at the lodge meetings was especially so. Altogether, the time spent in Cornwall were pleasant years. He would endeavour to so conduct himself in the future that no discredit would be brought upon the jewel with which he had been presented. He also thanked them for their kindly words expressed in the address to Mrs. Keys, which were appreciated by her.

Light refreshments were served during an intermission and the proceedings terminated with singing "Auld Lang Syne" and "God Save the King."

The Forester's Convention Is Concluded At Kingston

OFFICERS WERE ELECTED

The Peterborough delegates to the fourteenth annual convention of the High Court, Independent Order of Foresters for Eastern Ontario, arrived home Friday evening after having spent a profitable time at Kingston on Wednesday and Thursday. The delegates from here were Messrs. J. W. Byers, Geo. Metcalfe and David Laurie.

The first session was held at 10 a.m. on Tuesday with about 300 delegates in attendance, and during the forenoon annual reports were given by the High Chief Ranger, High Court Secretary and Treasurer.

After dinner the Kingston Courts entertained the visitors to a most delightful trip on board the steamer "America" through the Thousand Islands. The band accompanied them and made the excursion the more entertaining. In fact, the Peterborough delegates state that the Kingston Courts excelled every previous record in their hospitality to the visitors.

At the evening session of the High Court a resolution was unanimously passed according in a most enthusiastic manner thanks to the local brethren for the most enjoyable outing furnished in the afternoon.

Dr. Baskin, H.V.C.R., presented the report of the delegates to the Supreme Court meeting held in Toronto in June last. The report showed that the membership of the order has increased during the triennium from 225,370 to 257,267, and that during the same period there were paid in death and disability claims the enormous sum of $6,852,198. He also detailed the steps which led up to the re-adjustment of the rates and showed the necessity for the increase and set forth in brief form the different other changes made in the constitution.

The following distinguished visitors were introduced by Bro. Clark, assistant superintending physician:—Robt. Mathieson, Supreme Secretary; J G H Myers, P.H.C.R., East New York; Rev. Alexander McGillivray, P. H.C.R., Ontario; E. Chrystie, H.C.R., East New York.

Those with Dr. Clark addressed the Court and it is seldom the High Court of Eastern Ontario is treated to such a feast of good things.

Rev. Alexander McGillivray gave the principal address of the evening. He joined the order 21 years ago and had attended every meeting of the High Court held since that date. His address was a masterly effort, dealing with the re-adjustment of the rates. He showed that the order was not driven to increase the rates by the action of the Government, but that the question had been under discussion by the Supreme Executive long before any action by the Insurance Commission of the Government, and the action of the recent Supreme Court was spontaneous and the result of conviction on the part of its members.

What these two men said about the adjusting of rates was most heartily concurred in by the delegates.

On Thursday the following officers were elected:

A RECORD TRIP ON THE TRENT CANAL

Tug Goes From Lake Simcoe to Healey Falls Without Mishap

The longest trip of any craft on the Trent Canal waters was accomplished last week by a tug owned by Messrs. Brown & Aylmer, contractors who have the contract for the section of the canal immediately above the town of Campbellford. Messrs. Brown & Aylmer have recently purchased this tug from a gentleman in the village of Bradford, on the southwestern portion of Lake Simcoe, and a week ago Saturday it left Bradford, across Lake Simcoe, over the Kirkfield Lift Lock and through the various stretches of navigation that at the present time constitute the Trent Canal, arriving without mishap at Healey's Falls. The tug was then hauled out of the water and skidded around the falls to Crow Bay below. The tug then proceeded on some few miles further to the point where Messrs. Brown & Aylmer are working.

It is estimated that the trip would cover about two hundred miles. Mr. Brown, Jr., of Messrs. Brown & Aylmer, was at the wheel.

THE PROVINCIAL EXHIBITIONS

—All cities over the Province are preparing for their exhibition, and Peterborough is no exception to the rule. It is the time we meet our old and new friends, and those who are not our friends. It is also the best time for the introduction of the newest and smartest cuts in fall suits and where they can be shown to the greatest advantage. The New York Ladies' Tailoring establishment have removed their parlours and workshop from 658 George street to 387 Reid street, opposite St. Peter's Cathedral, for the better accommodation of their patrons, and are prepared to take orders in any line of ladies' garments. GRAPES GROWN AT CHILDREN'S SHELTER

Not Only Very Early But Bunches are Large and Flavour Excellent

Mr. Henry has brought into the Examiner Office two splendid bunches of grapes grown on the vines at the Children's Shelter, which beat anything for size and flavour seen for a long time. The grapes are abnormally early, as even from the Niagara Peninsula no shipments have yet been made of this fruit.

Mr. Henry says that the vines at the Shelter are literally loaded.

Rev. Father McColl Reminds Parents of Their Duty in This Regard

The Separate Schools open to-morrow morning at nine o'clock, and in referring to it at St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday morning Rev. Absence from lessons often causes the child to get behind his class and discouragement is bound to result.

Cavalry And Artillery Left For Camp At Kingston

"C" Squadron of Prince of Wales Dragoons and 24th Battery of 10th Brigade C.F.A. Entrained at G.T.R. Station For Two Weeks at Barriefield

IN THE BEST OF CONDITION

"C" squadron of the 3rd Prince of Wales Canadian Dragoons under the command of Major T. Johnston entrained at the G.T.R. station this morning, leaving at 10 o'clock for the annual camp at Kingston. The signal corps with Lieut. Jos. J. Duffus in charge accompanied the squadron. This is the first year a signalling corps has gone from this district, and it was through Lt. Duffus' instrumentality that they were recruited. The squardon was practically at full strength, having 74 noncommissioned officers and men. Lts. Cleghorn and Anderson were under L. J. Johnston.

The 10th Brigade of the Canadian Field Artillery, composed of the 14th Battery of Campbellford under Maj. Mulholland of Cobourg and the 24th Battery of Peterborough under Maj. T. W. H. Young, also left for Camp Barriefield, Kingston, this morning. The local battery marched from the East City Armouries at 9.30 to the G.T.R. station where their train was waiting. Both the Dragoons and the artillerymen presented a fine appearance.

Vt. Capt. B. R. Poole, V.S., and Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, chaplain of the Dragoons, accompanied the men.

The staff of the 10th Brigade was as follows—Lt.-Col. MacNachtan, Cobourg; Adjt. W. Ackerman, Peterborough; Capt. Fisher, Millbrook veterinary officer; Capt. Elliott, of Cobourg, medical officer.

The four guns and two ammunition waggons of the 24th Battery were well manned this morning. The horses were looking fine and the accoutrements were in good condition. Quarter-master Sergt. Biggs, caretaker of the Armouries, had everything in good order and everything worked harmoniously.

Notes

The bright uniforms of the cavalry presented a lively colour scene at the station.

Practically all the Warsaw football team were with the Dragoons

FOUR EXTRA TRAINS ON C.P.R. TO HANDLE EXHIBITION CROWDS

It will probably be of interest to those citizens who intend to visit the Toronto Exhibition to learn that four extra passenger trains have been added on the C. P. R. to relieve the regulars, which would otherwise be overcrowded and incapable of accommodating the people. The trains are scheduled as follows, but are mentioned in connection with the nearest regular train.

At 5.20 a. m. the regular goes to Toronto, an extra is scheduled at 5.56 a. m. At 11.26 a. m, the regular arrives from Toronto and an extra also comes east at 11.56 a. m. The regular goes up at 4.38 p. m. and an extra at 5.08 p. m. The regular return at 12.31 a. m. (the midnight) and an extra also comes from Toronto at 1.01 a. m. The local will probably be late in the evenings going east.

River Pirates On The Otonabee Is Mr. Bailey's Alarming Report

Mr. W. A. Bailey has written another epistle to Chief Roszel in which he deals with several topics of interest, chiefly road-making. On the post card is a clipping from a newspaper under the heading "Disease in the Air," and Mr. Bailey points out that citizens of the south end are blessed with more than the usual supply of microbe-laden dust. He also calls upon the Chief to hunt up the "river pirates" who tried to sink his canoe. His communication is as follows:

Dear Sir,—Yesterday evening I found my canoe in the river full of water; they were trying to hide it. You should get after these pirates. I wish to draw your attention to the state of George street south. If it was intended to make as much dust as possible they could not have done worse. The first thing to do in making a street is the footpath, and then to light it. The pedestrian is the main consideration and not all for show and for an exhibition of questionable benefit to the town.

Inquest Into Death Of John Greer To Be Held Wednesday

On learning of the death of John Greer yesterday morning Coroner Gray decided to hold an inquest. During the early part of May of this year the late Ed. G. Wesley met with an accident of practically the same nature, resulting in his death. These two fatalities decided the Coroner and Chief Roszel empanelled the following jury: Messrs. F E Miller, foreman; Wm. Morrow, Wm. Metherall, W J Devines, Geo. E Elliott, Jas. Brown, O Clancy, E Braudt, W Mein, R Stewart, T Embury, F Kelly, T Glover, John Taylor, Porter White.

At four o'clock yesterday they viewed the remains at Comstock's undertaking establishment where the Coroner explained the nature of the case and the reason for the investigation. Dummer Young Lady Took An Overdose Of Aconite

Examiner Special:

Crowe's Landing, Aug. 31. — Annie Drain, daughter of Mr. David Drain, who lives in Dummer township a few hundred yards from the Landing, is very ill as a result of aconite poisoning.

The young lady was suffering greatly from neuralgia yesterday and in order to give her some relief her father gave her a few drops of aconite, leaving the bottle containing the drug near her. Early last evening, Miss Drain, becoming nearly frantic with the pain of the neuralgic attack, obtained possession of the drug and took a large quantity of it unknown to her parents. Soon afterwards she became violently ill, going from one convulsion to another, and then she became delirious. Her life was despaired of for some time and a telephone message was sent to Havelock for a doctor. She became considerably better afterwards and last night was considered out of danger, although she was still very ill.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Stony Lake, Aug. 31.—The Stony Lake season is nearly at an end. The large number of cottages closed for the year indicate that fact, but even more convincing is the red and yellow foliage above the shores, which show that the sumach has felt the influences of the approaching cold weather. The spectacle just now is beautiful in the extreme, the brilliantly tinted foliage showing up sharply against the background of evergreens.

The opening of the schools to-morrow is responsible for the departure of a large part of the summer population, and during last week many cottages were closed. However, many will stay until after Labour Day, and the lake is not deserted by any means.

The Majestic made her last passenger trip of the season on Saturday night, and the popular craft will tow stone for the balance of the season. Henceforth until Sept. 15th there will only be two boats a day and after that but one until the end of the season.

Ald. W. G. Morrow spent Sunday at "Oakdene."

Mr. Jas. Donnell was up at "Kilkenny" for Sunday.

Mr. W. H. Stroud spent the week end the guest of Mrs. R. H. Jackson at Eel's Creek.

Mr. W. H. Hamilton was up at his cottage for Sunday.

Mr. Rich. Shelton and family returned to the city this morning, after a pleasant holiday.

Mr. H. LeBrun spent Sunday at "Belle Chasse," his summer home.

Mr. John King was the guest of Mr. H. LeBrun for the week end.

Messrs. A. C. Yokome and Percy Crane spent the week end at "Saints' Rest."

Mr. R. Easton, of the Bank of Montreal staff, Tweed, spent Sunday at Sheriff Hall's.

Mrs. Collins and her two daughters, of Cleveland, O., who were the guests of Mrs. A. C. Bliss for the summer, left for home this morning.

Miss Perry, of Peterborough, who has been the guest of Mrs. Bliss, left for home this morning.

Mr. R. Parker and Master Harold Parker, who have been holidaying at Lovesick Lake, went home this morning. Harold succeeded in hooking and landing a fifteen pound lunge.

Mr. T. H. G. Denne spent Sunday at his cottage.

Mrs. Elliott, Donegal street, returned from the lake this morning. She was the guest of Mrs. T. Barrie.

Mr. Harry Thompson was at Buena Vista over Sunday.

Messrs. Melville Hartley and Norman Geale, who have spent the past two months at Stony Lake, returned home to-day.

Mr. John Sawers went down to Peterborough to-day for a few days.

HAD SUFFICIENT HORSES FOR CAMP

Harvest Season Did Not Interfere With Artillery and Cavalry

The officers of the cavalry and artillery that left this morning for Barriefield Camp, Kingston, had entertained some doubts as to whether they would have a full complement of horses. The harvest season requires the use of the animals on the farm but nevertheless there was a sufficient number on hand, and all of them were well groomed, presenting neat and trim appearance.

PADEREWSKI'S ADVICE

Paderewski has confided to the world the secret of how he became a good pianist. He gives the six following directions:

1. You must have the gift.
2. You must choose a good master and obey him blindly.
3. You must practise exercises four hours daily and give one hour to digital agility.

Children's EYES

Need the most careful and persistent attention. Early headaches and other troubles frequently emanate from defective eye-sight, which in itself, may have originated in early neglect of the eyes. The trouble is, parents seldom know their children's eyes are weak until it is too late.

School will be opened shortly, you had better bring your children to us, as we make a specialty of examining the eyes of the young and fitting them with the proper lenses.

ALIEN LAW IT IS SAID WAS BROKEN

Strikers Charge That C. P. R. Is Violating Labor Act.

UNIONS CONTRIBUTE FUNDS

Engineers and Firemen Are Giving $5 This Month—British Labor Men Offer to Help and Will Forward Money to Machinists — Coal Handlers Ask More Pay— Accident Near North Bay.

Winnipeg, Aug. 31.—The western strike executive allege that the provisions of the alien labor act are being regularly broken by the C. P. R. Co. in engaging men across the line as strike-breakers, and state that action is to be taken as soon as the evidence they are now collecting is completed, which will be in a few days. Affidavits are being gathered from all quarters. One is from Charles Curtiss Close, stationary engineer, who swears that he was engaged in Spokane to come to Canada to work for the C.P.R., but finding that the strike was on, he refused to do so. He was offered 40 cents an hour from the time he left Spokane, as well as transportation. It is also alleged by the men that William Cross' trip to the old country is for the purpose of bringing back mechanics, and a whole shipload may be expected soon. Keir Hardie has cabled the English papers warning the trades unionists to look out for Mr. Cross on landing.

The Engineers and Firemen's Union are making a contribution of $5 per man to the strike funds this month as a voluntary contribution. Assistance has also been offered from the British Coachmakers' Society, the Amalgamated Society of Engineers, the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners, and the Dockers' Union of Great Britain, all of whom will forward contributions.

Few people seem to realize how important—how absolutely necessary—it is to keep the Bowels, Kidneys and Skin in proper working order.

They wonder why they have Sallow Complexions — Indigestion — Headaches—Rheumatism — while all the time their systems are clogged and poisoned with waste tissue and indigestible food which these organs should have removed.

What they need are Fruit Juices—nature's provision for keeping the eliminating machinery of the body working right. "Fruit-a-tives" are the concentrated juices of fresh, ripe fruits, combined in such a way that their medicinal action is greatly intensified. They stimulate and regulate the action of Liver, Bowels, Kidneys and Skin, thus clearing the system of the accumulated waste and poison, purifying the blood, and banishing those distressing troubles that make life miserable.

No other remedy has ever been discovered that does this so effectively as "Fruit-a-tives." 50c. a box — 6 boxes for $2.50. Trial size 25c. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

PROVINCIAL BANK WAS ROBBED

HELPLESS CITIZENS WATCH

Two Enter Banque Provinciale While Three Stay Outside on Guard—Passers-by Watch Performance But Cannot Move For Lack of Arms — Robbers Threaten to Shoot — Posse Sets Out.

Montreal, Aug. 31.—At the point of revolvers, a band of masked men early Saturday morning held up the caretaker of the Banque Provinciale at Ste. Eustache, dynamited the safe of the bank, and took from it $12,000.

They have not yet been caught. They have been traced as far as St. Rose and it is supposed they are heading for Montreal so as to get across the boundary as quickly as possible.

They got away on the C.P.R. tracks, in the direction of Montreal. Chief McCaskill, and a strong force of provincial detectives with some members of the city force, left for Ste. Eustache on the first train to endeavor to round up the criminals.

It is plain from the story of their exploits that they are professional bank robbers of the nerviest kind and their tracks are believed to be well covered.

Two men entered the bank and covered the caretaker with their weapons, while they operated on the safe. Three others meanwhile kept watch outside. Several citizens of Ste. Eustache saw the men shortly before they finished their job, but where unable to do anything.

Owing to the darkness the Ste. Eustache people have been unable to give any valuable description of the men at work, who were so heavily masked that nothing could be seen of their features.

The caretaker is Joseph Binette, who is also postmaster of the town, the postoffice, town hall and bank being all in the same building.

The booty was all in the form of cash and promptly negotiable securities, the robbers making no effort to take away checks and other assets.

When they left the bank a number of citizens attempted to follow them, but they threatened to shoot anyone who came within range and none of the citizens being armed no attempt was made to interfere with them.

Two men have been arrested on suspicion in the woods of St. Martin, and are being held until Binette can identify them. The caretaker had a good opportunity of observing the men as they kept him under cover of their guns for nearly 20 minutes.

Police and detectives were out on the trail.

Manager Brenvenu of the Banque Provinciale states that the bank was insured against burglary, and that business was resumed as usual Saturday morning, funds being forwarded from Montreal.

Yankee Rogers Has Defeated Many Of Champion Wrestlers

Followers of the famous American champion, Yankee Rogers, will find below a list of the notable victories he has secured during the past two years. He has beaten every wrestler who has aspirations to championship calibre in America with the exception of Frank Gotch, the world's champion, and his victories include the following:

Alphonse Steurs, champion of Belgium, 220 lbs.

Fritz Mohl, champion of Germany, 245 lbs.

John Perrille, the Fighting Dago.

Eckerberg, the great Dane.

Walter Smith, the Syracuse Giant, 264 lbs.

Cyclone Burns, the clever Swede.

Karakanof, the Terrible Turk, 210 pounds.

Emile Maupas, France.

Charley Olzen, New York.

Apollo, 265 pounds. This is the man who went to England as Yankee (Joe) Rogers and was easily beaten by Hack. Yankee beat Apollo at the Garden Theatre in Buffalo in nine minutes.

Carl Busch, the Crazy German.

Dan McLeod, late champion of America.

Farmer Burns, late champion of America; Gotch's trainer.

Jim Parr, the clever English boy.

Tom Jenkins, late champion of America.

Jim Smart, English heavyweight.

Silvia, champion of Italy.

Mort Henderson, the Rochester butcher boy.

Westergaarde, another wrestling partner of Gotch.

Then there is his record with Gotch. Forty-nine minutes and 32 minutes, the last time not being a fall but a given decision in favour of Gotch owing to Rogers not being able to continue the bout through falling against one of the ring poles and being rendered unconscious.

Is this long record of victories going to have a check next Friday night when he is taking another chance with Fritz Mohl at a style which, although he understands, is not the style he professes to work under? Nothing will stop Rogers from trying to keep his record intact, and Mohl will have to work hard to find himself the winner at even his own favourite style. The match is for a purse of $250 and a side bet of $150.

Rules Of Graeco-Roman Style; No Leg Holds Are Used At All

In view of the remarkable interest shown in the coming match at Graeco-Roman between Yankee Rogers and Frits Mohl it will probably be helpful to the sporting public to give some particulars of the style at which Mohl is considered second to none. Graeco-Roman wrestling is the oldest style of grappling that is known. The ancient Romans and the Greeks were masters at this style and some great matches were pulled off in Rome in the Latin period. The great Coliseum at Rome was the scene of many fierce battles for the laurel crown, and men from Athens were always ready to go up against the sturdy Roman. In those days one fall only was required to win the bout. Even this game style of wrestling is to be found in full vogue at a later day. In Shakespeare's "As You Like It" a wrestling match is seen in the opening act and, of course, is Graeco-Roman style. This is the style used in all European tournaments also.

It is a much easier style to follow for the average fan. No holds of any kind are allowed to be taken below the waist, exactly the same as holds good in boxing, neither is any hold allowed to be broken by the legs. Mohl practically wrestled Graeco-Roman on Friday last. It will be remembered by those present that he never on a single occasion made any attempt to secure toe or leg holds but was continually trying to wear Rogers down with body, arm and neck holds.

It will be readily seen the disadvantage the big Yankee will be up against in this match, as he relies upon his foot work for the most part of the falls he secures.

In a nutshell, Graeco-Roman differs from the catch-as-catch-can style in this way:

No hold is allowed that is secured with leg or foot.

No hold is allowed to be broken by leg or foot.

Strangle hold is barred.

Pin falls of three seconds' duration count.

In all other respects the wrestling is the same as practised last Friday night.

Conkle, The Hamilton Wrestler Wants A Match With Hurtubise

The wrestling season this year should prove one of the best in some time. The game has taken hold again throughout the Province, and the indications are that it will thrive in Toronto, Hamilton and Peterborough. Several challenges have already been hurled. This morning Charles Conkle, the 150-pound Hamilton crack, came out with a challenge to Gene Hurtubise, the big Peterborough French-Canadian, ex-Canadian heavyweight champion, who made his bow in the professional ranks last winter, when he won a bout with Yankee Rogers and several other good ones. Conkle refereed the Rogers affair, in which the latter was disqualified for rough tactics, after he had downed the Quaker City idol twice, and shortly afterwards the local man had a workout with Hurtubise, whom he threw in eight minutes. Conkle is now prepared to meet the big fellow either here or in Peterborough, agreeing to throw him twice in an hour, although he realizes that he has a pretty husky chap, who is becoming more proficient at the mat game every day. Conkle is eager to have the bout it arranged pulled off in Hamilton on Labour Day, and is in communication with Chris Graham, Hurtubise's manager. The latter has been working steadily, and is in good shape, while Conkle is just about ready for a hard season. The bout, if pulled off, would prove one of the best seen in some years in these parts.—Toronto Star.

THE BOWLING IN PORT HOPE

Practically No Interest Taken in the Game by Lakeside Bowlers

Notwithstanding the beautiful new green of the local club very little interest is being taken in the game and only a few are taking part in the sport. Some of the bowlers complain that the green is not level and they are desirous of placing a man in charge while others oppose this. The green is an ideal spot and it seems too bad after the large expenditure of money in placing it in shape that more interest is not taken. — Port Hope Guide.

HARRIERS ARE WANTED AT THE ATHLETIC MEET

The Y.M.C.A. Harrier Club has received an invitation to compete in the athletic meet at the Beamsville and Clinton Township Old Boys' reunion and Agricultural Fair on Sept. 24. Bobby Kerr and Tom Longboat will be there and the usual list of sports will be run off. Mr. Ernie Best received the invitation to-day.

McGraw says: "As I have said all along it is the Chicago Cubs we must beat to win the pennant, and it's there that our fight will be made."

T. A. S. YOUNG MEN AT DRIVING PARK

All the T.A.S. young men who intend to go to Lindsay to compete in the sports there on Labour Day are requested to meet on the track at the Driving Park at 6.45 o'clock to-night.

Sporting Comment

Mr. Will Crowley, of Edmonton, was one of the competitors in the first championship athletic meet of the Province of Alberta, getting places in the 220-yards hurdle and the senior pole vault. Mr. Alf. Kemp, another ex-Peterborough boy, was one of the time keepers of the meet, which was held last Monday.

The Warkworth Cricket Club is expected in Peterborough on Labour Day to play a return match with the cricket club. A full turn out of members is requested on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of this week for practise.

During the nineteen years that Cy Young has been pitching major league ball he has taken part in 750 games and has won 473 of them, his percentage being .632. Just to show that he is as good as ever he has pitched 22 games this season and has won 16 of them.

• • • •

Brown, of Chicago, has allowed only 5 1-6 hits per game and has struck out 3 1-6 men per game, while Mathewson, of New York has given almost 5 hits per game and has fanned six. Mathewson has had better control than his rival and has issued quite a few less bases on balls. Mathewson has laboured in 32 games, while Brown took part in only 23.

Toronto players seem to carry the hoodoo right with them this season. Look how Thoney's arm went back on him just when he was making the big league fans sit up and be good. And now it is Carrigan. The popular catcher is down with appendicitis, and won't be back in the game this season. It looks like Jim McCaffrey to go into a committee of the whole and discover where and who that hoodoo is.—Telegram.

Jimmy Reynolds has nothing to do now but walk and he is at it every day in preparation for his big undertaking to Toronto and return in 35 hours on Monday, September 14. He leaves here at six o'clock Monday morning and he feels confident that on this occasion he will establish a record.—Port Hope Guide.

FOR THE MOTOR BOAT

Don't use the same measures or funnels for gasoline that you have been using for lubricating oil, kerosene or water.

When using acetylene lamps in a fog it will be found best to tie a white handkershief over the front of the lamp, both for seeing, and to be seen.

Don't fill acetylene gas lamps with carbide until they are to be used, as carbide is very susceptible to moisture and slacks rapidly on exposure to air.

If a nut is from any cause so fixed that it becomes difficult to get if off, a little gasoline or kerosene squirted over it will sometimes help it. Failing in this, heat must be applied.

Attention cannot too often be called to novices in motor matters to be extremely careful that the ignition lever is retarded before they attempt to start the motor. Otherwise the nasty blow from a backfire may be experienced.

Black smoke issuing from the muffler pipe may be taken as an indication that much too rich a mixture is being fed to the motor. Blue smoke indicates a surplus of lubricating oil. White smoke usually occurs only when overflow water is passed through the muffler to any appreciable amount, forming a steam.

When your motor suddenly stops if you find no electrical trouble and when you attempt to start, a "kick" occurs with the spark lever properly retarded, it is probable there is some trouble with the commutator or timing gear. The connection of the timer shaft to its driving member may have slipped or broken, causing teh contact to occur at an improper time. —"The Launch."

IS NO DANGER FROM GASOLINE

A Launch in Good Condition is Perfectly Safe

Since the recent gasoline fire on Saturday there has been considerable talk about the danger from gasoline launches. The Examiner asked Mr. Millard, Hunter street, to-day if these pleasure craft presented any particular danger and he replied in the negative. There is no danger from the engine, and none from the tank and pipes so long as there are no leakages.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. N. Barber.)

New York, Aug. 31.—The opening was fairly active and strong this morning with fractional gains all through the list. Commission houses had a fairly liberal supply of buying orders which helped to bring about a strong opening and assisted in the rally which took place among the industrials. Professionals were inclined for the most part to operate on the bear side, and this led to a good deal of irregularity during the morning, but during the afternoon aggressive bull manipulation took place in Southern Pacific and brought about rallies throughout the list, during which many shorts were covered. Bear traders, however, have been caught so frequently of late that this selling was of a very conservative character. There was nothing in the news to influence the general list. Foreign interests took the selling side of the market here on balance to-day but there is a good deal of bull talk current in London regarding the Harriman issues and reflecting the belief entertained on this side that some important financial deal is under way which will be made the basis of a further bull movement in these securities.

On sharp bulges it may be the part of prudence for those who are long of stocks to take their profits with the idea of recovering their holdings to some advantage. During the last half hour the market became reactionary, and from present indications the reaction may run some further to-morrow, but in such an event buy the leading stocks for quick turns. The closing was heavy.

THE ANNUAL HARVEST FESTIVAL

To be Held From Sept. 19th to 22nd—Arrangements are Already in Preparation

The annual Harvest Festival of the Salvation Army will be held from September 19th to 22nd. Arrangements have all been made and the sewing class is now preparing articles for the bazaar. A committee will solicit the patronage of friends of the Army, and a fine exhibit is expected in response to their appeal. Merchandise, fruits, vegetables, etc., will be sought as in former years. The sale of the articles will be held on Sept. 22nd. Brig. Potter, the financial secretary for Canada, will be present on the 20th, and a successful festival is expected.

FARMERS DO NOT TRAVEL ENOUGH

They See Too Little of the World—Should Have a Holiday

From The Canadian Dairyman.

Many farmers are now planning to visit the fairs this fall. Some consider such diversion a waste of both time and money. As farmers, we travel too little. We do not see enough of what the world, and of what our neighbors are doing. A visit to one or more of the larger fairs can result in much that will be of profit to the average farmer. By staying at home too closely, one becomes narrow, and inclined to think that his way of doing things is about all that could be desired. By seeing what the other fellow is doing, and by becoming familiar with what he has done, a person becomes not only inspired to greater efforts, but will make more of a success of the work he has in hand.

A prominent farmer was recently heard to remark that he could not do a year's work in twelve months. He had to do it in eleven. He claimed that he required at least one month in every year to fit himself for the work of the succeeding months. That man was a glowing example of the wisdom of this practice. His business was prospering. He was contented with his lot, and he always had time at his disposal to help his neighbor, or to help some brother who was not so fortunate as he. A trip to a good fair this fall, if taken in the proper way, will work wonders. It should not only be a day of enjoyment, it should rather be one of educational intent. We can make it whichever one we choose, or both.

BARREL DID NOT CONTAIN GASOLINE

Mistake in the Report of Fire at Parker's Dye Works Thursday

In the report of Thursday, night's fire in the stable of Parker's Dye Works, it was stated that a barrel of gasoline had been taken out of the burning building. This was a mistake as the firm kept no gasoline in the stable. All their gasoline is kept in a pit made for the purpose, where it is perfectly safe in case of fire, the firm's twenty-four years' experience in the business having taught them to take good care of their gasoline, and even in case of a big fire there could be no danger from that source.

It is true a barrel was rolled from the stable on the night of the fire, but it was empty and did not contain gasoline, as stated.

THE ATTENTION OF ALL ASTRONOMERS

Is Called to the Condition of the Sun To-day

Rev. Dr. Marsh in speaking to the Examiner to-day wished to call the attention of local astronomers to the condition of the sun to-day. There are four beautiful disturbances on the solar disc. One is very large, measuring 150,000 miles in length by 40,000 miles in width and covering an area of 5 billions of square miles of the solar surface. This is near the centre of the sun to-day, and is visible to the unaided eye through a smoked glass. It is expected that a marked auroral display will be seen to-night.

THE BY-LAW CONCERNING GASOLINE

May be Taken Up by Fire, Water and Light Committee

The question of passing a bylaw regarding the storage of gasoline, etc., by those using it in large quantities was introduced by the Fire, Water and Light Committee last night, but no action was taken. Chief Howard stated that in other cities a bylaw gives the chief of the fire department authority to make regular and irregular calls at all such places to see that proper conditions exist.

During the session Chief Howard stated that he would like the committee to purchase a light but strong buggy capable of seating three men. It would also be provided with a box at the rear in which a chemical tank or box of tools might be placed. No action has yet been taken.

THE FUNERAL SERVICES WERE HELD

The funeral of the late Mrs. John Frise took place from the family residence 168 McDonel street, at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon to the Little Lake cemetery. A short service at the house was conducted by Rev. E. A. Pearson, pastor of George Street Methodist Church, with the congregation of which the deceased was identified, having been a member for the long period of twenty-four years. The pall-bearers were the sons-in-law of the deceased. Many kind evidences of sympathy so much appreciated by the family were made manifest in the beautiful floral display. Mrs. Frise had been a resident of Peterborough for nearly half a century and she formed friendships in early life which were dear to her in later years. She possessed a happy disposition, was always hopeful, and placed confidence in the guiding hand of Divine Providence through a long and devoted Christian life.

CONGRATULATIONS FOR THE FIRE BRIGADE

Mr. R. C. Braund States They Made Run to Albert Street in Three Minutes

The time made by the fire brigade in the run to Mr. Thompson's run last week was almost a record. From the time the alarm was sounded until the first team arrived, only three minutes elapsed. Mr. R. C. Braund took the time out of curiosity, to find out what the new brigade could do. He considered that their performance was a good one and was greatly pleased with the time made. Mr. Braund congratulated the Fire, Water and Light Committee on the condition of the department as shown in that instance.

Two Fenelon Falls Boys Stabbed By Detroit Visitors; Followed Fight With Fists

Examiner Special

Fenelon Falls, Ont., Sept. 1.—Two Detroit youths are in custody here charged with stabbing two Fenelon Falls young men, S. Nicholas and J. Barry. The stabbing is alleged to have been the result of a fight with fists which took place while the Detroiters were out walking with a couple of girls. The Fenelon Falls youths were stabbed four or five times each, and 28 stitches had to be put in Nicholas' wounds. The Detroiters escaped after the affair, but were arrested later while in bed at their boarding house.

Latest Prices Of Fruits As Quoted For Readers Of The Examiner By Local Merchant

The ordinary household is at present in the midst of the busy season of preserving and pickling, preparing the season's fruits that they may be enjoyed during the approaching winter.

With a view to obtaining the exact state of the retail market regarding the prices of the articles most sought after just now and the amount that may be expected to be sold, a reporter visited a George street grocer to-day. The latter handles extensively fruit and vegetables and states that there is a heavy demand for all kinds of preserving fruits.

Peaches Scarce

The Crawfords and similar varieties will be in full swing this week, as the crop is very light; orders for this favourite variety must be placed early to ensure being filled. The white flesh peaches are very scarce, being practically done.

In grapes the Champion, Moore's Early and Campbell's Early will be picked in limited quantities and are now too well known to need any description.

The Bartlett pears are now in full swing. The No. 2 grade are an exceptionally fine lot as they are so smooth and clean.

The Prices

The prices per basket as quoted by the local merchant are as follows:

Peaches—
Early Crawfords, 75c. to $1.35.
White Variety, 60c. to 70c.
Pears—
Common and pickling, 45c.
Clapp's, 60c.
Bartlett's, 60c.
Plums—
Plums and Gages, 45c. to 60c.
Lombards, 35c. to 50c.
Blue, 55c. to 60.
Tomatoes, 25c. to 40c.
Apples, 10c. to 20c. a peck.
Grapes, per basket, 50c. to 60c.
Muskmelons, each, 5c. to 20c.

Prospective buyers should not delay expecting a slump; the season is reported at its best at present and peaches particularly should be purchased before the supply is exhausted.

The Prizes Awarded For Flower Gardens And Lawns

Judges Made Their Inspection and Gave Awards Yesterday—The Winners in Amateur and Professional Classes

WERE EIGHTEEN ENTRIES

Yesterday the judges appointed to adjudge the prizes offered by the Horticultural Society for the best flower gardens and best lawns, made their inspection. The recent protracted period of dry weather has made it difficult to keep lawns up to the finest point of verdure, but the lawns seen yesterday were well worth seeing.

The standard of judgment was twofold—for amateur gardens and lawns the standard was the best considering the circumstances of location and the opportunities for doing good work. In the professional class the best results absolutely, without reference to the considerations having effect in the other class.

The awards were made as follows:

Best lawn, amateur—W. S. MacKee, 784 Water street; 2, Mr. W. Stocker, 5223 Homewood avenue; 3, J. Edgar, 451 Weller street.

Best lawn, professional—A. L. Davis (Wm. James); 2, Hon. J. R. Stratton, (Wm. Vickers); 3, Customs House grounds (Wm. Taylor).

Judges—Messrs. Peter Campbell, T. C. Tucker, Benj. Cooney and Lieut.-Col. Rogers.

The following were the other competitors, Messrs. Wm. Taylor, C. P. R. Station grounds, the Charlotte Street Methodist Church grounds, John Riddell, 530 Homewood avenue; Isaac Richardson, 541 Homewood avenue; George I. Rozel, 517 Stewart street; Geo. Watt, 219 Stewart street; Fred V. Clementi, 297 Park street; John Wood, 404 Belmont avenue; John Williams, 311 Boswell avenue.

Merchant Gave Charity, Learned Family Had Money In The Bank

A Peterborough merchant had an experience with a family which claimed to be in distress and received food from him during a whole winter and he has since discovered that not only had they sufficient to live on but even had a considerable sum of money in the bank. It is needless to say that his confidence was considerably shaken in those who profess to be in want.

It was a year ago last winter that they obtained goods to the value of $20.00. When the spring came the family promised to pay off their debt, but week followed week and they manifested no intention of keeping the promise.

It was not long ago that the grocer was informed that the people in question had money in the bank. He scarcely credited this statement but a little later learned that they had about $100.00 in the bank and his informant had seen their bank book.

He went to the family a few weeks ago and told them that they had to pay their bill or he would take the matter to court. The wife said that her brother had sent her a little money to help keep them. On leaving them the merchant said that he would give them until the following Saturday night to make a payment. The court was the only alternative. Saturday night came and the woman brought in a sum of money, the first entry on the credit side of their bill.

THE SCOTCH COMMISSION.

The Scottish Commissioners now visiting Canada have been invited and will visit several centres in Ontario and Canada. They are now in Brantford. We have heard so far nothing of any arrangements being made for a visit of the commission to Peterborough. It is, however, understood that Mr. Gillespie of White & Gillespie, who takes a deep interest in, especially, the dairying department of agriculture, has informally brought the attention of the city authorities to the matter of bringing the party here. Such a visit would no doubt be a great benefit to this part of Ontario. The commission consists of twenty-two members representing every feature of agricultural interest and is composed of all sorts of representatives from college professors of agriculture to tenant farmers. The commission in making its visits is divided into four parties and each party is taken over the field of special interest that appeals to its members. The visits are systematically arranged and the parties are given an opportunity of inspecting beef, sheep and swine-raising, dairy and hog-raising, field crops and mixed farming, market gardening, fruit growing, potatoes and poultry, etc. It seems, therefore, that the visit of these shrewd Scotch farmers would be of benefit. Such a visit would help in impressing upon these representative men the extent and value of our agricultural resources and advertise them most effectively, and tend to improve the Scotch and Old Country market in the matter of our marketable products of all kinds. In another column is found a report of their visit to Brantford, which gives an idea of the nature and object of the commission. This is reprinted for the information of the city authorities and is also of interest to the farmers and others. It is hoped that the matter will be taken up and some decisive and prompt action taken to decide upon the desirability of a visit from the commission, and, if this is found favourable, which it is pretty certain to be, to take steps at once to secure a visit from the commission.

GRATUITOUS UNPATRIOTISM.

The Conservatives have a right to aspire to power in the Dominion, but they have no right in advancing arguments to uphold their claim to unpatriotically decry Canada and its resources, to attempt to injure its financial credit. This has been done and is being done. Conservative journals republish with glee, ill concealed and gloating, disparaging remarks of English and United States journals adversely criticising Canada's credit and financial policy, and upon misleading information supplied by recreant Canadians. We cannot be surprised at this when the leader of the Conservative party, Mr. Borden, sets the pace, and in so doing dishonourably misrepresents the authority he quotes in Parliament. In the House of Commons he quoted from the London Economist a disparaging reference to Canada and its financial position, trying to represent it as the opinion of that important and representative financial journal. But it was nothing of the kind; it was a contributed article written by an Ottawa correspondent, in the interest of interests hostile to the Grand Trunk Pacific, doubtless the source of other "opinions" of the kind appearing in other journals. It is discreditable to take such a course, even if the facts justified the politicians and political journals in discrediting their country's standing, to follow the example of the "dirty bird that fouls its own nest."

But the facts will not warrant any such policy. The London Advertiser indicates that the assertion that Canada's borrowing power has been strained or that there is uneasiness among London bankers because of prospective demands from Ottawa, is as malicious as it is unfounded. The motive is to discredit the Grand Trunk Pacific scheme and give the Opposition some campaign material. It is child's talk to say that this growing Dominion, which has not added a cent to its public debt for eleven years and has had revenues exceeding the ordinary expenditures by $95,000,000 in that period is to be embarrassed at this stage by the financing of a great productive work. Canadian credit and Canadian prestige never stood so high in the monetary centre of the world. This is not the most favourable time for entering the money market, but Canada is not suffering by comparison with other borrowers, although the country is being stabbed in the back by mercenary pens, aided and abetted and encouraged by a political leader who is asking to have the borrowing and interests of the Canada he discredits, entrusted to his keeping.

FISH STORIES.

The date of the general elections is not yet known, but the Conservative journals of the baser sort are already using racrback tactics. We find the Mail and Empire and its unclean congeners publishing fake stories from Ottawa to the effect that there is disruptive disagreement in the Cabinet, that Sir Richard Cartwright is at daggers drawn with Sir Wilfrid, that Hon. Mr. Aylesworth has telegraphed from Victoria that "there is no betterment in my condition," and that Lord Strathcona is to retire from the High Commissionership and be succeeded by Sir Montague Allen. All these yarns are mere "fish stories," without a scintilla of justification, without even a grain of foundation. The Philistine Conservative press is beginning the game of misrepresentation too early: their game will be exposed and more decent people will be added to the large number which now refuses to believe them when making political statements.

LET LAURIER FINISH HIS WORK.

Montreal Herald.

In commenting upon the Herald's advice to "Let Laurier Finish His Work," the Hamilton Herald says it always understood that Canada a Nation, was Laurier's work. Many a true word has been spoken in jest, and when the history of Canada comes to be written the historian will make ample acknowledgment of what Laurier has done towards nation building. In the wild excitement over the question whether a firm of solicitors put in two tenders for one timber limit, and whether the said firm had the right to use the name of an absent client, upon which the brightest minds on one side of politics are now exclusively exercised, it may be at present difficult for some well meaning people to devote any attention to the larger aspects of Sir Wilfrid's work, but the perspective will be enlarged somewhat, after the elections are over, and events may be seen with clearer vision. We might even come to a fairly general agreement now, if we could all agree as to what nation building is. There are those, of course, who object altogether to the idea of Canadian nationality, on the ground that it involves hostility to the status of Canada within the Empire. There are others who in their high and mighty way protest that so long as the occasional exercise of sovereign power by Great Britain has to be put up with even while it displeases us, as in the Alaskan boundary instance, talk of nationality is mere prattle. Much safer critics to be guided by, however, are the occasional visitors from across seas who in a practical way disregard the extremes of logic, and who note the growth of national sentiment, national consciousness, national effectiveness, even national purpose, consistent with and accompanied by a genuine desire to preserve the friendliest relations with Great Britain and the other great self-governing commonwealths which go to make up the British Empire. What Laurier has done is not to win plaudits for Canada from the rivals or enemies of Great Britain, but to obtain for Canada, amongst the statesmen and the people of the Empire, a recognition never before accorded. Strength respects strength, and in the Twelve Years of Laurier Canada has grown strong. The capacity to get things done has won the admiration of people whose pride is in being practical. There was a time when the other colonies, and Canada particularly, were heard from only when in need of help; of late years they have been looked to, and Canada especially, for the support that could be derived from their friendship. That is the difference, and while nobody would claim that it was a thing of sudden growth, still it is but right to remember that in the late eighties and early nineties there was a good deal of constitutional unrest, and that from the institution of the British preferential tariff the era of permanently and aggressively friendly relations may be said definitely to date.

There are, moreover, millions of Canadians who are quite content with the interior development of the Canadian national spirit, and for whom the relation to other countries is at best a secondary consideration. And it is not necessary to go beyond the record of the Twelve Years of Laurier to find justification for the new found pride these feel in the present, their optimistic feeling as to the future. The basis of Confederation has been continuously widened, the field for achievement has been continuously extended. The record of accomplishment in all lines of endeavour has been highly gratifying to all who contemplate it. The growth of population, the increase of primary production of the agencies of wealth, the gain of a thousand millions in export trade, the extension of commerce, the unprecedented progress of industry, the equipment of vast new areas with transportation facilities, the buoyancy of the national revenues, the improvement of national credit, the inflow of men and money, the perfecting of the national equipment in public and semi-public works, the distancing by a Canadian port of all Atlantic rivals for the grain trade of the continent, the winning of higher diplomatic status in dealings with other countries, the taking over of the national strongholds, all these have ministered to the pride of Canadians and to their confidence in the future. With the utmost deduction that even partisanship could be disposed to make, there remains so much of nation making to the credit of Laurier that none will deny him any credit. And so, if it is to be applied to the work of nation making, and not merely to the completion of the latest of the nation's undertakings, the new transcontinental railway, Canada can well afford to let Laurier finish his work. It will be the easier for others to carry forward after he has done his part.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Boodle, booze and "choice tomatoes" are likely to prove the Bayne of the Conservative party.

Candidates for Conservative candidature in Ottawa deposit a guarantee of $3,000—marked cheque, as a contribution to the whiskey and choice tomato fund.

"Chops and Tomato sauce" was damning evidence in the Bardell vs. Pickwick case, but flasks and choice Tomatoes will loom up largely in the great trial—Purity vs. Borden — next election.

The school book reduction, the Globe remarks, shows that it takes the Whitney Government about five years to complete a failure. How long it would take to make a success may never be known.

To date Sir Wilfrid Laurier has represented Quebec East thirty years and at the end of the next Parliamentary term he will have represented it 35 years and will have been Premier of Canada, 17 years.

Mr. F. D. Monk, Conservative leader in Quebec, asserts that "the country is tired of Laurier." As a member of a minority of 60 in Parliament, Mr. Monk does not seem to be in a position to speak with authority.

When Hon. A B Morine gets through with Hon. Mr. Fielding in Queens and Shelburne, he will feel that that constituency does not favour the annexation of Newfoundland piecemeal — one distinguished son at a time.

Mr. R L Borden, Conservative leader, left Ottawa for the Maritime Provinces on Saturday to begin his campaign of addresses at Halifax. He is said to be "sanguine of the success of the Liberal-Conservative party when the final appeal is made to the people." If he succeeds in putting the Liberals "in the soup"—it will be tomato soup—of that much we are certain.

ONLY 70 BOXES SOLD IN LINDSAY

The Lindsay Cheese Board had to put out the sign yesterday. "Nothing Doing." It was the regular meteing, and while 1,097 boxes were boarded, only those of the North Ops factory 70 in number, were sold, Mr. J. D. Flavelle securing them. Alex Gillespie, who bid the second highest price, 11 3-4 cents, stated to the Examiner that a meeting was held in the morning and adjourned until the afternoon. This latter had to be adjourned until Monday next. Evidently the factories are after a gold mine. The highest price of the day was 11 7-8 cents.

LENDRUM'S

The Scotch Agricultural Commission In Canada

Visiting the Dominion to Spy Out the Fatness of the Land—Systematically Inspecting Canadian Farm Methods

SHOULD VISIT PETERBORO

The following from the Brantford Expositor, of Aug. 29th, gives detailed information respecting the Scottish Agricultural Commission, at present visiting Canada, and at present in Brant County. It will be of interest to farmers especially and give desired information to the civic authorities.

The Scottish Agricultural Commission arrived in the city this morning on the arrival of the 10.30 train from Woodstock and were met at the depot by a representative gathering of Brant County Agricultural men. The commission which consists of 22 members was divided up into five parties, and each party will be taken over the field of special interest to the members. The visit has been sytematically arranged, and the five parties will have an opportunity of inspecting beef, sheep and swine raising; dairy and hog raising; field crops and mixed farming, market gardening, fruit growing, and potatoes and poultry. The commission visited the market this morning and were impressed with the large quantity of beautiful and reasonable produce on hand.

This afternoon the visitors are being driven to the country, after which they will return to the Kerby House for dinner. In the evening at Victoria Hall speeches will be delivered by members of the commission and several prominent Brant county men. The visitors are:

William Barber, governor of the West of Scotland Agricultural College, farms his own lands at Terernan of 5,000 acres in all. He is the holder of the champion plate of the Dumfries Thornhill and New Galloway Societies for Cheviot sheep.

THE REMINISCENCES OF A PIONEER OF CHANDOS

The Examiner had an interesting talk this morning with Mr. James Young, of the Township of Chandos. Mr. Young, who is still hale and hearty at the age of seventy-one, is a native of County Donegal, Ireland, and came to Canada in 1857. He first worked in Smith Township, in the neighbourhood of Selwyn, and after five or six years' experience with various farmers, removed to his present location in Chandos, a farm purchased from Mr. Ezrett, formerly Inspector of Weights and Measures for the county.

Mr. Young has seen many changes in the township since his arrival there. He and Caleb Lowsley were the two earliest settlers. In those days the road was cut through to Apsley but not graded. There was no bridge at Eel's Creek, and the only way to convey goods across was to carry them over on one's back over a rough log foot bridge and swim the oxen across the stream.

Provisions were, for the most part, obtained from farmers in Smithtown, but trips on rare occasions were made to Peterborough. It took two days to get to Peterborough, and two days to return in those days, and the corduroy swamps and general roughness of the country made travelling anything but a pleasurable pastime.

There were no horses in the district. The honour of bringing in the first team, years afterwards, belonged to a man named Wilson, who lived somewhere east of Apsley. There was neither church nor post office. When settlers began to come in a Mr. Burt held services in different houses. Some years later a little church was built in the township by the Methodists.

The transmission of mail matter seems to have been relegated very greatly to chance. Letters would be left at the tavern for the first well disposed traveller to convey to the front. The first post office was kept by Mr. Vizard, who, to-day is living in Lakefield at the ripe old age of eighty-eight.

Mr. Young has a fine farm in Chandos and can look back with pride to a home hewn out of what was once a wilderness, but which by man's industry, ingenuity and determination is being rapidly made "to blossom as a rose."

BRICK BLOCK WILL REPLACE BURNED STORES IN HAVELOCK

Mr. J. V. A. Coon of Havelock, whose store was wiped out by the big fire in the railway town last week, was in the city to-day and informed the Examiner that it is probable a modern brick block with fire walls between the different stores will be built to replace the buildings destroyed by fire. This will be a great improvement over the old condition of affairs as the destroyed buildings were but of frame. All the merchants who were burned out are making arrangements to rebuilt, and although the blow has been a severe one, handsomer structures will replace the old ones.

Mr. Coon states that Havelock has practically no fire protection. A bucket brigade is all there is and even that is not organized and there is no system about it, sometimes the members not knowing where to find the buckets.

"Havelock has been lucky in the matter of fires," remarked Mr. Coon "and we have been getting along without protection. Whenever a fire occurred there has been some agitation for better fire protection, but it was soon dropped."

JOS. LEVASSEUR WAS FINED $58.82 BY THE MAGISTRATE

Joseph Levasseur, Jr., was this morning fined $50 and costs, amounting to $8.82, on a charge of running a blind pig in North Monaghan, on the bank of the Otonabee River. It will be remembered that the evidence in this case was heard some time ago and that Mr. Gordon, Levasseur's counsel, asked the Magistrate to defer judgment until to-day. Mr. Dumble agreed to this request and this morning inflicted the above mentioned fine.

In the perjury charge which had been enlarged until to-day, a further adjournment was asked for by Mr. McWilliams, who is acting for the defendant in this charge. Mr. McWilliams pointed out that Judge Weller has not yet returned to the city and that it the defendant were to be committed for trial he would be able to get bail.

Crown Attorney Wood objected to a further adjournment, but said that he would agree to whatever the Magistrate thought was right. Mr. Dumble enlarged the case until Wednesday of next week.

The Barbers "Kick" Against Working On Sunday Morning

Working until two o'clock Sunday morning is becoming distasteful to certain journeymen barbers, who are complaining about the long hours. A meeting of the local union was held last night, when the matter was brought up and it was decided to ask the Chief of Police to have his men look into the question, particularly as regards those who call at shops after twelve o'clock Saturday night.

Among the sportsmen who are at Rice Lake for the opening of the duck shooting season are Messrs. J. G. M. Wilson, G. T. Tovey and Ernie Saunders. They will spend two weeks at the anglers' cottage, fishing and shooting on the lake. Mr. Thos. Hooper and Mr. W. G. Higgins will join them for a few days, going down on the former's yacht.

"NO WOMAN NEED DO AS I HAVE DONE"

Della Clayton After Wretched Life Attempts Suicide

Hamilton, Aug. 31.—All yesterday and up to noon to-day Della Clayton has been hovering between life and death at the city hospital, the doctors doing all in their power to save the unfortunate woman from the consequences of her rash attempt at suicide made in the police station yesterday after Magistrate Jelfs had sentenced her to three months in jail for keeping a disorderly house.

"I am sorry I did not make a good job of it," she said to the constables, "though, when I come to think of it, I am glad, perhaps, that I have had time to think over the past and repent of it. I expect to die and I hope my Maker will forgive me. I have been a very bad woman—I know that. I have no doubt, though, but that God has forgiven worse people than I am. I am sorry someone did not blow up my house with dynamite before all this disgrace should be brought before the public."

"It is all my own fault," Mrs. Clayton said; "no woman need do as I have done. I hope the young women of Hamilton will take warning from what has happened to me."

This morning at the hospital, Dr. Olmsted performed the very delicate operation of trephining he skull upon Mrs. Clayton, and it was successful, so far as removing the bullet was concerned. The X-ray had located the ball yesterday, and to-day Dr. Olmsted removed it in two fragments. It is thought Mrs. Clayton has a chance of recovery, and may yet live to show the world whether her repentance is sincere or not.

ARE THE ARC LIGHTS WORKING?

Fire, Water and Light Committee Want Citizens to Report About Them

The residents of any section of the city where the arc lamps are not working properly—if there are any—should inform the company or committee and have them properly repaired. They should give satisfaction and the people pay the taxes for them. The Fire, Water and Light Committee expressed this sentiment last night.

MOTHER IS INQUIRING ABOUT SON

Writes to Chief of Police, Oshawa, For Information as to Whereabouts

Mrs. Alex. Killingbeck, of Peterborough, has written Chief Hind, inquiring if her son, about 15 years of age, ran away from home with two other boys of the same age, and asking him to look for and find him if possible. He wears knee trousers, black sateen shirt, has brown eyes, dark hair and is stout built. So far nothing has been heard to relieve the anxiety of his mother, but should he be located, a 'phone message to the Peterborough Chief of Police would find her, and secure her presence to take him home.—Oshawa Reformer.

I will sell by public auction, on Saturday morning, September 12th, on the Market Square, at eleven o'clock, one Rubber Tire Stanhope. This is a high-seated vehicle of the runabout style and is practically as good as new. Sale without reserve.

GIVING UP BUSINESS

Having decided to retire from business, I have sold all the fixtures and stand to The Peterborough Furnishing Co., who are now at 163 Charlotte Street, and I have to give them possession on September 20th next. In the meantime I must clear the whole stock, worth $8975, consisting of General Dry Goods, Clothing, Millinery, Mantles, House Furnishings, Boots and Shoes, Furs, Toys, Fancy Goods, etc. This sale is genuine, and there is no question about the prices. Everyone who has visited my store in the last five years know the bargains they got, but there will be no comparison with the bargains you can get now. The stock is assorted in every line. The first comers will have the best chance.

RESTAURANT KEEPERS WERE CONVICTED OF SELLING ICE CREAM ON SUNDAY

Inflicts a Fine in the Case of C. Q. Woo, Geo. Thomas and John Fowler—Judgment is Important One

THE FINE WAS MADE LIGHT

Magistrate Dumble gave a very important judgment this morning when he found guilty John Fowler, Geo. Thomas and C Q Woo on a charge of selling ice cream and soft drinks on Sunday, Aug. 9th. The case is one in which there is great difference of opinion among judges, and this action is in effect a test case for the result of which magistrates all over the country will read with interest. It will be remembered that Chief Ressel and P. C. Meharry were served with lemon sour by the defendants and the case was heard in police court on Aug. 11th, and was afterwards enlarged until to-day for judgment.

Following is the judgment in the Fowler case and of course the decision in the other actions is similar:

"The defendant is charged with selling on the Lord's Day lemon sour and other drinks and ice cream, contrary to the statute. The Statute relied on is ch. 104, Can. Stat., Upper Canada.

The defendant held an eating house license and kept a restaurant on George street. On Sunday, Aug. 9, he sold several persons a temperance drink called lemon sour. No other food or refreshment was sold, but some little boys were noticed at a table drinking what appeared to be ginger beer, but no evidence of a sale of ginger beer is offered.

The question to be determined is whether a keeper of a restaurant may keep his doors open and sell to all comers ice cream, temperance drinks, etc.

In the Queen vs. Alberti, 3 Can. Court cases, 366. A very able County Court Judge (McDougall) in an elaborate judgment held that a sale of ice cream by an eating house keeper was not a breach of the law on the ground that ice cream was a food, that such people are entitled to sell food or give meals under the exception in the original Act; 29 Chas. II, Ch. 7, which excepted "the dressing of meat in families, or dressing or selling of meat in inns, cook shops or victualling houses, for such as otherwise cannot be provided," and although this exception is not inserted in the act of U. C. Chap. 104, nor in the Lord's Day Act since passed in Canada, he held that he should construe the words of our act, "Work of necessity," which is excepted by our act, by reference to the old English Act, and as it is a work of necessity that men should eat and it was lawful for restaurants to furnish meals on Sunday it was lawful to furnish to a hungry man, food in the form of a diet of ice cream. That no man is at liberty to say what a man shall eat.

This judgment has never been revised though it has been received with very qualified approval amounting to dissent.

Since that case there have been a number of others, and where the Sunday sale was by confectioners or others than licensed keepers of eating houses, a distinction has been made and the parties were convicted as carrying on their usual work day business on Sunday—whatever excuse there was for licensed eating house keepers or restaurant keepers there was none for those who could not claim the right under the claim that they were furnishing meals.

I think it is not the spirit of the law that eating house keepers should should keep their places of business open for the purpose of selling lemon sour or other drinks of that kind. There can be no honest claim that to furnish such is either a work of necessity or a work of mercy.

I adjudge that the defendant is guilty and that he do pay a fine of $5 and costs, $3.05, to be paid in ten days, and in default of payment, distress, and in default of distress, imprisonment for twenty days."

D. W. DUMBLE.

(Woo was fined $5 and $2.60 costs, Thomas $5 and $3.10 costs.

A GAS HEATER WAS BOUGHT

The Fire, Water and Light Committee met last night with the following members present: Ald. Johnston, chairman; Buller, McIntyre, Turner and Mayor Rush. The question of main importance was the purchase of new hose for the Fire Department. The Higgins Hardware Company presented a tender submitting quotations for hose manufactured by the Durham Rubber Company, of Toronto, Ont.

The Dunlop Tire and Rubber Goods Company, Limited, of Toronto, also had a tender entered. The Gutta Percha and Rubber Company, also of Toronto, tendered through the Peterborough Hardware Company. Mr. Manson Comstock was present and also Mr. Tate the company's representative, who demonstrated their 3 ply cotton hose known as the "Paragon" Brand.

The Canadian Rubber Company's tender was through the Kingan Hardware Company with Mr. Kingan representing.

Tenders were also submitted by these companies for rubber boots, coats and supplies and nozzles, stand loops, cotton ladder straps and play pipes.

Mr. Tate stated that large contracts at the Paragon hose had been closed with the cities of Hamilton, London and others.

It was finally moved by Ald. McIntyre, seconded by Ald. Turner, that the city purchase 500 feet of the Paragon hose from the Gutta Percha Company at $1.00 a foot, through the Peterborough Hardware Company.

Moved by Ald. McIntyre and Turner, and the tender of the Higgins Hardware Company for one white rubber coat at $9.00; 7 black rubber coats at $5.00, and 7 pairs of rubber boots at $3.40 and two tarpaulins at 9 1-2 cents per sq. ft., 6 cotton ladder straps at $9.00 per doz., be accepted.—Carried.

Moved by Ald. Buller and McIntyre, that Adam Hall's tender for a gas heater at $25.00 be accepted, it guaranteed sutfficiently.—Carried.

THE PROVINCIAL EXHIBITIONS

—All cities over the Province are preparing for their exhibition, and Peterborough is no exception to the rule. It is the time we meet our old and new friends, and those who are not our friends. It is also the best time for the introduction of the newest and smartest cuts in fall suits and where they can be shown to the greatest advantage. The New York Ladies' Tailoring establishment have removed their parlours and workshop from 658 George street to 287 Reid street, opposite St. Peter's Cathedral, for the better accommodation of their patrons, and are prepared to take orders in any line of ladies' garments. ALDERMEN IN CLOSE SCRUTINY

Members of Fire, Water and Light Committee Investigated Samples of Hose

WAS A FULL ATTENDANCE

The members of the Fire, Water and Light Committee certainly carefully considered the different samples of hose which had been forwarded by the respective companies with their tenders. Ald. Buller, McIntyre, Turner and Johnston, and even City Clerk Armstrong, yes, and Chief Howard, too, all were armed with pocket knives and the scrutiny which each sample received was in keeping with the importance of the contract which they were to let.

They investigated the number of layers of cotton over the rubber in each case, and when they were finished the little scraps of cotton gave the appearance of the aftermath of a cat fight.

However, they satisfied themselves as to the quality of the workmanship in each.

Children's EYES

Need the most careful and persistent attention. Early headaches and other troubles frequently emanate from defective eye-sight, which in itself, may have originated in early neglect of the eyes. The trouble is, parents seldom know their children's eyes are weak until it is too late.

School will be opened shortly, you had better bring your children to us, as we make a specialty of examining the eyes of the young and fitting them with the proper lenses.

RUN OF G.T.R. FLYER IS EXTENDED

For Last Week of Toronto Exhibition for Usual Visitors

On Monday, Sept. 7th, the G.T.R. will run the flyer from Campbellford to Toronto and return instead of from this city. This change will be continued until Saturday, Sept. 12th and is for the accommodation of visitors to the Toronto Exhibition. The flyer will leave Campbellford at 6 a. m., calling at Hastings and Keene, and leaving Peterborough as usual at 7.10 a.m. It returns to this city at 10.20 p.m., and arrives back in Campbellford at 11.40 p.m.

WATER SUPPLY IS GOOD AT CAMP

Troops at Barrieficld are Now Ready To Begin Drill

For the next two weeks there will be military activity on Barrieficld Heights, where over 3,600 troops are encamped for annual drill. It is fully twelve years since camp was held here in September. This year it was scheduled for June, as usual but on account of the water supply not being satisfactory the date was changed. Now Barrieficld camp has the best water supply in the province. As local option is now in force in Pittsburg it was, no doubt, necessary to have water fit to drink, as well as for washing and cooking purposes. The camp will again have to proceed without the new butts. Owing to uncalled for delays the butts will not be completed till November 1st. At future camps, however, the shooting facilities will be of the very best. Hence, Barrieficld camp ground will rank as not only having the finest situation, but for having all military conveniences.

The troops arrived yesterday from north, east and west. Advance guards were here to-day arranging for the raising of tents.—Kingston Whig.

WILL CUT 4,000 PIECES OF TIMBER

Mr. E. P. Cresswell Has a Big Contract From Peterboro' Lumber Co.

Mr. E. P. Cresswell, 527 Gilmour street, left this morning on the early train for Lakefield with a gang of about twenty men en route for Anstruther Township. Mr. Cresswell has taken a contract from the Peterborough Lumber Company to cut some 40,000 pieces of timber, amounting in all to 2,000,000 feet, which is a big contract for such a young man to handle, but, no doubt, he will prove successful in his venture. The party were to drive from Lakefield to their destination in Anstruther, fifty miles away. They will be absent from the city for the winter.

WILL BE ASSISTANT FIRE CHIEF

Fireman Frank Reynolds Will Act During Mr. Taylor's Absence

Owing to the absence of Assistant Chief Taylor, of the Fire Brigade, because of the injuries he sustained at the Thompson life on Albert street last Thursday, Fireman Frank Reynolds has been promoted to the position of assistant during his illness, and is on duty now. Mr. Taylor's injuries are more serious than was at first thought. It will be remembered that a Babcock extinguisher exploded and the assistant chief's hand was badly mangled, the thumb being nearly torn off. It is expected that it will be at least two months before he can return to duty.

60 DAYS FOR THEFT OF BICYCLE

Steve Davis of Dummer Gets Two Months at Hard Labour

The theft was committed on the 28th of July and County Constable Moore arrested him. The prisoner appeared before Magistrate Edmison on Saturday, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced as stated above. The wheel was found in his possession.

THE ADVENT OF AUTUMN

Now had the season returned,
when the nights grow colder and longer,
And the retreating sun the sign of the Scorpion enters.
Birds of passage sailed through the leaden air, from the icebound
Desolate northern bays to the shores of tropical islands.
Harvests were gathered in; and wild with the winds of September
Wrestled the trees of the forest, as Jacob of old with the angel.
All the signs foretold a winter long and inclement.
Bees, with prophetic instinct of want, had hoarded their honey
Till the hives overflowed; and the Indian hunters asserted
Cold would the winter be, for thick was the fur of the foxes.
Such was the advent of autumn.

WEDDING BELLS

BLEWETT—IVY

An exceedingly pretty wedding was quietly celebrated at George street Methodist parsonage this afternoon when Miss Eva E. Ivey, daughter of the late Simpson Ivey, who resided near Peterborough, was united in marriage to Mr. Wilson N. Blewett, merchant at Buckhorn. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. A. Pearson in the presence of the immediate friends of the young couple.

The bride was charmingly dressed in San Toy cream silk over taffeta with lace bertha. She was assisted by Miss E. Blanche Ivey and Miss Rose Blewett. The former was becomingly attired in a jumper suit of champagne voile, with lace blouse. Miss Blewett wore a pretty white gown. The groom was supported by Messrs. Milson C. Blewett and Chas G. Ivey.

The bride's going-away dress was of blue cloth with silk blouse and real silk Battenburg lace yoke. She also wore a hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Blewett left on the 1.38 C.P.R. train for Toronto and other points, and after their honeymoon they will reside at Buckhorn.

ECHOES OF THE RECENT PHOTOGRAPHIC CONVENTION

A Local Artist Sends His Hearty Congratulations

Mr. G. Hammer Croughton, the writer of the "Echoes," and head of our criticism department, is now in London, England, and his next batch of "Echoes" will be written from that place. Mr. Croughton will visit all the first class galleries in London, and some of the other large English cities, so we know our readers will look forward with pleasure to his next letter. He will make a point of finding out anything in the photographic line there which may be useful to us on this side of the water. Before leaving for England Mr. Croughton represented us at the Canadian Convention. We have just received the following from one of Canada's leading photographers:

Peterborough, Ont.,
Aug. 8th, 1908.

St. Louis and Canadian Photographer,
St. Louis, Mo.,

Dear Sir,—I promised to give you an account of things that happened at our Convention, but as your Mr. Croughton was also present I think he will be better able to do this. I must congratulate you on having such a man on your staff. His criticism is worth more to me than anything else I have seen and heard and I shall certainly follow his advice. Mr. Croughton took one of my prints with him for reproduction in your valuable magazine. To show you what I have learned I will send you some pictures made after the Convention, in a few weeks.

Yours very truly,
LOUIS MENDEL.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health Saving Explained by a Peterboro Citizen Who Knows From Experience

Many Peterborough people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help.

The reason so many use Booth's Kidney Pills is their quick relief for all Kidney weakness. Here is what a Peterborough citizen says:—

Mrs. Geo. Hawes of 857 Water street, Peterborough, Ontario, says: "I had suffered for some time with many painful and annoying symptoms of kidney trouble and although I had tried many remedies and doctors I found little or no relief. My back was weak and a dull, bearing-down pain settled across the small of it and extended into my shoulders and around my sides. I was weak and languid and the least exertion would tire me out. Dizzy spells were frequent and often I would awake with a severe headache. I tried Booth's Kidney Pills through an advertisement at McDermid & Jury's Pharmacy. I soon found them to benefit me and continued their use. In a comparatively short time I was as well and strong as ever and without a symptom of the painful and long standing disease."

Sold by dealers. Price 50 cents. The R T Booth Company, Limited, Fort Erie, Ont., Sole Canadian Agents.

SMALL FIRE OCCURRED DURING THE NIGHT

The fire brigade were called out at 33.30 o'clock this morning to a fence near the corner of Reid and McDonel streets. It was quickly put out and was caused probably from a cigar stub or cigarette being carelessly thrown away.

GRAVE ROBBERS IN CITY OF CHATHAM

Body of Sufferer From Addison's Disease May Be Stolen.

CARRIAGE AT THE CEMETERY.

Arriving Late Watchmen See Rubber Tired Vehicle and Horse With Padded Feet Drive Away—Investigation Will Be Made by Parents—Case Attracted Widespread Medical Attention.

Chatham, Sept. 1.—A sensational case of grave robbing at Maple Leaf cemetery has leaked out, the particulars of which show to what trouble the medical fraternity will go to in order to secure a "rare specimen."

Recently a young girl in Chatham Township died of Addison's disease, a malady which for years has baffled all medical skill. The girl's body, previous to death, became covered with dark stripes, and her case attracted the attention of physicians and surgeons all through this district and farther east.

Fearing that her body might be stolen, the parents engaged two men to watch the grave at nights. The men faithfully kept up their lonely vigil for several nights, but Sunday night they neglected to get out to the cemetery till midnight, when they were startled to see a rubber-tired carriage bearing two men drive away from the vicinity of the grave. The horses feet were padded so as to make as little noise as possible.

As the grave was newly-made, it was impossible for the men to make sure whether the earth had been disturbed or not, but the relatives of the girl feel sure that the body was stolen, and they intend to re-open the grave and make an investigation.

BENNETT NEARLY DROWNS.

Canadian Aeronaut Has Hair's-Breadth Escape In Lake Erie.

Buffalo, Sept. 1.—Weather-beaten, chilled almost through to the marrow and exceedingly glad to get on land again, Lieut. J. G. Bennett of Winnipeg and Tom L. Sample of Columbus, Ohio, pilot and assistant pilot of the balloon Queen Louise, arrived in the city yesterday afternon. They immediately sought a telegraph office to send word to friends that they and their balloon were in Buffalo to rest up after one of the most exciting and most strenuous balloon flight experiences which fall to the lot of young men. The balloon descended into Lake Erie, and the daring aeronauts were rescued from drowning yesterday by the crew of the steamer Mohegan, which brought them to Buffalo yesterday.

Lieut. Bennett is a member of the Canadian balloon corps, which operates experimental stations and makes an especial study of aeronautic problems. Sample is a special correspondent for The Columbus Press-Post.

Hamilton, Sept. 1.—There was a serious accident at the east end plant of the Hamilton Steel & Iron Co. yesterday afternoon, as the result of which five men were seriously burned, one probable fatally. A ten-ton ladle of molten steel burst, allowing the bottom to drop out and the contents to scatter among the workmen beneath. One of the workmen, John Southam, 19 Sydney street, was burned all over the body, and his life is despaired of.

Robert Connelly, Fred Voltermen, John Beveridge and Charles Whitfield were badly burned.

D. R. A. MATCHES START.

Montreal Riflemen Win Tyro With Hamilton Team Second.

Ottawa, Sept. 1.—Conditions generally were excellent for the first day's shooting in the D.R.A. matches. A slight head wind blew and the light was good.

Five matches were concluded yesterday—the Tyro, Bankers', President's, McDougall Challenge Cup and the School Cadets'.

Recently there has been a formidable movement in the provinces looking to the securing of a constitution.

ARBITRATOR HAS BEEN SELECTED

Wallace Nesbitt Represents C. P. R. in Trainmen's Dispute.

SHORTT MAY BE CHAIRMAN

There Is a Chance That Nesbitt and O'Donoghue May Select Queen's Professor as Third Conciliator In Trouble With Brotherhood of Engineman and Firemen—Men Start Work at North Bay.

Toronto, Sept. 1.—The C.P.R. has nominated its representative in the conciliation board called for under the Lemieux Act by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Enginemen and Firemen. The company's representative will be Hon. Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., who has accepted the appointment. The brotherhood will be represented by J. G. O'Donoghue.

Messrs. O'Donoghue and Nesbitt have five days in which to agree upon the third member of the board. As the two arbitrators have in the past secured Prof. Adam Shortt as their chairman when acting together, it is quite probable that they will agree that conciliator, to preside over the arbitration of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen's grievances.

PROF. SHORTT.
Who Is Mentioned as Possible Third Arbitrator on Board.

The board will sit at Montreal, right in the midst of the C.P.R. strike headquarters. Those urging the appointment of Prof. Shortt by the Dominion Government, as a special official to endeavor to bring the C.P.R. strike to an amicable end regard the choice of Hon. Wallace Nesbitt by the company as a favorable sign.

North Bay, Sept. 1.—About twenty-five men arrived Sunday and went to work in the C.P.R. shops. Some are skilled mechanics, and the company officials feel that things are going their way.

James Hughes, a resident of the town, employed about C.P.R. passenger cars, who did not join the strikers, was attacked yesterday morning and badly beaten while going to work.

Montreal, Sept. 1.—Another meeting of the C.P.R. strikers was held yesterday. The leaders were there and made a strong appeal to the men to hold together, declaring if they did so they could not fail to win.

C.P.R. officials announce they took on yesterday 88 more mechanics.

Winnipeg, Sept. 1.—Apparently nothing remains for the farmers and railway employes but to urge strongly for Government ownership of railways," said Machinists' Organizer McVity last night, "and it is the intention of our membership to make this an issue in the coming campaign."

Toronto, Sept. 1.—It is understood that the Grand Trunk has granted an increase of 5 per cent. to some of the trainmen in its employ. The men admit that they did not get all they wanted, but say they were contented with what they were given because of the prevalent depression of trade and the scarcity of money.

Cadets Will Visit Canada.

London, Sept. 1.—The cruiser Cornwall sails for St. John's and Halifax on Sept. 9 with naval cadets.

FOLLOWED HER MOTHER'S EXAMPLE.

AND KEPT DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY IN THE HOUSE.

Mrs. W. J. Wilson, Tessier, Sask. tells of her experience in the following words: "I wish to tell you of the good I have found in DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY. Last summer my little girl, aged two years, was taken ill with Summer Complaint, and as my mother always kept DR. FOWLER'S in the house, when I was a child, I seemed to follow her example, as I always have it also. I at once gave it to my baby as directed and she was at once relieved, and after a couple of doses were taken was completely cured."

DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY imparts a healthy tone to all mucous surfaces, corrects and heals all forms of canker and counteracts all tendency to pain and inflammation, while it gives tone to the debilitated system when weakened by exhaustive discharges and fluxes of whatever nature, thus making it the best and safest remedy for Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Colic, Cramps, Pain in the Stomach, Sea Sickness, Cholera Infantum, Cholera Morbus and all Summer Complaints.

THE OUTRAGE HAS BEEN SOLVED

WAS BAFFLED BLACKMAILER

Author of Attempt to Blow Up W. McClellan's Home With Dynamite Is Well Known In St. Thomas and Has Fled to the United States—Detective Reburn Is Hot on His Trail—Woman In Case.

St. Thomas, Sept. 1.—Through the clever work of Provincial Detective Reburn, the mystery of the bomb outrage has been cleared, and the police are now on the trail of the guilty party, who has escaped across the border. He will be extradited when taken into custody.

On Aug. 8 an attempt was made to blow up the private residence of W. McClellan by exploding a pail filled wth powder attached to the knob of the door. McClellan had received threatening letters demanding money. Detective Reburn got these letters and worked very quietly. He discovered that twenty-three years ago the barn of Orlando Fordyce had been burned with a loss of $5,000.

He also had received threatening letters demanding money. Here the detective found his first clue which led to the culprit's identity.

There is a woman in the case, and the motive was partly jealousy. The man wanted is well known in St. Thomas, and news of his capture across the line may be expected at any time.

Year For Forgery.

Toronto, Sept. 1.—For forgery of a check for $1,000, which he sought to cash at the King Edward Hotel a week ago, W. L. Douglas was sent to the Central for one year from the Police Court yesterday morning. He is wanted under the name of Douglas Dearing in Columbus, Ohio, on two similar charges.

Blast Proves Fatal.

Cornwall, Sept. 1.—Alexander Adams, son of John Adams of Cornwall, Ont., arrived home yesterday from Nominingue, Que., where has was badly burned and his eyes are closed, but it is believed that the sight is uninjured.

A Natural Laxative

Inward cleaning is as necessary as outward bathing. To keep the bowels free and regular is of even greater importance than to keep the skin-pores from becoming clogged. The neglect of either invites disease. Everyone needs a natural laxative occasionally, to free the bowels of accumulated impurities For this purpose take the greatest boon ever offered to those who suffer from the ills that follow constipation. For over fifty years Beecham's Pills have been famous as a Stomach corrective, a Liver regulator and Bowel laxative. They never gripe nor cause pain. Powerful purgatives are dangerous. Avoid them. Use Beecham's Pills. They give relief without doing violence to any organ. Their action is in harmony with physical laws. Take them regularly and the necessity for their use becomes less frequent. They are a natural laxative and a positive cure for Constipation, Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache and Dyspepsia.

ANNUAL MEETING OF RUGBY CLUB TO BE HELD TO-MORROW; PROSPECTS FOR THE SEASON

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Rugby Club will be held tomorrow night in the Oriental Hotel, when the officers for the year will be elected and plans for the fast approaching season discussed. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance of those interested in the great fall game, as it is important that the team should be organized as early in the season as possible, as much depends upon the start.

There is no reason why Peterborough should not have a strong team in whatever league they decide to enter this year. True, some good men have left town, but it is probable that some men from outside points who are clever Rugby players, have drifted in since last fall and will be heard from when the dull thud of the pig's skin resounds through the fall air. In any event there is an abundance of young players in sight who should be able to take their places effectively in senior ranks this season. Last year a number broke into fast company and made good, and there seems no reason why there should not be more this season.

The problem seems to be to determine what league to enter, and until further developments occur it is hard to say just what will be doing this season. Last year, when the locals broke away from the fold of the O. R. F. U. to play Montreal for the championship of the Dominion, they received the promise of the Montrealers that they would support the Peterboroughs in any effort they might make to enter the Inter-provincial League this season. Whether this promise will hold good or whether the locals will decide to try and enter the Inter-provincial remains to be seen.

Programme For The Harriers' Big Indoor Meet On Sept. 17th

The executive of the Y. M. C. A. Harriers met last night in the Examiner office to make preparations for the big indoor meet to be held in Brock street rink Thursday night, Sept. 17, and which proves to be the sporting event of the season. The Harriers have the assurance that Tom Longboat, Bobby Kerr, Lou Sebert, E. B Archibald and others of the Toronto and Hamilton cracks who formed part of the Canadian Olympic contingent will be here to take part in the events, for which valuable prizes will be given. Mr. J. H. Crocker, who was the manager of the Canadian team in England, will be present and will act as starter for the events.

All entries must be in the hands of the secretary, Mr. R. M. Glover, at the Examiner office on or before September 12.

Following was the programme decided upon:

1, Boys' race for boys under 18—220 yards.
2, Half-mile handicap.
3, Fifty yards handicap, Bobby Kerr on scratch.
4, Boys' race for boys under 18—One mile.
5, Mile walk; open.
6, 220 yards handicap, Bobby Kerr on scratch.
7, Exhibition pole vault, by Archibald, British and Canadian champion.
8, Mile race; open.
9, Three-mile race, special; Longboat vs. Simpson.

Peterboro May Have Two City Rugby Leagues This Season

Peterborough will have a good City Rugby League this year, according to leading enthusiasts in the game, who will make every effort to put such an organization on a firm footing, realizing that it is the only way in which it can be hoped to bring out future senior material. In fact, this city may have two leagues—a senior and junior—the latter with an age limit so that the young players may have a chance to learn the game under proper influences. The Peterborough Club may take the matter up and do something to help the movement along. It is likely that the T. A. S., Y. M. C. A., Bankers and Canadian General Electric Works will be represented by a team in the league, and there should be some lively Rugby seen before the end of the season, as four fast teams could be placed in the field by those organizations.

WILL NOT AGAIN JEOPARDIZE POSITION FOR ATHLETIC MEETS

Mr. George Tait, of Toronto, representing the Gutta Percha and Rubber Company, of that city, was in Peterborough last night and was successful in securing the contract of 500 feet of hose for the local fire department. He is the father of Jack Tait, the fleet three-miler who was a member of the Olympic team. He states that Jack will likely be down to Peterborough for the Harrier Club's meet, if it does not interfere with his work. Jack has decided not to jeopardize his position again to attend an athletic meet. He is interested in sports just as much but cannot let them interfere with his material welfare.

How Fred Simpson Called The Ducks In Kew Gardens, Richmond

An interesting story about Fred Simpson of Hiawatha was told the Examiner last night by Mr. Geo. Tait, of Toronto, father of Jack Tait who competed in several of the Olympic events. Mr. Tait was so pleased with Simpson's manner and bearing that he invited him to go to Richmond to visit friends of the Tait family. Besides the father, there was Jack and Willie, a younger brother. With their friends they went out to Kew Gardens and Fred accompanied them. In one of the large artificial ponds there was a number of swans languidly floating among the beautiful aquatic plants. To the surprise of Mr. Tait and his friends, Simpson began calling the fowl by making a noise closely imitating their call. As he continued it the birds were seen to slowly make their way towards the bridge where Fred was standing, looking for the bird which was calling them.

HASSAN ABDALLAH'S DEBUT IN BOSTON A GREAT SUCCESS

Hassan Abdallah, the big Syrian wrestler, who will be under the control of Mr. W B Naylor, manager of Yankee Rogers, while in America, made a very auspicious debut last night in the Columbus Theatre, Boston, where he is meeting all comers this week. Abdallah is the man whom Eugene Hurtubise will meet in a short time, and he is evidently hot stuff, as in his first appearance in America last night he defeated two good men in short order. Manager Naylor has received the following telegram from Boston, in regard to Abdallah's first appearance:

"Your man had great reception. You should have been on hand. He beat Jim Karlsen, 190 lbs., Swede, in 6 min. 40 sec.; Aumary, Belgium, in 3 min. Big house. Meets Karakanot, Wednesday night.

Local People Expect Mohl To Win Friday's Big Match

The general impression among the people who saw Rogers-Mohl bout last week, is that Mohl will defeat the Yankee in their Graeco-Roman match here on Friday night. It is pointed out that Rogers' chief superiority over the German was in the use of his legs, his leg work being something indeed remarkable, and while the Yankee used every artifice allowed him by the generous catch-as-catch-can rules, Mohl himself feels confident that when the Yankee will be barred from using his legs that he will be at his mercy and cheerfully looks forward to a victory on Friday night. "Its what I have been looking for," he stated before he left, "and I will get my revenge this time for the trimming I received under Rogers' favourite style."

It will be a great bout, probably rough, but cetainly exciting and lively all the way. Mohl is being fancied by most of the fans as the winner, although Rogers does not lack for supporters, his great showing last week winning him many friends.

CHOKED WIFE BECAUSE SHE WOULD'NT WORK IN THE FIELD

Bancroft, Sept. 1.—Jack Bradhour, of Faraday, was obliged to spend Tuesday night of last week in the lock-up here, notwithstanding the fact that his harvest is ripe and ready for the sickle. He was arrested on an information sworn out by his wife, who charged him with abusing her. Bradhour has not a very lovable disposition, and his wife and dog generally receive the same treatment at his hands. On Monday he was drawing in grain and ordered his better half to get up on the load, but she refused on the ground that he had ordered her only a few days before to never draw a line over the horses again. She expressed a willingness to pitch the grain onto the waggon, but Bradhour was obdurate and followed her into the house, where he abused her shamefully. The marks of his finger nails were still visible on her face and neck when she appeared in court yesterday to give evidence against him. The accused has space to let in his upper storey, and made no attempt to put up a defence. The magistrate reserved judgment, but a term in jail, with about ten lashes, would be a fitting punishment. Mrs. Bradhour refuses to live with her husband any longer, and as she has six children, the oldest only ten years of age, her position is not an enviable one.

Schools Re-Opened To-day With Large Attendances

All the city schools opened this morning for the fall term and without exception the reports are highly satisfactory. All the teachers were present and only a short session was held to-day. The promotions were made and also the usual preparations for beginning the routine work tomorrow. Inspector Mowat has unusually large numbers at the Central and South Central Schools, but hopes to have these as well as the other schools well organized in a few days.

It is a pleasing fact to the teachers to find that the parents are sending their children from the very first day.

The new Collegiate Institute building resounded for the first time with the clatter of children's feet and the merry laughter and happy voices reechoed through the bright rooms and corridors for the first time.

Principal Kenner assumed his active duties and reports a large attendance.

From the Separate Schools the reports are of a similar nature and the scholastic term of 1908-1909 begins in Peterborough under most auspicious conditions. It is in fact the beginning of a new era in local educational circles.

PURE OXYGEN FOR THE ATHLETES

They Are Wonderfully Aided By Inhaling It—Effect on Records

New York, Sept. 1.—In tests held at Huntington Bay, Long Island, Saturday, it was conclusively shown that athletes who have inhaled pure oxygen are for the time being so invigorated that they are capable of faster performances for short distances than under ordinary physical conditions. The experiments are under the direct supervision of Dr. E. E. Smith, professor of physiology in the Fordham University Medical School. Bay Mulvey and J. Ferbur, after oxygen had been administered to them, made remarkable records, and Mulvey was enabled to swim 100 yards in 54 2-5 seconds, when his best time made under identical conditions earlier in the afternoon was more than seven seconds slower than this. As a result the physicians who witnessed the tests believe that when athletes are exhilarated by oxygen they will be able to break all existing speed records, in the short distances, at least.

WARSAW'S PROTEST WAS ALLOWED

Midland League Game Will Have to be be Replayed

At a meeting of the Midland Football League Executive held last night in the Examiner office, the protest entered by Warsaw against Warkworth in the final game for the championship which was won by Warkworth, was dealt with. The Warsaw protest was based upon the fact that Warkworth played two men—Fred Doherty and Fred Cummings—both of whom had played previously this season with the Norwood club. The matter has been in dispute for some time, but owing to the absence on vacation of the majority of the officers it was impossible to get a quorum together.

At last night's meeting the protest of the Warsaw club was allowed and it was decided that the final game should be re-played on a date to be decided upon by the two teams, who will also be allowed to decide where the game shall be played.

SEEKS INGERSOLL'S SPIRIT

Widow of Celebrated Agnostic Says He Promised to Return If Possible

IS TESTING SPIRITUALISM

New York, Sept. 2. — The widow of Robert G. Ingersoll is endeavouring to communicate with the great agnostic's spirit. Although during his life she was his most devoted follower in his rejection of the Christian belief that a hereafter was certain, her great love for "Bob" has brought her to a different frame of mind. She is testing Spiritualism.

"I do not know that there is a hereafter, but there may be one," she said yesterday. "I am not a Spiritualist, and I do not know that there are spirits. But if spirits exist, I think my husband's spirit will seek me out. I am trying to aid it."

Promised to Return

"I must have the most positive communication," she said earnestly. "The words, or messages, must deal with subjects known only to myself and my husband. Before I will finally admit the identity of the spirit —if it comes—it must tell me certain sacred things in our life, it must go over with me, for instance, the period between our betrothal and our marriage. If that can be done, I will admit a hereafter and a spirit world.

"My husband, influenced by his own great love of truth on every subject, said to me before his death:

"'If a world of spirits exists, and it is possible for a spirit to establish communication between that world and this on which we live, I will try to establish communication with you.'"

FUNERAL OF LATE JOHN GREER LARGEST IN YEARS

Remains Taken Yesterday to Baillieboro for Interment

The funeral of the late John Greer, who met with such a sad death by burning last week, was held yesterday, the remains being taken to Baillieboro for interment. The funeral was one of the largest, if not the largest, ever seen in this section of the country, evidencing not only the affection in which the deceased was held by his many friends, but also the widespread sympathy which is felt for the family in the sudden bereavement that has befallen them.

The service at the house was conducted by Rev. J. G. Potter and Rev. H. J. Keith, and the closing service at the grave by Rev. J. G. Potter and Rev. Mr. Mackenzie, of Centreville.

The cemetery was densely crowded with friends and sympathizers of the family. The St. Andrew's choir sent a basket of flowers. The Bible Class and the Young Men's Guild sent large wreaths, and the employees of "My Valet" a handsome floral heart. There was such a profusion of flowers that a special hack was required to convey them to the grave.

FELL AND FRACTURED HER HIP

Accident to Miss Janet Riddell of Division Street

Miss Janet Riddell, a lady well advanced in years who lives at 677 Division street, met with a very painful accident yesterday, which will confine her to her bed for some time. Miss Riddell was stooping over to fix her skirt at the bottom when she slipped and fell heavily on the pavement near her home, fracturing her hip in the fall. She was picked up and carried into the house and the Dan Spence ambulance was called for and conveyed the unfortunate lady to the Nicholls Hospital. Dr. Morgan attended to her injuries. She is resting easily to-day.

A Runaway Horse At Funeral Kicks Driver In The Face As He Tries To Control It

Mr. John Hannick, of Percy township, met with a distressing accident yesterday while attending a funeral which was passing through Hastings. Mr. John Coughlin, President of the Cheese Board, mentioned the affair to an Examiner reporter this morning. A paper flew across the street in front of Mr. Hannick's horse which became frightened. The animal kicked over the dashboard, striking Mr. Hannick squarely in the face. The teeth in the front of his mouth were knocked out, his nose was practically flattened, the facial bone was slightly fractured and the flesh bruised and cut. Fortunately the horse did not succeed in causing trouble among the other horses in the line and was unable to run away. Mr. Hannick was taken to the Clarendon Hotel and D. Wade attended him. He was suffering considerably this morning.

INSPECTOR MOWAT SAYS PUBLIC SCHOOLS ARE IN FINE CONDITION

It should be a matter of interest to the citizens at large to know that Inspector Mowat of the Public Schools of this city has expressed himself as highly satisfied with the provision which the Board of Education has made for the teaching of the youth of Peterborough. At the meeting last night he stated that an enormous amount had been expended on the schools during the last few years and that now the results of this policy are evident to everyone. New buildings have been erected, and old ones have been repaired, and made practically like new. They are now modern in equipment and are well seated. Not only that but the Board has not forgotten the teaching staffs which are as efficient as money can procure.

The Board of Education feels that it is now time to rest on its oars a while and are loth to entail any further expenses for the present. The members were very pleased that the Inspector should find the schools in the condition mentioned.

The Particulars Of Stabbing Affray At Fenelon Falls

Fenelon Falls, Sept. 1.—The citizens of the village of Fenelon Falls were thrown into a high pitch of excitement last night when the report became current through the place that two well-known young men had been seriously stabbed in an altercation with several American campers.

The rumour spread like wildfire amongst the villagers who thronged the streets anxious to learn the particulars or if there was any foundation for the startling report. Excitement was at fever heat when it was found out that the stabbing had actually occurred, and strong murmurs of indignation were heard on all sides at what many considered an outrage of the vilest sort.

On every corner could be seen groups of citizens excitedly discussing the affair and the serious expressions on their faces spoke volumes, and certainly augured dire things for the offenders of the citizens had their way.

It appears that about 8.45 last evening the two young men, John Barry and Sam Nicholls, were walking on the main street of the village when the two Detroit visitors, one of whom was named Nettleton, came along with two young ladies on the way to the station. The quartette were taking up considerable sidewalk space, and were crowding Barry and Nicholls to the side, when one of the latter remarked, "Half the sidewalk, please."

This request led up to a cross-fire of words between the two parties and an altercation ensued. The Detroiters, it seemed, were getting worsted, when either one or both drew knives and made a fiendish assault on Barry and Nicholls. The latter were then on the defensive and could not resist very long the attacks of two exasperated men armed with knives. It was only a matter of time until they were at the mercy of the latter and the life blood that ebbed from their bodies was the horrible indication that their frenzied adversaries had stabbed them.

Poor Nicholls, who valiantly battled for his very existence until weakened by loss of blood, fell with four knife wounds in his body. Barry, his comrade, was also a victim of the demon-like attacks of their opponents. Twice did the knife find a lodging place in his body, and both were placed hors de combat when assistance arrived. It was not long before a crowd was on the spot. Constable Jones quickly arrested the strangers before the infuriated populace laid hands upon them.

The wounded men were examined by Drs. Graham and Wilson, and it was found that both had been seriously wounded. Nicholls, as stated before, was stabbed four times, his wounds requiring 48 stitches.

The young men are doing as well as can be expected and it is not known yet whether any fatal results will follow, as the doctors will express no opinion.

Mr. F. D. Moore, K.C., County Magistrate, went to Fenelon Falls to-day, where the preliminary trial of the Detroit young men will take place.

SMELTING WORKS WAS DESTROYED

Deseronto Factory Struck By Lightning —Not Likely to be Rebuilt

Examiner Special

Deseronto, Sept. 2.—During an electric storm last night the smelting works, owned by the Deseronto Iron Company, was struck by lightning and totally destroyed. The fire broke out in a shed which was being built for the purpose of storing a large supply of charcoal. The iron works, which had been closed down for five months past, were being fitted out and were expected to start again very soon. The destruction is a great loss to the town of Deseronto, as they were the only works which were operated to run steadily the year round. It is not known whether the works will be rebuilt, but it is thought to be doubtful.

A CHAPTER OF GROWLS.

The Examiner has received many complaints in regard to the depredations of dogs—but it is better, for the moment perhaps, to let sleeping dogs lie—and the longer they lie the better, to please most persons—and have a word to say about the lawns which suffer from their ravages.

The lawn judging committee have made their award and the number of entries shows the interest taken in the matter of maintaining beautiful lawns and flower beds. There are, however, hundreds who do not compete for prizes, but cultivate beauty of premises for beauty's sake—for their own satisfaction and the pleasure of the public. Any lawn, especially of those without fences, that reaches a stage of beauty, has come up through great tribulation. Great annoyance has been suffered at the hands—and feet, too—of mankind, boykind and dogkind.

A large proportion of the population of Peterborough seems to be uncivilised, or rather half-civilized in regard to some matters. The Indian in his native savagery hadn't much respect for the beauty of lawns—simply because the wild woods was good enough for him. There seems to be many people in Peterborough who have no more taste or sense of the beautiful than a wild Indian—as if they were never accustomed to lawns and boulevards and flower gardens, the accompaniment of advanced civilization—as if they have not outgrown the "hawbuck" stage of backwoodsism. Indeed, there are many in the backwoods who have more taste and appreciation of beauty and refinement than scores or even hundreds, if not thousands of city "hay-seeds," as they will contemptuously call their country cousins. The real "hayseed"—as far as the term implies crudeness and lack of culture, is not the honest farmer, who comes to town in his working clothes, but the city dweller, who, without taste himself, cannot appreciate the desire of really civilized persons for beauty of lawn, boulevard and flower plot, which they tramp over as if they were dirt under their feet.

Complaints are made of the manner in which some of the postmen, some of the milkmen and bakers, delivery boys and the boys who distribute bills run over and injure lawns. A lady on a certain street where there is a fine stretch of beautiful lawns, unfenced, says that the postman, if he has a letter or parcel for every house, will take the "short cut" across the lawn to the door of the first house he reaches, and from that house will go across the lawns of every residence till he reaches the end of the street. The same applies in different degrees to the other classes mentioned.

But the worst enemy of the lawn is the mongrel dog—which seems to be the prevalent kind kept. The flower plot on an open lawn seems to be an irresistibly attractive object for the exercise of his predominating instincts. A big brute of a St. Bernard, or collie, or mastiff will plunge through a flower bed, smash down the flowers, and will very likely conclude his visit by the pawing process and tear up the turf like a plough-horse. Mr. Isaac Richardson, 541 Homewood avenue, states that he has had three fine geraniums in the flower plot on his lawn destroyed by dogs, and that this and other depredations by dogs adversely affected his chances of winning in the lawn competition.

This, and the other things mentioned, are but pictures of what is going on in every part of the city every hour of the day. It is simply outrageous, and many are desperately asking if there is no way of preventing these things, no protection to citizens. There is to a certain extent, as to a certain class of offenders.

The postman is easily caught; all any one who feels agrieved has to do is to write to the Postmaster-General, respectfully lodging a formal complaint; he will do the rest. As to the bakers and milkmen — who are not all offedners—and the parcel delivery boys and men for shop-keepers, the housewives have the remedy in their own hands — withdraw their custom and refuse to deal with any merchant whose delivery agent will not take the proper walk and come to the proper entrance in the dleivery of goods. As to the boys and men who distribute bills, they can be watched, and dealt with for treapers. As to the dogs—there is a short and sure way, but most people, unless absolutely goaded to it, are averse to employing it, and will not employ it. But the liberty of the dog might be restricted, and it will have to come to something like Toronto is doing—allow no dog to be abroad without being led in leash. Everybody has a right to keep a dog, or ten dogs if he likes, and pays the taxes, but no man or woman has a right to keep a dog that is an annoyance to his neighbours, and a public nuisance.

But we must go farther back—begin at the beginning—to work a radical cure. Yesterday ten city schools opened their doors to between 2,000 and 3,000 pupils. Here is a chance to teach respect for the rights and interests of others, the basis of the principles of good citizenship. From the beginning, from the kindergarten up, let teachers instil into the minds of pupils good manners, respect for the rights of others, respect for elders, respect for authority, which are as important, if not more so, than mere book knowledge which crams the mind, but does not develop the finer feelings, respect for the beautiful and comely, and respect for the rights and fancies, or even whims, of others, which are the essential elements of what constitutes a lady or gentleman, not to speak of a good citizen and good neighbour.

THE COLCHESTER EXPOSURE.

Our Conservative friends have made quite a crusade against political corruption, but with nice discrimination; they differentiate corruption. That alleged to be practised by their opponents is bad, utterly bad; but, as to that practised by their own party, it becomes a venial offence, and is either ignored, excused or justified. We have had the Toronto News, a pharisaic censor of political morals, hammering away at the late Ross Government in tremendous style, but when it comes to corruption and corrupt acts in the Conservative party, it is either silent or excusing. Mr. R. L. Borden, in his hermaphrodite Halifax platform, makes great insistence upon political purity, and he has enjoined his political friends to "conduct their elections according to honourable, decent and clean methods." Yet in his home province, in the face of resolutions in favour of clean elections, we have the Colchester cauldron of political filth uncovered. In November, 1907, there was a bye-election in Colchester. Mr. Stanfield, the Conservative candidate, was declared elected, and, it was alleged by his opponents, by corrupt methods. Here are the different views entertained by those concerned. The Conservative newspaper comment—Halifax Herald (Conservative)— was:

"The clean, straight, manly Liberals of Colchester have spoken loud and clear. They set the seal of their stern condemnation on the corruption of men masquerading as Liberals."

The Liberal statement through the Halifax Chronicle was this:

"If Mr. Stanfield takes his seat in the House of Commons, he will have been floated there on rum."

Naturally, Mr. Stanfield's election was protested, but the protest could not be proceeded with because Parliament was in session, and since it rose the courts have been taking holidays. But one, A. R. Bayne, a mining operator at Truro, Nova Scotia, an American citizen, is now on trial at Truro, charged with violation of the Elections Act in the interest of Mr. John Stanfield, the Conservative candidate; and the result of the preliminary hearing has been so far to disclose widespread corruption and electoral debauchery, in flat contradiction to the Conservative organ, which, speaking for its party, declared the success of its candidate a triumph for pure election methods. The facts show that the Liberal organ's estimation was right in contending that Mr Stanfield, the Conservative member elect, was "floated to Ottawa on rum." Here is some of the evidence brought out in the preliminary hearing:

In the one district of Five Islands alone ten witnesses examined on the first day of Mr. Bayne's trial testified that they had received from this lieutenant of Stanfield money, and whisky to the average amount of $16 and 116 bottles per man—an average, which, if maintained throughout the county, indicates that Mr. Stanfield's election cost over $43,000 and over 5,000 gallons of whisky. This in a 'purity election, which resulted in "a victory for the cause of good government."

One man swore that ten days before the election Bayne received from Halifax two barrels of rum.

Another swore that "two or three nights before the election he got money from Mr. Bayne—fifteen dollars, we were talking about the election. He was praising up Stanfield."

Another: "I saw him on nomination day and got $30 in cash and got a case of flasks from him. I got the money in the Stanley Hotel and the liquor from him back of the hotel. He wanted me to work for Mr. Stanfield. He said I would 'be with him' in the election."

Another: "I got whisky twice nomination day. I got 24 bottles. I got about half a dozen bottles from Bayne at Five Islands the day before election. There was quite a crowd in the Stanley where I got the whisky. McDonald was there also, and took all he could get in his pocket."

Another: I got some money from Mr. Bayne in the Stanley. There was a roll of dollars, probably twenty. He told me to make the best use of it I could in Stanfield's interests. I got a letter from Mr. Hall, secretary and agent of the Conservative party here, to Mr. Bayne. I burnt that letter. It told me to call on Mr. Bayne. I called on Mr. Bayne because it was reported that he was 'the man behind the gun' for that district. I got some liquor from Mr. Bayne at Five Islands election day. He said I was to use it."

Ten cases of rum were shipped by express into the riding, labelled as "choice tomatoes," and given to conservative workers for the purpose of corrupting the electors.

It is alleged that the Colchester "success" on Nov. 28th, 1908, three months after Mr. Borden's appeal at Halifax on August, 20th, for "honourable, decent and clean methods," and claimed to be a triumph for electoral purity, cost $43,000 in money and 5,172 gallons of rum. From the evidence, as outlined above, evidence drawn with difficulty from a few of the cloud of witnesses available, it seems that this estimate is not extravagant. There can be no doubt that the Conservative bye-election was won by the help of wholesale bribery and corruption.

What is the attitude of the party of purity to these revelations? Do they condemn them? By no means; they try to minimize and excuse the wrong doing. This is the attitude of the whole Conservative press that has had the courage to refer to the question. In hundreds of Conservative journals the information has not been printed at all. The more brazen claim (Toronto News), that there is little in the evidence or the election petition would be proceeded, a matter that will emerge in due time. The Mail and Empire excuses Bayne's crooked work by asserting that he was doing it from motives of personal revenge. Mr. Stansfield, the member elect, denies everything and says he will resign his seat if bribery by Bayne is proved. What will he consider proof? If, as is shown by the evidence of one witness, that he got money for corruption purposes from Bayne, that the witness got a letter from Mr. Hall, secretary and agent of the Conservative party in Colchester to Bayne, then Bayne is pretty closely connected with Mr. Stansfield, who now repudiates Bayne.

To be consistent the Conservatives should assist in the punishment of Bayne; and they would do so instead of obstructing the hearing in every possible way, if, as the Mail and Empire says, Bayne was corrupting the electors from motives of revenge, and if, as Mr. Stansfield says, he "did not before, at the time or since the election have any dealings in any way with the said A. R. Bayne, in respect to politics or any other matter." If Bayne for revenge or anything else was gorging the electors with rum and loading them up with money to influence their votes in favour of the Conservative party he deserves punishment, and the Conservatives should to be consistent, aid in his punishment, instead of having done as they did do, using every effort to prevent evidence of wrong doing from coming out.

As it is they must "take their medicine" and stand convicted of preaching purity, and practising corruption, unrepentant and unashamed.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Reader—The Colchester tomato — Solanum Toryosum—is a new variety introduced recently into Colchester, N.S., by an enterprising Yankee named Bayne, an agent of Mr. R L Borden, leader of the Conservative party in Canada. Its peculiarity is that the whole fruit, though shipped as "Choice Tomatoes," assumes, on delivery, a liquid form and possesses highly exhilarating qualities, very much like rum or whisky. Its introduction into local option districts — Colchester is dry except at election times—meets a long-felt want and it promises to be a very popular variety for home culture and for political propagation. Its consumption in sufficient quantity, diluted with a little money, is guaranteed to make a man vote the Conservative ticket.

Romaine Street Sewer

The following communication was received from City Engineer Hay, stating that upon instruction from the Board of Works. Mr. Evans had inspected the sewers on Romaine and Aylmer streets, with which the King Edward School is connected. Tool Storerooms

Mr. Dumble pointed out that no tools, ladders, etc., have been provided for the new Collegiate Institute. They were of absolute necessity to the caretaker, and should be had at once.

On motion of Messrs. Crane and Dumble, the matter was left with the Property Committee.

Mr. Dumble humourously remarked that provision had not been made for good housekeepers in some of the schools. He asserted that closets should have been made in each floor for a sink, tap, pail, mop, ladder, broom, etc. As it is, everything has to be brought from the basement.

On motion of Messrs. Robinson and Crane, the question of providing surface drains for the Queen Alexandra School was left in the hands of Mr. Dumble and Mr. Ackerman.

Visited Schools

Inspector Mowat and Mr. Crane reported that they had visited the schools yesterday and that everything appeared clean and bright and large attendances were noticed at every school.

To Stop the Increase of Catarrh in Peterborough.

Catarrhal troubles are increasing, not only in Peterborough, but all over the country.

Catarrh is a germ disease, and to cure it, germ life in the nose, throat and lungs must be destroyed, and this can be done only by breathing Hyomei.

There is no dangerous stomach drugging when Hyomei is used; no tablet or liquid mixtures whereby the digestion is often destroyed.

Breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit its healing balsams penetrate the most remote air cells, destroying the catarrhal germs so that quick recovery follows. The complete outfit costs but $1, and Wm. Madill agrees to refund the money should Hyomei fail to do all that is claimed for it For sale by Wm. Madill, corner Hunter and George streets.

TRESPASSING ON G. T. R. AT TORONTO

Twelve Young Men Arrested for Stealing Rides

East Toronto, Sept. 2. — Chief of Police Jas. Tideberry and Private Detective Hodge of the G.T.R., made a raid on the young men who are in the habit of trespassing on Grand Trunk property and stealing rides on trains. They catch the freight at the Don and ride through to York.

One of a gang was arrested and brought up before Magistrate W. H. Clay yesterday. He gave the names of twelve other young men ranging in age between 16 and 21 years. The lad arrested was remanded till Tuesday, when the others will be summoned to appear at the same time.

"HEADACHE, WEAKNESS, HEART TROUBLE"

"I Suffered With for Years—Pe-ru-na Cured Me Entirely."

Miss Albina Chauvin, No. 60 Rue Agnes, St. Henri, Montreal, Can., writes:

"I consider Peruna better than any other remedy, as it cured me when nothing else could. I suffered for years and years with heart trouble, headache and weakness. I never expected to find anything to cure me. I saw one day, in "La Presse," that Peruna was excellent and I tried it. One bottle produced a change in me and if the price had been $100 a bottle I would have paid it gladly. I have taken six bottles and am entirely cured. Please accept my thanks and best wishes for your Peruna."

"Please Accept My Thanks and Best Wishes For Your PE-RU-NA."

Many cases of heart trouble are caused by reflex disturbances.

Derangements of the stomach and liver produce symptoms of heart trouble.

Catarrh of the stomach is a very frequent cause of sympathetic heart disease.

Palpitation, shortness of breath and bloating after meals are the most prominent symptoms.

Such a condition of the stomach is also liable to produce headaches of the worst sort.

Medicines that palliate the symptoms will never lead to a cure.

It is the effect which Peruna has upon the stomach, healing the mucous membranes and restoring the natural function of the stomach, that causes Peruna to bring such prompt relief.

HEATHERBLOOM PETTICOATS

Special Demonstration at J. C. Turnbull Company's Store

Our ladies are to be congratulated upon having in the J. C. Turnbull Co., up-to-date merchants, who are always on the lookout for the very latest and best for their patrons. This time they have secured at great expense direct from New York's leading manufacturers a special demonstration of the famous Heatherbloom Petticoats.

Heatherbloom Taffeta is the product of 20 years' untiring research; a labour that was finally crowned by well merited success. Messrs. A G Hyde & Sons, of New York, the makers of this unique fabric, had their experts at work for many years on the manufacture of a fabric that would possess the resistancy of steel, the delicate tintings of the petal of a flower, the lustre and sheen of a dew-studded lawn; in fact have all the characteristic virtues of the richest silk without possessing any of its defects.

The mere fact, perhaps, that something like 32 million Heatherbloom petticoats are sold annually, will give the thoughtful reader full reflections of the vast popularity of this material. Everybody should go next week to see this remarkable demonstration at The J. C. Turnbull Co.

GIVING UP BUSINESS

Having decided to retire from business, I have sold all the fixtures and stand to The Peterborough Furnishing Co., who are now at 163 Charlotte Street, and I have to give them possession on September 20th next. In the meantime I must clear the whole stock, worth $8975, consisting of General Dry Goods, Clothing, Millinery, Mantles, House Furnishings, Boots and Shoes, Furs, Toys, Fancy Goods, etc. This sale is genuine, and there is no question about the prices. Everyone who has visited my store in the last five years know the bargains they got, but there will be no comparison with the bargains you can get now. The stock is assorted in every line. The first comers will have the best chance.

SPRY-BRADBURN NUPTIALS; CHIC SEPTEMBER WEDDING

One of Peterborough's most charming and popular daughters became a bride this afternoon in the person of Miss Mabel Bradburn, daughter of the late Thomas Bradburn, who at a delightful September wedding was united in marriage to Mr. Frank McLean Spry, of Toronto, son of the late Daniel Spry, of Barrie. The ceremony took place at 2.30 o'clock at "The Oaks" Mrs. Bradburn's beautiful residence on London street, in the presence of some 125 guests, many of whom had come from distant points to be present on the auspicious occasion.

Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, of St. Luke's church, performed the ceremony in the spacious drawing room which was tastefully decorated for the event with pink and white asters and ferns and palms, the bridal pair standing ing beneath a canopy while the nuptial knot was being tied.

The matron of honour was Mrs. F. D. Hewson, sister of the bride. The two charming bridesmaids were Miss Clara Spry, of Barrie, the groom's sister, and Miss Edith Hewson, also of Barrie. Little Misses Dorothy Hill and Marjorie Hewson made two pretty flower girls. The task of assisting the groom fell to Mr. Arthur B. Fortier, of Toronto.

The fair young bride was attired in a chic sheath costume of white satin trimmed with seed pearls and Carrickmacross lace. She wore the conventional veil and orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

The matron of honour's attractive gown was of lace over white satin with satin and gold trimmings while she carried a bouquet of pink asters.

The bridesmaid's costumes were of mulle and lace over silk, their bouquets being of pink asters. The little flower girls also wore dresses mulle and lace over pink silk, but instead of bouquets they carried shepherds' crooks.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Bradburn, wore a costume of black lace over white silk. Mrs. Spry, the groom's mother, was in black silk with lace coat, and Mrs. W Ross Cameron, of Erin, the groom's sister, wore a tastefully designed figured mulle costume. During the ceremony Miss Mabel Harrison, of Keene, rendered Mendelssohn's wedding march, and, at its conclusion, sang in splendid voice the solo "O Fair, O Sweet, O Holy." The bride entered the drawing room on the arm of her brother, Ald. W. H. Bradburn.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a delightful wedding dejeuner was served in a marquee erected in the beautiful grounds. The Coles firm of Toronto, were the caterers for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Spry left on the afternoon C.P.R. train on their wedding trip to Atlantic City and New York. On their return they will take up their residence at 11 Oaklands avenue, Toronto.

The out of town guests included the following: Mr. and Mrs. D W B Spry, Toronto; Mrs. W Ross Cameron, Erin; Mrs. A E H Creswicke, Barrie; Mr. and Mrs. H O Fortier, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. W E Rundle, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. R C Mackay, Hamilton; Mr. F S Hobbs, Toronto; Mr. H L Spry, Campbell ford; Mr. and Mrs. John Helm, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Helm, Port Hope, and many others.

ABUTMENTS OF BRIDGE UNEARTHED

By Men Digging Sewer on Sherbrooke Street—Former Course of Creek

While foreman Martin Neary's men were excavating in the sewer which is being constructed on Sherbrook street, they found the abutments of an old bridge which has long been out of use and is probably remembered by only the oldest residents. It is some distance east of the creek but doubtless was one time its course. A layer of logs are found across the street down about 12 or 14 feet, evidently being a sort of raceway. The stone abutments are in excellent state of preservation.

Music and Drama

"QUINCY ADAMS SAWYER"

A play that will win the sympathy and interest of its audience and well merits the great success it is having is "Quincy Adams Sawyer," which will be seen here next Tuesday, September 8. Nearly everybody is familiar with the novel of the same name, and it is promised that this dramatization of it has retained that simple, pure country charm which gave the book such popular vogue. The scene is laid at Mason's Corner, a country town of Massachusetts, where "Quincy Adams Sawyer," a wealthy Boston young man comes to build up his health in the country. The girls admire him and some of the country boys become jealous and plan to run him out of town. But Mr. Sawyer conducts himself in such a way that he finally wins the love and respect of the whole community, and even turns around his enemies.

Correct Modes for Autumn

Visit Our Women's Ready-to-Wear Dept. Both Interesting and Educational

A MOST GORGEOUS ARRAY

TO A WOMAN of refined taste—an educated woman—there is a great attraction in the modes of dress, something most fascinating about the many varieties (some freaks, many extremely stylish and numbers of the conservative order) that appear each season. Yes! there is more than mere curiosity, there is an education that every woman can derive from the viewing of the displays found in this place of merchandise. You may not be an intending purchaser, but no matter, you are free to become acquainted with the prevailing styles of the season and be an authority on them. Our showing is already the most extensive and the most authoritative versions of the modes of New York and the continent. Our buyer keeps in touch with the first-class makers of Europe and America—the garments found here are reproductions of the original Parisian models, and the assortment is the most creditable one found outside the largest cities of America. We do not say this with any doubt in our minds whatever, we are prepared to prove it by the most convincing argument—the goods themselves. We have our statements verified every day by persons who are held up as authorities on proper dress, people of taste and refinement. This autumn we feel more proud than ever of our unprecedented exhibit of Women's Suits, Coats and Skirts; we know that our efforts have not been in vain and already the results are beginning to show themselves in the largest response and sale of Fall and Winter Garments that we have ever experienced at so early a stage of the season. Come and meet the new styles, get acquainted with the ideas of the best fashion creators in the world. We meet you just the same whether you buy or not, you depart with a feeling that you are as welcome to look as to buy. Watch for a formal announcement of our Ready-to-Wear Openings later.

At the regular meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board this morning, 3,985 boxes were boarded. They were all sold but Stony Lake's boarding, which was called by Mr. Weir, but did not sell. Mr. Gillespie and Mr. Weir bought all the cheese the highest price being 12 1-4 cents. This is considered a good price although at the last meeting 12 7-16 cents was paid. However, the later season affects the price.

The Sales

The bidding was opened by Mr. Cook at 11 7-16, but went up rapidly to 12 cents. Mr. Weir raised it to 12 1-16; Gunn & Langlois boosted it to 3-16 and Mr. Gillespie made it 12 1-4. At this price he took Central Smith, Villiers, Westwood, Benstort.

He offered 12 3-16 for next selection and called Keene, Shearer, Warminster, Selwyn, Oakdale, Daisy D., Lakefield, Pine Grove, King Edward, Otonabee Union, Maple Leaf, Myrtle, Ormonde, Young's Point, Lang, East Emily, Trewern, Cedardale, Cavanville, Crown, Norwood and Fleetwood.

Mr. Weir took the remainder of the Board except Stony Lake at 12 1-4 cents.

Mr. John Coughlin, of Hastings, the President, remarked that the price was better than was expected.

The buyers present to-day were Messrs. Cook, Gillespie, Riddell, Gunn & Langlois, Fitzgerald, Kerr, Grant, Weir and Morton.

The Board was adjourned for three weeks.

The graduating exercises, in connection with The Nicholls' Hospital Training School for Nurses, will be held in Conservatory Music Hall on Thursday evening of this week, at 8 o'clock. An interesting programme has been provided and the public is cordially invited to attend. 2d27

TO READ ESSAYS ON THE SUBJECT OF TEMPERANCE

One at Each Regular Meeting of St. Peter's T.A.S.

It is likely that at the regular meetings of St. Peter's T.A.S. in the future a paper on Temperance will be read by one of the members. This suggestion was made at the last meeting and it was so favourably received that it will likely be carried out. The intention is to have a short paper dealing in an interesting manner on the subject and to have the essays written by a different member on each occasion.

Need the most careful and persistent attention. Early headaches and other troubles frequently emanate from defective eye-sight, which in itself, may have originated in early neglect of the eyes. The trouble is, parents seldom know their children's eyes are weak until it is too late.

So badly was it cut that Dr. Morgan, whose assistance was summoned, found it necessary to amputate the thumb, as there was no hope of saving it.

YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO FEEL "DOPEY"

—to have headaches—an easily-tired body—a stuffy-feeling brain—even for part of the time. There are too many keen alert men and women, always at their best, to give much chance of success to one thus handicapped.

These things are the direct results of a sluggish liver—constipated bowels—dry skin — overworked kidneys — in short, of a body whose sewers are clogged.

Nothing opens up these outlets of the waste, and clears the system of poison so gently, yet so effectively, as "Fruit-a-tives." "Fruit-a-tives" are the juices of oranges, apples, figs and prunes combined—by a process that greatly increases their medicinal value—with valuable tonics and internal antiseptics, and made into tablets.

Take one or two "Fruit-a-tives" every night, eat plenty of ripe fruit, and see how quickly your brain clears and headaches leave you. 50c a box—6 for $2.50. Trial size 25c. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

LITERARY MEETINGS TO BE HELD

Board of Education Endorses Collegiate Institute Staff For Forming Society

BEGINNING OF A NEW ERA

With the facilities which the New Collegiate Institute building offers the approaching season will undoubtedly see a great activity in literary circles with that institution lending most support. At the Board of Education meeting last night Mr. Robinson introduced the subject referring to Lindsay where a great deal of pleasure and benefit has accrued in attending the lectures and other entertainments which are given in connection with the Collegiate Institute.

Mr. Crane in reply remarked that only a few days ago the Principal, Mr. Kenner and Mr. Hodgson also, had spoken to him along these lines, asking if he thought the Board would approve of the idea and would support the teachers.

Mr. Dumble liked the suggestion, remarking that much good would be derived by the citizens at large and that the Institute should take the initiative in literary matters. He was confident that any movement of this nature would prove successful.

It was moved by Mr. Robinson, seconded by Mr. Dumble, that the Board will be pleased if the staff of the Collegiate Institute will take such steps as will lead to the formation of a society to provide literary evenings during the coming session.

WEDDING BELLS

MAHON—SMITH

A very quiet wedding was solemnized at 20 Aberdeen avenue at ten o'clock this morning, when Miss Georgina Lavina Smith, third eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Smith, was united in marriage to Mr. Edward K. Mahon, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mahon, Woodstock, Ont. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robt. Pogue, of St. Paul's Church, in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Edith Smith, and the groom was assisted by Dr. King. During the ceremony the bride's sister, Mrs. Gould, of North Bay, played the wedding march.

Immediately after the tying of the nuptial knot Mr. and Mrs. Mahon left on the 11.45 train for Nelson, B. C., where Mr. Mahon has accepted a position and where they will live in future.

Both the contracting parties are well and favourably known in Peterborough. The bride's father has been principal of the school here for many years, and the groom, who has been connected with the drug business formerly carried on by Ormond & Walsh and latterly by McDermid & Jury, has made a very large number of friends who will unite in wishing the young couple every success, while at the same time regretting their departure from the city.

PEARSON-VALLERY

A quiet wedding took place this morning at the parsonage of the Charlotte street Methodist church, when Rev. G. W. Henderson united in marriage Miss Ada Pearson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Pearson, Pearl avenue, city, to Mr. James H. Vallery, Peterborough, formerly of Kingston. The bride wore a navy blue travelling suit with hat and gloves to match. The groom presented the bride with a gold expansion bracelet set in pearls. The bride also received many useful and costly presents. Mr. and Mrs. Vallery left on the 11.40 G. T. R. train for Toronto and other points west. On their return they will reside at 299 Sherbrooke street.

Among the many beautiful presents was a china dinner and tea set from Perkins, Ince & Co., where the groom is employed.

McAULIFFE—McCARTHY

St. Peter's Cathedral this morning was the scene of a pretty wedding, the principals being Miss Annie McCarthy, daughter of Mr. Jeremiah McCarthy, 295 Lake street, and Mr. Florence McAuliffe, formerly of Peterborough, but at present of the teaching staff of the St. Francis Xavier College, New York. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Galvin at 8 o'clock, and was witnessed by many friends of the contracting parties.

The bride wore a travelling suit of brown cloth and hat to match. She was attended by Miss Helen Kane who was attired in cream silk colienne. Mr. Barney Blastorah, of Burwood, was best man.

After the wedding the party returned to the home of the bride's parents where a dainty breakfast was served.

Mr. and Mrs. McAuliffe left on the 11.45 G.T.R. train for New York where they will reside. They received many handsome presents from their friends.

BATH—ARMITAGE

The wedding of Miss Gertrude Armitage to Mr. Jas. Lloyd Bath, both of this city was quietly celebrated last evening by Rev. E A Pearson at the parsonage of the George street Methodist church. Both parties were unattended. Mr. and Mrs. Bath left on the midnight for Perth on their honeymoon.

MELLEN—WILSON

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the residence of Mrs. Wm. Mellen, North Monaghan, last evening, when her son, Mr. Arthur Mellen, was united in marriage to Miss Jean Ellen Wilson, late of Glasgow Scotland, and daughter of Mr. Robt Wilson of Glasgow. The bride has lived in Peterborough for two years, being connected with the Y. W. C. A. She was assisted by her sister, Miss Lizzie Wilson, while Mr. Caleb Mellen supported the groom. The ceremony was performed at 9.30 o'clock in the presence of only a few intimate friends of the contracting parties. The wedding presents were numerous and beautiful, testifying to the high esteem in which the young couple are held. Mr. and Mrs. Mellen will reside in North Monaghan.

THE FUNERAL CORTEGE A LARGE ONE

The Remains of Mr. Frederick Payne of Dummer Laid at Rest

Examiner Special

Warsaw, Sept. 2.—The funeral of the late Frederick Payne, of Dummer, which was held yesterday afternoon to St. Mark's cemetery, Warsaw, was marked by the largest cortege ever seen at a funeral in Dummer, the turnout being a remarkable tribute to the esteem in which the deceased was held by the residents of this and the surrounding townships. About one hundred and fifty rigs were in the funeral procession. The services were held in the Bethel Church.

The Selkirk Lumber Company, of Warsaw, is shipping lumber via Lakefield to Lindsay.

Mr. Thomas Payne has purchased the blacksmith shop of Mr. Thomas Wilson here and will use it as his headquarters in disposing of agricultural implements for the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Company, of Peterborough, for which he is the agent.

THE PROVINCIAL EXHIBITIONS

—All cities over the Province are preparing for their exhibition, and Peterborough is no exception to the rule. It is the time we meet our old and new friends, and those who are not our friends. It is also the best time for the introduction of the newest and smartest cuts in silhouette and where they can be shown to the greatest advantage. The New York Ladies' Tailoring establishment have removed their parlours and workshop from 658 George street to 387 Reid street, opposite St. Peter's Cathedral, for the better accommodation of their patrons, and are prepared to take orders in any line of ladies' garments. A pleasing event took place at McDermid & Jury's drug store last evening when a number of the friends of Mr. E K Mahon waited upon him to say farewell and to give him a substantial token of the esteem in which he is held in this city. Mr. Mahon, who joined the ranks of the benedicts this morning has gone to Nelson, B.C., where he has accepted a good position, and where he will reside in future. Mr. W S Davidson on behalf of the gathering expressed regret at Mr. Mahon's departure from Peterborough and after wishing him every success, presented him with a purse containing $100 in gold. Mr. Mahon replied briefly thanking his friends for their kinds words and gift.

CHARGE OF PRACTISING WITHOUT REGISTERING

A. V. Taggart, a well-known figure around the city, who is generally styled "Doc" Taggart, appeared in the Police Court this morning to answer to a charge of having practised medicine in the city, not being a registered physician. The specific charge was that he had prescribed medicine for Bolton Cunningham and Edward Walton, and the Magistrate, after hearing the evidence, reserved judgment until October 1. Mr. Herb Wood conducted the prosecution in the absence of his father, Crown-Attorney R. E. Wood.

Bolton Cunningham testified that Mr. Taggart had given him a small head tablet. Witness had told the defendant that he was suffering from a headache and he had been given the tablets for which no charge had been made. Witness could not state whether or not defendant had supplied medicine to any other member of his family.

Ed. Walton stated that he had procured a small bottle of pellets from defendant for which he had paid $1. He had told Mr. Taggart he was suffering from dyspepsia.

The prosecution called Mr. Taggart to the witness stand, but defendant refused to go until the Magistrate ruled that he should take the stand but that anything which incriminated him could not be used against him. He admitted having given medicine to the two previous witnesses, but denied that he had diagnosed their cases. The medicine he sold had been manufactured by himself and was the same as he had been selling for years.

The Magistrate, as stated, reserved judgment in the case, remarking that it needed consideration.

The case against the Hydraulic Power Co. of maintaining a nuisance upon their premises was enlarged for one week. The raceway is being filled in and it is expected that everything will be all right there in the future.

The Mutual Life Assurance Co. OF CANADA

Bigger Profits to Policy-holders

It is easy to see why a policy in this Company has excellent investment as well as a protection.

Last year, the new business amounted to $7,081,402—a gain over 1906 of $1,577,855. Yet the operating expenses were about the same as last year.

For the last five years, the actual mortality was only 47% of the amount expected. And the Interest Income exceeded the mortality by $198,103.

With an expense ratio to income smaller than its competitors, with a yearly expanding Interest Income, and a favorable death rate, it is but natural that The Mutual Life of Canada is earning more profits, which go to the policy-holders in reduction of their premiums.

BEFORE TREATMENT

Peter E. Summers, of Kalamazoo, Mich., relates his experience:

"I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in early youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for baths, but received little benefit. While at Mt. Clemens I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the New Method Treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic. I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically, and I have sent them many patients and will continue to do so."

Will Rogers Be Able To Beat Mohl At His Own Game? He Says So, But Fritz Can't See It

The greatest interest is being displayed in the Rogers-Mohl bout at Graeco-Romau, which takes place in the Brock street rink on Friday night, and the indications point to a record crowd. Every one who saw the magnificent battle between the two men last week will be on hand again as they will not soon forget the struggle between the two giants. Followers of the wrestling game say that Friday night's match is bound to be exciting and desperately fought.

Mohl is so confident of winning that he has intimated his desire to bet on the result. A good deal of money has already been wagered over the match with Mohl apparently the favourite. Local people are impressed with the showing he made last week under a style that is not altogether familiar to him, and they figure that when Rogers finds himself prohibited by the rules from using his famous leg Nelsons, scissors holds, toe holds, etc., he will have a terrible time with the big German, who has wrestled Graeco-Roman all his life and is considered second to none at the game. Rogers realising the task that is before him is working out every night with local wrestlers and will be in superb shape for the battle.

Mohl believes in road work in getting in shape for a match. He does five miles every day and finishes up by skipping the rope at least 1,500 times.

Hurtubise Is Ready To Accept Conkle's Challenge For Bout

Gene Hurtubise, the huge Rugby player and wrestler from Petherborough, has accepted the defi thrown at him by Charles Conkle, and in a letter received yesterday from Chris Graham, the well known hockey and Rugby player, who is acting as the big fellow's manager, Gene is only too eager to hook up with the Hamilton man, especially under the conditions named by Conkle, who agrees to throw the former twice in two hours, an undertaking which will tax Conkle's best ability. Hurtubise is no mean performer, with victories over Yankee Rogers and others to his credit, and his ability to rough it makes him a mat artist of more than ordinary ability. He is prepared to meet Conkle at any time, and it is very likely that the bout will be pulled off in the near future. The big French-Canadian is out for a big season of it and believes that he will get away to a good start by putting it over Conkle. In his acceptance of the challenge, Chris Graham says: "Gene is hard at work, and I think he will be in shape to give the Hamilton man a good go. In fact, I doubt if Conkle will be able to throw him once, even although he has done it before. The big fellow is much improved and a pretty tough customer. Conkle has a big contract on his hands."

SOME EARLY RUGBY GOSSIP; DOPE OF CLUBS AND LEAGUES

Two or three Toronto Rugby teams are claiming Frank Bardgette, the husky inside wing of the Tammany Tigers, for senior ranks. How can "Bardg" play Rugby in Toronto when he's a "cop" in Brantford? If "Bardg" ever broke into a game with a billy there would be a hurry-up call for the ambulance corps.

• • • •

At the Hamilton club annual meeting little business outside the election of officers was transacted. Geo. Awrey of the intermediates was the only one there with a kick, and George proceeded to rake the executive over in grand style for their method of handling the intermediates. He claimed they had been sadly neglected, and was eager to have something done at the meeting, but President Seymour promised that something would be done along this line within a day or two, and the Intermediate representative was satisfied.

• • • •

Joe White, the star half of the Tammany Tigers, will go to Varsity this fall. If he does, his desire to take part in the Varsity field and track athletics will keep him in line for the blue and white Rugby team.

• • • •

There is a proposition on foot for the speedy Tammany Tigers, last year's O. R. F. U. intermediate champions, to amalgamate with the Irish-American Athletic Club. The C.A.A.U. difficulty bars the I.C.A.C. from Inter-Provincial affairs, but if there was any field for a strong senior team under C.A.A.U. control, the chances are the Irish would go in.

• • • •

The O.R.F.U. executive will meet this week and appoint a new secretary as secretary Jos. B. Hay has resigned, owing to pressure of business in Peterborough.

• • • •

According to the Hamilton Spectator, the prospects of the team for the coming season are very keen, and the end of the week will see them down to real business. The first practice will likely be called for Thursday evening, with a full turnout on Saturday afternoon, after which the players will go into active training. Several new faces will be seen at the cricket grounds this year, and with the old brigade as good as ever, Dr Thompson is confident of turning out a championship team. The intermediates and juniors this year will receive much more attention than has been their lot in the past, and the local officers will endeavour to have the Inter-Provincial annual meeting take up the matter of intermediate and junior sections in real earnest.

• • • •

It has been suggested that the Inter-Provincial Union form a strong junior series in addition to continuing the intermediate section of last year, which this season promises to be largely augmented. It has been suggested that both series be divided up into eastern and western groups, in charge of a secretary, for each group, who will handle both series, thus taking a great deal of the work off the Big-Four executive. The Hamilton delegates will make this suggestion to the delegates at the annual meeting in Montreal.

Brockville Boat Wants A Race With Miss Fidgety And Blue Streak

"The most exciting motor boat race I ever saw or was mixed up in," said Jack Robinson, skipper of the little Toronto flyer "Blue Streak," which was second to the Buffalo boat "Sterling" in the International race at Hamilton on Saturday. "There were 2,000 people on the dock and they danced up and down in excitement at the finish. The allowances were perfect. 'Sterling' only overhauled us in the last quarter of a mile and beat us a scant 11 seconds. The first and second trips around the course, 'Blue Streak' made exactly the same time. On the last round we gained six seconds—pretty even going. We came home from Hamilton in 1 hour and 40 minutes yesterday."

The Gilbert Motor Boat Co., Brockville, is sending a racing machine to the Fair, and have written the Marine Construction and Power Company and Schofield-Holden Co. for a race with "Blue Streak" and "Miss Fidgety." The "Blue Streak" people have accepted, and the race will likely come off on Sept. 8 off the Exhibition.

The Gilbert boat is an out-and-out racing machine, a 30-footer of only 4-foot beam, with a 15 h.p. engine installed. The "Mavis," which was third at Hamilton Saturday, wants another race with "Blue Streak." She is a 31-footer with a 55-h.p. motor in her.—Toronto Star.

ATHLETIC NEWS

George Robinson of the Otonabee Athletic Club will be a starter in the ten-mile road race at Lindsay on Labour Day. He has sent his name in to Secretary Primeau and is confident of making a good showing.

• • • •

The Toronto Star remarks that "the Lindsay Marathon is the race that brought out Fred Simpson." The Star's dope is somewhat mixed. It was the Examiner road race that introduced Fred into the running game. He came here the morning of the race unknown and with his chances of a good place considered slight, and after a splendid race in which he led for over nine miles, he was only beaten by a few yards at the finish. That was his debut, and although he did run in the Lindsay Marathon in July of the following year, he was already looked upon as a dangerous runner.

• • • •

The Otonabee Athletic Club has a large number of runners in training and will have a number of entries in the Examiner road races Thanksgiving Day, especially in the junior event, which the new club expects to carry off.

• • • •

Although he is being advertised to appear, it is not likely that Fred Simpson will be a starter in the Lindsay road race on Monday.

• • • •

Jack Tait's father, who was in the city the other day on business, says that his son is anxious to come here for the meet because of the fine treatment he received here last year. He enjoyed his visit immensely.

• • • •

The Harriers' big meet will undoubtedly be the biggest sporting event of the season. With Longboat, Tait, Bobby Kerr, Archibald, Sebert and other members of the Canadian Olympic team coming, there will be a grand programme offered. A children's pole-vaulting exhibition will be well worth seeing, and the race between Longboat and Simpson is a programme in itself.

• • • •

Smoke, the young Indian who made such a fast time the day of the Otonabee road race, is entered for the ten-mile event at Lindsay and expects to be up amongst the prize winners.

• • • •

The newly organized T. A. S. Athletic Club's track team are working hard to get in shape for the different events in which they are entered at Lindsay.

Sporting Comment

"Starting with the hole-digging incident for the pole vault and finishing up with the foul of the 400-metres, the Americans made themselves thoroughly disliked by other competitors and despised by the officials and the English people. Most of their protests were of the most trivial nature. They had gone into the tug of war as an afterthought more than anything else, and expected with their weight men and shot-putters to win. They had never had any practise in the tug-of-war, and when they got up against a team of trained men like the Liverpool policemen, every man of which was a giant, the Americans were pulled over the mark like a lot of children. Then came the howl about the boots of the policemen. They wore only their ordinary service boots, and the American protest was derided on all sides." Speaking of the famous 400-metre race, in which Carpenter, the American, was alleged to have "bored" Halswell, rM. Crocker declared emphatically that it was one of the most deliberate fouls that could have been devised. Mr. Crocker avers that the foul was premeditated. Early in the day of the race he had heard that there was something being arranged, the news having leaked out from the dressing room of the Americans, and to see for himself exactly what was going to happen the Canadian manager says he stationed himself above the Press stand and immediately above the spot at which the "boring" took place. At the turn of the track Carpenter deliberately veered out from the inside berth while Halswell was working into it," declares Mr. Crocker.

Oakville, Aug. 31.—The baseball enthusiasts of this burg got a decided setback Saturday, when, after a long string of victories to their credit, the local team were defeated in a good game of ball, by the T. Eaton Co. team of Toronto, which has withdrawn from the Senior Amateur League to play independent ball for the balance of the season. Poor base running and failure to hit in pinches was responsible for the home team's defeat. Lizard, for Oakville, and Hawkins, of the Peterborough Midland League team, for Eaton's, both pitched good ball, but 19 batters facing the latter in the first six innings. The visitor's infield played fast, snappy ball, and Freestone, the catcher of the home team showed up to good advantage.

A meeting of the City League is called for Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Y.M.C.A.

It is announced that this Yankee Rogers' last season in the wrestling game. He is to go on the stage next year in a melo-dramatic vaudeville sketch written by Mr. Freyman of Montreal, the author of several well-known plays, among them "The Dagger of the Cross," in which Robert Mantell starred. The sketch written for Mr. Rogers gives him an opportunity to display his great strength and clever wrestling ability. He will be cast in the role of a heavyweight amateur wrestling champion about to turn professional to meet the professional champion. The scene is laid in an hotel and a bully affords Yankee his opportunity. The ruffian is abusing some one weaker than himself when Yankee appears on the scene and after a struggle with the bully throws him out of the hotel.

Yankee's only wish before he gives up wrestling is for another match with Frank Gotch, world's champion, whom he believes he can defeat.

WILL BRING MONEY TO CITY

Normal School Students Will Expend a Large Sum During the Term

IS A VERY EASY PROBLEM

Principal Walker, of the Normal School, expects an attendance of about 160 students during the coming term. The school will open about the 15th of September, so that there will be 160 additional population, less whatever number of these students may be from Peterborough.

Allowing on an average the pupil to pay $3.50 per week for board, the total will amount to a considerable sum, together with the additional amount necessary to be expended for other necessities and incidentals will make the sum total in a year important.

The year's course is from Sept. 15th to June 15th. In addition to the pupils there will be the advantage of having new residents in some of the teaching staff, which will be a valuable addition to our population.

Diarrhea

There is no need of anyone suffering long with this disease, for to effect a quick cure it is only necessary to take a few doses of

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy

In fact, in most cases one dose is sufficient. It never fails and can be relied upon in the most severe and dangerous cases. It is equally valuable for children and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.

In the world's history no medicine has ever met with greater success.

BELIEVES HE WILL NOT LIVE LONG

Pope Has An Unconquerable Desire to Return to His Old Home

Examiner Special

Rome, Sept. 3.—The pope to-day in an interview expressed the belief that he has but a short time to live. He declared that the confinement of the Vatican and the burdens of the church coupled with an unconquerable desire to return to his old home in Venice are more than he can bear and he fears he will soon succumb under their weight.

A SERIOUS WRECK AT WOODSTOCK

Three People Reported Killed—Lehigh Valley Smash up

J. N. Barber, (Special)

Woodstock, Ont., Sept. 3.—There is a bad wreck of a Lehigh Valley train on the Grand Trunk near here. Several people are injured and three reported killed.

BLINDED BY GASOLINE EXPLOSION

New York Broker Victim of Explosion in New Brunswick Camp

Fredericton, N.B., Sept. 3.—Arthur Robinson, a wealthy New York stock broker, who owns sporting camps at Holmes Lake in the wilds of Miramichi, was seriously injured at the place on Saturday by the explosion of a gasoline tank on a motor boat. His hands were terribly lacerated and he was badly injured about the head and face. The accident happened 50 miles from civilization, and one of the guides travelled that distance on foot and returned with a doctor and two nurses. Robinson was blinded by the explosion, and it is feared that his sight cannot be restored.

BAND WILL NOT GO TO MONTREAL

Salvation Army Musicians Will Remain in the City on the Holiday

It was learned to-day that the Salvation Army Band will not go on an eastern trip on Labour Day. There was some expectation of them going to Montreal or Ottawa on Saturday, remaining over until Monday night, but this has been called off. It is likely a trip will be made on Thanksgiving Day.

A SPECIAL TRAIN FOR PETERBOROUGH FAIR

Will Take Visitors as Far East as Campbellford, Saturday, Sept. 19th

On Sept. 19th the last day of the Toronto Fair, the G. T. R. will run a special train, leaving the city at 7.30 p. m. for stations as far east as Campbellford. It will call at Keene, Drummond's, Hastings and intermediate points. This is to give the people in these districts an opportunity to spend the whole day at the fair. It is understood that many will take advantage of the train and a large number intend to see the fair.

IS STILL A DEMAND FOR GOOD PLOUGHMEN

All Who Have Sought Work Have Been Placed on Farms

At the local immigration office there is still a demand for experienced helpers, especially ploughmen. All who have applied for work have been placed on farms, but there are still positions to be filled behind the plough.

ANOTHER FUNERAL ACCIDENT; DRIVER'S ARM BROKEN BY KICK FROM AN INFURIATED HORSE

Another runaway at a funeral at which a rather serious accident resulted is reported from Warkworth. Mr. Philip Convey of Percy, was attending a funeral on Saturday last when his horse took fright at an object on the road between Hastings and Warkworth. In trying to run away it kicked viciously and one of the animal's hoofs struck him on the left arm breaking it, the sound of the snapping bone being quite audible.

The arm was rendered useless but Mr. Convey grabbed the lines with his left hand and hung on desperately until a friend from another buggy caught the horse by the head. Mrs. Convey jumped to the ground as soon as the horse began plunging and received slight injuries about the head in her effort to get out of the buggy. Mr. Convey showed remarkable pluck in his action and bore up well under the pain.

DUMMER FARMER BADLY HURT IN A RUNAWAY ACCIDENT; A HEAVY BINDER PASSED OVER HIM

Warsaw, Sept. 3.—Samuel Clyndale, a well-known resident of Dummer, was very badly injured at Corbeldive miles from here, between 3 and 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and at first it was thought his injuries would be fatal, although now his recovery is looked for. Mr. Clyndale was working on the farm of his brother, Mr. Murdock Clyndale, and was engaged in cutting corn with a binder. He had left the binder for some reason or other and the horses started to run away. Mr. Clyndale hurried to stop them, and getting in front of the flying team, endeavoured to check their onrush. His risky attempt almost cost him his life, however, as he was knocked down by the horses and the binder passed over him, the knives, however, fortunately missing. When picked up he was found to be very badly injured. His shoulder was fractured and several bad scalp wounds had been inflicted by the heavy binder. In addition, his body was painfully bruised and lacerated. Dr. Munro of Warsaw was summoned and attended to his injuries, and the unfortunate man is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

His wife, who was visiting Mrs. W. E. Kidd in Otonabee, was notified of the accident as soon as possible and returned to her husband at once.

Ennismore People Searched In Swamp For Two Days For A Young Man Who Disappeared

Willie Gibbs, a 17 year old young man who works for Mr. Barney Flood, Ennismore, lost his way after putting some stock to pasture and had all the neighbours searching for him in the timber on each side of Chemong Lake for two days. Sunday evening he lost his way in the swamp and spent the long night in its lonely solitude. Monday morning he was seen on Michael Gannon's farm by that gentleman but the lad ran when spoken to and again disappeared.

A search was instituted and almost everyone turned out. He was seen by a young man named Hatton and again the boy acted mysteriously and took to his heels. Monday night he slept in a barn and on Tuesday eluded the searchers. Although a watch was kept at the bridge at Gannon's Narrows, he crossed in the dark and got into Harvey township. He was seen at a distance on Tuesday and finally in the afternoon he was found by the Rev. Mr. Duncan, trying to hide by the roadside.

The gentleman who gave the information to the Examiner stated that young Gibbs "seemed to have gone wild," by his experience on Sunday night. He is reported to now be himself again.

JUNK WAGGON STRUCK BY CAR; DRIVER SHOT THROUGH VESTIBULE

A junk waggon driven by one of Abraham Low's men was struck by a street car at the corner of George and Simcoe streets yesterday afternoon and a general mix-up resulted. Mr. Low is proprietor of a junk business near the C. P. R. tracks, Simcoe street. Nearly all his employees are Jews. One of them was returning west yesterday, and when crossing George street did not notice a southbound car. The horse was just on the track when it was struck. The waggon was turned slightly around, and as it came in contact with the car the driver was shot almost through the vestibule from side to side. He went in one door and almost out the other.

The horse went down in a heap on the fender, and Mr. Will Clark, who was with the Jew, was also in the melee. There was scarcely any damage done. A shaft was broken, the horse was rolled over and slightly lamed, and the Jew received a few scratches.

The motorman stopped the car in a remarkably short distance.

Otonabee Power Company Moves Into Its Handsome New Offices

The Otonabee Power Company has just moved into its handsome new suite of offices in the Snowden Block, Simcoe street, next door to Alex. Elliott & Co., moving there on Tuesday. The new quarters have been greatly admired by those who have seen them as they are both commodious and handsomely fitted out. The fittings throughout are of quartered oak, while the walls are done in green burlap and a pretty paper design, the whole effect being very striking.

Inside the entrance there is a hall or waiting room for the public, who may transact their business with the company's representatives through two wickets decorated with a metal grating.

The main office of the company is situated behind these wickets, while there is a neatly furnished private office for the manager on the right hand side with a cloak room behind. In the rear is situated the store room. The offices are 20 feet in width and 44 feet in length, so that it will be seen that there is plenty of room for the staff. The exterior is handsomely grained and with the large illuminated sign over the door presents a very attractive appearance.

Chesley Farmer Shoots Himself; He Has Relatives In Dummer

Word has been received here of the death by his own hand of Wm. J. Crowe, of Chesley, Ont., who has relatives in Dummer Township, being a second cousin of Mr. Jos. Crowe, the well known driver of the Warsaw stage. Harry Crowe, the father of the deceased, was born in Dummer, and the family is well known there. A despatch gives the following account of the tragedy:

Chesley, Ont., Sept. 2.—William J. Crowe, a prominent young cattle dealer of this town, committed suicide here some time this afternoon by blowing his brains out in his barn. The last seen of Crowe in Chesley was last Friday. He was seen at different neighbouring towns since then and it is supposed he returned home some time last night. He leaves a widow and two children.

CHANGE WITH THE CIRCUMSTANCES.

Consistency is not a conspicuous virtue of our good Conservative friends. Of late they have professed to be great sticklers for Provincial rights and entire political separation of Dominion and Provincial issues. The Dominion and the Provinces must each "play in their own back yard." Less than half a year ago we had Conservative journals declaring that it was an "outrage upon political decency" to have a Dominion Minister participate in a Provincial election campaign. Three months ago it was "the height of political immorality" for members of the Dominion Government from Ontario and Quebec to go into their respective Provinces and exercise their rights as electors and citizens. These virtuous journals said we must keep Federal and Provincial issues separate and distinct. Now we have a complete change of front. The Conservative Premiers of the Provinces of New Brunswick, Manitoba and British Columbia are to stump the country with Mr. Borden, and in his interests. This certainly is not consistent. Fortunately, nobody is disappointed, for nobody expects consistency from our Conservative friends who take the lead and set the pace. It is very convenient to have a policy so elastic that it can change with the circumstances.

VALUE OF GOOD ROADS.

The question of good roads in both city and country is receiving an increasing amount of attention in both Canada and the United States. Farmers and others whose occupation makes it necessary to maintain vehicles on the road are awakening to the enormous loss they are annually called upon to sustain in wear and tear on their vehicles and the shortening of the life of usefulness of their horses, occasioned by bad roads, to say nothing of the loss of pleasure and comfort to the drivers themselves.

According to statistical authority the average cost of carrying a ton of goods a mile by lake is eight-tenths of a mill, and by rail seven and six-tenths mills. The average cost of carrying a ton of goods a mile on first-class roads is said to be seven cents and on common country roads twenty-five cents.

The latest reports made by the Department of Agriculture for 1904, shows 2,151,570 miles of public roads in the United States, of which 7.14 per cent. were improved. In old, populous and rich States, such as New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Michigan, improvements were reported on less than ten per cent. of the public roads.

Almost every pound of freight originating upon or destined to a farm moves over a country road; most of it over a "common" country road, at a cost some three times as high as it would be if the road were first-class. Sometimes the goods actually pay a heavier toll for a few miles carriage between railway station and farm than for all the remainder of the journey.

The railways themselves spend millions to clip off one or two per cent. from operating expenses, here and there; and, if farmers were presented with a feasible scheme for reducing their railway freights even one-quarter, they would feel that there, indeed, was a burning issue.

THE BRITISH PATENTS ACT.

The new British Patents Act promises to be effective as a measure of protection to British interests, without the evil effects of tarif "protection"—raising the price of manufactured products to the consumer, the great mass of the people, and with the desirable element of a protective tariff, giving employment to domestic workmen. This act is aimed particularly, if not specifically, at foreign manufacturers who take out British patents on inventions without any other idea than the protection of their own inventions or discoveries or devices. The chief effective clause of the new enactment, stipulates and provides that, unless the articles covered by British patents are manufactured in the United Kingdom "to an adequate extent" within a certain time limit, the patent may be cancelled.

While "an adequate extent" has the misty quality of Mr. Borden's "adequate protection" it seems in the case of patents to work effectively. The principal countries affected by the new requirement are Germany and the United States. Of all the British patents issued to foreigners in 1906, 2,598 were given to the United States and 2,081 to Germany. While the total number to all other foreigners was 1,817. In 1907 United States citizens secured 2,792 patents and Germany 2,608. This is a case in which no hitting back can be done. Both of these countries are blessed with such high tariffs now that they are deprived of the machinery of retaliation. They must either submit to, and comply with, the new law or lose the advantages of the British market.

A reliable journal furnishes the information that the Germans are losing no time in "coming to time." One group of dye works has invested [illegible] in building new works in England, while other firms have had to increase their capital to meet the situation. A reliable correspondent states that "numbers of important firms have acquired land in England and have already built factories. For the most part, the English patents will not be allowed to lapse. The Elberfelder Farbenfabriken (Dye Works) have bought twenty-four acres of ground at Port Sunlight, near Liverpool, and another dyeing concern, the Hoechlis Dye Works, is building on seven acres of land at Ellesmere Port, near the Manchester Ship Canal. The Sanatogen Food Company has acquired land for building in Cornwall, while the Pintsch Suction Gas Company has opened works in London. The principal industries affected are the chemical engineering, and pottery."

English free traders, it is said, indignantly reject the assumption that the new law wears a "protectionist" look; they claim it is in simply an attempt to place patent legislation on a fair basis. That it will stimulate home industries, increase employment and encourage the investment of foreign capital—these are things that will not count against the new law with even the free trader, but the protection and encouragement afforded are not obtained by an indirect tax on the whole body of consumers levied in the form of tariff duties. But even if the new law could properly be described as the equivalent of a measure of tariff protection, none of the countries affected by it would have the right to object. They are simply invited to take their own medicine.

THE THREE-FIFTHS CLAUSE.

Toronto Star.

The liquor party seem to be undertaking concerted action this year to secure the bringing on of repeal contests in a number of municipalities in which Local Option prohibitory by-laws are now in operation. It is possible that the first Monday of next January may see as many places voting on the question of repeal as on the question of adoption.

Here is developed a situation which at once makes manifest the injustice and onesidedness of the legislation providing that a three-fifths vote is necessary to secure the passing of a Local Option by-law. In all the places which will vote on repeal by-laws, the original prohibitory by-law was carried under the majority plan, although in a number of cases the actual majorities polled were far in excess of the present three-fifths requirement. Nevertheless the existing by-laws in these places may be repealed by bare majorities.

When the present government changed the Local Option legislation in 1906, there were about one hundred municipalities (the exact number is 98) in which prohibition under the Local Option plan was in operation, and about seven hundred municipalities that were under license. The new law provided that while places then under license could not be carried for prohibition without the three-fifths vote, all the places then under prohibition could revert to license by a majority vote. We have therefore the spectacle to-day of the liquor men permitted to repeal prohibition by bare majorities, while temperance workers seeking to enact prohibition may be defeated, though they poll 130 votes for every 100 polled by their opponents.

Legislation that had in it any element of fairness would have taken the situation as it existed two years ago and made changes in it obtainable on the same plan. Even then the temperance votes would have been handicapped, because the increased difficulty of making a change would have aided them in only 100 places, while it aided the liquor party in 700. Yet even this small measure of seeming equality was denied.

It is a mere mockery to say that the three-fifths rule is as fair to one side as to the other, when it is put into operation in such a way that it immediately everywhere strengthens the liquor traffic, and immediately everywhere is utterly useless to anyone else. Furthermore, it can only give its imaginary help to the temperance cause at some far future time, and in cases in which it is unnecessary, while it throws around the liquor traffic a bulwark that is protective not only immediately, but permanently, as far as the government could make it so.

(Note.—There were one hundred and eight municipalities under Local Option when the three-fifths clause was added to the Law.—Editor Pioneer.)

EDITORIAL NOTES.

General Pole-Carew's unfortunate speech before the Canadian Club, Vancouver, B. C., shows that when even such a brave soldier tries to fight with his mouth he puts his foot into it.

The Conservative press had failed to show that the Ottawa Government is "not a nest of traitors"—one government of that kind is enough for a century.

The Toronto News says that Mr. Borden's Halifax platform favours radical civil service reform. Mr. Borden's Halifax platform also proscribed tomatoes as a political argument, but beheld, they "go by the crate.

The decline in Canadian railway earnings in the last six months is by general agreement of the Tory organs put down to Laurier's policy. The Hamilton Times points out that the United States, British and German railways also report a lean half year. What a wonderful pull that man Laurier must have!

The Conservatives of West Toronto have put the pistol to Mr. Borden's head, demanding that he carry the country this time, and no indistinct mutterings are made as to what will happen him if he does not succeed. A newspaper has been started to voice the sentiments of the kickers. Unfortunately for Mr. Borden, Toronto is not Canada, and a rather largish contract has been assigned the Conservative leader.

A New Brunswick gentleman who made a fortune in Montana mines broke into politics on the Conservative side, in his native province, a little over a year ago, by buying two Liberal papers in St. John and turning them over to the support of the Conservative party. The result, as might have been expected, remarks the Stratford Beacon, was financial injury to the properties, and he recently disposed of them at a loss of $130,000. He was afraid if he held on to them much longer his fortune would disappear more rapidly than he made it. Toronto also has an example of a similar nature. The public will stand for a strongly partisan journal that it knows is honest, but it has no use for journals whose partisanship is dictated by the money behind them.

RETURNED FROM A TRIP TO WEST

Mr. F. D. Kerr Was On One of the Trains Stalled by Recent Washouts

MANY MEN IDLE THERE

Mr. F. D. Kerr, of the legal firm of Dennistoun, Peek & Kerr, returned this morning from a visit through Western Canada to the Pacific Coast. He spent five weeks on the trip, having visited in nearly all the principal towns and cities along the C. P. R. His return was delayed several days by washouts along the line between Rennie, Man., and Kenora. The rains rains had been extremely heavy and in many places the roadbed was washed away.

Mr. Kerr states that the harvest in some sections has been completed and so rapidly was the work done that hundreds of men who are used to this work are now idle in the cities and towns. There are sections, however, where the work is only beginning. The reports of the yield of all kinds of grain is good, and the railways have hundreds of cars ready to bring the harvest east.

It is sufficient for some people that they drink anything called tea. Others prefer a standard brand like "Salada," which has a reputation for being good. The latter get more enjoyment out of life. In buying tea for the satisfaction you expect to get from its use, it will pay to purchase "Salada." Avoid anything "just as good." Imitations are invariably of poor quality. 67

Much Excitement Over The Big Mohi-Rogers Struggle; The German Is A Favourite

The greatest interest is being displayed in the city and district over the wrestling match to-morrow night between Yankee Rogers and Fritz Mohl. The battle between the two men last week was of such an exciting nature that it has aroused the wrestling fans as they have never been aroused before. And no wonder, for never in the history of the game in Peterborough has there been such a strenuous struggle as was seen here last Friday.

To-morrow night's bout should prove even more exciting, as both men have their reputations at stake. In last week's match Mohl had the consolation of knowing that he was wrestling under a style that was not his own, as the Greco-Roman rules govern to-morrow night, and as he has the reputation of being second to none at that style, the German may be counted upon to put up the hardest fight of his career. Rogers, on the other hand, is under contract to go to England on the condition that he does not lose a match before he sets sail. He is determined to beat Mohl, although he realizes that he is handicapped by the fact that the rules prevent him using his legs, either on the attack or the defence.

It took Rogers 36 1-2 minutes to gain the first fall last week, even under the rules which he favours, so that it will be seen that Mohl is some wrestler, and when the rules are in his favour he will certainly be hard to beat. No wonder local fans seem to cling to the opinion that he will get a victory over the big Yankee to-morrow night.

The preliminary bouts between Yokome and Lenig, and Crowe and Wilson should prove interesting curtain raisers. The first named pair have met several times and have always put up an interesting argument, while Crowe and Wilson are well-matched and the struggle will be a keen one. The boys in the preliminaries will battle for fifteen minutes.

Altogether it will be a great bill. Ned Fitzpatrick, of Spencerport, N. Y., will referee all the bouts.

KARNOTS SAY THEY WILL HAVE A TEAM

Will Enter City Rugby League With Other Teams

The Karnot Rugby Club will likely be represented in the City League. One of the members stated to-day that while they had lost several of their players they would still have enough to get into the game.

ATHLETIC NEWS

Yesterday was the first day for the reception of entries for the Ward Marathon 20-mile road race. The first entry was that of Tom Longboat, who has won the trophy twice. Par Keilty of the Toronto police was second, and Harry Lawson, winner of the Canadian Olympic trials, was the third entry. Twenty-two entered yesterday.—Toronto Globe.

• • • •

Halifax, September 2.—Special. — Equalling the Canadian record under very unfavourable conditions, Bobby Kerr demonstrated his right to be called the fastest sprinter in Canada by doing the 100 yards dash in 9 4-5 seconds at the Exhibition track to-night.

Much to the disappointment of his friends, Schaefer, who secured the 100 yards championship last Saturday, did not compete to-night, claiming he had difficulty in getting away from his work in the postoffice, where he is employed as a clerk.

It was also a keen disappointment for Kerr, who remained over expressly for the purpose of meeting Schaefer. The Hamilton man's magnificent exhibition left little doubt in the minds of the spectators that he is the faster sprinter.

WITH THE KICKERS

The Argonauts will enter senior and intermediate teams in the Inter-Provincial. They claim to have at least twenty-five players from which to select two teams, but some of those mentioned do not intend to play with the Caramel, while others are old-timers who have steadfastly refused to play the last three or four years, and can hardly be expected to play now. However, it is to be hoped that the Argonauts can get a strong team together, as it will be a battle royal when they line up against the T. A. A. C. in the championship games.

• • • •

"Pete" Flett is said to have been located at Montreal by the G. T. P., and is expected to play with the Inter-Provincial champions. However, Pete doesn't usually stay away very long from the parental roof-tree, and will likely be seen in a T.A.A.C. uniform this fall.

• • • •

The Argonauts, it is said, will not oppose the application for admission to the Inter-Provincial Union of the T. A. A. C. If this is so the T. A. A. C. should have no difficulty in obtaining membership, as the other clubs are quite agreeable.

• • • •

• • • •

The newly-elected executive of the Hamilton Tigers held their first meeting on Tuesday evening, when Walter Marriott was appointed manager of the intermediate team, and Guy Long manager of the juniors.

• • • •

London Advertiser: It has been brought to the attenion of the Advertiser that it is hardly fair to stack London up against such teams as Dundas and Hamilton the first shot out of the box, and this question will probably be discussed at the meeting. The inter-provincial officials have promised to pay more attention to the intermediates this season than in the past, and it may be possible for London to be grouped with teams other than Hamilton for one season at least.

• • • •

Kingston (Whig): Nothing as yet has been heard about a senior, junior or intermediate Rugby team this season, and is drawing quite close to the time for the players to get moving in that direction. There is loads of good material in the city, just awaiting anxiously for the chance to get out and do something in the football line.

The same management should take the team and also take a junior team for the G. R. F. U. There are lots of players for both, and if the same management has both it makes it far better and not quite so expensive as if they were single.

• • • •

WITH THE KICKERS.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the O.R.F.U. yesterday, W. H. Gladish, well known in local lacrosse circles, was appointed secretary to succeed J. B. Hay, resigned.

The Ontario Union will not have a senior series this season but will content itself with intermediate and junior divisions. This union has nothing at issue with the Interprovincial Union, as last year, but has a strong following of its own and anticipates a successful season.

"RINGERS" at BELLEVILLE.

Belleville, Sept. 2.—Special. — In a Trent Valley League game played here this afternoon between Trenton and Belleville the latter won out by a score of 8 to 0. Trenton played nine men against twelve. Both teams were reinforced by outside players. This makes Belleville and Port Hope tie for the championship. The final game will be played in Trenton shortly.

A TIP FOR FAT WOMEN

In a few years that excess fat of yours will become a bad habit—impossible to break. Better take time by the forelock and reduce now in a natural way, if you would keep intact the youthful symmetry of 20 through the trying years of middle age. Go to the druggist and ask him for 1-2 ounce Marmola, 3-4 ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, and 4 3-4 ounces Syrup Simplex. Take a teaspoonful after meals and at bed-time. Mix them at home if you wish, but see that the Magnolia comes to you in a sealed package.

This mixture makes firm fleshed, well-formed women out of flabby, shapeless ones. It animates their stomachs to burn up the food fats instead of allowing them to gather at the waist line. Without disturbing the diet or requiring exercise to help it out, it dissolves the fat away just where needed the most. It has been known to melt away harmlessly as much as sixteen ounces a day without causing a single wrinkle.

A SEMPITERNAL SEWER ON ROMAINE STREET

A Correspondent Wants to Know, You Know

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In regard to the Romaine street sewer which I see the Board of Education is trying to get the Council to put in proper shape, I wish to say that it is about time something was done. Could you tell me if I would be justified in refusing to pay the frontage tax for the sewer past my house when it cannot be used. (Not only do I think that I should not pay this but I consider it should be repaired before there is any chance of it causing disease to spread, as it surely must do if allowed to remain as it is.

Thanking you, Sir, I am,

Yours truly,

ROMAINE STREET.

Peterborough, Sept. 3 1908.

Note—There is no doubt that the City, in the interests of the health of the neighbourhood should put this troublesome sewer in proper condition, so as to make it a sewer in fact as in name. As to the liability of the ratepayers to pay frontage tax rates on account of the sewer, as a matter of law they may be made to pay, somebody has to pay the shot. But on principles of equity nobody should be called to pay for anything which does not represent value proportionate to the demand, not to speak of having to pay for something which is a positive injury. The Romaine street mistake may not carry sewage but it might remain, and does remain as a monument to incompetency on the part of somebody—whom our city fathers should not be slow to discover.

Ireland Benefits.

Dublin, Sept. 3.—At a meeting of the central branch of the United Irish League John Redmond, who presided, dilated upon the importance of the late Parliamentary session so far as Ireland was concerned.

Ireland, he said, would receive nearly four million dollars a year under the old-age pensions bill, which would benefit seventy thousand people in Ireland.

Sent For Trial.

St. Catharines, Sept. 3.—Conductor Phillips of the Niagara Central Railway was held for trial in $200 bail by Magistrate Campbell, yesterday afternoon on a charge of assaulting James Groggen. Evidence supported complainant's claim that he was thrown off the car while it was in motion, as a result of which two ribs were fractured.

Treaty With West Indies.

London, Sept. 3.—(C.A.P.)—An official announcement in connection with reciprocity negotiations of Canada and the West Indies is expected. It is thought here that unless some general tariff with the whole West Indies is arranged complications arising from separate treatment of the islands will imperil the success of negotiations.

Better to Stand Clear.

London, Sept. (C.A.P.)—The News remarks that if Australia's safety is ever threatened, the battle would be lost or won on high seas long before the enemy reached Australian waters, and says: "Laurier is wiser when he congratulated Canadians on standing outside the vortex of European militarism."

Gompers For Bryan.

Fort Worth, Texas Sept. 3.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, has opened his campaign for the Democratic national ticket.

He closed with an appeal for every man present, regardless of party affiliations, to vote for Bryan.

May Be a Bad Wreck.

Winnipeg, Sept. 3.—There is a C. P. R. wreck near St. Ignace. It is rumored to be a bad smash, but no details are yet to hand.

Killed While Hunting.

Killarney, Man., Sept. 3.—James Coghland of Dregheda, Ireland, was accidentally shot and killed while out on a hunting expedition near here yesterday.

Not Yet.

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—The appointment of three new railway commissioners will not be made until next week, and perhaps not until after dissolution.

MUST HAVE A FLEET.

Premier Deakin of Australia Says That Is Only Protection.

Melbourne, Sept. 3.—Speaking at the dinner tendered to Rear-Admiral Sperry and the senior officers of the American battleship fleet at the Royal Yacht Club last night, Alfred Deakin, the Prime Minister, said:

"The appearance of the American fleet indicates that it is on no holiday cruise. Its visit marks for us no casual adventure, for the invitation was given in a spirit of deepest earnestness after mature consideration and the concession made by the American Government in sending the fleet here is perhaps the most generous made in recent times by one nation to another.

"The lesson to Australians is that as America was unable to take a first place in the world until the country had a first-class navy, because it was until then, only able to protest verbally against outside injustice and injury, so Australia cannot be content to ultimately accept defence at any other hands than its own, and should begin provision for its own navy in a modest way."

Tempered With Brakes.

Montreal, Sept. 3.—A criminal attempt to interfere with a railway train was made Tuesday night by parties unknown. As a train of freight cars was pulling out of the C. P. R. yard in Hochelaga it was noticed that the pneumatic brakes were not working properly. The train was stopped, and it was found that about 50 rubber air tubes had been maliciously cut under the cars. If this had not been noticed in time it would have been the cause of a serious wreck.

Offer For Montreal Power.

Montreal, Sept. 3.—Hon. Leslie M. Shaw's offer to the Montreal Power Co. was received yesterday. While the full details are not made known, it is understood that it embraces a 99-year lease. The Shaw Co. will deposit $6,000,000 as dividend guarantee. The dividend for the first three years is to be 7 per cent., then 8 per cent. for an indefinite period. They offer 110 for the stock. It is thought the offer will be turned down.

Nova Scotia Exhibition.

Halifax, Sept. 3.—Under most auspicious circumstances, the twelfth annual Nova Scotia Exhibition was formally opened yesterday afternoon. For the first time in the history of the Exhibition, there were no opening ceremonies in front of the grand stand. The fair was declared open at a luncheon given by the Exhibition Commissioners.

Barge Collides With Pier.

St. Catharines, Sept. 3.—The barge Winnipeg, owned by the M. T. Co., Kingston, while entering Port Dalhousie harbor yesterday evening, in tow of the tug Bartlett, struck the east pier and stove in several planks below the water line. She is leaking badly and will have to be docked.

Almost Asphyxiated.

Providence, R. I., Sept. 3.—Miss Carrie Capen of Milton, Ont., visiting Mrs. Nanton of Providence, turned on the gas and then leaned over the gas stove.

She was nearly dead when found, and hospital doctors say she may not recover.

Twenty-Eight Drown.

Victoria, B.C., Sept. 3.—News was brought by the steamer Tango Maru yesterday of the sinking of the Japanese steamer Bankoku Maru off Chiba Prefecture on Aug. 30 with the loss of 28 lives. The steamer, a vessel of 2,359 tons was loaded with coal.

Chaham, Sept. 3.—Frank Arnold, aged 27, a former employe of the Wm. Gray & Sons Co., was killed on the C.P.R. tracks within the city limits early yesterday morning.

It is supposed that he went up the tracks to sleep. His body was literally cut to pieces.

Defaulter Arrested.

Havana, Sept. 3.—Ricardo Rodrigues, chief of the bureau of supplies and vouchers in the Havana postoffice, who disappeared after the discovery of a shortage in that department amounting to $53,136, was arrested by the police Tuesday night.

Inquest Into Death Of The Late John Greer Begun

Nature of Gasoline and Conditions Under Which It Ignites—No Idea of the Cause

MR. WESLEY'S TESTIMONY

The inquest into the death of the late John W. Greer was begun last night at the Council Chambers. Coroner Gray presided, and County Crown Attorney R. E. Wood conducted the examination.

The jury is composed as follows:—Messrs. F W Miller, foreman, Wm Morrow, Wm. Metheral, W J Devins, Geo. E. Elliott, Jas. Brown, C. Clancy, E. Brandt, W. Mein, R Stewart, T. Embury, F. Kelly, T. Glover, John Taylor and Porter White.

Mr. Geo. Hatton represented the management of "My Valet."

The evidence taken last night dealt mainly with conditions under which gasoline ignites.

The Evidence

Robt. Beach was sworn, and stated that he had had considerable experience in the handling of gasoline in cleaning clothes. The great danger of this substance was the fact that it evaporates very rapidly, and an explosion will occur when coming in contact with an intense heat or flame.

"A person should be instructed in the use of it. I do not know whether an explosion or ignition would result from rubbing gasoline on cloth. A flame is not necessary, to cause an explosion in a room filled with gasoline fumes."

Mr. Rickey's Testimony

Mr. Bruce Rickey stated that he, with Mr. Jas. Greer, father of the late John W Greer, was proprietor of "My Valet." The room where the accident occurred was about 10 x 15 feet and 18 feet in height. It is ventilated by large windows (open at the bottom) and a door. Witness did not know whether the door was open on the occasion in question. The window was open to its full extent. Deceased was alone in the room. He had worked since April 11 in the cleaning room, using gasoline. A strict rule was that no match should be lit in the room and smoking was forbidden. Witness stated that deceased was only an occasional smoker, sometimes using a pipe.

Mr. Rickey said he had no conception as to the cause of the accident. The boy had told his mother on Saturday morning that he had not been smoking.

To Mr. Hatton, witness said that the most gasoline he had stored on his premises at any time was five gallons. It was contained in an air-tight can, manufactured especially for gasoline purposes.

Mr. James Greer

Mr. Jas. Greer was also sworn, and stated that he had made inquiries into the accident, but was unable to come to any conclusion as to its cause. The chief thing in using the gasoline was to be very careful, and witness and his partner had done all they could in this respect. Had he believed danger imminent he would not have allowed his son to work near gasoline. Witness had only seen his son smoking once. In the hospital on Saturday night he had told his father that he was not smoking.

Mr. Lebar, a presser, employed by "My Valet," stated that he had never seen anything irregular in the way of smoking in the establishment.

Chief Howard said he had seen many accidents from gasoline. The gas arising from it is what causes the trouble. The brigade had turned out to the fire in the cleaning room.

Important Evidence

Mr. Walter Wesley said he had worked for fifteen months conducting "My Valet." He had had no previous instructions as to how to handle it. No accident had occurred while he was in charge. Witness's father died from injuries received in a fire from gasoline early in May. The cause of that accident was probably due to Mr. Greer, who was working in the room, stepping on a match head. These are found in gentlemen's clothing, and the pockets are always emptied before going into the cleaning room. It is possible that some heads may escape detection. Witness said his father had told him before his death that as he moved his feet on the floor the flames seemed to rise upwards.

Continuing, Mr. Wesley stated that on one occasion he had seen John Greer take a pipe out of his mouth before entering the cleaning room, saying, "That's where that always goes."

Witness had himself often smoked while using gasoline on clothes. He had once put a lighted pipe in some gasoline, and the pipe went out.

Dangerous When Volatile

The danger, he said, is when the gasoline evaporates. Even then he believed that a flame was necessary to ignite it.

Three lady employees tetified that they had never seen the deceased smoking in the cleaning room and seldom around the premises.

This concluded the evidence. An adjournment was made till next Wednesday.

FAIR WILL BE A BIG SUCCESS; DIRECTORS ARE ENTHUSIASTIC

The directors of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition held a very enthusiastic meeting last night, and plans for the big Fair were discussed. As the date draws near, the fact that the Exhibition this year will be the most successful on record becomes more and more apparent. The directors are going at their work with a will and are exerting every effort to make the Fair the greatest in the history of the event.

Last night arrangements were made for the selling of tickets, etc., and the list of judges was gone through and revised. Most of those who had been asked to act had written to state that they would be glad to do so, and no difficulty is anticipated in getting competent men to take the places of those who are unable to come to Peterborough.

On the second day of the Fair a big excursion from Picton is coming to Peterborough and the directors have taken pains to advertise the Exhibition in the Canning town, and will do all in their power to attract the visitors to the Fair grounds. There will be plenty for the people to see as a splendid list of special attractions is being arranged for.

The horse racing should produce some great sport as big purses are being offered and it is expected that many well-known horsemen will be represented here by fast animals. The rules and regulations will be strictly adhered to.

SAYS TOO MANY DRUGGISTS ARE BEING MANUFACTURED

Toronto, Sept. 2. — The Canadian Pharmaceutical Association began its first annual meeting here yesterday, with delegates from all parts of Canada.

W. C. Poison of Kingston rather startled the meeting by a declaration that too many druggists are being manufactured and that it would be a benefit if the pharmacy colleges could close down for the next ten years.

Discussing the prices for patent medicines, it was decided to recommend that the wholesale prices of articles selling at 25 cents, 50 cents and a dollar each should be $2, $4 and $8 a dozen. The general use of the Canadian Formulary was also suggested.

Went To Harvest; Are Now Sleeping In The Freight Cars

Toronto, Sept. 2.—After scouring the country for work and being unable to find any, eighteen harvesters arrived in Toronto yesterday from the west, two being stranded out there without sufficient money to pay their fare home.

One of the men told of terrible conditions on the main line between Brandon and Moose Jaw. He said that in Brandon about 200 half-starved men are sleeping like cats and dogs in freight cars, while in Moosomin about 50 are being accommodated in a shabby manner, having to sleep on the floor in the fire hall. At numerous other places along the line the men are enduring hardships in various ways and unable to find employment.

West is Overcrowded

"The west is over-crowded and it is useless for men to seek employment," said one of the Englishmen. "I have spent all my money and if I cannot secure some kind of employment in this city I guess I will starve. We secured the prairie between Moosomin and Wapella, and, in fact, were lost several times, and were unable to get even a day's work. I am glad to get back to Toronto again as I don't think I could stand the hardships some of the men out there are standing.

Passenger Train Of 45 Cars Of C.P.R. Navvies For Quebec

One of the strangest trains that have passed over this section of the C. P. R. was seen yesterday afternoon. It was composed of 45 boarding cars which had been used by Italian labourers in Western Ontario. They had been collected from Kenora, Coldwater and other places and were going to Quebec where further construction work is to be done. The train was stalled in the city for ten minutes and one of the foremen gave the information to an Examiner reporter.

He stated that there were 45 cars in the train and that all were occupied. They were 20-ton old style cars, smaller than those now in use. From the roof of each on from the sides a stovepipe protruded, and the usual windows had been cut out. Many of the cars were tar-papered and lathe were nailed here and there it was an unusual kaleidoscopic view as the long train of boarding cars passed. They had probably been in use for years and were beginning to look dilapidated.

WANTS A MUSICAL SOCIETY

Writer Urges That Something Be Done This Season by Local Talent

POINTS OUT THE BENEFIT

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Once more the concert season has swung round and again the question of a Choral Society presents itself. It is rather a pity that Peterborough, boasting as it does, of almost unlimited musical ability, has not such an organization. The question has been broached annually, but the result each time has been the same. I do not wish to question the reason for these failures. Let bygones be bygones! Because nothing has been achieved in the past that is scarcely a reason that the future presents nothing more encouraging.

I do not wish to expatiate on the character of the society, that is a detail to settle when the talent is brought into harmony among each other. The important matter is to bring them together in the near future determined to agree upon forming a Club for the purpose of producing cantatas, operas or concerts.

I was speaking with a member of the Opera House Orchestra who stated that he was very desirous to see a club formed and was confident the other members would do likewise, and not look for remuneration if the chorus and principals would join with them. Let the proceeds be given to charity for the true lover of music would go into the work merely through the love for it. With this end in view surely there should not be any difficulty in organizing. The choirs of the city could unite, resulting in the best material being selected and a fine chorus would be the result. I would like to see some one else interested in this proposition express himself. The co-operation of the choir leaders, and clergymen should be beneficial and I cannot see why anything should arise which would block the movement, that is if those interested or who should be interested are true to their own interests and to the musical reputation of the city.

In conclusion let me urge the musicians and singers not to have a repetition of past years — failure. The production of Zephra, and the numerous concerts prove conclusively that this city is almost an Eldorado of musical talent. Why should it lie dormant? Why should not this talent be developed as such a society would develop it?

Hoping this will receive conscientious consideration and may result in the desire, I am,

Thankfully yours,
B. NATURAL.

WOULD LEVY A TAX ON AUTOS

Suggestion to Improve Roadways By This Means

Seventy delegates, among whom were City Clerk Armstrong and Ald. Phelan, representing Peterborough, were present at the meeting of the tenth annual convention of the Ontario Municipal Association in the City Hall, Toronto, yesterday. One of the questions brought up was the taxing of automobiles to improve highways. It was introduced by Mr. W. C. Mikel, K.C., city solicitor for Belleville. He advocated the passage of legislation either to exclude automobiles from highways or providing for a provincial tax on automobiles to be paid to the municipalities for the benefit of the highways. Persons who desired to go whirling along in a conveyance unsuited for most highways should build tracks of their own.

Nathaniel Self, convicted at Windsor of bigamy, was sentenced to five years.

Louis Laverge, M.P., is likely to be appointed to the Civil Service Commission.

Salvation Army To Begin A Great Revival Campaign

General Booth is Sending Out Three Capable Revivalists Who Will Labour During October Throughout Canada

A WEEK IN PETERBOROUGH

The Salvation Army during October will carry a great revival throughout the whole of Canada. For this purpose General Booth is sending out three celebrated officers who will divide the country into the same number of territories, which they will individually cover. These officers are Brigadier Roberts, Commissioner Cadman and Major and Mrs. Plant, all from the international headquarters at London.

Brigadier Roberts will pass through Ontario, spending one week in Peterborough from October 5 to 12. This occasion will be one of special importance here, and the officers in charge here expect a marked revival and increased interest in the Salvation Army. Brigadier Roberts has spent thirty years as an officer, and, like his associates in this campaign, is a very eloquent speaker and should attract large gatherings.

For The Man Who Appreciates The Latest Innovations In Dress

It will interest many men to know that the stiff-fronted shirt has for the present had its day. This is the case with both the white and the coloured stiff-fronted and stiff-cuffed shirts. The only use for the white stiff shirt is to wear with a dress suit, that is to say with the swallow-tail. For wear with a tuxedo or dinner jacket there has appeared almost universally among the well-dressed men, a soft shirt either of soft linen, plain or ruffled or of plain or pleated China silk. These shirts have the rolled back cuff.

For day wear the soft shirt with the rolled back cuff is also the correct thing. The well-groomed man now wears only shirts of soft fabrics in plain colours or strips, whether with frock or sack suits.

The collar has changed again and men are going back to the butterfly collar with the rounded points. The pointed or square wings are still worn, but the rounded points are the proper ones for evening wear. White ties are also only being worn with the swallow tail, and only black ties with the tuxedo.

There is quite a change latterly also in vests or waistcoats, as some people prefer to call them. The evening vest most in favour at this season of the year, whether in full dress or Tuxedo, is a white one with four buttons, covered with the same material as the vest. Fancy buttons have gone out, but if one has a set of jewelled studs it is quite the right thing to wear them even with the fancy vest worn in the daytime.

The fancy vest for day wear is now perfectly plain, and the most fashionable colours are delicate shades of dove grey and champagne. The buttons are covered with the same material.

Gloves are coming in again for wear at this season. Suede and undressed leather predominate, and the colours are pale shades in lavender, dove gray and silver gray.

Socks continue to dazzle the eye with their brilliance of colouring. A very fashionable sock can now be seen in all the smart stores made in plain art shades with contrasting clocks. The white cashmere sock still holds its own. These look very well, particularly if the clocks match in colour the tie worn.

PARTRIDGE SHOOTING IS PROHIBITED THIS YEAR

With Grouse are Protected Until September, 1909

There will be no partridge hunting in Ontario this year. Game Warden Loveday has received from Toronto a notice that the hunting, taking or killing of grouse or partridge in the Province of Ontario is prohibited until the fifteenth day of September, 1909.

The prohibition of partridge shooting for the coming season will be approved by most sportsmen, as it is realized that the birds are in danger of extermination.—New York Sun.

A SACRED CONCERT IN KINGSTON

When the 57th Band goes to Kingston over Labour Day it is likely that they will give a sacred concert on Sunday afternoon. They will of course play in the parades and should give an excellent account of themselves.

HOUSE OVER TRACKS; NO DELAY RESULTED

The old roughcast house which has been touring several of the city streets on its way to its destination, Wescott street, was taken over the C.P.R. tracks at Aylmer street to-day without causing any obstruction to the railway. I will sell by public auction, on Saturday morning, September 12th, on the Market Square, at eleven o'clock, one Rubber Tire Stanhope. This is a high-seated vehicle of the runabout style and is practically as good as new. Sale without reserve.

Three Walls are Already Nearly Finished —Work Progressing

The side walls and one end of the new curling rink are almost completed and the work of putting on the roof is expected to be begun next week. Speaking to one of the prominent curlers to-day, he told the Examiner that the building should be finished in two months.

Children's EYES

Need the most careful and persistent attention. Early headaches and other troubles frequently emanate from defective eye-sight, which in itself, may have originated in early neglect of the eyes. The trouble is, parents seldom know their children's eyes are weak until it is too late.

School will be opened shortly, you had better bring your children to us, as we make a specialty of examining the eyes of the young and fitting them with the proper lenses.

PLENTY OF MUSIC FOR EXHIBITION

Directors Will Endeavour to Arrange for Two Bands

The Peterborough Industrial Exhibition directors intend to have lots of music at the Fair this year, and on the suggestion of some of the directors at the meeting last night it was decided to ascertain what arrangements could be made to have two bands present on the big days of the event. It is proposed to have one of the bands stationed near the main building and the other in front of the grand-stand where the horse races and special events will be pulled off. One of the bands will be on hand on Saturday morning and they will both be there Friday afternoon if the plans of some of the directors are carried out. No doubt the crowd would appreciate lots of music and it would be a good drawing card.

NATURE SPARES

The Stricken Rose From Grief

What a fortunate provision of nature it is that deprives the rose of mental suffering; for how poignant would be its grief to discover, in the height of its blooming glory, that a canker fed at its heart, and that its beauty and fragrance were doomed forever. Nature always spares the suffering; she is a veritable storehouse of pleasing rewards for those who seek her aid. In the years gone by, falling hair and grayness have cast a gloom over the lives of thousands of young women, but, thanks to the investigations of scientists, the true cause of hair destruction is now known to be a germ or parasite that burrows into the hair follicles. Newbro's Herpicide absolutely destroys this germ, thus permitting the hair to grow as nature intended. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00. McDerm't & Jury and the Market Drug Store, Special Agents.

WORK ON CHURCH OF SACRED HEART

The work on the Church of the Sacred Heart is being rapidly pushed forward and it is learned that only one more layer of stone is required for the walls.

Cut Out Section Of Ribs To Leave Room For Enlarged Heart

New York, Sept. 3.—A very remarkable operation has just been performed at one of the large general hospitals in London which it ultimately successful will open up yet another field for the daring skill of the twentieth century surgeon. This operation was suggested for the relief of pain due to heart disease and was devised according to the following argument:

The pain was associated with that form of the disease which leads to enormous enlargement of the heart and may produce the condition known as bullock heart. It was supposed that the attacks of pain were due to the efforts of the enlarged heart to beat in the confined space allotted to it in the chest. It was argued that if the imprisoned heart could have greater freedom of action its beat would be more effective and the pains would probably cease, but it required some daring to suggest and carry out an operation for this purpose.

The situation was fully explained to the patient and the risks of the operation pointed out, and he, willing gave his consent to undergo it. In spite of the condition of his heart he took an anaesthetic well, and stood the strain and shock of the operation better than might have been expected.

The surgeon removed four and a half inches of the fifth rib and five and a half inches of the sixth rib on the left side, so as to give the enlarged heart greater freedom of action, and the result so far has been excellent. The patient is well satisfied with the results; he has obtained relief from pain and his hitherto restless nights have given place to quiet and uninterrupted sleep.

"Was From Missouri" But The Lift Lock Showed Him, All Right

The Lindsay Warder says: Mrs. R. J. Menzies was agreeably surprised the other day when her brother, Mr. Ike Mills, of Pittsburg, Pa., dropped in to see her. He was accompanied by Mr. Phil Zisolkau and son George, cement contractors and coal operators. It was their first trip to Canada and was a flying one. Ike had been telling his companions of the cement lift lock at Peterborough, with its 65 foot lift. "Phil" took the story with a grain of salt, and the conversation was forgotten. But "Phil" walked over to the place the other day and remarked, "Can you make that lift lock story good?" Mr. Mills replied that he could, whereupon Phil replied, "Get into the harness," and the three left Pittsburg Tuesday, spent the night and part of Wednesday, jumped into the tally-ho, viewed the city, and then continued on to Peterborough. The big lock was inspected and many of Ike's old school boys looked up. Thence they repaired to Lindsay.

They took the Kathleen trip to Coboconk, and there enjoyed a fresh fish dinner that they pronounced O. K. They then returned and heard the band play. Mr. Zisolkau says it is a good band, and he should know, being an old bandsman himself.

After their visit they left on the C. P. R. for Toronto. They will sail over the lake and through the Gorge Route to the Falls and Buffalo, spending a few hours at each place. Thence they will betake themselves home—come again.

Mr. Zisolkau took great delight in watching the weed ducks which were very numerous. It was new to him, as when he went after the feathered tribe he had to make a long trip to Virginia. He regretted very much the shortness of his stay as he thinks a month's trip through the Canadian great lakes would be a rare treat, and he and his friends may indulge their fancy at some future date.

BARGAIN SEASON IN CLOTHING

Both in Tailor Shops and Ready-Made Stores Now is Time to Buy

GREY AND BROWN COLOURS

The present season is considered rather dull with the tailors and well-dressed men should make a note of this. It is always a good thing to have clothes made at a dull time, for then your tailor will give you far more attention, and possibly more time will be spent in the building of your clothes. This is also a month when the sales generally begin, and the man who buys ready-made things will wisely look for bargains. If you have a little spare money, by all means buy a few shirts, socks and underclothing. If you write down the exact size of your measures, collar, chest, waist-band, length of sleeve and length of foot, you can safely and wisely let your wife or mother make these purchases for you, because women know quality usually better than men.

There is not a better time in the whole year to lay in a stock of white shirts and other essential garments than during August. At some of the sales of the big dry goods shops your womenfolk will be able to pick up great bargains in unlaundered long-cloth white shirts, some perhaps at 50 and 75 cents. When these shirts are laundered, and the extra cost of laundry work is very slight, they are quite equal to the shirt you would ordinarily pay $2.50 for.

There will also be bargains in balbriggan underwear and spun silk and wool mixed, suits which usually cost $3.50, which can be bought at the sales for very much less. They may be shop-worn or sun-streaked, but the laundry will practically put such things right.

For fall suits the colours will be gray or brown, green or a heavy blue serge, with the first two colours predominating. The materials, excepting the serge, will be tweed, although both for suits and overcoatings the advanced samples from the mills already show a lot of homespuns.

AMERICAN AERONAUT IS KILLED

C. O. Jones Falls to His Death From an Airship.

INVENTOR OF "JUNE BUG"

One of the Most Brilliant of Younger Generation of Aviators Falls 500 Feet Before Huge Gathering at Fair In the State of Maine—His Wife and Child Witness the Fatal Plunge to Earth.

Waterville, Me., Sept. 3.—In full view of 25,000 horrified spectators on the Central Maine Fair grounds here, late yesterday, Charles Oliver Jones, the well-known aeronaut of Hammondsport, N. Y., fell a distance of 500 feet to his death. Among the witnesses of the frightful plunge were the man's wife and child, and they were almost the first to reach his side after the accident. The aeronaut expired last evening, about an hour and a half after the tragic event.

Jones had been at the fair grounds with his dirigible balloon Boomerang. Yesterday when the aeronaut reached a height of more than 500 feet in his flight the spectators were amazed to see small tongues of flame issuing from under the gas bag.

Many persons in the great crowd endeavored to apprise Jones of his danger, but several minutes elapsed before he noticed the fire. Then he grasped the rip cord and endeavored to reach the earth. The machine had descended but a short distance when a sudden burst of flames enveloped the gas bag, the framework immediately separating from the bag.

Jones fell with the frame of his motor, and when the spectators reached him he was lying under it about a quarter of a mile from the fair grounds.

Jones was numbered among the younger aeronauts, but his work in the field had already marked him as one of the most successful exponents of aerial navigation.

It was Jones who evolved the famous June Bug, which made several record flights for short distances which won The Scientific American trophy for heavier-than-air machines.

It had been Jones' intention to go to the experiment station in Nova Scotia with Lieut. Safridge of the United States signal corps to work on a new aeroplane.

WANTED FOR THEFT.

Bank Clerk Named Purdy Missing From Harrowsmith With $1,200.

Toronto, Sept. 3.—Another young man, a trusted clerk in the Metropolitan Bank at Harrowsmith, has succumbed to money lust, and has disappeared with $1,200 of the bank's money. He is now probably in the United States, and, as the money was in bills of all denominations, and old at that, the passing will be a simple matter.

On Wednesday of last week, this clerk, Purdy by name, was sent to the postoffice at Harrowsmith to mail a number of parcels. He kept out this bunch of $1,200 and registered another parcel addressed to the head office. By doing this he was able to give his manager a receipt for a registered package, lulling suspicion.

He then received permission to spend a day at Kingston, and never came back. His bondsmen, the London Guarantee & Accident Co. started hot foot in pursuit.

Young Purdy had been two and a half years in the bank's employ, and came of a very respectable family.

Theft and Incendiarism.

Hamilton, Sept. 3.—The barns of Byron Beamer of Silverdale were burned down this morning with their season's crops, horses cattle and implements, as the result it is thought of the efforts of a man who stole Beamer's horse and buggy, to cover up his tracks. The stranger enquired in St. Anns Tuesday where the Cranboro road was, and about 1 o'clock yesterday morning he called at Mr. Beamer's house and made the same enquiry. Two hours later the barn was discovered in flames and when the fire had burned itself out the horse and buggy were missed.

THE DESPERADOES FIGHT FIERCELY

Montreal Officers Have Sharp Brush With Armed Men.

MAY BE ROBBERS OF BANK.

Detective Pusie Has Narrow Escape From Death by Bullet, and Succeeds In Wounding Fugitive Who Fired on Him—Receives Powder Charge In Face — Wounded Robber Was Captured Later.

Montreal, Sept. 3.—A revolver duel took place yesterday near St. Constant between Montreal detectives and four desperadoes, who are supposed to be the robbers who broke into the St. Eustache Bank.

All bridges and highways have been carefully watched since the robbery, and it is a source of wonder to the police how the men got so far south, if they are the same.

When the four men were discovered Detectives Pusie, Samson and Brosseau decided to intercept them. They separated, and Detective Pusie got closest. Three of the men started off and the detective made a grab for the last one. Just as he did so the man drew a revolver and aimed it full in the face of Pusie. The weapon was held so close that Pusie was blinded for a few moments, but he managed to use his own revolver and succeeded in wounding the tramp or burglar in the arm. The man made off with his pals.

It was at first thought that Pusie had been hit in the head, but upon closer examination it was seen his face bore no more dangerous marks than the powder charge. The bullet just missed him.

Later in the afternoon, however, Brosseau succeeded in capturing the wounded man not far from the scene of the morning's conflict. The man was weak with pain and loss of blood, and was left to his fate by his three companions.

A hurry-up call for reinforcements was sent into Montreal, and Chief Detective Carpenter and a number of city detectives left to render assistance. There are large forests in the neighborhood of St. Constant, and it is thought the robbers are in hiding. The police have offered $500 reward per head for their capture, and have notified all people living in the district, and are hopeful of rounding them up in twenty-four hours. If the party are the same who robbed the bank they have wandered about forty miles from St. Eustache.

G.T.R. MAKES DEMANDS.

Presents List of Its Exceptions to the Lord's Day Act.

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—Mahlon Cowan, K.C., for the G.T.R., yesterday asked the Board of Railway Commissioners to grant them the following Sunday privileges:

1. To break up through trains on Sunday, where this is necessary, and to forward such shipments to their destination.

2. To allow of the furniture of a through service to cattle shippers.

3. To allow the company to deliver empty cars on Sundays to points along their lines for shipments of cattle on Monday.

4. To allow the company to load and unload grain at the lake ports and to forward grain trains to their destination on Sundays, where the traffic would otherwise be subjected to undue delay.

Mr. Tiffin, superintendent of the northern division of the Grand Trunk Railway, declared that if the Canadian ports of Midland, Meaford, and Collingwood were to hold their own in the grain trade against American competitors, the grain carriers must be allowed to handle this traffic without any undue delay. Otherwise the grain would be carried to American ports.

QUICK DEPORTATION.

White Slave Traders Get Swift Treatment in Toronto.

Toronto, Sept. 3.—Charged with engaging in the "white slave" trade, two Jews, by name Ulman and Keller, were arrested in Toronto last night.

Immediately after the arrest, they were bundled into an auto and taken to Niagara Falls, for deportation. There they will be re-arrested by U.S. secret service men, who are in the party.

The arrests were made at 181 West Richmond street, Keller being taken at 10 p. m. and Ulman at midnight. In the interval the whole house was "pinched." Detectives Sockett and Moffitt made the arrests, and the secret service men and two Dominion immigration officers were with them.

To save the delays of extradition, deportation papers were arranged for at Ottawa some days ago.

The men are accused of bringing women from Europe, and are liable to five years' imprisonment and a $5,000 fine. Two companions are now serving sentences in Chicago.

Keller is about 30 years old and Ulman 45.

Doctors Want Enquiry.

Chatham, Sept. 3.—The Chatham Medical Society has become so exercised over the story of a grave robbery at Maple Leaf cemetery, that the doctors say they want an investigation.

FRENCH PEOPLE ARE VERY INDIGNANT

Resents Germany's Attitude Regarding Mulai Hafid.

MALEVOLENT SHE DECLARES

Kaiser's Message to Powers Demanding Recognition of Moroccan Usurper Without Renewal of Predecessor's Guarantees Called Undoing of the Work of the Algeciras Conference.

Paris, Sept. 3.—The action of Germany in breaking up the concert of the powers with regard to Morocco by notifying the signatories of the Algeciras Act that she considered the actual situation demanded the immediate recognition of Mulai Hafid, the usurping Sultan of Morocco, has fallen like a bombshell in Paris.

Only Tuesday the French press was refraining from impugning political motives in Germany in the despatch of Dr. Vassel, the German consul at Tangier to Fez. Yesterday, however, with the arrival of Germany's official notification regarding the recognition of Mulai Hafid a feeling approaching consternation is manifested in official circles. This notification, which was made verbally, is not accompanied by any explanation of "Germany's brutal change of front," as it is termed here and in Government circles the action of Germany and the despatch of Dr. Vassel can no longer be disassociated.

As if in answer to Germany's call for recognition of Mulai Hafid before he has entered into any engagements with Europe, fanatical Arabs who had been gathering on the Algerian frontier attacked Tuesday the French post at Boudfib.

The Associated Press is in a position to present the following official French view of the situation:

"Germany's notification came as a complete surprise to France and Germany, who are engaged in elaborating a program of demands, to be presented to Mulai Hafid, for the safeguarding of the common interests of Europe and America in Morocco.

"There was no longer any question of upholding Abd-el-Aziz. Both France and Spain recognized that he had disappeared definitely from the horizon. What we proposed to do was to force Mulai Hafid to ratify the engagements of his brother, Abd-el-Aziz, toward Europe before recognizing him. Now Germany comes forward with a proposition to recognize Mulai Hafid before he has given any guaranty. It amounts to undoing the work of the Algeciras conference.

BLOODSHED AT TORONTO.

Strike-Breakers and Constables Clash and Latter Are Fired.

West Toronto, Sept. 3.—A serious fight, resulting in bloodshed, occurred in the paint shop Tuesday night between the strike breakers and some special constables, which resulted in three of the latter being discharged yesterday morning.

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—James Somerville, Montreal, second vice-president of the International Association of Machinists, was fined $3 and $2 costs.

It was sworn that he had called one of the present employes a "scab." Somerville denied the charge.

Montreal, Sept. 3.—The C. P. R. announce they have, during August, overhauled 51 locomotives in the Angus shops, while some 25 cars are turned out daily.

Officials in Winnipeg have wired they are ready for the present crop, and anticipate no difficulty in handling it.

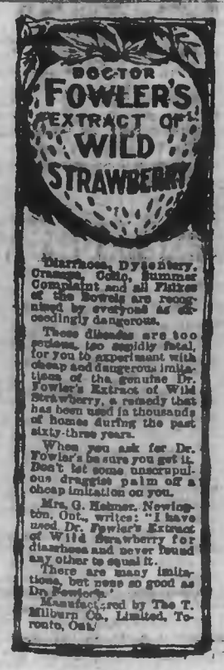
Seventy more mechanics were taken on yesterday and will be sent west.

Bullets on Exchange.

London, Sept. 3.—A man giving the name of Edward Harrison, who apparently was not responsible for his actions, caused a commotion on the floor of the stock exchange yesterday by firing three shots from a revolver. When the reports were heard the members made a rush for the exits and business was stopped for some time.

Chester Grey Accused.

Toronto, Sept. 3.—A new charge was laid in the Police Court yesterday against Chester Gray, the companion of James Gorman, killed on the G.T.R. tracks at North Parkdale. Gray is now charged with breaking into a sealed G. T. R. car with intent to commit an indictable offence.



Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, Summer Complaint and all Flixes of the Bowels are recognized by everybody as exceedingly dangerous.

These diseases are too serious, too rapidly fatal, for you to experiment with cheap and dangerous imitations of the genuine Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, a remedy that has been used in thousands of homes during the past sixty-three years.

When you ask for Dr. Fowler's be sure you get it. Don't let some unscrupulous druggist palm off a cheap imitation on you.

Mrs. G. Helmer, Newington, Ont., writes: "I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for diarrhoea and never found any other to equal it. There are many imitations, but none so good as Dr. Fowler's."

GIVEN UP BY DOCTOR—NOW IN PINK OF HEALTH

No word of ours could be more convincing of Psychine's power to make the sick well than those of John A. Galbraith, a well-to-do farmer of Plympton, Ont. He says: "I did not seem able to gain any strength after the attack of pneumonia. One doctor said that tuberculosis had developed, that I could not recover, and advised me to settle all my affairs as quickly as possible. This was the condition I was in when my pastor, Rev. C. E. Burrell, of the Baptist Church, advised me to try PSYCHINE, and procured for me a trial bottle. This was in May, 1906, and at that time I was reduced in weight to 120 pounds.

"The PSYCHINE did good from the start. I gained in weight at the rate of half a pound a day until I went up to 150 pounds, steadily regaining my strength and feeling better. I actually had to have my clothes enlarged, not through any corpulency, but owing to a putting on of good flesh all over. I have resumed my work and have gone through a severe and sickly winter with nothing worse than an attack of grip, which my system was able to throw off without any serious results.

"I give this statement for the purpose of showing how PSYCHINE has probably saved my life, and in hope that others may be likewise benefitted by its use."

TRY PSYCHINE FREE.

We want every family to know the merits of Psychine and will send every householder a trial bottle free. Cut out coupon and mail to Dr. T. A. Slocum, Limited, Toronto.

PSYCHINE is the only specific known that will CURE CHRONIC WEAKNESS, Catarrh, Decline, etc. It restores the throat, lungs, heart and stomach to perform their proper functions. All druggists and stores, 50c bottle

REMARKABLE SHOOTING.

Lieut. Elmitt of Ottawa Scores 23 Consecutive Bulls.

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—The most interesting event of the Dominion Rifle Association meeting yesterday was the contest for the Gillespie Cup, which is decided by the scores in the Bankers', MacDougall, Walker and Dominion matches.

Considerable excitement prevailed during the Walker match when it was seen that the 90th (Winnipeg), and the G. G. F. G. (Ottawa) were running a neck and neck race. In the end the Winnipeg men won by a single point, the scores being: 90th, 1,256; G. G. F. G., 1,255.

In the Coates' match, for teams of six men, Lieut. Elmitt of Ottawa made 23 consecutive bulls. He scored 98 out of a possible 100. The 43rd (Ottawa) won the team prize, beating the 13th (Hamilton) by 3 points, with the 48th Highlanders only another point behind.

The Herold L. Borden match provided another great victory for the western men, R. W. Fox of Alberta winning with the fine score of 35.

Lieut. I. H. Morris, Bowmanville, led in the Walker match but the team prize went to Hamilton, the Guards of Ottawa being three points behind.

The 13th (Hamilton) had a brilliant victory over the 90th Winnipeg in the Kirkpatrick team match, winning by 4 points. The scores were: 13th, 743; 90th, 739.

KIDS AT THE FAIR.

Forty Are Lost During Day In Toronto—Only One Accident.

Toronto, Sept. 3.—Children's Day was a success in spite of cloudy skies and an unexpected chill wind. It was late autumn weather. But the youngsters enjoyed themselves nevertheless.

The paid admissions were ten per cent. heavier than a year ago, and 17,000 children were in the stand and enclosures at night. There were 7,000 on the stand in the afternoon. Before noon 30,000 children were at the fair.

About 40 lost children were picked up by policemen and cared for at the station. All were claimed in due time, except one, a 12-year-old girl from Todmorden, who was sent to the Bellamy Home.

Florence McDonald, an 8-year-old girl, whose home is at 114 Grace street, cut her knee severely on the way to the exhibition, but not daunted, continued the journey. However, she fainted on reaching the grounds and had to be taken to the emergency tent were three stitches were found necessary.

A little girl, Mildrid McLennan, 412 Euclid avenue, was knocked down by an express wagon in front of the manufacturers' building, the wheels passing over both legs. No bones were broken, but she was badly shaken up and was taken home in the ambulance.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Two barns and the whole season's crop of Wm. Cook, River road, Dover Township, were destroyed by fire.

Lightning caused the destruction by fire of the smelter at Deseronto, for which the Standard Chemical Co. of Toronto had been negotiating. Loss $100,000. The Chemical Co. loses a few cars of charcoal.

J. S. Larke, Canadian trade commissioner at Sydney, Australia, strongly advises Canadians not to go to Australia with the idea of settling unless they have sufficient means to keep them a considerable time.

Tired of Life.

Orillia, Sept. 3.—Richard Hudson, 75 years old, committed suicide at Dartmor, 18 miles from here Tuesday.

He had been living with Robert Fleming and was subjected to fits of despondency. He was missed from the house Tuesday morning and on search being made the body was found in two feet of water in an old well. His mouth was burnt white, showing that he had taken carbolic acid, and a small empty bottle was found beside the well.

Deluded Woman's Attempt.

Sarnia, Sept. 3.—Mrs. David Turner, 50 years old, who attempted suicide last Monday evening by severing an artery in her left arm and then cut a deep gash in her throat, may not recover.

Mrs. Turner is the widow of a former jeweler and although possessed of $40,000, has for several weeks labored under the delusion that she was facing poverty.

Perhaps Fatal Affray.

Lindsay, Sept. 3.—There has been another stabbing affray at Fenelon Falls as a result of which one Italian is now at death's door, while another is in the lock-up.

A number of Italians came to the village from Rosedale yesterday and began to drink freely. A quarrel ensued and one was stabbed in the abdomen.

Burns Beats Lang.

Melbourne, Sept. 4.—Tommy Burns, the heavyweight pugilist, yesterday defeated Bill Lang of Australia in the sixth round.

Burns meets Jack Johnson, here in November.

It's a Good Policy

In fact it is now generally admitted that every man, woman and child ought to be insured for the benefit of their families. The cost is little—the benefit great. The Rugby Club Will Assist In The Formation Of City League To Bring Out Young Players

The Annual Meeting Was Held Last Night — Impossible to Decide Upon What Series to Enter at Present

THE ANNUAL REPORT READ

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Rugby Club was held last night in the Oriental Hotel with President R. F. McWilliams in the chair, and a fairly large attendance of players and enthusiasts present. The business taken up was chiefly the receiving of the report of the secretary-treasurer and the discussion of plans for the season. Owing to the tangle in which Rugby matters in Canada generally are involved just now, it was impossible to make much headway as to what league the club will play in this year, and on this account it was decided to postpone the election of officers and other business until later on, when it is seen what developments are likely to take place in the O. R. F. U. and Inter-Provincial Union.

The meeting, however, decided upon one important point, and that was to set about at once to form a city league, or rather two city leagues, one of them with an age limit. A committee was appointed to wait upon the management of the different teams likely to enter the league, and they will report at a general meeting to be held on Thursday of next week. The club realizes the fact that the junior material can be developed only in one way, that is by having a city league, and will do everything in its power to further such an organisation, feeling that it is in the best interests of the game in this city.

When the meeting was called to order, Treasurer Jas. D. Clarke read the following report, which included the report of the secretary, in the absence of Mr. T. W. McDonough:

Owing to the absence of the secretary from the city, the duty devolves upon me to present the annual report of the Peterborough Rugby Club.

The season of 1907 will go down in the annals of Rugby in Ontario as a notable one. The Interprovincial Union was formed, comprising the four great senior teams in Ontario and Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, Argos and Hamilton Tigers. The withdrawal from the Ontario Union of Hamilton and Argos left only Peterborough and Victorias to battle for the western district. Three games were played to settle the matter, and Peterborough clearly established their right to the championship in this district. Westmount proved to be the winners in the eastern district, and the result of their meeting with Peterborough is one of the bright spots on the records of last season. They came, they saw, but did not conquer and Peterborough had won the championship for the Senior O. R. F. U. for 1907.

Ottawa College refused to play Peterborough for the Dominion honours, and the only course for our team to pursue was to play Montreal, the champions of the Interprovincial. This they did and received a sound drubbing.

From a financial point of view the season was a fairly satisfactory one, but had it not been for the final game with Montreal, the team would have finished the season with a lovely debt upon its hands. There are many reasons to give for the lack of financial assistance given the club during the season. We had only two home games and from only one of these was there any revenue gained, the balance from the Victoria game being $15.00. The Westmount game was under the management of the O. R. F. U., and the gate receipt not covering the visiting team's expenses, we received not a single cent. The game in Lindsay was also a debt incurred, the treasury of the club contained a reduced balance after the game was played.

The sources from which most of the moneys was secured were season tickets, subscriptions, the excursion to Toronto and the Montreal game. With the money obtained from these sources the management were enabled to finance the season, pay off debts left over from the previous season, put in lights, lamps, poles, etc., in the park, and present the members of the team with a handsome picture, and have a small balance left in the bank to start the present season with.

The prospects for the coming season are fairly satisfactory. The action of the Club in playing Montreal debars Peterborough from the O.R.F.U. and the only league now open to them is the Intermediate Inter-Provincial. We have received assurance from the executive of this League that our application for admission thereto will be favourably considered. It is therefore one of the first duties of this meeting to decide what course shall be pursued during the coming season.

The financial report for the season is attached hereto.

After the report had been adopted the meeting passed on to discuss the prospects for the season. The question of what series the club would play in was naturally first taken up, but it was found that it was impossible to do anything along that line so early in the season as the Rugby world is in a somewhat muddled condition at present. The only thing that seemed open to the club is the intermediate series of the Inter-Provincial Union in which they might find admission as they have been assured by the Montreal and Hamilton Clubs that they would be admitted if they so desired.

Mr. J. B. Hay, secretary of the O. R.F.U., last year, who is now a resident of Peterborough, was present at the meeting and pointed out that there was a chance that the O.R.F.U. would regain its former standing if handled rightly.

It was decided not to take any action in the matter at present, owing to the condition of affairs.

With regard to a city league, the meeting was unanimous in supporting the idea as the only feasible scheme by which young players can be developed. President McWilliams pointed out that it was likely that the T.A.S., Y.M.C.A., O.G.E, and either Bankers, Quakers or Rough Riders would enter teams. He suggested that only a limited number of senior players be allowed on each team so that one team would not corral all the senior men and be much too strong for the others. A junior league with an age limit of 18 years was also spoken of and is a strong probability.

A committee composed of Messrs. Eugene Hurtubise, Jas. D Clark, D B MacRae and F D Craig was appointed to wait upon the different teams to have them enter a city league and to make arrangements for a general meeting to be held on Thursday, Sept. 10th, to organize the league.

It was decided to have a practise on Saturday afternoon next, open to everybody.

Crocker Alleges That Longboat Was Drugged In The Marathon; Charge Causes A Sensation

Toronto, Sept. 2.—Drugged to such an excess that he lost the race, is the startling statement of Manager J. Howard Crocker, of the Canadian Olympic team, anent Tom Longboat in the great Olympic Marathon. He makes it officially in his report to the Canadian Olympic Committee.

The statement constitutes one of the greatest sensations in athletics in Canada.

This is what his report says:

Of the Marathon race much has been said, and you are already informed in the details and our failure to secure the coveted first place.

I consider it my duty to state that my experience in racing leads me to believe that Longboat should have won his race. His sudden collapse and the symptoms shown seem to me to indicate that some form of stimulant was used contrary to the rules of the games. I think that any medical man knowing the facts of the case will assure you that the presence of a drug in an overdose was the cause of the runner's failure.

The Canadian Olympic Committee, noting Mr. Crocker's statement that he believed Longboat had taken or been given some stimulating drug during the race, wrote to Mr. Crocker saying that this might be construed as a reflection on Longboat's manager, Mr. Flanagan, and asking for a fuller expression of opinion. Mr. Crocker replied as follows:

"All say that Longboat was running well at the 20th mile in second place. He collapsed without any warning and complained of a severe pain in the head.

"This, with the acts of his condition on arrival at the Stadium forty minutes afterwards, leave me but little doubt that the Indian received an overdose of some stimulant.

"As soon as he was brought in I went over and examined him carefully. A doctor was there, and said: He is better now, and will be all right, but he has had a close call.

"I found a weak pulse—the respiration very slow—a 'pin point' pupil of the eye, and an unconscious condition which was not sleep.

"To all appearance some one had got anxious, and, thinking to help the Indian by giving a stimulant, had given an overdose.

"I feel sure he had a narrow escape from death. Rule 4 of the Marathon says: 'No competitor either at the start or during the progress of the race may take or receive any drug. The breach of this rule will operate in the absolute disqualification of the competitor.'

"A great deal of stimulant of one sort or another was being used at the Stadium, and Mr. Sherring warned our men to keep clear of all 'dope.'

"I do not believe personally that Mr. Flanagan knew anything about this matter. I kept my own counsel regarding this, and my chief reason for reporting to you is that the Indian is credited with selling the race by some parties, and by others of being 'yellow' and quitting.

"This does a good runner like Longboat, uneducated as he may be, a great injustice.

"The report that the Indian was drinking the night before is entirely without foundation. We went to Windsor to make the final arrangements and saw him in his room at 10.45 in perfect condition, and Mr. Flanagan was doing everything possible to make him run a successful race."

Tom Flanagan, when shown the report, stated that he did not believe that Longboat had been doped.

Yankee Rogers In Bowling Match At P.B.C. Alleys To-night; Big Game Has Been Arranged

Yank is no mean bowler, and although he has not yet given any attention to the game during the past five or six years, he is still good at the game on the alleys. To-night he will be at the Peterborough Bowling Alleys and with Mr. Hay as partner, will bowl a match with Mr. Hemstead and Mr. Boyd, the two gentlemen who hold the records for the alleys. It will be very interesting to watch, and doubtless, there will be a good crowd in attendance to welcome the famous Yankee. In company with his manager, Mr. W. B. Naylor, he came in to see the Examiner this morning, and both expressed their confidence that they would go away with their record unbroken with a defeat.

"He may have it on me at this style," said Yankee, "but I want to see the man who can put my shoulders on that mat twice. That is the whole substance of my confidence. I don't think he can do it, when a man like Frank Gotch cannot. Gotch only beats me when he applies the toe-hold, and that is not a hold that you have to press your opponent's shoulders to the mat. Rather he lays down to prevent his ankle being broken. On that form I guess Mr. Mohl has his work cut out to-morrow night.

Mohl Will Be Here To-night; Is Very Confident Of A Win

Fritz Mohl, the great German who made his bow to the wrestling fans last Friday night, will arrive this afternoon ready and fit for the match of his life to-morrow night, when, at his own style, Greco-Roman, he meets his opponent and conqueror, Yankee Rogers. Mohl left Peterborough immediately after the last match to get himself fit and ready for the match and has been training under the guidance of Mr. Miers, at the Buffalo Gymnasium, Washington avenue.

His wrist is all right, having recovered from the sprain received last week, and Fritz says there is nothing to it now. He is going to win or give in that Rogers is too good for him. That at present he cannot see, and he is very confident that Rogers and his manager would not have accepted the challenge if they had thought that the match was to come at such an early date.

Sporting Comment

What's going to become of the O.R. F.U.? Last season it consisted of Joe Hay, who made its laws, appointed its referee and paid its postage. But the season's work was so hard that after it was all over Joey heaved a great sigh of relief and moved to Peterborough. From that safe haven you can hear him shouting over the telephone, "No more for mine."—Toronto Telegram.

The location of the league, he said, would be in the middle west. The only town he would name as being in the new league was Pittsburg. The other towns, Grift said, he would keep for a surprise to the baseball world.

The Rush for School Books
—"Tramp, tramp, tramp, the boys are marching," is somewhat descriptive of the sturdy rush of the procession of school children at the Peterborough Bookstore during the past few days. The crowds of eager scholars taxed the extra selling staff at times and kept up a lively stir while their orders were being filled. The big values offered and other special attractions were drawing cards. A. H. Stratton & Co.

The bride, who was unattended, was dressed in point d'esprit and wore a hat to match. Her travelling dress was of lady's blue broadcloth and she also wore a hat to match.

After the ceremony luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents, 323 Simcoe street.

Mr. and Mrs. Dummitt left on the afternoon C. P. R. train for Toronto and Niagara Falls.

They received many beautiful presents, among them being a cheque and dinner set from the manager and employees of the English Canoe Company.

SEVEN YEARS IN KINGSTON PENITENTIARY FOR THE MAN WHO ROBBED ABRAHAM ABOUD OF $100.00 AFTER ASSAULTING HIM ON LONELY ROAD

James Baldwin of Cavendish Was Found Guilty on Two Charges by Magistrate Edmison This Morning---Seven Years for Assault, Two Years for Robbery---Time to Run Concurrently

THE ASSYRIAN'S CONDITION IS STILL DANGEROUS

Seven years in Kingston Penitentiary was the judgment pronounced against James Baldwin this morning by Magistrate Edmison in the County Police Court. He was found guilty of having assaulted Abraham Aboud, an Assyrian peddler of Norwood, on August 13, and received the above sentence on that charge. He was also found guilty of having stolen $100 from Aboud after he had almost done the man to death. On this count he was sentenced to two two years in the penitentiary, to run concurrently with the other term.

Baldwin's Account

Baldwin's account of the affair was that he had met the Assyrian on the road. The latter asked him for a dollar he owed him. Baldwin said he did not have it to give him and with that Aboud drew a knife. Baldwin picked up a stick to defend himself and the Assyrian got the worst of it.

The Assyrian's Story

Aboud's history of the affair is altogether different. He was walking quietly along the lonely road and on reaching the woods beyond the clearing was suddenly struck from behind. He heard no noise, saw no person, until the heavy blow fell upon the back of his head. He was somewhat staggered, and on looking around he observed Baldwin.

"Jim," said he, "take my value, take my money and my boxes, take everything, but spare my life."

With that he was struck twice again and knocked to the ground unconscious. When he regained his strength he found his pocketbook containing $100 had disappeared.

Magistrate's Address

Magistrate Edmison, in considering the evidence that had been taken, said the prisoner admitted striking Aboud three times on the head. They were heavy blows and the wounds were dangerous, in fact the doctor attending the Assyrian was still in doubt as to whether he will ever recover owing to the shock his system received, as it has affected his heart.

"If he dies within a year you will be brought back here and tried for his murder," the Magistrate said.

The Magistrate did not believe Baldwin's story. This conclusion he reached after a careful consideration of all the testimony.

"The case has been fully established," His Worship stated, and remarked that the prisoner had served two years in the penitentiary and one year in Central Prison. Moreover, his reputation in his own neighbourhood was most undesirable.

The Magistrate was satisfied that Baldwin took the money and found him guilty on this charge. His Worship advised the prisoner to conduct himself well in the penitentiary and his term would be shortened considerably. Magistrate Edmison promised Baldwin to aid him to receive an early release if he conducted himself within the regulations.

Quarrel At Wedding Feast; Victoria Road Nuptials Lively

Lindsay, Sept. 4.—Mirth and gaiety was at its height in the home of Thomas Cassidy, Victoria Road, the other night. A dance was in progress and the company were having a jolly time when a row arose.

The village youths, had with considerable foresight, laid in a supply of thirst destroyer in the stable.

All was merry as a marriage bell until in an unfortunate moment, Finn and Cassidy took a trip to the stable and found that their supply of "gasoline" had disappeared. This immediately raised their ire and a suspicion was immediately directed against William McNarney, another youth who was at the dance.

In the state they were in, the losers were eager for a fight and Mc. Narney received a bad beating from the two in the stable. An adjournment was made to the house and there the battle was commenced again. The supper table was temptingly spread at the time and in the middle of the fight the parties bumped into it with the sad result that the delicious viands were scattered all over the floor. The owner of the house, Thos. Cassidy, then took a hand in the affair and was roughly handled. Magistrate Moore listened to charges of assault and of destroying property yesterday. The wheels of justice ground out the following fines:

David Finn, for assaulting Mc. Narney, five dollars fine and $3.58 costs and a similar sum for assaulting Cassidy. He also had to pay $2.50 for destroying property and costs to the amount of $1.35.

John Whalen, for assaulting McNarney, $5 and costs and a similar fine and costs for assaulting Cassidy. He had to pay $2.50 for the amage he committed and costs to the amount of $1.35.

Horse Cut In Two By Train; People Escape Uninjured

Garden Hill, Sept. 4.—Wm. Dean, a resident of Manvers Township, and two other people living in the same same vicinity, had an almost miraculous escape from death one day this week at the station at Garden Hill.

It appears that he was driving along the road leading to the station at Garden Hill, when he noticed a train coming along down the grade. Thinking that it was a way freight, Mr. Dean whipped up his horse with the intention of getting across the crossing before the train approached. Such ideas have entered the heads of many drivers of rigs, and serious results have followed.

Mr. Dean thought the train was a way freight, and being such, was of the opinion that as they do not travel as fast as passenger trains, he would easily cross the crossing before it approached.

When he whipped up his steed there ensued a race between the equine and the fast approaching train, which happened to be the regular passenger train. Mr. Dean was within a few yards of the crossing when he suddenly discovered that it would be impossible to get the horse and buggy and occupants across the track before the train would be upon them. He might possibly get the horse across, but the train would surely strike the buggy and the occupants would be killed.

He decided that the best thing he could do would be to try and check the horse in time, but this he was unable to do, and the animal was just crossing the track when the train swooped down and struck the unfortunate animal. It was cut completely in two and the occupants of the rig were thrown in a very dangerous position, as the sudden stop of the buggy almost precipitated them under the wheels of the heavy mogul.

The train hands, after stopping the train ran back to the crossing and assisted the occupants of the buggy. They were badly frightened, but were fortunately unhurt.

THE WEATHER

The temperature came very near the freezing point (32 degrees) last night, and vegetation had a narrow escape. The official self-registering thermometer marked 34 degrees as the lowest during the night. On low-lying ground the temperature was probably still lower.

REBUILDING BEGUN AT STIRLING

Burnt District is Being Cleared of Debris For the Work

The burned district in Stirling is already beginning to be cleared away and re-building is being commenced. The village is seriously considering the question of fire protection. Recently Mr. Micklejohn and Mr. Mather of the council of that village visited Hastings for the purpose of seeing their fire engine. The fire brigade turned out and gave an exhibition of the working qualities of the engine for their benefit. The engine worked well with three streams and the visitors seemed well satisfied with what the engine could do. Mr. R. Cameron of the Waterous Company was with the party.

THE LIBERAL CONVENTION.

Liberals are reminded of the mass meeting in the Opera House to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock to nominate a candidate to contest the representation of West Peterborough in the House of Commons at the next general elections for the Dominion. Addresses will be given by prominent Liberals.

IN BAD COMPANY.

Mr. Borden, the Conservative leader, and his co-working politicians, claim that he is entitled to support because of his objection to the patronage system, as administered by the Liberal Government. The force of this claim is somewhat broken by the fact that the Liberal Government believes in, proposes and practises civil service reform. It appointed a Commission of Inquiry which discovered defects and disorders in the civil service, originating in, and dating from, the days of Conservative rule—a legacy of mis-government and ineffective administration. The Liberal Government based practical legislation upon the finding of the Commission, which removes the civil service from the realm of party politics, makes appointments by merit a certainty and prevents the possibility of the inside service being made the sport of political changes of administration. The Government has appointed a commission to administer the civil service on the basis of merit and efficiency, the head of it being Professor Short, one of the most competent and upright of Canadian political economists.

This suggests another weakening of Mr. Borden's claim to support on the head of his attitude towards civil service reform. He keeps bad company in this regard. He is to make a speaking tour of the country and is to be accompanied and aided in presenting his case by the Premiers of four provinces—Ontario, British Columbia and Nova Scotia. These gentlemen, have not had any connection except in the capacity of electors, with Dominion political matters, and they are plainly disqualified to appear on a public platform with Mr. Borden posing as a civil service reformer. These gentlemen as the Premiers of the provinces they represent—especially Ontario and Nova Scotia—represent something more. They represent responsibility for the introduction into Canada and into the politics of Canada of the most abominable political element, that has ever been brought in—the parent of corruption and electoral demoralization—the American spoils system. If they follow, on the platform, Mr. Borden's fervid appeal for civil service divorce from politics, when their turn comes, the chairman can introduce them as Provincial Premiers whose chief glory is that they prostitute the civil service of the provinces they head, to political party advantage, that they practice the utterly reprobate doctrine that "to the victors belong the spoils." Mr. Borden keeps bad company.

BRITISH PROTECTION.

The Canadian Courier suggests the idea that the protective impulse will become less and less a matter of tariffs and more and more a matter of restrictive legislation aimed to protect labour unions. Heretofore protection has been sought only by manufacturers, the chief beneficiaries and supporters of high tariffs; the claims of the consumer and the real producer, the workman, have not been pushed so insistently. The new patent law of Great Britain, which requires that the taking out of a patent by a foreigner, means the manufacture of the protected article or process in Great Britain, is regarded as a form of protection, but the Courier thinks that the new law is due more to the labour party than to the protection party in Britain. The unions are having their innings at present, since the labour wing of the Liberal party in Britain is rather powerful. The leader of the Conservative party, Mr. Borden, has "adequate protection" as a plank of his platform. This definition needs defining. Judged, however, by the past of his party and its present attitude, it is probable that "adequate protection" in Mr. Borden's lexicon means a tariff high enough to exclude foreign manufactured products, and permit the manufacturer to fix his own price in the home market. This takes no account of the workman, who, as suggested, is the real producer. It leaves his protection to the tender mercy of the capitalist employer, who, subject to an occasional strike, fixes the amount of protection the workman is to receive, and which seldom errs on the side of generosity. The protection involved in the new British patent law is benefient protection, which injures nobody—does not raise prices to the consumer by a tariff, high to exclusion; but develops employment conditions and benefits both workman and the public.

THE BRITISH EMBARGO ON CANADIAN CATTLE

Says the London, Ont., Free Press, a Conservative journal, in an article on the British embargo on Canadian cattle: "Canadian farmers' rights to have their cattle relieved from a bad name in the world falsely given is undeniable. A British Liberal Government put this unfair character upon our cattle. The same party should take it off in all fairness to the farming conditions in Canada."

The British embargo on Canadian cattle appears to be there to stay. Efforts that may without exaggeration be termed Herculean, to secure its removal have been made with unresting persistence by Mr. Fisher, the Minister of Agriculture, with his colleagues of the Dominion Government at his back; but in vain. He has fought it at long range from this side of the Atlantic, and he has fought it at short range in Great Britain. He has secured public admissions from those highest in authority in Great Britain as to its manifest injustice, and as to the right of Canada to have Canadian cattle relieved from a bad name falsely given them by the embargo. But as for the embargo, there is no budging it.

This illustrates well how strenuously a protected interest will cling to any privilege it gets by special legislation. The embargo was originally introduced purely as a safeguard of the cattle in Great Britain from the introduction of pleuro-pneumonia. At the time of its introduction it was a necessary safeguard, though not against Canada; however it was made general. As originally introduced by a Liberal Government in Great Britain it was merely a department regulation; the succeeding Conservative Government made it statutory, and it can only be repealed now by legislation which must pass both the House of Commons and the House of Lords. It is actually the equivalent of a prohibitive duty; and the store cattle trade interests in Great Britain, have been successful in preventing any attempt to do away with it. An important feature of the situation is the Irish store cattle trade, amounting to $15,- store cattle trade, which involves the attitude of the Nationalist party.

The situation is enlightening as to the relations between protectionism and inter-Imperial trade. The embargo on Canadian cattle shows that protected interests in Britain are as mindful of the Canadian farmer as protected interests in Canada are of the British manufacturer. — Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

A STRANGE SITUATION.

(Montreal Herald.)

Assuming that an election is to be held within the next eight weeks, about which there seems now to be no doubt, it is curious to note to how slight an extent the temperature has been raised. The Government stands upon its record, of course, and its supporters naturally wait for an exposition of that record by the Prime Minister. It is the part of the Opposition, it past experience goes for anything, to make people talk, to make an election look like a fight, and there is no talk, no fight. For months before the elections of 1878 Sir John Macdonald and his friends had been forcing the whole electorate to think about, and fight about, the merits of tariff protection; for months before the elections of 1887 passions were aroused over incidents connected with the Northwest rebellion; for months, yes years, before the elections of 1891 the country rang with debates on reciprocity; for months before the elections of 1896, sleeping or waking, the electors were pursued by the Manitoba school question; for almost a year before the elections of 1900 we had savage denunciation of Quebec, arising out of the Boer war, and passions inflamed to the point where race riots took place in the streets of Montreal. After the election of 1900 Sir Charles Tupper dropped out, and in the election of 1904 there was hardly any visible Opposition, nothing with which to raise the temperature or appeal to the emotions; in short nothing that could be pointed to as giving sign of positive leadership or as signifying the fervent acceptance of a positive policy. The only opposition that could be located revealed itself in the dubious methods employed by a group of men who apparently had more money then sense. This time the visible opposition is confined to the appeal made by Mr. Foster and Mr. Ames, who ask the people to disregard the big things the government has done and concentrate attention upon some details of administration in which cupidity inside and outside the civil service seems to have got the upper hand. For the rest, Mr. Borden will appear before the people in the company of four men who have little or nothing to do with the work of the Dominion Opposition but who have won elections in their own provinces. It is a curious situation, making the best of it, and one out of which it is next to impossible to deduce any general belief that the existence of the government is seriously endangered. The country evidently looks to Laurier's going on with his work.

I will sell by public auction, on Saturday morning, September 12th, on the Market Square, at eleven o'clock, one Rubber Tire Stanhope. This is a high-seated vehicle of the runabout style and is practically as good as new. Sale without reserve.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A fly in the ointment. Professor Shortt's transfer equips the Civil Service Commission splendidly, but it is a great loss to the Department of Labour.

It is somewhat of a practical tribute to Hon. Mr. Monteith, Minister of Agriculture, who was defeated in the general election, that the Whitney Government finds it easier to find a safe seat for him in the House than a safe successor in office.

Hon. A. B. Aylesworth has notified his constituents that he will again be their candidate in North York and will undoubtedly be re-elected. The Minister of Justice hopes to return from Europe in time to participate in the big Liberal meeting at Jackson's Point, on September 28th, which will be addressed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The London Chronicle volunteers the information that all protection has done for Canada is to coddle certain industries into unhealthy life, and place burdens on the back of the agricultural community. Well, for better or worse, it is remarked, the Canadian people have decided on encouraging, by means of a tariff, the growth of industrial enterprises. And the experiment has certainly built a large number that would pass a medical examination. Yet it is worth bearing in mind in this connection, that to-day all Canadian eyes turn from tariff-assisted factory, law office and blacksmith's shop, and are focussed on the northwest crop. If we remember that, we may keep in our minds a clearer idea of the proportion of things. The factory is so close to us easterners that sometimes it bulks larger than it should and hides the scene. Lord Dufferin pictured ever widening harvests, multiplying towns and villages, and expanding pastures, and the pictures have come.

TO START POWER LINES,

Order-in-Council Is Ontario's Reply to Injunctions.

Toronto, Sept. 4.—An order-in-council authorizing the Hydro-Electric Commission to sign the contract of the F. H. McGuigan Construction Co. for the construction of a high voltage power transmission line through western Ontario to Toronto is the decisive answer of the Ontario Government to those who by writs of injunction and other processes would seek to stay the progress of the march towards cheap power. The order was passed at a meeting of the Cabinet Council yesterday afternoon, presided over by Hon. Mr. Foy, the Acting-Premier, and the way is now clear for the completion of the scheme which has been looked forward to for so long. Once the members of the Hydro-Electric Commission append their signatures to the contract—a formality that will be accomplished without delay—a start will immediately be made with the work of constructing the towers to carry the line, and it is expected by the contractors that within a period of eighteen months the line will be in working order, and ample power will be at the disposal of all who desire it.

Owen Sound Make Important Capture In Arresting Harry Barnett.

Owen Sound, Sept. 4.—With a bottle of chloroform, a long dirk knife, a diamond ring, pawn tickets, and a lot of bogus telegrams in his possession, a young man who gives his name as Harry Barnett was arrested as he was leaving a local theatre in company with two women last night.

The husband of one of the latter objected and was threatened with the dirk, and the police were informed.

Several of the valuables on Barnett were found to have been stolen. Search of his room revealed tools and other booty.

Albany, N.Y., Sept. 4.—John D. Rockefeller is the offspring of a noble race, according to an announcement made at the annual reunion of the Rockefeller family here yesterday. He reports that several members of the family at one time held the title of baron in southern France.

The aeroplane was in the air for one minute and fifteen seconds.

Simcoe, Sept. 4.—At a meeting last night called by Mayor Carter to consider the telephone service, nearly every business man was present and it was the consensus of the meeting that too high charges were being paid for telephones, and that the rural telephone line should be extended without delay.

A telephone company was formed and directors appointed.

GRADUATING EXERCISES OF NICHOLLS HOSPITAL PROVIDE AN INTERESTING EVENING

Public Showed Its Interest by the Large Attendance — Diplomas and Medals Were Presented

THE BANDAGING PRIZE

Miss Flora McLean Allan.
Miss Heline L. Hay.
Miss Frances E. Boswell.
Miss Matilda M. Dockrill.
Miss Helen M. R. Clendenning.

The above five young ladies were the centre of attraction at the graduating exercises of the Nicholls Hospital Training School for nurses held in the Conservatory Music Hall last night, when they, the members of the graduating class for 1908 received their medals and diplomas. As usual, the public showed its interest in the institution and its appreciation of the great work that it is doing by turning out in large numbers to honour the members of the graduating class, and the commodious hall was well filled with a representative audience which gave the five nurses a hearty reception. The occasion was a most interesting one and will long be remembered by the principals at least, as it marked the beginning of their career as trained nurses.

In addition to the presentation of diplomas, the programme included several interesting addresses and some most enjoyable musical numbers. Mr. Richard Hall, chairman of the Hospital Board of Trustees, acted as chairman very acceptably. In his opening address, he thanked the audience cordially for their attendance which indicated, he said, their interest in the welfare of the hospital. The latter, he remarked, was growing in favour with the citizens every year, due in no small degree to the superintendent, Miss F. E. De LaMater, to whom he paid a tribute for her conscientious and earnest efforts. The only thing lacking in the hospital at this time, remarked Mr. Hall in concluding, was enough private ward accommodation.

Miss Helen Davies, always a favourite with Peterborough audiences, favoured the gathering with a solo in splendid voice and faultless expression, her effort being greeted with long-sustained and well-merited applause.

Rev. Mr. Pogue's Address

Rev. Robert Pogue of St. Paul's Church delivered a most inspiring and eloquent address, in which he spoke in terms of the highest praise of the profession of nursing. He had come in touch with many nurses, he remarked, not only in Peterborough, but also in Philadelphia, where his work led him into most of the large city hospitals. He had come to have a high opinion of their work. The most outstanding characteristic of Christ was the attention He gave to healing the sick. "Hospitals," said the speaker, "are the earliest and mellowest fruits of our religion." "There is no service more Christ-like than that of nursing."

Rev. Mr. Pogue addressed the graduates at some length upon the responsibilities and opportunities of their profession, and, in concluding, warned them against two dangers that they might expect to encounter in the pursuit of their career. He reminded them that the training they had gone through was only preparatory and that they were just beginning the real work of their lives. He pointed out to them the danger of regarding their profession from the standpoint of pecuniary reward rather than from that of service to their fellow beings. This was true of other professions, and the nurses should avoid it in their work. Then there was the danger of forgetting the things of the spirit.

Miss Kate Leary was heard to much advantage in a piano solo, in which the execution was very brilliant for such a young artist. Her number was very enjoyable and was appreciated by the audience.

The Address to Nurses

Dr. Greer then gave the address to the nurses, a most interesting and profitable message. He congratulated the members of the graduating class, who, he said, were leaving their alma mater to go out into the world fully equipped to relieve the ills of suffering humanity. Considering the very high standard of excellence the hospital had gained under the direction of Miss De LaMater, he believed that Nicholls Hospital was one of the best hospitals and training schools in the province. Dr. Greer went on to speak of the difficulties that the nurses would meet in the carrying out of their duties, showing that their lives would not be beds of roses by any means, and that they would be called upon to face very disagreeable situations, to face pain and suffering very frequently and to work under most disadvantageous conditions.

In concluding, he gave the graduates some very helpful advice as to the best manner in which to carry out their duties. He emphasized the fact that while their first duty was to their patient, yet in order to carry out that duty to the fullest extent they must take care of themselves, and he advised them to regulate their work that they might find time for rest. They should be loyal to the physician in charge and not forget that they were nurses and not physicians. "Don't cease to be a student," was one of his concluding messages.

Miss Davies was heard in another enjoyable vocal solo, her beautiful soprano being displayed to fullest advantage.

The Bandaging Prize

Dr. Malcolm McCulloch was called upon to present the bandaging prize, which had been won by Miss Glendenning, who was greeted with loud applause as she came forward to receive the reward. In making the presentation Dr. McCulloch stated that the prize was given for the most expert bandager, and was a sign of deftness. Speaking of the Nicholls Hospital, he paid a tribute to the superintendent, Miss De LaMater. The people of Peterborough, he thought, were not interested in the hospital as were the people of other cities. This was, he thought, due to the fact that they had not to pay for its maintenance, as had the citizens of other places.

An instrumental duet by Mrs. A. J. Collins and Miss Gladys Seward was a brilliantly and faultlessly executed number, that was received with prolonged applause.

The presentation of the diplomas and medals to the five graduates followed, Dr. Wm. Caldwell making the presentation. The nurses repeated after him the declaration that they would be true and faithful to their duties. Miss De LaMater then pinned upon each of them the medal, signifying that their term of training was over. The presentation was warmly applauded.

The Valedictory

Miss Allen, of the graduating class, then read the valedictory address, which was as follows:

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Once more the hour has arrived when the graduating nurses of the Nicholls Hospital have the pleasure of meeting the Board of Managers of the Hospital, the medical staff, the superintendent and her assistant, the sister nurses, and those citizens of Peterborough who have so kindly shown their interest in this well-known institution.

We wish to express our thanks to those of you who have watched our progress throughout our training, and by your care, foresight and teaching have made our present success possible.

To the Board of Managers we are indebted for their thoughtful kindness, which has conduced to our comfort during our course of training. Everything possible has been done to make our surroundings pleasant, and our interests have been closely studied in every way.

The medical and surgical doctors on the staff deserve and are given our heartfelt thanks for their consistent help and guidance, both by precept and example. We have been, indeed, fortunate in having had the privilege of attending a series of lectures which have been of untold value to us in our study of the theory and practice of nursing.

To Miss De La Mater, the lady superintendent of the Hospital, we wish to express our gratitude for the help given us. We have found in her an earnest teacher, a kind adviser and a sympathetic friend. Her enthusiasm and lofty aims have always been a great stimulus to us. We go forth with joy to the work that is before us, knowing that we have a firm foundation and that our training has been most complete.

To the late assistant, Miss Helen Coleman, and to our present assistant we are indeed grateful for their help and sympathy in times of difficulty.

To our sister nurses, who are left to carry on our work, we extend our hearty good wishes for their success in carrying on their various duties.

We appreciate the many friends who have granted us so much indulgence and have expressed their good will towards us in so many ways, and who by their co-operation and assistance have done so much to help make our work more pleasant.

As for my comrades, we have come to the parting of the ways. Behind us lies our course of training with its varied experiences, its lights and shadows, its periods of depression and exhilaration, of failures and successes. Yet through it all we have made a steady progress, and in spite of the many obstacles, we have reached the goal to-night. Before us is the dim unknown into which we are stretching our groping hands to clutch the next rung of the ladder of success. Our paths have been side by side for three years, but now we are spearating, each going her individual way, but united in a common bond of deep thankfulness for the influences which have helped us onward and forward during our period of training, and with a strong sense of the sacred nature of our calling, and with faith and hope for our success in the future in the cause of God and humanity.

So again we bid good-bye to our Alma Mater and to the many associations that have been most delightful; to relationships that have been cemented in the presence of the fiery trials of suffering and bereavement.

"Like as a plank of driftwood,
Tossed on the watery main,
Another plank encounters, meets,
touches, parts again;
So 'tis with us. Forever,
On life's ever restless sea,
We meet, we greet, we sever,
Drifting eternally."

Miss De LaMater, in a graceful little speech, thanked the people for the interest they had displayed in the event, and the medical staff for their never failing courtesy and kindness.

The programme was brought to a close with the singing of the National Anthem.

GIVING UP BUSINESS

Having decided to retire from business, I have sold all the fixtures and stand to The Peterborough Furnishing Co., who are now at 163 Charlotte Street, and I have to give them possession on September 20th next. In the meantime I must clear the whole stock, worth $8975, consisting of General Dry Goods, Clothing, Millinery, Mantles, House Furnishings, Boots and Shoes, Furs, Toys, Fancy Goods, etc. This sale is genuine, and there is no question about the prices. Everyone who has visited my store in the last five years know the bargains they got, but there will be no comparison with the bargains you can get now. The stock is assorted in every line. The first comers will have the best chance.

THE STATUES ARE BEING REMOVED

Taken From Old Collegiate to the New —Sophocles Will be Washed

The old statues, the penates of the old Collegiate, are being removed to another domicile—the new building. They will first receive a copious application of "rag and water," and afterwards will be brightened up with whitewash or some such mixture.

These sphinx-like reminders of pedagogues who have strutted through their lines on the stage of life have seen many scholars come and go at the old school. In the new scholar they first excited a feeling of awe, but when one day they would be decorated with a teacher's Christys the busts lost their dignity.

THE SPRINGVILLE CHURCH PICNIC

Held on Wednesday Last—Was a Grand Success

The Springville Presbyterian Church Picnic was held on Wednesday last in Mr. Bowles' woods. In spite of the inclemency of the weather it was a great success, a large number, including visitors from outside points, being present.

The various races and sporting specialties were keenly contested and caused a great amount of enjoyment to the onlookers. The tug of war between the married and unmarried men was won by the former, and a similar contest between the married and unmarried ladies was won by the matrons. Such a fact is noteworthy and should lead to a healthy boom in the matter of marriage licenses and wedding fees, not only around Springville but throughout the county.

WEDDING BELLS

McDONALD—LANDELL

Broadway Tabernacle, Toronto, was the scene on Wednesday, Sept. 2nd, of the marriage off Mr. Frederick H McDald, of the Pluanet Bicycle Co., to Miss Lillian, only daughter of the late Dalhousie Landell, of Toronto, and formerly lieutenant in the Royal Navy. Rev. E N Baker performed the ceremony, in the course of which Mr. Robert Gourlay sang "Because God Made Thee Mine." The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Dudley A Landell, of Toledo, O., wore an Empire gown of cream mousseline de soie over taffeta, embroidered with seed pearls, berthe of Honiton point lace, tulle veil and orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and maiden-hair fern. The bridesmaid, Miss Jean Pearse, wore pale blue Rajah silk, a handsome hat with plumes, and carried a bouquet of pink asters. The bride's mother was robed in black peau de soie, with bonnet trimmed with mauve flowers. The groomsman was Mr. Horace Curry, and the ushers Messrs. H V Tyrrell and Mr. W. Wanless. A reception was held at 237 Markham street, the house being prettily decorated with palms, ferns and pink asters. The groom's gift to the bride was a sunburst of pearls, to the bridesmaid a gold locket and chain set with opals, to the groomsman a gold signet ring, and to the ushers pins set with pearls. Mr. and Mrs. McDonald left by the afternoon train to spend their honeymoon on the Kawartha Lakes. They will reside at the Grange Apartments. The bride is a niece of Mrs. Wm. Hudson, Rubidge street, Peterborough, and a granddaughter of the late Alexander McNeil, for over forty years a citizen of Peterborough.

THE PROVINCIAL EXHIBITIONS

—All cities over the Province are preparing for their exhibition, and Peterborough is no exception to the rule. It is the time we meet our old and new friends, and those who are not our friends. It is also the best time for the introduction of the newest and smartest cuts in fall suits and where they can be shown to the greatest advantage. The New York Ladies' Tailoring establishment have removed their parlours and workshop from 658 George street to 387 Reid street, opposite St. Peter's Cathedral, for the better accommodation of their patrons, and are prepared to take orders in any line of ladies' garments. AUTUMN IDEAS IN MEN'S DRESS

Local Dealers Have Latest Notions—Suits, Fancy Vests and Light Overcoats

NEW STYLES OF TIES

It should interest the young man who is particular about his dress to know that the local stores are showing the latest ideas in every article in his wardrobe. The fall notion is one suggesting warmth in contrast to the summer's airy negligo attire. Browns and greys are the predominating colours and the leading haberdashers are displaying the very newest effects. An Examiner reporter learned yesterday that there have been some artistic changes in the single-breasted coat. The lapels are fairly bold, the shoulders not quite so wide, being more natural and padded slightly. There is also a dip in the front which gives the wearer a distinguished appearance. Those who control the fashions have worked more extensively on the single-breasted style. The double-breasted coats show practically no variation.

Fancy Vests

No young man who prides himself on his appearance should be without one or two fancy vests. For autumn and winter use there is a flannel vest which is growing very popular. They are mostly of striped pattern and contrast with the new modes of suits, adding brightness to the general appearance. They are in plain shades, too, and the more expensive have dainty hand-embroidered figures.

In ties and collars, a close-fitting collar with small four-in-hand knot is now in vogue.

For fall use, the light overcoat is in demand. They are to be had in gray herringbone and diagonal effects, but the plain black Chesterfield with or without silk facings is most approved of by the genteel dresser.

PAPPAS' NEW POOL AND BILLIARD ROOMS

Preparations for an Overflow Opening Now Going On

The handsome new pool room which has been under construction for Mr. M. Pappas for some months is now completed. Everything is in readiness for a bumper opening, which is arranged to take place shortly. Mr. Pappas has invested a good deal of money in his attractive pool rooms, and feels confident that the billiard and pool players will appreciate the advantage of a quiet game in pleasant quarters where privacy is part of the enjoyment.

Mr. Pappas spared no pains in remodelling the large room upstairs over the old pool room and shoeshine parlour, George street. The premises are convenient of access, airy and well lighted and present an attractive appearance. They are furnished with two brand new billiard tables and four pool tables, and fitted up in city style, with the usual conveniences and accessories of the games.

Music and Drama

COHAN'S LATEST

George M Cohan has a new musical frivolity which he claims to be the best work of his career. It is entitled "The American Idea." It will be produced for the first time on Monday night next, at the Star Theatre, Buffalo. One wonders whether he will have any song hits from it that will gain the notoriety of his famous "Yankee Doodle Boy," "Harrigan," "Under Any Old Flag" and numerous others that are found on everybody's piano.

WITH OUR SOLDIERS IN CAMP; 3rd DRAGOONS AT THE RANGES

Barriefield Camp, Sept. 3.—The weather conditions are all that could be desired and the 3,500 troops in camp are having a most enjoyable time. Few accidents have so far been reported.

The 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons went out to the ranges to-day, and some very high scores were recorded. As a whole the scores were much better than last year. Private Sullivan, of Ennismore, especially distinguishing himself. He is attached to the signalling corps, and has a conspicuously high score, coming near the top of the list. If he continues he will probably be sent to England on the Bisley team next year.

The 24th Field Battery, of Peterborough, is presenting a fine appearance and is the largest and best equipped battery in camp.

The 4th Hussars, who are brigaded with the 3rd Dragoons this year, have a fine lot of horses and men.

On Labour Day the soldiers will have a half holiday, which will be spent in all kinds of sports and games, for which good prizes will be given. The Peterborough boys have determined to carry off their share.

Farmers Need Rain For Their Crops And Fall Work

"About twenty-four hours' steady rain is just what we want, and the sooner the better," said a farmer to an Examiner reporter at the market to-day. The grass is drying up and the pastures consequently are very poor. The corn is backward and is not heading out properly. The potato crop promises to be light if this present drouth continues. Not only that, but the fall ploughing is more difficult and the seeding may be delayed. In this and other respects the farmers require rain, and are praying for it daily.

ADVANCE PARTY LEAVE FOR KINGSTON TO LAY OUT CAMP

The advance party of the 57th Regiment left last night for Kingston to get things in readiness for the arrival of the troops on Sunday morning. Those who composed the party were Major Bennett, Col. Stevenson, Captain Eastwood, Major Hayes and the following privates: J. W Edwards, Q.M.S.; McDonald, C. Gillie, J Hall, J Crowe, O Spillsbury, G Moore, F Austin, J English, E Dummitt, G Greer, S H Huffman, G Conway, N Allison, A Horsfield and F Hall.

They will pitch the tents and perform the work necessary to prepare the camp.

The Vaudeville Acts Secured For Peterboro Fair Are Good

The vaudeville features which will be the grand stand attractions of the Peterborough Industrial Fair promise to be unusually interesting. The management believe they have secured the best in the business and the recommendations with the acts are all that could be desired.

There will be four separate acts in front of the grand stand in the afternoon. The original Los Aribos have a good act with pony cart. There are two men in the act, and the public should be pleased with their novel performance. They will also perform new feats on the trapeze.

Kennedy Bros. and Mack have a real side-splitter. These three funproducers will appear in a trick house skit which is one of the funniest pantomimic acts ever seen. It is one big long laugh from start to finish. These comedians have another stunt which is claimed to be just as good as the trick house.

The directors are now trying to secure other acts for the evening performance, which they say will be one of the best ever seen at a local fair.

Johnston Paudash Hero Of A Romance From Rice Lake

At a recent dance at Jubilee Point at which a large number of campers from the river and lake were present, among the number was Johnston Paudash. A writer in the Umemee Mirror tells how he sat out the dances. It is as follows:—

A touch of romance was given to the occasion by presence of a dusky descendant of the far famed line of "Paudash," familiarly known as "Potash," for who that has ever dipped his paddle into the clear waters of Rice Lake, or the Otonabee, but has heard of Chief Potash and Potash Point. The scion of the Indian House above referred to, modern as to white shoes, slouch hat, and general make-up, but Indian as to jet black hair and swarthy countenance, did not mingle in the giddy mazes of the dance, but sat them out, casting ever and anon furtive eyes at the white sisters from Wedlock's, and specially at a previous acquaintance from a town on the shores of Lake Ontario, this affair was of some long standing, for had not he—Paudash—promised to the white maiden a pair of miniature paddles, as a souvenir of their friendship? Some members of the party pictured to themselves a thrilling episode of the time to come when the too-confiding maiden stealing to the Otonabee shore, under the guidance of Mr. Lou Wedlock, to receive the gift from her lover, should be, herself, stolen or carried away to grace the Hiawatha Wigwam of her dusky suitor!

Thermometer Down To 34 Degrees; Vegetables Were Nipped

The thermometer was down to 34 degrees last night, just two degrees above freezing, and in the wee sma' hours the air was very cool. In many parts of the city it was learned today that there had been a white frost and the vegetables were nipped. Tomatoes, cucumbers, etc., suffered most. In the higher localities the frost was not noticed.

Macadam Concrete Face Laid On City Streets

The following from the Kingston Whig should be a pointer to our city fathers. Our street making "system" seems to be very much of a failure and any way of improvement should be welcome. The Whig says:

The works' department, at the end of the season, will have about $2,500 of the amount which the people specially voted for street making, and it will be necessary that the people handsomely supplement the resources at the disposal of the council in order that the good work go on.

It would pay the city to have the engineer and a number of the council visit Windsor and inspect the concrete surfaced macadam streets which it has laid. If Kingston proceeded as Windsor has done it would roughen the tops of the streets wioth its scarifier and then lay on them six inches of concrete, stone sand and cement, which makes an even and durable roadway.

The treatment of the streets would be the same as they are now receiving, but in place of loose stone, however, fine, being rolled in as top dressing, the concrete would add a finish which is guaranteed to wear. The engineer at Windsor would be glad if asked to give the formula, and a block of the new pavement might be laid as an experiment.

Home Guns

Crown shells contain black powder particularly adapted to guns prevailing in Canada. Our own loading is the result of study-ing conditions here for years. We have combined the explosive [illegible] and breech pressure of this powder with the greatest exactitude. It leaves a moist residuum in the barrel, which does not cake and can easily be cleaned out.

For all makes of arms. Costs one-third to one-fifth less than duty paying ammunition. Our guarantee puts all risk on the Dominion Cartridge Co., Ltd., Montreal.

A GRUESOME MURDER COMMITTED

Boston Actor Kills Wife and Puts Dissected Body in Trunk.

HACKMAN WAS SUSPICIOUS

While Murderer Is Trying to Escape Cab Driver Reports Him to Police and Ghastly Discovery Is Made—Jordan Slew Woman In Quarrel and Tried In Panic to Hide Crime—His Plans Failed.

Boston, Sept. 4.—The most horrible and brutal crime committed in Greater Boston in several years, was disclosed last night by the discovery of the torso of Mrs. Honorah Jordon, an actress, aged 23 years, of Somerville, in a trunk in a boarding-house at 7 Hancock street, on Beacon Hill this city. Later, the head and bones of the limbs were found in the furnace of the Jordan home at Somerville, and the scalp hair and other gruesome remains were taken from the kitchen range of the house.

Chester Jordan, aged 29 years, an actor, of 508 Medford street, Somerville, is held by the police charged with the murder, and last night, according to the officers, he made a full and complete confession of the crime.

According to Jordan's confession he accidentally killed his wife Tuesday night in a quarrel at their home and becoming desperate over what he had done, went out and bought a butcher knife and hacksaw, cut up the body and placed the torso in a trunk.

He then planned to take the steamer Harvard, which was scheduled to leave Wednesday night for New York, and throw the parts of the body overboard.

The fact that the Harvard was laid off owing to accident disarranged his plans and he was obliged to hire a hackman to take the trunk to a Boston boarding-house to await a more favorable opportunity.

The discovery of the crime was due to the suspicions of the hackman, George Collins, who had in mind the numerous robberies which have taken place in and about Boston recently and surmising from its weight that the trunk he was carting about contained silverware, notified the police.

Vast Timber Wealth Lost.

Victoria, B.C., Sept. 4.—The heavy rains of the past few days have worked incalculable good in all but extinguishing the forest fires that have for weeks been raging in the Cowichan district, and thence toward the heart of Vancouver Island.

The cream of the island's most accessible timber wealth has been licked up by fires.

It is estimated that forest fires thus far this season throughout British Columbia have caused losses approximating $25,000,000.

May Be a Murder.

Cornwall, Sept. 4.—Roy Aubry of North Bangor, N.Y., across the river from here, was shot and severely wounded at Dickinson Centre, N. Y., on Tuesday night.

His story is that along with other young men he drove to what he believed to be a dance. Their presence was resented and one of the parties in the house fired on them with a shotgun. Aubry was struck in the abdomen, where he has an ugly wound, evidently caused by a slug.

Must Pay Money Back.

Ottawa, Sept. 4.—The Board of Railway Commissioners has dealt with a grievance of long standing in the village of Omemee, Victoria County, Ont., and has ordered the Grand Trunk Railway to restore the station service which was formerly given to the village, or else return the $2,000 which was voted by the municipality to the road when it was built many years ago.

LINES TIED UP.

Burning Bridge and Washouts Demoralize C. P. R. Traffic.

North Bay, Sept. 4.—Passenger traffic on the C.P.R. was completely disorganized yesterday, east and west, by two accidents.

Serious washouts tied up the line west of Fort William, followed by a pitch-in east of Port Arthur Wednesday, when a light engine crashed into the rear end of a freight train, smashing engine, caboose and one car. No one was injured.

Hardly had the tracks been fixed and traffic again moving before an even more serious event occurred in the burning yesterday of the 600-foot bridge between White River and Schreiber, which will take at least three days to rebuild. Bush fires are supposed to have ignited the bridge.

The Imperial Limited express, which left North Bay Wednesday night for Winnipeg, reached White River and will have to return to Sudbury and go over the Soo line via Minneapolis to Winnipeg. Trains from Winnipeg will also have to use the Soo line via Minneapolis until the bridge is repaired.

DERAILED AT PRINCETON.

G.T.R. Train Is Ditched and Several Are Hurt.

Woodstock, Sept. 4.—A broken rail is alleged to have been the cause of the Grand Trunk Chicago-New York express leaving the rails at Princeton about five o'clock yesterday morning.

Though running at fifty miles an hour, the engine and first truck of the first coach and the last coach kept the rails. Seven coaches were "ditched," but remained upright and the passengers got off luckily.

They were all badly shaken up, and half a dozen were slightly injured.

EMIGRANTS STARVING.

Prospective Canadian Settlers Are Stranded In London, Eng.

London, Sept. 4.—Thirty-two mutineers of the battleship Poterkin, who left Roumania for Canada, are stranded, penniless in London. They are now cared for by friends. The men are all of peasant extraction and good agriculturists. About £300 sterling is required to emigrate them. Hanging awaits them if they return to Russia. With them are six women and seven children.

Youth Gets Three Years.

Oshawa, Sept. 4.—Jno. Lasure of Peterboro was brought here by Chief of Police Rose from Peterboro, charged with stealing a bicycle from Fred Barrett of Peterboro and having ridden on it to Cobourg. On Friday night Lasure also took a horse and buggy belonging to W. Johnston of Grafton from a hotel shed here and drove to Peterboro. It is further stated that he took an overcoat, hat, razor, pair of opera glasses, etc. from a trunk belonging to the hostler of the Balmoral Hotel here.

The lad was tried yesterday and was given a three-year sentence.

Dynamited Canal.

Joliet, Ills., Sept. 4.—Unknown persons dynamited the Illinois bank of the Illinois & Michigan Canal at Channahon, 12 miles southwest of Joliet. The breach made by the explosion is 10 feet long. The district is flooded, the entire section of the canal from Joliet to Channahon is empty of water and factories are closed.

The dynamiting is the result of a fight between the canal commissioners and the state, and the villages of Channahon and Troy.

Tries to Die With Babe.

York, Pa., Sept. 4.—Mrs. Charles Small, aged 25 years, wife of a bank clerk, yesterday committed suicide by gas and shooting herself.

She took her 15-months-old baby with her into a room, intending, it is thought, it should die with her. When discovered the child was still alive, and will recover.

Ill-health is given as the cause of the act.

Japan's Day Is Coming.

London, Sept. 4.—(C.A.P.)—W. T. R. Preston, writing in The National Review on the future of Japan, says that 50 years hence Japan will have a population of 70,000,000, a larger revenue than Great Britain has today, and her manufactured products will find market everywhere throughout the world.

Would Free "Lord" Barrington.

St. Louis, Sept. 4.—The British Government has taken steps to revive the "Lord" Barrington case on the strength of data apparently pointing to the innocence of the man now serving a life sentence in Jefferson City for killing James P. McCann, the horseman, in St. Louis County in 1903.

ART OF SHOOTING TO BE TAUGHT

Sir Frederick Borden Tells of Defence Measure.

M'VITTIE WINS AGGREGATE

Toronto Marksman Carries Off D.R.A. Plum—Arrangement With Nova Scotia Means That Teachers Must Learn Drill and Physical Culture—May Do Same All Over Canada, Says Sir Frederick.

Ottawa, Sept. 4.—At the luncheon given by Col. Sam Hughes, president of the D.R.A., Sir Frederick Borden was the principal speaker.

After defending the increased expenditure on the militia force Sir Frederick Borden turned his attention to cadet shooting and made an important announcement.

He said an order-in-council had been passed embodying an agreement which had been entered into with the Educational Department of Nova Scotia. It sets forth that the Militia Department will furnish free of cost to the schools, instructors in drill and shooting, providing the schools will adopt a regulation to the effect that all teachers be compelled in the future to pass an examination in physical training and drill before receiving a certificate.

A second order-in-council has been adopted giving the Militia Department authority to make a similar arrangement with the other provinces.

Sir Frederick said that if this plan is carried out in other provinces it will incidentally be a great help to the permanent force, which will provide the staff of instructors.

Conditions generally were exceedingly bad to-day, and consequently the points made were a little below those of last year. However, it is conceded that the marksmanship is much better.

The grand aggregate, like almost all of the matches, provided a close finish, Capt. McVittie, of the 48th Highlanders, just winning by two points over Sergt. Richardson of Vancouver.

By far the most exciting event of the meeting was the finish of the first stage of the Governor-General's competition. It resulted in a tie between Armorer-Sergt. Martin of Calgary, and Lieut. Spittal of Ottawa, with 99. The shoot-off drew a large crowd. They had five shots and then there was another tie of 20 each. They shot again and both made bulls. Once more they fired and this time Spittal made a bull, and Martin a magpie, the Ottawa man thus winning the silver medal.

The Lansdowne aggregate was up to the last shot, in doubt, and, at the end there was only a difference of four points covering the first three teams, the 10th R.G., the Ottawa Guards and the 90th Winnipeg.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver war veteran, Capt. Hart McHarg, and the Barlow Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope.

British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup. Ontario and Alberta, the next in order, being farther behind the winners than has usually been the case in the week's contests.

Doctor's Bill a Fortune.

St. Louis, Sept. 4.—A trifling little difference of $20,000 in a doctor's bill for professional services may possibly result in a law suit against Adolphus Busch, the millionaire brewer.

The widow and the son-in-law of Dr. Luedeking, in settling up the affairs of his estate, discovered that the doctor had not sent Mr. Busch a bill for several years prior to the former's death, so they sent Mr. Busch a bill for $55,000. Busch offers to pay $35,000.

C.P.R. Agrees to Reinstate Monsette Who Was Discharged.

FORTIN DIVULGES SECRET

Member of Arbitration Board Lets Out the Fact That Rather Than Face Finding of Conciliation Commission Company Quietly Took Operator on Again — Holgate is the I. C. R. Arbitrator.

Toronto, Sept. 4.—The C.P.R. has made a complete surrender to the Brotherhood of Telegraphers. This news has been officially announced. This is the solution of the mystery regarding the delay of the conciliation board in reporting to the Dominion Government its majority finding a month ago that the C.P.R. telegrapher, Monsette of Megantic, had been wrongfully dismissed, and should be reinstated with pay for his lost time.

The company was up against a report to the Dominion Government directly against them. They knew that chief officers were in Montreal of four other railway employes organizations with grievances ready to demand the appointment of arbitration boards. The C.P.R. officials, rather than see a move tending to a general strike, accompanying that of the machinists, extended the olive branch. The greatest secrecy was imposed on the brotherhood officials, but in the case of the telegraphers, Judge Fortin, Montreal chairman of the telegraphers' conciliation board, has been forced to let the cat out of the bag by reporting the finding of the board. The official report states that the board is making no ruling, as the parties have arrived at an amicable agreement.

The Dominion Government has appointed Henry Holgate, civic engineer, Montreal, as its representative on the board of conciliation to deal with the changes made by the clerks and freight handlers in the Intercolonial.

Killed by M.C.R. Express.

Comber, Sept. 4.—Mrs. Harshaw was killed by an eastbound M.C.R. express yesterday morning. She was walking to the village to work for the day. Noticing a freight train going west she stepped on the eastbound track in front of the fast express. The engineer used the steam whistle repeatedly, but with the noise of the freight train going west she did not hear it.

To relatives and friends less than half a million dollars is left.

SLEEP Is More Important Than FOOD

No one can live without sleep for a whole week, while Dr. Tanner and others have fasted forty days.

Restful sleep is necessary to do good work—you can't rest in a hammock, or on a spring bed that sags to the centre—your body should be supported throughout, and yet be on a level surface, which yields to every move.

A "Star" Felt Mattress and a "Banner" Spring

The two cost less than a cheap hair mattress, and are good for an ordinary lifetime—no cleaning—no repairs.

THE EXAMINER'S SPORTING PAGE

Fritz Mohl Arrives In City; Is Confident Of Victory

Looking fit to battle for a kingdom, Fritz Mohl, the stalwart German wrestler, arrived here last night and was seen by the Examiner. He said that he is in splendid condition and has put in one of the hardest weeks training in the Buffalo gymnasium that he ever did.

"I intend to win to-night," said Fritz, "or Yankee Rogers is going to have to work. Why last week I all but had him down once, although I must confess he is a much better man at his own style; in fact, I am honestly of the opinion he is the best in America to-day, and I have been up against them all, including Gotch.

"You know that man wrestles just as much with his feet and legs, and when I can resist that kind of work for thirty-eight minutes, I am satisfied that without those legs handling and banging all round me, I can beat him. My friends were surprised when I showed them the nice report of the match which your paper published, "hat I had gone so long with him as I can tell you every wrestler in Buffalo is scared of those legs of Rogers. However, I feel splendid and will give you the best that is in me and without fear or favour, think I shall be winner.

"I am prepared to support my chances, too."

Hassan Abdallah Wins Bout In Boston From "Fighting Dago"

Hassan Abdallah wrestled his first match on Wednesday night in Boston when he was put up against Johl Perrille, the fighting Dago. According to the Boston Transcript the match was a rough affair.

The Dago tried to rush the Syrian, but found his match. After wrestling and fighting for twenty-seven minutes Hassan put down the Dago with a bar nelson. The second bout soon showed that the Dago had gone through a terrible gruelling, for he was all in. The Syrian gripped him like a vice and held him on the mat without him having a chance to move and got the fall in six minutes.

Owing to business in another part of the country, Hassan Abdallah's manager was not on hand and he will do no more wrestling this week. He leaves Boston for Peterborough Saturday for a match with a husky French-Canadian, called Hurtubise. He is a great card and will find plenty of work during the coming season.

A BASEBALL QUESTION WHICH SHOULD BE OF INTEREST TO FANS

President Ban Johson, of the American League has decided against Umpire Silk O'Loughlin in the dispute over the umpire's decision in Detroit some time ago, which would virtually kill the squeeze play if carried out. With Dougherty, of Chicago, on third and Davis at bat, Dougherty stole home. Pitcher Siever threw the ball to Catcher Payne, who got in front of Davis and touched out Dougherty as he slid to the plate. The Chicago players made a strong protest, claiming that Siever should have pitched the ball and that Payne had no right to interfere with Davis. President Johnson's ruling is that hereafter the pitcher will be required to step off the rubber before he throws the ball to the plate.

O'Loughlin's ruling has been much discussed. Under the rules the umpire was clearly wrong.

Rule 34, Section 9 says:

"A balk shall be delivery of the ball to the bat when the catcher is standing outside the lines of the catcher's position as defined in Rule 3."

Rule 3, which is a portion of the rules describing the construction of the playing field, provides a triangular space behind the plate, ten feet in depth, within which the catcher must stand to receive the ball from the pitcher. Any time the backstop steps over any of the lines of this prescribed position to receive a delivered ball he is imposing the penalty of a balk on the pitcher.

"As long as the pitcher is on the rubber there is no chance for him to get away with any such play," says Manager Clark Griffith. "Any runner on third has the pitcher directly in front of him and knows enough to stick close to the bag until he puts up his hands in the usual preliminary position for pitching. Then the base runner can lead off. The moment the pitcher begins to wind up the base runner can dash for the plate, and the catcher must wait for the ball to cross the pan before catching it, for if he steps forward ahead of the batsman, he is inflicting a balk upon the pitcher, permitting the runner to score and sending the batsman to first. The rule is plain and positive on that very point and no one has any authority to change it except the Rules Committee. If the pitcher is not on the rubber no one will know it better than the base runner at third, for he can see the pitcher as well as any other man on the field.

"To steal any base the runner must get the jump on the pitcher or catcher. He must start with the swing of the pitcher, and this is more necessary stealing home than any other base on the diamond. It can only be where the pitcher winds up a good bit. If the catcher were permitted to run in front of the plate to get the ball a steal from third home would be a physical impossibility; neither the base runner nor the batsman would have a fair show on the play—it would all be in favour of the catcher, and baseball is built up on fair play, not prejudice."—World.

NO MORE GAMES FOR WESTMINSTER

Lacrosse Team Will Receive Gold Watches

New Westminster, B.C., Sept. 4.—Because the senior lacrosse season extends until October 10, a meeting of the Westminster lacrosse club recently decided that no challenges for the Minto Cup would be entertained this year.

A reply to this effect is being forwared to the Athletics of St. Catharines, who challenged a few days ago for the championship. A ruling from P D Ross, one of the trustees of the cup, in Ottawa, some weeks ago, gives Westminster the option of refusing challenges this year.

All the lacrosse players who made the trip east will be presented with handsome gold watches at a public meeting in the opera house on Monday evening.

Alex. Turnbull, already the owner of a presentation watch, will be given a valuable shotgun instead.

THE MATCH WILL BE A BATTLE ROYAL

Hardest Kind of Struggle Between Mohl and Rogers is Looked For

The match between Yankee Rogers and Fritz Mohl, at the Brock street rink to-night, is sure to be a match that will live in the memories of all the sports who will take it in. Here are two men, giants in stature and in their own styles second to none, both out to win. Rogers has two victories to his credit at his own style, and so Mohl is to be given a trial at his own style. He has no superiors at this style in either America or Europe, and thinks he can win comfortably.

The Rogers party are going around in that quiet, confident way, which bespeaks quite a lot. As Manager Naylor says, "I want to see the man who can put Yank's shoulders to the mat twice. When I see that I shall be satisfied to lose and lose with a good heart. No one has done it for two years, and I don't think it is going to happen in Peterborough, although we are taking a bigger chance in my opinion than if we were wrestling Gotch at our own style. I am sure the match is going to be tough work, but I have my man in what I think unbeatable shape."

THE YANKEE IS GOOD BOWLER

With Mr. Hay as a Partner He Secures a Win at the P.B.C. Alleys

Yankee Rogers is evidently some bowler, as well as being a champion wrestler. Not only does he hold the record for the highest score made this week, 209, thereby having an excellent chance to win the weekly box of cigars given by the management, but he also last night, bowling with Mr. J. B. Hay as a partner, at the Peterborough Bowling Club Alleys, defeated Messrs. Hemstead and Gutterson on a total of five games, by thirty-one pins. The games were interesting, and a large gallery followed the play, the chief interest, of course, centring in the famous Yank who bowls a fast, straight centre ball that plays havoc with the pins.

Following are the scores:

Messrs. Hemstead and Gutterson—254, 234, 327, 247, 343; total, 1,505.

Sporting Comment

Hughey Jennings thus confidently expresses himself:

"We have not done as well as we had hoped on the Eastern trip, but the Eastern clubs showed far better than at other times. There is but one thing for me to say in regard to the pennant race—we are in front and remain there.

"Chicago, St. Louis and Cleveland are still in the fight, and we will have a hard battle holding our lead, but I feel confident that we can do it. We have close to thirty games at home now and the Detroit fans will see some fighting worthy of Tigers.

"We will win, for the boys have the stamina. We are far better liked for a fight at this time than we were last year, and I don't think it is going to happen in Peterborough, al-

WITH THE KICKERS

The annual meeting of the Inter-Provincial Rugby Union will take place at Montreal on Saturday, Sept. 12th.

• • • •

Hamilton Spectator. — Before the Argos are through this season they will just about have resurrected their whole corps of veterans of '08, and it would not be surprising to see Joe Wright tearing through a line or two once again.

• • • •

Kingston Whig.—"Alfie" Pierce has everything in readiness for Queen's football players when they put in an appearance. Alfie says that Queen's will have the best team in the intercollegiate this season and will certainly land the championship.

• • • •

Jimmy Craig, captain and centre-half of the Montreal Football Club, is in England just now and likely to remain there for some little while. In any event, Jimmy claims to have given up the game for good. Tommy Stinson is the only one of the back division left.

W. H. Gladish, who has had considerable experience as secretary of the Toronto City Rugby League, was yesterday appointed secretary of the O.R.F.U. by the sub-committee, consisting of President Slee, Percy Scott and ex-Secretary Hay. Clubs are requested therefore, to address all communications to Mr. Gladish, care of Toronto News.

The ruling of the C.A.A.U. giving permission to athletes to take part in Inter-Provincial football greatly clears the air. In addition to enabling the T.A.A.C. to carry out its plans without antagonizing the C.A.A.U., it will give Southam to Hamilton. Southam declared himself some time since that he would not play unless doing so would not impair his amateur standing.

• • • •

Hamilton Spectator.—The ranks of the Tiger Football Club have been augmented by the addition of a late arrival in town, Roland B. Rathbone, an ex-Yale player, who has been asked by Manager Thompson to turn out with the team on Saturday. Mr. Rathbone, despite a year's absence from the game, during which time he travelled extensively, is a player of some ability, and should prove a source of great strength to the Tiger line. His experience on the Yale team, under the great Capt. Hogan, should make him a very valuable man and a worthy substitute to some of the old-timers. While on the college team Mr. Rathbone played at quarter-back, and George Ballard may have to do some fancy stunts to retain his place.

ATHLETIC NEWS

Bobby Kerr remained over in Halifax four days to get another crack at F. O. Schaefer, the Bluenose, who beat him by a fluke in the 100 yards Canadian championship. A race was arranged for the Exhibition grounds, but Schaefer did not turn up. He said he couldn't get away from work. Kerr did a hundred in 9 4-5, just to show that he was better than Schaefer.

What do you think of Schaefer? Pretty wise guy, eh?—Toronto Star.

Cape Town, Sept. 3.—Hefferon, the ex-Canadian, who led the Olympic Marathoners to within two miles of home, where Dorando passed him, and who finished just behind J. J. Hayes, was given a great reception here on his arrival last night. The Cabinet Ministers attended the banquet in his honour.

The T.A.S. Athletic team had another workout last night and a number of fast ones should be ready for the Labour Day meet in Lindsay. There will be entries in the short and long distance events. A big crowd is going up on Monday.

A day pregnant with possibilities of a shake-up ended nonsensationally with the relative positions of the three leading clubs in the National League pennant race unchanged. Both New York and Chicago, however, gained a slight advantage over Pittsburg, the last named club adding but three points to its total by its single victory over Cincinnati, while New York and Chicago, playing and winning double headers, each advanced seven points in the standing. New York's next test of quality will begin to-day, when the leaders go to Philadelphia for a series of five games with that city's team, which is playing a great form, finishing yesterday a run of five straight victories from Brooklyn. A crucial series will begin in Pittsburg to-day, when Pittsburg will try conclusions with the champions.

Clubs.	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
New York	73	45	.619
Pittsburg	74	47	.612
Chicago	74	48	.607

A WONDERFUL CRAFT IS THIS

Mr. W. A. Bailey Has a Three Masted Ship on the Otonabee

It is stated upon good authority that Mr. W A Bailey, where claims to literary distinction are based chiefly upon the fact that he has written numerous post-card communications to the local newspapers, has a wonderful craft on the Otonabee River that causes passersby to open their eyes in astonishment and admiration. "Those who go down to the sea in ships" state that they have never seen such a remarkable boat anywhere. In the first place the craft is not much longer than Mr. Bailey himself, and in the second place it is fitted out with three small sails the size of a newspaper, and at a short distance the boat looks like a model yacht. In this strange vessel Mr. Bailey entrusts himself upon the rolling bosom of the Otonabee and may be seen cruising about in utter unconcern of those who pass by him and who eye his ship with wonder. It is stated that a gust of wind the other day turned the craft over and gave its owner an unexpected bath, but the tale lacks confirmation.

GINGERBREAD MAN

The local theatre-goers will learn with pleasure of the return of "The Gingerbread Man" to the Grand this season. This is one of the most musical productions that has ever visited here and many give it first position. RIG WAS SMASHED AGAINST THE POLE

About 9.30 this morning a bad runaway occurred on the corner of Charlotte and Aylmer streets. The horse which is owned by Jopling Bros., of Bridgenorth, took fright for some cause unknown and started off down Charlotte street at full speed, on its way to George street. At the corner of Aylmer street the rig struck a telephone post and was utterly demolished. The horse being freed from the encumbrance continued madly towards George street, but was luckily caught by some one whose name cannot be learned, before reaching the corner.

The demerat was removed by Frank Mallory to Ben Yelland's blacksmith shop, for repairs.

Auditorium Roller Rink Opened To Capacity House

Big Crowd Were Skating—Almost as Many Onlookers—Floor in Excellent Condition

A VERY POPULAR SPORT

The Auditorium Roller Rink was opened last night under most auspicious circumstances. The first night augurs well for a successful season, and the popularity already gained should be maintained throughout the season. It seemed as if nearly everybody was there. There were easily over 600 people who passed through the door and during the evening there must have been 500 skating.

The maple floor had been well waxed and the fibre-wheeled skates rolled easily along to the strains of the music from the band balcony. The young people seemed to enjoy the sport, and the rink's capacity was taxed almost to its full extent.

The building is well lighted and the white walls present a very clean appearance. Ample provision has been made along the side and one end for sitting out a rest. The rooms built for ladies and gentlemen are quite capacious, and at the skate and check counter there are no delays.

A band stand has been erected at the north end of the building. The Peterborough Band occupied this position last night and many expressions of satisfaction with their music were heard.

Manager Genno was on the floor and assisted many beginners in their initial glides. He is a finished skater on the rollers and is ever ready to assist those who require attention. The rink will be open every afternoon and evening and should provide pleasure for all those who visit it.

FATHER OF LOCAL LADY DIES SUDDENLY IN WOODSTOCK

Mrs. T. W. McDonough, of Water street, has received the sad intelligence that her father, Mr. John Ronan, bursar of the Epileptic Hospital at Woodstock, Ont., passed away very suddenly on Wednesday, and she has gone to Hamilton to attend the funeral. She will have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in her bereavement. Mr. Patrick Ronan, a son of the deceased, is well-known in Peterborough, having for several months during the past summer occupied the position of clerk in Mr. T. W. McDonough's tobacco store. The Hamilton Spectator has the following reference to Mr. Ronan's sudden death: "The announcement of the sudden death of John Ronan, bursar of the Epileptic Hospital, Woodstock, received here yesterday came as a painful surprise to the business community and a very wide circle of personal friends in Hamilton. Mr. Ronan was in apparent good health yesterday morning and had arranged to go with Dr. Williams, the medical superintendent of the hospital, into Woodstock. It had been raining heavily, and about 11 o'clock the weather cleared sufficiently to permit of the trip being made in comfort. Dr. Williams went upstairs to arrange some matters, and Mr. Ronan sat down on a chair to await the doctor's return. Hardly had Dr. Williams reached the head of the stairs when he was recalled, as Mr. Ronan had fallen from the chair to the floor, and expired almost immediately. Dr. McLay was summoned, and after an examination of the body, decided that death was due to apoplexy.

Nearly four years ago Mr. Ronan left Hamilton to assume the bursarship of the Reformatory at Penetanguishene. He remained there about twenty months, and on the completion of the Epileptic Hospital at Woodstock, two years ago last March, he was appointed to the bursarship of the institution.

Deceased was born in Ireland, and came to Hamilton at an early age, and was one of the city's best known and most highly esteemed citizens. For many years he conducted a grocery store at the corner of Cannon and Wellington streets. He also took an active interest in public affairs and was held in very high esteem because of his genial disposition. He is survived by nine children — Mrs. Kilgour of Toronto, Mrs. McDonough of Peterborough, Minnie of Hamilton, Josephine of Toronto, Annie and Sadie of Woodstock, Patrick of Niagara Falls and John and Edward of Toronto. A brother, Patrick, and one sister, Miss Norah, reside here.

The remains arrived here at 2 o'clock this afternoon and were taken to the home of his sister on East avenue north, whence the funeral will take place to St. Patrick's Church, Saturday morning. Interment will take place at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery."

SCOTTISH DAIRYMEN WILL NOT VISIT PETERBORO ON THEIR TOUR

The Scotch Dairymen who are touring Canada in a body will not visit Peterborough. Mayor Rush received this information by telephone from Ottawa last night. The party are travelling over the main line of the G.T.R. and were unable to make a call here. The dairymen of this district were in hopes that they would visit here but their itinerary made this impossible. They have gone on through to the West after recently completing their Ontario visits.

Thieves Break Into House And Carry Off Quantity Of Honey

Some sweet-toothed sneak-thief, or thieves, entered the premises of Mr. Thomas Harvey, who lives in Smith township, near Nassau, last night, and possessed themselves of a quantity of honey which was kept on the premises. Mr. Harvey was absent at the time, and the light-fingered gentry gained admittance to the house by breaking a pane of glass and pulling back the bolt of the door. In addition to the honey, a knife and other articles were stolen. Mr. Harvey reported the case to County Constable Cochrane to-day and an investigation is being conducted. Mr. Harvey is an apiarist who has a large number of bees and the house breakers were evidently aware of the fact that honey was kept on the premises.

WITH A SURVEY PARTY IN THE CANADIAN NORTHWEST

F. M. Dela Fosse

We saw lots of buffaloes during the survey, mostly in pairs, but once a herd of twelve came into view a short distance from the camp. There was a great scurry to get after them and the spectacle of Gill, mounted on a mustang, armed with a double-barrelled shot gun, and the cook on another pony, armed with a toy revolver, was a sight for gods and men to witness. Needless to say, they did not get within hailing distance of them. It was reserved for myself to be the only one of the whole gang, who could say that he had had an unobstructed view at close range of this vanished monarch of the plains.

Sighting a Buffalo

At the time of the experience I am about to relate, we were working about ten miles north of the Red Deer River. One morning, I was detailed to take a pony and cart to the river bank for the purpose of obtaining fuel for the camp. I started off early, and as my mustang was not of the sprinting variety, and I was only too glad to let him have his own way, noontide found me only about half way to my destination.

It was a piping hot day, and it was with no small delight that, on mounting the crest of a sharp rise in the prairie, I saw spread out at some distance before me, the gleaming waters of a fair-sized lake. The pony saw it, too, and the prospect of a drink urged it to a height of speed, which in view of its former sluggishness, appeared (absolutely hazardous to its health. The water was not as nice as it looked, being alkaline and covered with a thick greenish scum, but the pony and I drank greedily of it. My thirst quenched I tethered the beast and was just on the point of settling down to my mid-day repast, when my attention was arrested by a huge object limned clearly against the sky, on the opposite shore. (There was no mistaking it. It was a buffalo of seemingly enormous size and shagginess.

A Nearer View

Leaving my dinner in the cart I immediately made a circuit of the lake, in order to get a nearer view of the beast. He saw me coming, but far from appearing frightened, he eyed me stolidly, allowing me to approach within thirty yards of him without moving a muscle. Closer inspection proved him to be a formidable-looking beast, possessed of a huge beard and hairy topknot. Not caring to go any closer, as I was without a weapon of any description, and knew nothing of the disposition of the animal, I beat a retreat back to my pony and cart. That evening I slept out under the stars, on the banks of the river, and next morning having collected my drift wood, and incidentally discovered a thick seam of soft coal cropping out from a headland close by, I started on my return journey to the camp.

A Still Nearer View

On reaching the lake, on the shores of which I had seen the buffalo the previous day, my curiosity prompted me to drive past the spot where he had been standing. Leaving my cart on the ridge overlooking the water, I walked down in a leisurely manner to the brink. A thick, high growth of grass bordered the slough preventing my seeing any object at more than two or three yards distance and it was with a feeling bordering on amazement that I suddenly found myself gazing at the body of the buffalo, stretched out dead at my feet. Everything presented a normal appearance, and as I gazed at the motionless form before me my thoughts irresistibly assumed a sentimental shape and I found myself conjuring up fanciful images of the past, when those wide lands were dotted with countless herds of such noble quadrupeds as that which was then lying motionless before me.

The Timber Wolves

Thoughtlessly I gave the carcase a slight kick with my foot, and in a moment my philosophical musings fled, and wild-eyed bewilderment took their place. Perhaps what I am about to relate may read like a fairy tale. I cannot help it. Truth is sometimes stranger than fiction, and this is truth. The instant I kicked the carcase, two timber wolves, lank, gaunt, evil-looking brutes, who had literally bored their way into the very heart of the buffalo, sprang out and faced me. It was not a pleasant predicament. There they stood, their fangs and jowls dripping with blood and filth, glaring ferociously at me, and only the body of the buffalo between us. Fear, I do not think, entered my mind, but my momentary bewilderment was followed by a state of mind which can be best illustrated by Dr. Johnson's famous phrase, "stark insensibility." I eyed the beasts and the beasts eyed me, growling continuously. Gradually my brain began to assume its normal tone, and I remember, first of all, wishing that I had my axe, and secondly, looking one of the beasts squarely in the eye, having read somewhere that this is the correct policy to pursue in such cases. It was the only time in my life that I longed to be possessed of a squint, so that I could look both of them in the eye at once.

My pony was fifty yards away, with his back turned to the scene; contentedly waiting for my return. I didn't dare turn my back and make a bolt, so I made as dignified a retrograde movement as was possible under the circumstances, with my eyes steadfastly riveted on one of the animals in front of me. And as I retreated, they followed stealthily, cautiously, snarling continually, and always keeping the same distance. Well, not to unduly harass the nerves of my readers, I may state that I reached my cart in safety, and jumping in, grabbed my trusty axe and waited. But there was no attack. The beasts had evidently been gorged on the buffalo and were in no mood at that moment for an extra course, even though it did present a change of diet. They followed me to within a hundred yards of the camp, however, and only departed when my shouts brought out the entire camp to my help.

JILTED BY SAME GIRL, EIGHT CHICAGO YOUNG MEN FORM CLUB AND PROMISE NEVER TO MARRY

A Stranger Wooed Quietly And Won the Girl the Eight Were After—They Are Through With Woman-Kind.

THEIR SET OF RULES

New York, Sept. 4.—Talk about the fury of a woman scorned — how about the fury of eight men, all discarded by one and the same woman?

Miss Elizabeth Barnett, of Chicago, has married the newest comer, the ninth young man, Frank Haggerty, and they are off on their honeymoon now. When they come back to settle down to the delights of married life they will find that the octet of rivals are fast friends—all members of the "We Will Never, Never Marry Club."

The eight who are joined together by these bonds of mutual sympathy have pledged themselves to remain bachelors for the rest of their natural lives, or else suffer heavy penalties. They will never bother other women again; they will barely be polite to them. The only exceptions will be their own mothers, and maiden aunts and sisters. Other folks' sisters are strictly barred.

Miss Elizabeth Barnett, with her father and mother, lived in a handsome home on Washington Boulevard, Chicago. In the neighbourhood live the eight young men, all of them schoolmates and friends since boyhood —Harry Mancurvis and John Mancurvis, brothers; James I. Kilbridge, Henry Schefferle, Theophile Snowden, Paul Murdock, Roy Lindquest and Claude Brokaw.

All of them eligible bachelors, they live at home with their people, just as Miss Barnett did.

All the families have lived in the neighbourhood for years, and the eight boys all went to the same school, and became comrades, all of them. Elizabeth Barnett grew up among them. All eight found that each one of the others had cherished the hope that some day she might whisper him the "Yes!" that he would have given his soul to get, and then there would be a big wedding with the other seven as best man and ushers.

All of the eight in turn enjoyed the privilege of being the attendant knight upon the winsome Miss Elizabeth. And each cherished the hope that he of all of them would win in the end.

The friendly octet had never looked much upon young Frank Haggerty. He was the younger, to be sure, but he hadn't known Miss Barnett half as long as they had. In fact, he was quite a newcomer in the Barnett household where they had been welcome guests since boyhood. He was a very nice young fellow, to be sure, as they all agreed; but they didn't waste any of their jealousy upon him, because he was not in the running at all.

True it was that young Mr. Haggerty came on the field late, when the eight had been paying their devoirs to Miss Barnett for years. And true, too, that he was athletic, good-looking, well-dressed and a capital singer. But they were good-looking and well-dressed, too, and some of them could sing and others of them were athletes, too.

When the engagement was finally announced the confident eight could scarcely believe it. They had tinkled their mandolins inside in the parlour, while their city cousin Gus was carrying off the prize in the hammock out on the porch.

To conclude with they formed an anti-marriage club with the following rules:

Never to pay any sentimental attentions to any woman.

Never to make presents to any woman, except a relative.

Never to take to the theatre, opera, place of entertainment or social function any woman, except one belonging to a member's own family.

Never to buy confectionery or flowers for any woman.

Never to call on any woman, except on strictly business matters.

Never by word, look or act to betray any preference or other than ordinary respect for any female.

Never to kiss any woman, except their own grandmothers, mothers or sisters.

Never to marry any woman.

Figures That Give An Idea Of The Modern Skyscraper

A City in Itself, Even to Population---The Singer Building of New York an Example---Things That Could Be Done With The Materials Used in Its Construction

Did it ever occur to you that if one of New York's modern skyscrapers, say the Metropolitan Life or the Singer building with its cloud piercing tower, could be picked up bodily and dropped on some prairie there would be practically everything needed to start a little city, including the population? In fact, when it came to building materials there might in some instances be stuff left over for use in neighbouring towns.

Take the Singer Building, for instance it contains 125 miles of various kinds of metal piping. The telephones, elevators, electric lights, fans and clocks require 3,425 miles of wire, which if stretched out would extend from the top of the Singer Building to the top of the Eiffel Tower in Paris, with 300 miles left over.

The steel used in the construction of the Singer Building, if made into one-quarter inch wire cable, would reach from New York to Buenos Ayres, a distance of 7,100 miles. The total length of the steel bearing columns in the building is about ten miles.

The terra cotta floor blocks in the the building, if spread out on a plane, would cover 8.36 acres. Placed end to end they would extend 97 miles, or further than from New York to Philadelphia. The fireproof blocks in the partitions placed end to end would reach from New York to Saratoga.

The new skyscraper contains 5,033,-300 bricks, and these laid end to end would reach 635 miles, from New York to Detroit. They would make a footpath 12 inches wide from New York to Boston.

This modern skyscraper contains 101 tons of sheet copper, enough to cover 4.64 acres. The copper combined with the statuary bronze in the building would yield a metal similar to that used by the United States Government in making cents, and that prairie town would certainly have money to lend to its neighbours if the combined metals were put to that use. It would be possible to turn out $46,208,000 cents, or $462,080.

If the concrete in the foundations of the building were all loaded on two horse trucks it would make a continuous line of 10,280 trucks, thirty-eight miles long, or twice the distance from the Singer Building to Yonkers.

The steel in the building would make 125 large type mogul locomotives, that is a continuous line of engines for a mile and a half. It would make a seventy-four mile stretch of heavy modern track, rails, spikes and the pieces. Made into elevator cables it would extend 7,100 miles, and if the total lengths of all the strands of wire in the cable were put together they would reach from the earth to the moon three and one-third times, or 900,000 miles.

If the steel were rolled out into a plate a quarter of an inch thick it would cover an area of fifty acres. In other words Broadway from Liberty street to Seventy-second street could be paved with steel plate of that thickness.

There is 13.3 miles of picture moulding in the building. If all the mouldings for the doors, pictures and windows were put in a straight line they would reach sixty miles.

More than 5,541 tons of mortar was used in the masonry. This would make a path 14 inches wide and one inch thick from New York to Washington, a distance of 240 miles. About 197 tons of paint was used on the various surfaces. That is enough paint to cover 39 1-2 acres with one coat. It would cover a board fence six feet high from New York to Springfield, 120 miles, with one coat.

There are 25.4 acres of wall area in the new skyscraper. This is plaster enough for about 200 good sized dwelling houses. It would make a line of plaster 12 inches wide from New York to Boston.

The glass in the building, 85,300 square feet, would make a continuous show window six feet high on one side of Broadway from Liberty street to Thirty-fourth street. There are 256,000 square feet of metal lath, or 5.9 acres. To support these lathe 49.1 miles of structural angle irons were required, together with 130 miles of tying wire and 110,000 bolts.

There are 8.85 miles of elevator cables in the building, and nine fans capable of blowing 6,820 cubic feet of air an hour, which would make it possible for an ordinary sized town almost to generate its own tornado.

Almost any little city would be satisfied with the lighting plant in one of New York's modern skyscrapers. In the Singer Building there are 14,-500 incandescent lamps, while on the outside of the tower there are 1,800 more.

These, together with the searchlights which play on the tower from the roof of the main building, make the skyscraper visible in bold relief at night for a distance of twenty miles. The rays of the searchlight in the lantern crowning the tower are visible seventy-five miles away.

The lighting system of the Singer Building represents a capacity of 278,800 candle power. The boilers of the building, to generate light, heat, power, etc., must yearly generate 150,000,000 pounds of steam pressure. This will take 18,000,000 gallons of water and 8,000 tons of coal.

"Don't ask me. I hate to think of it."

Cherry laughed cruelly. "So, failing there, you came back to me, back for another favor from the waif. Well, Miss Helen Chester, I don't believe a word you've said, and I'll tell you nothing. Go back to the uncle and the rawboned lover who sent you, and inform them that I'll speak when the time comes. They think I know too much, do they?—so they've sent you to spy? Well, I'll make a compact. You play your game, and I'll play mine. Leave Glenister alone, and I'll not tell on McNamara. Is it a bargain?"

"No, no, no! Can't you see? That's not it. All I want is the truth of this thing."

"Then go back to Struve and get it. He'll tell you; I won't. Drive your bargain with him—you're able. You've fooled better men—now, see what you can do with him."

Helen left, realizing the futility of further effort, though she felt that this woman did not really doubt her, but was scourged by jealousy till she deliberately chose this attitude.

Reaching her own house, she wrote two brief notes and called in her Jap boy from the kitchen.

"Fred, I want you to hunt up Mr. Glenister and give him this note. If you can't find him, then look for his partner and give the other to him." Fred vanished, to return in an hour with the letter for Dextry still in his hand.

"I don' catch dis feller," he explained. "Young mans say he gone, come back mebbe one, two, 'leven days."

"Did you deliver the one to Mr. Glenister?"

"Les, ma'am."

"Was there an answer?"

"Les, ma'am."

"Well, give it to me."

The note read:

Dear Miss Chester—A discussion of a matter so familiar to us both as the Anvil creek controversy would be useless. If your inclination is due to the incidents of last night, pray don't trouble yourself. We don't want your pity. I am your servant, ROY GLENISTER.

As she read the note, Judge Stillman entered, and it seemed to the girl that he had aged a year for every hour in the last twelve, or else the yellow afternoon light limned the sagging hollows and haggard lines of his face most pitilessly. He showed in voice and manner the nervous burden under which he labored.

"Alec has told me about your engagement, and it lifts a terrible load from me. I'm mighty glad you're going to marry him. He's a wonderful man, and he's the only one who can save us."

"What do you mean by that? What are we in danger of?" she inquired, avoiding discussion of McNamara's announcement.

"Why, that mob, of course. They'll come back. They said so. But Alec can handle the commanding officer at the post, and, thanks to him, we'll have soldiers guarding the house hereafter."

"Why—they won't hurt us"—

"Tut, tut! I know what I'm talking about. We're in worse danger now than ever, and if we don't break up those vigilantes there'll be bloodshed—that's what. They're a menace, and they're trying to force me off the bench so they can take the law into their own hands again. That's what I want to see you about. They're planning to kill. Alec and me—so he says—and we've got to act quick to prevent murder. Now, this young Glenister is one of them, and he knows who the rest are. Do you think you could get him to talk?"

"I don't think I quite understand you," said the girl, through whitening lips.

"Oh, yes, you do. I want the names of the ringleaders, so that I can get them. You can worm it out of that fellow if you try."

Helen looked at the old man in a horror that at first was dumb. "You ask this of me?" she demanded hoarsely at last.

"Nonsense," he said irritably. "This isn't any time for silly scruples. It's life or death for me, maybe, and for Alec too." He said the last craftily, but she stormed at him:

"It's infamous! You're asking me to betray the very man who saved us not twelve hours ago. He risked his life for us."

"It isn't treachery at all. It's protection. If we don't get them, they'll get us. I wouldn't punish that young fellow, but I want the others. Come now, you've got to do it."

But she said "No" firmly, and quietly went to her own room, where, behind the locked door, she sat for a long time staring with unseeing eyes, her hands tight clinched in her lap. At last she whispered:

"I'm afraid it's true. I'm afraid it's true."

She remained hidden during the dinner hour, and pleaded a headache when McNamara called in the early evening. Although she had not seen him since he left her the night before, bearing her tacit promise to wed him, yet how could she meet him now with the conviction growing on her hourly that he was a master rogue? She wrestled with the thought that he and her uncle, her own uncle who stood in the place of a father, were conspirators. And yet, at memory of the judge's cold blooded request that she should turn traitress, her whole being revolted. If he could ask a thing like that, what other heartless, selfish act might he not be capable of? All the long, solitary evening she kept her room, but at last, feeling faint, slipped down stairs in search of Fred, for she had eaten nothing since her late breakfast.

Voices reached her from the parlor, and as she came to the last step she froze there in an attitude of listening.

She froze there in an attitude of listening.

The first sentence she heard through the close drawn curtains banished all qualms at eavesdropping. She stood for many breathless minutes drinking in the plot that came to her plainly from within, then turned, gathered up her skirts, and tiptoed back to her room. Here she made haste madly, tearing off her house clothes and donning others.

She pressed her face to the window and noted that the night was like a close hung velvet pall, without a star in sight. Nevertheless, she wound a heavy veil about her hat and face before she extinguished the light and stepped into the hall. Hearing McNamara's "Good night" at the front door, she retreated again while her uncle slowly mounted the stairs and paused before her chamber. He called her name softly, but when she did not answer continued on to his own room. When he was safely within she descended quietly, went out, and locked the front door behind her, placing the key in her bosom. She hurried now, feeling her way through the thick gloom in a panic, while in her mind was but one frightened thought:

"I'll be too late. I'll be too late."

CHAPTER XVII.

EVEN after Helen had been out for some time she could barely see sufficiently to avoid collisions. The air, weighted by a low hung roof of clouds, was surcharged with the electric suspense of an impending storm, and seemed to sigh and tremble at the hint of power in leash. It was that pause before the conflict wherein the night laid finger upon its lips.

As the girl neared Glenister's cabin she was disappointed at seeing no light there. She stumbled toward the door, only to utter a half strangled cry as two men stepped out of the gloom and seized her roughly. Something cold and hard was thrust violently against her cheek, forcing her head back and bruising her. She struggled and cried out.

"Hold on, it's a woman!" ejaculated the man who had pinioned her arms, loosing his hold till only a hand remained on her shoulder. The other lowered the weapon he had jammed to her face and peered closely.

"Why, Miss Chester," he said. "What are you doing here? You came near getting hurt."

"I am bound for the Wilsons', but I must have lost my way in the darkness. I think you have cut my face." She controlled her fright firmly.

"That's too bad," one said. "We mistook you for"— And the other broke in sharply, "You'd better run along. We're waiting for some one."

Helen hastened back by the route she had come, knowing that there was still time, and that as yet her uncle's emissaries had not laid hands upon Glenister. She had overheard the judge and McNamara plotting to drag the town with a force of deputies, seizing not only her two friends, but every man suspected of being a vigilante. The victims were to be jailed without bond, without reason, without justice, while the mechanism of the court was to be juggled in order to hold them until fall, if necessary. They had said that the officers were already busy, so haste was a crying thing. She sped down the dark streets toward the house of Cherry Malotte, but found no light nor answer to her knock. She was distracted now, and knew not where to seek next among the thousand spots which might hide the man she wanted. What chance had she against the posse sweeping the town from end to end? There was only one; he might be at the Northern theater. Even so, she could not reach him, for she dared not go there herself. She thought of Fred, her Jap boy, but there was no time. Wasted moments meant failure.

Roy had once told her that he never gave up what he undertook. Very well, she would show that even a girl may possess determination. This was no time for modesty or shrinking indecision, so she pulled the veil more closely about her face and took her good name into her hands. She made rapidly toward the lighted streets which cast a skyward glare and from which through the breathless calm arose the sound of carousal. Swiftly she threaded the narrow alleys in search of the theater's rear entrance, for she dared not approach from the front. In this way she came into a part of the camp which had lain hidden from her until now and of the existence of which she had never dreamed.

The vices of a city, however horrible, are at least draped scantily by the mantle of convention, but in a great mining camp they stand naked and without concealment. Here there were rows upon rows of cribbike houses clustered over tortuous, ill lighted lanes, like blow flies swarming to an unclean feast. From within came the noise of ribaldry and debauch. Shrill laughter mingled with coarse, maudlin songs, till the clinging night reeked with abominable revelry. The girl saw painted creatures of every nationality leaning from windows or beckoning from doorways, while drunken men collided with her, barred her course, challenged her, and again and again she was forced to slip from their embraces. At last the high bulk of the theater building loomed a short distance ahead. Panting and frightened, she tried the door with weak hands, to find it locked. From behind it rose the blare of brass and the sound of singing. She accosted a man who appraised her through the narrow alley, but he had cruised from the charted course in search of adventure and was not minded to go in quest of doormen; rather, he chose to sing a chantey, to the bibulous measures of which he invited her to dance with him, so she slipped away till he had teetered past. He was some longshoreman in that particular epoch of his inebriety where life had no burden save the dissipation of wages.

Returning, she pounded on the door, possessed of the sense that the man she sought was here, till at last it was flung open, framing the silhouette of a shirt-sleeved, thick-set youth, who shouted:

"What 'n' 'ell do you want to butt in for while the show's on? Go round front." She caught a glimpse of disordered scenery, and before he could slam the door in her face thrust a silver dollar into his hand, at the same time wedging herself into the opening. He pocketed the coin and the door clicked to behind her.

"Well, speak up. The act's closin'." Evidently he was the directing genius of the performance, for at that moment the chorus broke into full cry, and he said, hurriedly:

"Wait a minute. There goes the finally," and dashed away to tend his drops and switches. When the curtain was down and the principals had sought their dressing rooms he returned.

"Do you know Mr. Glenister?" she asked.

"Sure. I seen him tonight. Come here." He led her toward the footlights and, pulling back the edge of the curtain, allowed her to peep past him out into the dance hall. She had never pictured a place like this, and in spite of her agitation was astonished at its gaudy elegance. The gallery was formed of a continuous row of compartments with curtained fronts, in which men and women were talking, drinking, singing. The seats on the lower floor were disappearing, and the canvas cover was rolling back, showing the polished hardwood underneath, while out through the wide folding doors that led to the main gambling room she heard a brass lunged man calling the commencement of the dance. Couples glided into motion while she watched.

"I don't see him," said her guide. "You better walk out front and help yourself." He indicated the stairs which led up to the galleried boxes and the steps leading down on to the main floor, but she handed him another coin, begging him to find Glenister and bring him to her. "Hurry, hurry!" she implored.

The stage manager gazed at her curiously, remarking: "My! You spend your money like it had been left to you," but he pocketed the coin and departed.

She withdrew to a dark corner and waited interminably till her messenger appeared at the head of the gallery stairs and beckoned to her. As she drew near he said: "I told him there was a $1,000 filly flaggin' him from the stage door, but he's got a grouch an' won't stir. He's in number seven." She hesitated, at which he said, "Go on—you're in right," then continued reassuringly: "Say, pal, if he's your white haired lad, you needn't start no rough house, 'cause he don't flirt wit' these dames none whatever. Naw! Take it from me."

She entered the door her counselor indicated to find Roy lounging back watching the dancers. He turned inquiringly—then, as she raised her veil, leaped to his feet and jerked the curtains to.

"Helen! What are you doing here?"

"You must go away quickly," she gasped. "They're trying to arrest you."

"They! Who? Arrest me for what?"

"Voorhees and his men—for riot or something about last night."

"Nonsense," he said. "I had no part in it. You know that."

"Yes, yes—but you're a vigilante, and they're after you and all your friends. Your house is guarded and the town is alive with deputies. They've planned to jail you on some pretext or other and hold you indefinitely. Please go before it's too late."

"How do you know this?" he asked gravely.

"I overheard them plotting."

"Who?"

"Uncle Arthur and Mr. McNamara." She faced him squarely as she said it and therefore saw the light flame up in his eyes as he cried:

"And you came here to save me—came here at the risk of your good name?"

"Of course. I would have done the same for Dextry." The gladness died away, leaving him listless.

"Well, let them come. I'm done, I guess. I heard from Wheaton tonight. He's down and out, too—some trouble with the 'Frisco courts about jurisdiction over these cases. I don't know that it's worth while to fight any longer."

"Listen," she said. "You must go. I am sure there is a terrible wrong being done, and you and I must stop it. I have seen the truth at last, and you are in the right. Please hide for a time at least."

"Very well. If you have taken sides with us there's some hope left. Thank you for the risk you ran in warning me."

She had moved to the front of the compartment and was peering forth between the draperies when she stifled a cry.

"Too late! Too late! There they are. Don't part the curtains. They'll see you."

Pushing through the gambling hall were Voorhees and four others, seemingly in quest of some one.

"Run down the back stairs," she breathed and pushed him through the door. He caught and held her hand with a last word of gratitude. Then he was gone. She drew down her veil and was about to follow when the door opened and he reappeared.

"No use," he remarked quietly. "There are three more waiting at the foot." He looked out to find that the officers had searched the crowd and were turning toward the front stairs, thus cutting off his retreat. There were but two ways down from the gallery and no outside windows from which to leap. As they had made no armed display, the presence of the officers had not interrupted the dance.

Glenister drew his revolver, while into his eyes came the dancing glitter that Helen had seen before, cold as the glint of winter sunlight.

"No, not that, for God's sake!" she shuddered, clasping his arm.

"I must for your sake or they'll find you here, and that's worse than ruin. I'll fight it out in the corridors so that you can escape in the confusion. Wait till the firing stops and the crowd gathers." His hand was on the knob when she tore it loose, whispering hoarsely:

"They'll kill you. Wait! There's a better way. Jump." She dragged him to the front of the box and pulled aside the curtains. "It isn't high, and they won't see you till it's too late. Then you can run through the crowd."

He grasped her idea, and, slipping his weapon back into its holster, laid hold of the ledge before him and lowered himself down over the dancers. He swung out unhesitatingly, and almost before he had been observed had dropped into their midst. The gallery was but twice the height of a man's head from the floor, so he landed on his feet and had drawn his revolvers even while the men at the stairs were shouting at him to halt.

BLOOD DISEASES CURED

BEFORE TREATMENT

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT

He was surprised at how the sores healed.—"I took your NEW METHOD TREATMENT for a serious blood disease with which I had been inflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians, taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, palms of the hands scaling, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks' time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the NEW METHOD TREATMENT for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. My boy, three years old, is sound and healthy. I certainly can recommend your treatment with all my heart. You can refer any person to me privately, but you can use this testimonial as you wish." W. SUFFERED TORTURES FOR 70 YEARS

Wife of a Prominent Physician Tells How She Was Cured.

Mrs. J. R. Flock is the widow of one of the best known physicians in London, Ontario. She was treated by her husband and many other medical men yet never received any lasting benefit. Just by accident, she tried a well-known remedy, and now, after 70 years of suffering, she is well. Read her letter to Fruit-a-tives Limited.

"Dear Sirs,—Since my early childhood (and I am now in my seventy-third year) I have suffered indescribable torment from stomach trouble and indigestion, complicated with liver disorders. Being the wife of a prominent physician (the late Dr. J. R. Flock), I, naturally enough, had a prejudice against proprietary remedies, I was, however, unable to benefit to any great extent through my lifetime, from taking the ordinary remedies of physicians, being constantly in delicate health from stomach disorder and vomiting. Accidentally I came into possession of a sample of "Fruit-a-tives"—tried them, and found myself wonderfully benefitted. I take them now as my only medicine and they are keeping me in the most satisfactory health.

After finding out the wonderful medicinal qualities of "Fruit-a-tives" I have recommended them to many of my friends and acquaintances, who have also had the best results from their use—and one lady friend that I have recently recommended them to, has used them for Sciatica, from which she suffered constantly and was unable to procure any remedy that would relieve her. She is now taking "Fruit-a-tives" and is cured.

I am glad to be able to recommend "Fruit-a-tives" and will be glad if you will use my name in any way that will be the means of bringing your remedy before the public."

BOOMERANG DUEL.

Aborigines Take Turns Striking Each Other With Clubs.

I was visiting at Port Augusta when the chief justice came to that town to hold the assizes, writes a correspondent of the London Field. Port Augusta is almost on the border of the desert. In the immediate neighborhood there was growing in profusion the "salt bush," which supports the life of the sheep during drought and the tempting "prickly jack," a weed good to look upon but accursed to the farmer, as its pointed spur works havoc among the fleeces. Close by we saw a prosperous ostrich farm and a number of camels, with their Afghan drivers, about to start on a journey still farther north.

The strange impression of this juxtaposition of old and new was deepened by the nature of the principal case for trial. It was a charge against Jimmy Wonyilty of the murder of Billy Lee, both aborigines. The story of the crime was not complicated. A quarrel seemed to have arisen through the refusal of the deceased, though of mature years, to submit to initiatory rites which technically made him a "young man." The witnesses were careful to speak of him always as a "boy," though it was testified that he had a few gray hairs.

The actual conflict between the two men was conducted with much of the punctillio of a duel. Each of them was armed with what is commonly called the "double boomerang;" strictly speaking, it should rather be called a club in boomerang form. It is a large and somewhat heavy weapon, not intended as a missile at all, but used to inflict a blow which must be delivered only against the head. The inviolable etiquette of such encounters demands that each combatant in turn shall bend his head to the attack, not attempting to repay it until he has steadily suffered his own chastisement. Blow thus solemnly alternates with blow until the man with the stronger arm and harder head is left the victor. In this ordeal Billy Lee succumbed.

The witnesses in this trial were, of course, mainly aborigines themselves, for the crime was committed in one of their camps. Their demeanor was extremely nervous. Again and again they had to be exhorted to hold up their heads and to speak clearly. One of them—a strong man, with dents upon his head suggesting a long experience of boomerang duels—fainted in the course of giving his evidence, and another collapsed as soon as he had left the box. Later witnesses were therefore allowed to sit, and were frequently refreshed by a glass of water, which they would empty at a single gulp. Their evidence was given in pidgin English, interpreted by a police inspector, who was "protector of aborigines" for that district.

The counsel for the defense had the advantage of having lived for some time among the blacks when a boy, and could consequently make himself easily understood by them. "You yabba longa me now," was his intimation that they were now to speak to him instead of to his learned brother. "You tell me straight, no tell lies," was sufficient to emphasize the importance of truthful answers. Several peculiarities in linguistic usage came out during the examination. The witnesses used the word "lose" as a euphemism for "die" and "kill" in place of "strike." It had the oddest effect to hear how one man would kill the other, and then the other would retaliate by killing him.

First Lord of the Admiralty.

The breakdown in health of Lord Tweedmouth has come as a great shock to his many friends and admirers. A tactful, kindly man, he has earned popularity in all quarters, and the services he has rendered to his party have been invaluable. Lord Tweedmouth is one of the best raconteurs in society to-day, and one of his most amusing stories concerns a predecessor of his at the Admiralty who, knowing little of naval matters, was, during an inspection at Portsmouth, sent away satisfied, after asking where the quarter-deck of a torpedo boat was, with the remark of an officer, who said: "Oh, that is all right, sir; the fact of the matter is, we have just stowed the quarter-deck for coaling." Lord Tweedmouth says he will never forget the surprise and shock which were occasioned him by the fall of the last Liberal Government over the memorable Cordite division. All had seemed well when he left the House and drove to his home in Park Lane. He had no sooner got inside the door, however, than the telephone bell tinkled. He put his ear to the receiver, and the melancholy news was delivered to him that while he had been driving home the government had fallen.

The
"Hecla" Furnace
Each one of these four grates can be shaken separately

The outer edge of a furnace fire burns up quicker than the center.

This raises a wall of ashes between the fire-pot and the coals, just where the hottest part of the fire should be.

To heat the house properly and economically, these ashes must be removed whenever the furnace is attended to.

In most furnaces, all the grates are geared together. They must all be shaken together. As the coal burns unevenly, either good coal must be shaken down with the ashes, or the fire slightly shaken and the ashes and clinkers raked down with a poker.

In the "Hecla" Furnace, each of the four grate bars can be shaken separately. When ashes accumulate on the sides of the firepot, shake only the side bars. This means getting rid of all the ashes—saving coal—keeping the fire clean—and doing away with sifting ashes.

When the furnace is almost out, you can shake down the ashes farthest from the fire without disturbing the live coals, and quickly have a blazing fire.

Clinkers cause no trouble, as they do with grates that are fastened together and must all be shaken together.

It is certainly easier to shake one grate than four.

An Automatic Lock holds each bar in position. This Lock opens as the shaker is put on and locks when released.

"Hecla" Triangular Bar Grates may be removed in an instant and each bar replaced separately.

Our new catalogue describes the "Hecla" Bar Grates, Steel Ribbed Firepot, Fused Joints and other exclusive features. If you are going to put in a new furnace this year, write for a free copy. 56

THE THINNING OF THE ROOTS

Some Farmers Do This in a Negligent Manner

HOW TO GET BEST RESULTS

From The Canadian Dairyman.

While visiting some farms recently, our attention was attracted to the slip-shod method in which some farmers thin their roots. On one occasion in particular, we noticed a man thinning turnips. He was short of help, and the turnips and the grass had gotten the start of him. By skimming over his work, he was trying to make up for lost time. The grass and weeds he took but scant notice of. If such were taken out by the stroke of the hoe, well and good. If not, it made no difference. Besides, the turnips were being left too close together to yield a profitable return.

The value of making a thorough job of thinning roots the first time the work is done, is evident. Especially is this so, when labor is at a premium. By carefully thinning the roots at the first operation, taking care to destroy all grass and weeds, secondary attention is unnecessary in most cases. With the turnips referred to, however, if they were to yield a fair return, they would require a second-hand hoeing at an early date. As it takes but little longer to make a perfect job while at it, the waste of labor is readily apparent where the careless work is done.

Having secured a good stand of roots, many of us lack the courage to thin them at a proper distance. We fail to realize that roots need considerable room in which to develop to their normal size. Detailed studies of the results of experiment stations on the thinning of roots, reveal the fact that, as the distance between the plants increases, there is a greater average weight per root. This average varies from one-half pound to one and one-quarter pounds. There is, however, a slight decrease in the yield per acre, varying with the distance apart. While a heavier yield is obtained where close thinning is practised, much more labor is entailed in harvesting the crop, besides, the small roots are not so saleable. Turnips should have at least eight inches of space. In most cases, 10 or 12 inches would give better results. While close thinning results in slightly larger yields of roots per acre, it involves also a greater amount of work, both in thinning and harvesting the crop. Such labor is of considerable value, and is worth reckoning with. It, alone, is enough to induce us to leave the roots farther apart at thinning.

A COLD STORAGE FOR FRUIT

Growers of Early Apples Have Already Met With Difficulty

From The Canadian Dairyman.

Growers of early apples and other tender fruits who have in the past been desirous of shipping to Great Britain, have met with difficulty in securing suitable cold storage temperatures on board steamships, because of the fact that they did not have a sufficient quantity to fill a cold storage chamber. Owing to the special temperature required, there is no other produce with which fruit can be successfully shipped in cold storage.

In order to meet this difficulty, and to provide suitable cold storage temperatures for the shipment of early apples and other tender fruits in small lots, the Honorable the Minister of Agriculture has authorised me to contract for the entire space of one chamber on the steamship "Ontarian" sailing from Montreal for London on August 22nd, and also on the steamship "Sicilian" sailing for the same port on August 29th. The space in these chambers is now available for shippers at the regular rate of freight which is 30 shillings per ton measurement (40 cubic feet) payable to the steamship company in the regular way. The proper temperature will be maintained in these chambers regardless of the quantity of fruit which may be offered for shipment. The Government guarantees the earnings of the whole space.

As the space in these chambers is limited, intending shippers must notify the Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner, Ottawa, without delay. First come will be first served until the space is all engaged when no further shipments for that steamer can be accepted. Applications for space should state the number and size of the packages which are to be shipped, in order that a proper estimate of the space to be occupied may be made.

The Department of Agriculture will assume no responsibility in connection with these shipments, but there will be the usual supervision by the cargo inspectors at Montreal and London and a complete temperature record will be secured of the chamber during the voyage.

Shipments for the "Ontarian" on August 22nd, should reach Montreal not later than the morning of the 21st and for the "Sicilian" not later than the morning of the 28th. Chambers will be secured for later shipments if there is sufficient fruit to warrant making a contract.

FINISH OF HARVEST NOW IN SIGHT

War Against Weeds Has Ceased—Opportunities Still Left to Get Rid of Them

LITTLE LABOUR REQUIRED

From The Canadian Dairyman.

Harvest will soon be over. The corn fields have been laid by, and the root crops have received their final cultivation. With many, the war against weeds has ceased till another year comes round. This is a poor time to cease efforts to rid ourselves of weeds. It is possible just now to wage a successful war against many of them. We have still one more chance to dispose of the stray weeds left in the corn field, and in the root crop. They should be gathered, and not allowed to mature their seed, and provide endless work for coming seasons. The burdocks, found in fence corners, on practically all farms, should be taken care of at once. Do not allow this nuisance to become more widespread by leaving the burrs undisturbed, for the cattle, the horses and other stock, to distribute over the farm. Aside from distributing the seed, what is more unsightly than the burrs matted in the long hair on the tails of horses and cattle? Burrs are readily disposed of by grubbing below the surface of the ground, piling them and when dry, burning.

Many weeds, such as rag weed, foxtail and others, have made little appearance thus far. Now that the grain is harvested, they have their chance, and rest assured, they will make good use of it. Do not allow these troublesome pests to gain a greater foothold than they already have. Do not allow them to grow up and mature their seed unmolested. These weeds make their greatest advances in the early and late fall, when they are too frequently overlooked. They may be readily coped with by practising after-harvest cultivation. With a two-furrowed plow, or with an ordinary gang plow, skim over the stubble land lightly. Weeds that have obtained a foothold, will thus be checked. Seeds that have matured, or that exist in the ground, will be induced to germinate, and they will meet their finish through subsequent cultivation or by the frosts of winter.

If it is not possible to plow the field, use the disc harrow. By discing, or giving similar cultivation a mower into requisition, and clip all weeds off ere they mature their seed. Many of them mature their seed earlier than we think. Do not be caught napping in this respect, but catch them ere they have reached that stage.

Probably at no time can be do so much towards eradicating weeds with little labor as now. Few realize this; at least, few practise it. By cultivating after harvest, when the crops are out of the way, much faster working implements can be used, and greater areas can be attended to. Results from work of this nature will be readily apparent next year in the fewer weeds that will come to annoy and cheat us from reaping a full return from the crops sown.

THE HOME MARKET FOR BUTTER

In Contrast With Cheese—Exports are, However, on the Increase

SOME COMPLAINTS AIRED

From The Canadian Dairyman.

In contrast with cheese the home market is the chief factor in the butter trade. During 1907 very little butter was exported. From May 1st to July 22nd each year, the exports of butter from Montreal were 46,552 packages for 1908 and 15,369 packages for 1907. This shows an increase of 31,183 packages in the exports so far this season, as compared with the same period a year ago. And yet, notwithstanding this increase, the home market is still the chief factor in the butter trade. On this market all our dairy butter is sold.

There has been a marked improvement in the quality of the dairy butter in recent years. Choice dairy butter is quoted at only a cent or two a pound below creamery. A few years ago there was a much wider margin than this and creamery butter often sold at four and five cents a lb. more than the best dairy butter. Dairy butter is not only improved in quality but it is offered to the consumer in better shape. It is more tastily put up and handled in a more cleanly way.

The farm cream separator has had very much to do with this improvement in dairy butter. By quick separation and careful handling of the cream a better quality is insured. The shot-gun can plan while a great improvement over the shallow plan method, is not so effective as the separator plan in insuring a good quality of cream. The pound print has also greatly aided in increasing the demand for dairy butter. It is neat and tidy and makes it possible to pack and handle the butter to better advantage. There are many farm dairies that put up as nice looking butter prints as the average creamery and which sell for nearly the same price. Contrast this condition with that of a few years ago. What a variety of ways dairy butter was sent to market then. Butter put up in the old way would hardly find sale to-day even though prices are high.

There have been complaints that dairy butter is branded as creamery to the detriment of the latter. Such a practice should be frowned down upon and if need be legislation enacted to prevent it. It is a fraud on the public and injurious to the creamery butter trade. There is no need of doing this. Good dairy butter, branded as such will find a ready market. There is to-day little difference between the price of choice dairy and creamery and so long as this condition exists there is no excuse for selling one for the other. The dairy farmer who puts up a choice quality of butter, has nothing to gain by dishonest branding. Let him stick to the dairy brand and always be sure that the quality is right, and there will be no difficulty about finding a market. Other things being equal, a better quality of butter should be made on a dairy farm than at a creamery. The maker has all the conditions governing the quality of the product under his control, the cows, the milk and the cream. At the creamery, every kind of cream is received and the maker does not begin to control things until the cream reaches the factory. The farmer, therefore, making his own butter has this advantage, providing he has the necessary equipment and facilities for making butter.

We do not wish to be considered, however as advocating the farm dairy as against the creamery. In these days of expensive help and costly machinery and outfits for butter-making, the creamery presents many advantages. With a farm separator and the cream only sent to the creamery, there is little labor in butter-making for the producer. For this, and other things there is every reason why farmers should patronize the creamery in preference to making their own butter. At the same time there are farmers who prefer to make their own butter, or are so situated that they cannot send to a creamery. For these, there is every encouragement to do one's best. People will buy good butter and pay a good price for it whether it is made on the farm or in a creamery.

For seven centuries the ancient Hexham, Northumberland, Abbey, originally founded by St. Wilfred, has been without a nave, but the abbey has now been completed at a cost of £30,000 and, the addition was consecrated the other day by the Archbishop of York, who during the ceremony occupied the ancient episcopal chair of St. Wilfred, first used by that prelate in 674. The original church at Hexham was built by St. Wilfred about the year 674. It was destroyed by the Danes in 875 and its successor similarly suffered in 995. The present church dedicated to St. Andrew, was built about the beginning of the thirteenth century.

Harry J Thame, lock-keeper at Marsh Lock, Henley-on-Thames, recently saved the life of an eleven-year-old boy—the twenty-fifth person whom Thame has rescued from death. The task was extremely perilous, inasmuch as the boy had fallen into the weir stream, and was tossed like a cork by the waters. Thame plunged in, and brought the lad ashore, and successfully resorted to artificial respiration, afterwards putting the boy to bed in his own house for several hours.

The other day Douglas, Isle of Man, town council accepted the gift of a large bronze tablet to perpetuate the memory of Sir Wm. Hillary, the founder of the National Lifeboat Institution, whose grave, without an epitaph, is in St. George's churchyard, Douglas. The tablet is the work of Mr. H Clucas, retired marine engineer, one of the donors, Sir William often took his place as one of the crew in the Douglas lifeboat and went to the assistance of wrecks.

Hotly pursued by the Devon and Somerset staghounds, a fine stag entered Brampton, Devonshire, and was killed in a resident's back garden in the presence of a large crowd. A few days previously a stag was hunted through the Devonshire and Cornwall Territorial camp at East Anstey.

An extraordinary harvest incident occurred recently at Beam Bridge, Somerset, a spark from a railway engine setting fire to ten acres of barley. So furious was the fire that a man with a reaping machine had to gallop his horses to a place of safety.

IRELAND

Recently while a number of bullocks belonging to a cattle dealer who resides in the neighbourhood were being driven up West street, Carrickfergus, they entered the premises of Mr. Adam Strange, boot and shoe maker, and one of them mounted the stairs leading from the hall. The animal had little difficulty in finding its way to the first landing, and thence it entered the front room, which overlooks the street and is used as a work room. It then put its head out of the open window, and having surveyed the street below, bellowed and turned round, much to the consternation of the inmates of the house. Help was procured and after considerable trouble the bullock was induced to descend the stairs and pass out of the shop into the street.

An excursion party crowding into a railway carriage standing by itself on an incline at Kilmacrennan, County Donegal, set the vehicle in motion. Many screaming occupants jumped out, while the station-master made an attempt to stop the runaway by placing stones on the line. The carriage dashed through two crossing gates, and came to a standstill at the foot of the incline, a mile distant. The only passenger injured was a man who jumped into a boghole and was almost drowned.

The London owners of the Australian Star Line have it is understood, placed an order with Messrs. Workman and Clark, Belfast, for two large steamships of between 8,000 and 10,000 tons each. The same firm will shortly launch the new Holt liner; while Messrs. Harland and Wolff will, about the same time launch the new Elder-Dempster steamship Leopoldville. A little later the latter firm will launch the 14,000 ton White Star liner Laurentic.

A bailiff in Birr, King's County, has made an unusual seizure. A local carpenter having failed to meet his liabilities, the officers of the law proceeded to take possession of his goods, but the only article to be found was a newly finished coffin, which was promptly impounded. The coffin is announced to be sold by public auction in the square of the town, unless the unfortunate carpenter can redeem it.

SCOTLAND

The annual services in commemoration of the Battle of Rullion Green was held the other Sunday afternoon at Flotterstone Haugh, in the neighbourhood of the battlefield, in presence of about 1,000 persons. Rev. A O Gregg, Leadhead, recounting the history of the struggle, said Colonel Wallace anticipated by thirteen years the Battle of Drumclog, and by twenty-two years the glorious Revolution; and if these were subjects of praise he did not seen where there was room for censuring the Covenanters who fought at Rullion Green.

The King has approved of the appointment of Sir Edward Tennant, Bart. M.P., to be Lord-Lieutenant of the county of Peebles, in the place of Lord Elibank, who has resigned the office. Sir Edward, who is the second baronet, succeeded his father, the late Sir Charles Tennant, in 1906, and is in his 50th year. He became the representative for Salisbury at the last General Election. Lady Tennant, whom Sir Edward married in 1895, is a daughter of the Hon. Percy Wyndham and grand daughter of the first Lord Leconfield.

The ruins of Rothesay Castle and the moat have become so infested with rats that the Marquis of Bute has engaged a London firm to exterminate them. The men began operations on Tuesday. There are more than eighty farms on the island, and it is also proposed to clear them of the rodents, while the Rothesay municipal authorities have decided to wage war against the rat.

The Hamburg-American liner Oceania, from Hamburg to Leith, grounded recently, about midnight on hidden rocks to the east of Inchkeith in the Firth of Forth. At high tide the Oceania floated and proceeded to Leith Roads. The 200 passengers were unaware of the accident and slept on.

Mr. Keir Hardie, M.P., speaking at Cumnock, Ayrshire, before sailing for Canada, declared that the country is descending into one of the depths of unemployment which come periodically. He said that in Glasgow there were 20,000 heads of families out of employment.

Surprising Figures Shown In Victualling An Ocean Liner

Beer by the Half Million Gallons and Potatoes by the 10,000 Tons —More Than 8,000,000 Pounds of Beef and 6,500,000 Eggs

A YEAR'S FOOD SUPPLY

It must be the gyroscope attachment on the modern transatlantic liner, or else the ball-bearings on which they run, which has reduced the proverbial amount of seasickness among the passengers. If it shall turn out that they do not have a gyroscope attachment and navigation has nothing to do with ball-bearings, readers are respectfully requested to supply their own explanation. That an explanation is due comes to one's understanding after only a little examination of the food figures relating to 1907, picturesquely set forth by the chief steward of one of the big lines.

Seasick passengers, no matter how many of them are carried, could not comfortably consume food of which the wholesale cost was more than $4,000,000. This is seen at once when it is noted that the total expense for coal on the same line was but $7,000,000, and, of course, none of the boilers was seasick and their consuming capacity is notoriously greater than any passengers no matter how good an appetite he has.

Before noting some of the figures of food, it is pleasing to observe some of those relating to beverages. Now, as to champagne, which is said to be an excellent cure, and, for that matter, a preventive of seasickness, passengers last year pulled the plugs out of only a few more than 51,000 bottles of champagne. When it comes to claret, the figures jump go respectably that it is seen that a man may raise a thirst somewhere west of Suez as well as east. Of that cheerful and ruddy beverage, the first-class passengers consumed 129,209 bottles. That sounds pretty good, but the consumption by the third-class passengers makes it appear a mere tipple by comparison, for those in the steerage joyfully drank not less than 121,297 gallons of claret, presumably of the variety known as "petit bleu," about which there is a song which the Paris students sing when inspired by it.

There is something (observing this just as the Prohibitionists have nominated their ticket) rather appalling to read that of the various grades of brandy the passengers consumed 20,641 bottles and 73,384 gallons. But these are, after all, trifling nips when we come to look at the figures relating to beer, for of that beverage, more than half a million gallons were drunk, and it is not reported that the quarter-master had any unusual police duty to perform at that.

The recent installation of the a la carte system in the restaurants of the modern liners accounts for an amazing growth in the consumption of delicacies, such as were seldom found on even the best ships when the business of feeding passengers was exclusively table d'hote. Restaurant diners on the liners whose figures are being considered, consumed many, many thousand partridges, snipe, quails, pheasants, grouse, canvasback ducks. They demanded literally many hundreds of thousands of live lobsters and crawfish, of fresh littlenecks, bluepoints, and softshell crabs. They consumed such a quantity of green turtle soup that the chefs had to use up 13,407 pounds of fresh turtle in its making.

Coming around to the more substantial articles of diet, it is found that of fresh beef there were used 8,311,927 pounds, and of pork, and veal and mutton about three-quarters of a million pounds of each. Potatoes to go with these weighed in excess of 10,000 tons, a very fair cargo in itself.

The passengers seem to begin the day with hearty appetites, as well as going to lunch and dinner in the same blessed condition. They consumed of eggs six and a half million and of calves' livers and bacon an appropriate quantity to supplement the eggs, and with their morning toast 216,503 tins of marmalade and other such sweets.

As if these figures were not proof enough that Lloyd's should make a very low rate of insurance against seasickness these days, it is noted that besides what smoking material passengers took on board with them, 2,327,225 cigars and packages of cigarettes were had from the smoking-room steward. It is interesting to note in conclusion that, while the consumption of beer, wine and spirituous liquor indicates pretty generous living, figuring on the basis of all the passengers carried for the year, each passenger consumed, after all only five-sixths of a gallon of such cheering beverages, while the average consumption of mineral water was a full gallon. These figures do not include 76,223 bottles of sterilized milk, which were dealt out to the children on board.

BRAN OR PULP MEAL FOR FEED

Relative Qualities of Each to be Considered in Feeding.

From The Canadian Dairyman.

Which is more profitable to feed, both for milk and fertilizer, bran or pulp meal? The pulp meal is something new this way. I am about to buy in my winter supply and should like to know your opinion.—J. L. T., Jr., Coaticooke, Que.

The question of profit in feeding a given material depends upon two chief factors, its composition and its cost. Supposing sugar beet pulp meal and bran to cost the same figure f.o.b. your station, then bran is much more likely to be a profitable feed than is sugar beet pulp meal. On the average of a large number of analyses, dried sugar beet pulp meal contains about 6 per cent. protein, and 70 per cent carbohydrates, while wheat bran contains from 12 per cent to 13 per cent protein, about 40 per cent carbohydrates, and from 3 per cent to 4 per cent fat or ether extract, a very much better balanced feed for dairy cattle than dried sugar beet pulp.

When it comes to their relative values from a fertilizing standpoint, wheat bran is given more to the fore than when feeding values are compared. One thousand pounds wheat bran contains from 26 to 27 lbs. nitrogen, from 28 to 30 lbs. phosphoric acid, and from 16 to 17 lbs. potash; while 1,000 lbs. dried sugar beet pulp contains about 14 lbs. nitrogen, about 3 lbs. phosphoric acid, and about 4 lbs. potash.

It might just be added that the present moment is probably not the best time at which to purchase the winter supply of feed. Owing to small crops last year, bye-products of all kinds are rather scarce and very high-priced. I would advise delaying purchase till considerably later in the season, unless of course you can get these feeds at prices considerably lower than present market quotations.—J. H. Grisdale, Agriculturist, Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

POST OFFICE ON HIS HEAD

HISTORY OF THE TOWNSHIP

The Township of Otonabee, the third of the quartette which surrounds this city, is one of the best and most fertile in the county, and is bounded on the north by Douro; on the south by the River Otonabee and Rice Lake; on the west by the River Otonabee and on the east by Asphodel.

The township was surveyed in 1819, and in the same year the first settler, George Kent, located on his land. A number of other immigrants accompanied him, but for some reason did not stay long. Captain Chas. Rubidge, who did so much in the settling of the Robinson emigrants, visited the township in that year and the year following returned and settled there permanently, being the first man in the township to perform settlement duties. During 1820 a considerable number of settlers entered the township and made their homes there.

Early Trading Post

Many years before the white man entered the forests of Otonabee there was an Indian trading post kept by an Indian named Herkimer and afterwards by Major Chas. Anderson, on a point on the northern shore of Rice Lake, near what is now called Hiawatha. To this place the enterprising trader would paddle across Rice Lake and exchange his bales of flannel for valuable furs. In the early days of the township's history a number of retired army officers obtained a number of the best lots along the front of the township. Many of these officers were not actual settlers, but hired men, to perform the settlement duties for them. Having thus obtained a title for their land they waited until the labour of actual resident settlers had made their land of value and then sold at a profit.

The Draw Backs

A great draw back to the settlement of the township was that the only way of entering it was by cross-Rice Lake, which by reason of its breadth and shallowness was exceedingly dangerous even when a slight wind was blowing. Many narrow escapes and some fatal accidents are recorded as having occurred on the lake in the fall of 1820, three persons having been drowned by the upsetting of a sail boat in which they were bringing their effects across the lake. Owing to the frequency of accidents of this kind the lake obtained a bad reputation which very much retarded the advance of the settlement. Many young men rather than endure the exertion, expense and risk involved in bringing in supplies left the township and took up land elsewhere.

Settlers' Difficulties

In the winter, provisions and necessities were brought across the lake on hand sleighs and then along a crooked road through trackless snow, to the pioneer houses north of the lake. During the summer months the taking of grain to Scott's mill at "the Plains" was an ardous task. It had to be carried some miles to Rice Lake, then paddled in a canoe to the mouth of the Otonabee and then up that crooked river to where the mill and a couple of houses marked the site of the future Peterborough. Many and strange, indeed, were the devices adopted by the settlers to provide themselves with what were akin to the conveniences which they found difficulty in obtaining from the front.

One of the greatest helps to the progress of Otonabee was the road constructed by Capt Rubidge from Bannister's Point near Hiawatha, to Peterborough, for which he received both thanks and reward from Sir Peregrine Maitland, who personally inspected the road.

The first postoffice in the township was kept by Capt. Rubidge at his house. The mail was never very large and it is related that the Captain used to carry the letters in his hat and when he met a person for whom he had a letter, he would simply take the "postoffice off his head and pick out the welcome missive.

First Schoolhouse

The first school house in Otonabee was of logs and stood on the east half of lot 24, con. 4. It was built in 1829 and the first school master was David Houston, a Scotchman, who came from Cobourg.

The first clergyman who visited the settlers in Otonabee was the Rev. Samuel Armour, Episcopal minister at Peterborough, who held a service once a month. The Rev. Mr. Evans, missionary to the Rice Lake Indians, and the Rev. Daniel McMullen, two Wesleyan Methodist ministers of the Cobourg circuit, followed in the Rev. Mr. Armour's wake. In 1834 the first Presbyterian minister visited the township in the person of Rev. Arch. Colquhoun, and the first churches erected were the Methodist and Presbyterian churches at Keene.

"Salada" Tea remains in favour year after year with enormously increasing sales, simply because it is always true to its high standard of quality. 68

NARROW ESCAPE OF LOCAL BOYS AT BARRIEFIELD CAMP; HORSES RUN AWAY WITH GUN

Camp Barriefield, Sept. 4.—Driver Callihan, of Peterborough, had a miraculous escape from death yesterday, when two teams of horses ran away with one of the guns of the 24th Field Battery. In their mad dash he was thrown between the horses and the pole of the limber, and certainly was fortunate in his escape.

After the animals were brought to a standstill Driver Austin, of Douro, undertook to drive Callihan's team, as the latter was somewhat injured.

When the horses went around the flank to form up in their proper place they almost immediately darted off again and ran about a mile with the heavy gun. Driver Allen was partly thrown off, but pluckily held on to a horse's wither until they were brought to a sudden stop by being upset with the gun in a badly mixed up heap. The horses were unhitched and taken to the camp. Drivers Callihan and Allen both escaped serious injury, and the horses came through the mad dashes with a few scratches.

Chaplain Langfeldt, of the 3rd Dragoons, arrived in camp yesterday and is enjoying himself with both the divisional staff and the officers of his own regiment.

Kicked in the Back

This morning a private of the 4th Hussars was kicked in the back while waiting at the water trough to water his horse. The ambulance was called and the man taken to the hospital, where he is getting along nicely.

OCCUPANTS OF BUGGY THROWN INTO DITCH BY A COLLISION

While driving on the Middle Line road of Smith on Thursday, Mr. J. F. Thornton, George street, and brother Wesley of Orono, were run into by Mr. Geo. Armstrong's horse, which had shied at a little bush on the roadside. The strange part of the affair is that Mr. Armstrong is said to have put forth no effort to curb his animal.

Mr. Thornton was just about one mile and a half from town when he saw the other vehicle approaching. Both horses were travelling at a fairly fast rate. When but a short distance ahead of them, Armstrong's horse shied, and Mr. Thornton drove into the ditch to be out of the way. The other animal shied again and ran straight at them, colliding with their buggy. Both Mr. Tahrnton and his brother were thrown out as their vehicle was overturned. Mr. Wesley Thornton fell on his back on a stone and still feels the effect of the bruises received.

Mr. Thornton said, "What on earth are you doing? Are you sleeping?" for Mr. Armstrong had made no attempt to hold in the horse.

"It was an accident," he replied. "My horse is accumstomed to shying."

After upsetting Mr. Thornton's buggy, the horse tangled its harness, broke a shaft and got away. It ran up the road a short distance, stopped and looked back, just like Maud the mule." Mr. Thornton almost expected to hear it bray the well-known "Hee-haw."

TWO LOCAL COMPANIES WILL MANUFACTURE UNDER SAME ROOF

About the first of October the most easterly building of those of the Peterborough Cereal Company will be occupied by Messrs. Collier and Cunningham, for the manufacture of their electrical inventions, and the Diamond Calk Horseshoe.

An arrangement has been made by the Diamond Calk Horseshoe Company, of which Mr. H. P. Kennedy is president, with Messrs. Collier and Cunningham by which the two will operate under the one management, but still retain their individuality. On the grounds floor a machine shop is being fitted up for the manufacture of the horseshoes. This work is now carried on in the Collier-Cunningham factory on Hunter street. In the new shop, however, the work will be much more extensive. Some of the machinery arrived yesterday, and their installation will be commenced at once.

On th esecond floor the electrical goods will be manufactured. The company is now turning out smoothing irons for domestic, tailor and laundry work. They are also making electric heaters and toasters, which are proving most serviceable. In the new building the combined manufactures should meet with even greater success than in the past.

THE RICE LAKE RICE CROP RIPE; INDIANS BEGIN THE HARVEST

The rice crop on Rice Lake and tributaries is very good this year and is now ripe for gathering. The harvesters are Indians, and there are at present twelve or fourteen camps on Sugar Island, at the mouth of Indian River. The proceeding of harvesting is simple, if tedious, the harvester in a canoe is armed with a stick. The canoes are propelled among the rice beds, a bunch of rice is grasped and the heads bent over the edge of the canoe, and being beaten off fall into the bottom of the craft. The process is repeated till a shipload is gathered. The rice is taken to camp, where it is winnowed by the primitive method of tossing handfulls in the air, the wind blowing alway the chaff in the ascent and descent. The rice is then roasted and prepared finally for the market or for home consumption.

UNANIMOUS CHOICE

Hon. J. R. Stratton Accepts The Nomination Of The West Peterborough Liberals At The Convention To-day.

VERY LARGE ATTENDANCE

At a largely attended convention of West Peterborough Liberals in the Grand Opera House this afternoon Mr. R. R. Hall, ex-M.P., was nominated, but stated that for business reasons he was compelled to decline the nomination. Hon. J. R. Stratton was tendered the unanimous nomination and accepted.

MAGISTRATE MAKES SOME COMMENTS ON WORK OF THE COUNCIL

During the hearing of a case before him this morning in which the question of flushing sewers came up, Magistrate Dumble made some comments upon the Council and the way in which it carries on its work.

"When will this city learn to do things as they should be done?" he asked. "I have never seen a sewer flushed this year."

He advised the parties involved in the case to wait upon the chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee and endeavour to have the sewer in question, which runs along the lane behind the stores on the east side of George street, between Brock and Hunter streets, flushed.

"Don't depend on any agreement with the Council," he remarked, "unless it is in the shape of a hard and fast bylaw."

DISTINGUISHED BRITISH EDITOR TO SPEND SUNDAY HERE

Peterborough will have in its midst over to-morrow a distinguished British editor in the person of Dr. Thirtle, editor of the "Christian," a well known religious journal published in England. Mr. Thirtle is visiting Canada and will spend Sunday at "Hazel Brae," the headquarters of the Barnardo Home in this city. He is expected to arrive this evening.

SPRINGVILLE MAN HAS PRIZE FOWL AT THE TORONTO FAIR

Mr. Jas. Baptie of Springville, a member of the Peterborough Poultry Association, has fourteen entries in the poultry exhibit at the Toronto Exhibition. Among his fowl is a Golden Hamburg cock which he imported last spring from England. It was exhibited at the Crystal Palace, London, taking many prizes. It was considered the best fowl of its class in England. The other entries are Silver Wyandottes, Black and Silver Hamburgs.

OPINIONS OF THE PRINCIPALS IN THE BIG MATCH

Fritz Mohl seen by the Examiner after the bout, said that he had no complaint to make. "Rogers is one of the roughest wrestlers and the greatest ring generals that I have ever been up against. The bump that put me out of business might have been an accident. It is not for me to say anything about that. I try to take my bumps when I get them, and to be a good loser. I don't know whether the blow was deliberate or not, but Rogers certainly took full advantage of it."

Not Rough, Says Rogers

"Rough!" Exclaimed Rogers when asked for an opinion. "That was not rough. You should see Perille the fighting Dane, before you call tonight's match rough. It is all in the business. Mohl is game, there is no doubt of that, and for a fat man, is in the best of condition. I had to finish him off quickly.

Would Beat Gotch

"Rogers travelled faster towards the finish than he has done in two years," remarked W B Naylor, the Yankee's manager, after the match, to the Examiner. "If he were to go up against Gotch and travel like that he would give the world's champion an awful battle. All that Gotch had on him was his speed, and Yankee wrestled as fast at the end to-night as Gotch ever did."

LABOUR DAY WILL BE QUIETLY SPENT IN PETERBORO' BUT MANY PEOPLE WILL GO OUT OF TOWN

Monday is Labour Day, by statute a public holiday, and with fine weather the citizens will have their last outing for the summer of 1908. Holidays are fairly plentiful during the warm months, but most people would like to see even more. On Monday next there is practically nothing doing in the city. The chief excursion out of town will be the I. O. F. to Idyl Wyld. The steamer Otonabee has been chartered for the day and the committee have been labouring to make the day an enjoyable one. There will be plenty of provision for dances, and a splendid list of sports has been arranged. The prizes for the twenty-six events are all good ones, and the races should bring out many contestants.

Each person buying a ticket is entitled to a guess at the number of beans in the bottle, which is now on exhibition in the China Hall window. The prize is a china tea set, also to be seen in the window. It was presented by Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P.

The 57th Regiment and bands will leave for Kingston on Saturday night on a trip which promises to be the best in their history. The train leaves the G. T. R. station at 10.15 p. m.

Toronto and Lindsay

There will, undoubtedly, be a large crowd go up to Toronto for the day, the majority returning the same evening.

There is a big day in Lindsay on Monday, and many will likely go up from here. A general field day of sports will be run off and Peterborough is well represented among the entries. A picked ball team of local players will meet a similar nine from the Lindsay League.

Many will assuredly go up to Stony Lake, particularly those having cottages. Labour Day practically marks the close of the season at the summer resorts.

There will be a number spend the day fishing and shooting on the river and Rice Lake.

For those who remain at home there is the Roller Rink, which should enjoy a large patronage. If the weather is fine the day should be delightfully spent, according to the individual idea of enjoyment.

SKIES WERE ILLUMINATED WITH GRAND DISPLAY OF AURORA BOREALIS

There was a most beautiful aurora borealis display in the skies last night that was witnessed by a large number of citizens, who describe the illumination as most spectacular. Rev. Dr. Marsh, the president of the Peterborough Astronomical Society, when asked by the Examiner for the cause of the display, stated that it was due to the spots on the sun. Some days ago, it will be remembered, Dr. Marsh said that there were great spots on the sun, and stated that there would be probably an aurora borealis display. Yesterday the spots had drifted to the western limb of the sun and there were corresponding spots on the eastern limb to balance while on both limbs were calcium and hydrogen fires.

Rev. Dr. Marsh states that the display last night was the most beautiful he had ever seen. Great patches of illuminated clouds were thrown across the sky about eleven o'clock, shooting from east to west. The aurora borealis was so bright that the light glittered upon the windows of the church at Springville. The citizens of Peterborough should watch the skies to-night, as there is likely to be another display, though perhaps not as brilliant as last night. There are still spots on each limb of the sun.

VAGRANT GETS DRUNK ON WAY TO GAOL WITH WARRANT IN HIS POCKET

To be liberated from jail yesterday morning, brought before Magistrate Edmison during the day, sentenced to six months in the county jail, allowed to take himself up to the jail with the warrant of commitment in his pocket, get drunk on the way, to fall into the clutches of the city police and to spend the night in the police station, is a resume of the somewhat unusual adventures of Frederick Rawlings, who appeared before Magistrate Dumble at Police Court this morning on a charge of being drunk. Rawlings, it will be remembered, was given 30 days in the county jail because of an argument he had with the superintendent of the House of Refuge. He got out yesterday, and, desiring to go back to the haven on the hill, appeared before the county magistrate and was accommodated with a six-months' sentence. He promised to go right back to the jail and accordingly was given a warrant of commitment and started out. On the way he fell among boon companions and as a result forgot he was headed jailwards and was in the midst of a glorious jag when the city police unfeelingly "hutted into" the game and escorted him to the central lodging house. This morning he told the magistrate he would rather go to jail than be in the county House of Refuge, and accordingly he was waltzed up to Castle Nesbitt by P. C. Meharry. "Give him a bath a day," said the magistrate as he left the court room. "That will kill him quick."

At a meeting of the Fire, Water and Light Committee last night Ald. Morrow was in the chair and Ald. Phelan and Bradburn present. BOY ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF THE THEFT OF A CASE OF WHISKEY

A young boy named Wright was arrested by Special Officer Thomas Lytle this afternoon on a charge of stealing a case of whisky. The officer saw Wright pulling the box out from some bushes where it was hidden on Aylmer street, and arrested the boy and brought him to the station. Wright claimed that he knew nothing about the whisky, save that he had found the case where it was hidden. He is to appear before Magistrate Dumble at a special session of the police court this afternoon.

Col. Sergeant W H Moore, of the 57th Regiment, has been for the second time successful in catching a place on the Bisley Team, and will be eligible to go to England next year as the result of his good shooting at the D.R.A. matches in Ottawa. Col.-Sergt. Moore was fifteenth, with a score of 272, in the Bisley aggregate, which includes the grand aggregate and the 800 and 900 yards ranges of the Governor-General's match. The winners's score was 385. The first twenty go to England.

WILL PUT SKIDOO SIGN OUT FOR THE LOOSE STONES

The loose stones on the streets are going to take wing one of these days and disappear. Ald. Phelan stated that he expected to have a number of men on the road with a cart to collect the boulders, large and small, that are considered an annoyance and a sign of carelessness.

42ND TIME ON THE OCEAN

Mr. J. J. Turner, Sr., Returns From His 42nd Trip Over The Atlantic—Pleasure And Business.

IT WAS A SIGNAL HONOUR

Mr. J. J. Turner, Sr., arrived home this morning after completing his forty-second trip across the Atlantic. On Saturday, the 29th, as he boarded the Victorian at Liverpool he slipped on the deck, which was wet, and in the fall sprained some of the small bones of his right foot. He was forced to rest on the return voyage, but, nevertheless, took an active part in the social events.

Mr. Turner in his frequent trips is at home on the deep and his experience is appreciated by his fellow passengers as he possesses the "savoir faire," necessary to inaugurate games, concerts and socials. On the return trip he was appointed chairman of the official concert. He was also down for two songs, one of them being of a humorous nature and the other was Mr. Turner's forte, "The Maple Leaf Forever."

One hundred dollars was collected at this concert, the proceeds going to the Seamen's Home.

Mr. Turner was absent a month. He crossed in five days and returned in six. He also had sixteen days in London in mixing business with pleasure he secured a large order from a firm in Scotland, besides others of lesser note.

The Canadian exhibit at the Franco-British Exhibition, Mr. Turner says, is conceded to be the finest ever seen and is spoken of by visitors from all parts of the world.

UNEMPLOYMENT AND UNTHRIFT

An article in the Nineteenth Century Magazine in considering the causes of unemployment in Great Britain, written by a British workman, says that the chief causes are wastage of health and wealth by intemperance, strikes and lockouts. Competent authorities estimate that the British drink bill averages six shillings per week, for the six and a half million working families of the United Kingdom. This means an expenditure per year in intoxicating drinks alone, of 107,450,000 pounds or five hundred million dollars. This amount expended in buying goods such as clothing flannels, boots and shoes, etc., would give employment in their production to more than a million and a half workmen at $300 per year. These facts go far to sustain the statement that incomes now wasted in drink, if devoted to the purchase of personal and household necessities, whose production involves employment, would give not only a comfortable living to the spenders, but employment to an amount pretty nearly representing the amount spent on necessities instead of being wasted upon drink. These facts also justify the statement that a large proportion of the poverty and distress incident to lack of employment is due to the waste of money received as wages during the summer. When a workman with limited income from his labour, and his family live up to, and even surpass their income, during the summer—when the winter puts an end to certain forms of work, they find themselves penniless. In many cases it is true the wages earned barely suffice for necessities from day to day, but in thousands of cases, money, in excess of the legitimate cost of living, that should be laid aside for "a rainy day" is wasted in pleasure-seeking during the summer, upon picnics, excursions, junkettings, etc. Every element of thrift is wanting, no foresight is used, living for the present is the motto and practice. Thus when winter comes and employment ends the former has to be faced with empty larders and empty pockets with attendant destitution and suffering. While, in some cases, drink is the cause, of suffering, dissipation on even innocent pleasures of means that should be husbanded and saved against the day of direr need, produces as certain results. The art of spending money is as important as the art of making it. There seems to be no way of avoiding the distress that comes to every urban community every winter. There is a certain number who wont work, there is also a certain number who work, but don't know, or wont practise, the art of spending money earned, to reasonably good advantage. Thus it comes to pass that from age to age we see the truth of the saying that the poor we have with us always.

A PARTIAL ADMISSION.

The Toronto News, though it has gone over entirely and without disguise to the Conservative party, has not yet developed the party rabies to such a degree as to entirely obscure its journalistic vision. It is sometimes fair in its treatment of public questions. Though it is a most energetic opponent of the Laurier Government, it makes these candid admissions on its editorial page. The News says:

No sane person pretends that nothing of national value has been accomplished by the Laurier Administration.

Only a mad partizanship would deny the advantages of certain of its achievements.

The British preference, the Railway Commission, the Lemieux Act, the extension of the Intercolonial Railway to Montreal, the improvement of the St. Lawrence waterway, the activities of the Department of Immigration, all stand to its credit.

The Department of Agriculture has been well administered. Good work has been done by the Labour Department. There have been some good results from the heavy expenditure on the militia.

Our esteemed contemporary stops rather abruptly. Without much effort it might have added to the catalogue of good works of the Laurier Government. It might have referred in terms of eulogy—it could consistently use no other kind—to one of the earliest and one of the most creditable achievements of the Government's regime, the work of regeneration of the Post-office Department, its rescue from the slough of deficits and its establishment on the rock of efficient service and substantial surpluses. Especially creditable is the latter feature when it is remembered that it was accomplished with a reduction of one-third in the rate of postage and substantial betterment of postal service. Reference was well made to the deepening of the St. Lawrence system of Canals and the Welland Canal, a work which has diverted the grain-carrying trade of the West from New York to Montreal, which has, thanks to the Government, been made a great ocean port, with the St. Lawrence deepened and buoyed till it is no longer the terror of navigators and the bete noir of marine underwriters, but safe as mid-ocean. It might have referred to the vigourous prosecution of the Trent Canal and the conception and inauguration of the Grand Trunk Continental, other indispensable contributions to Canadian supremacy in grain shipment and the development of the country. Without any violence to strict accuracy of statement, the News might have added that in prestige, in national growth, of increase of importance among the nations, in self-reliance, in every department of its interests, Canada has made more progress during the past twelve years than during double that time in her precedent history. Let Laurier continue governing and Canada continue growing.

The First Boarder.

By Temple Bailey.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

It was so different from the usual summer boarding place that Denton stopped short and eyed doubtfully the wide lawn, the massive stone house and the garden flaming with June roses.

He even looked at the great mastiff that sauntered toward him with a suspicious eye.

"Look here, old fellow," he said, "are you in a fairy tale, or is this just an everyday fact?"

"Duke, come here," called a clear voice, and the dog bounded back to the porch.

Denton followed him.

"Are you the princess?" he asked of the owner of the clear voice.

The girl flushed and stared.

"I don't understand"— she stammered.

Denton laughed. "I beg pardon," he apologized, "for boring you with my fancies. But this place is so beautiful that I thought I had stepped out of real life into fairyland and that the dog was the monster that guarded the gate and that you were the enchanted princess."

The girl's eyes twinkled. "I'm not a princess," she told him. "I'm your landlady."

Something of a disappointment crept into Denton's expression.

"Then you are Mrs. Carter?" he hesitated.

"Miss Carter," she corrected, and he looked relieved. "In the letter that I wrote you I signed myself Mehitabel Carter, and I suppose you thought I had gray hairs and wrinkles."

"The name did suggest them," he mused, watching her sparkling face.

"Every one around here calls me Belle," she explained. "But of course when one writes letters to prospective boarders one realizes that a dignified name is an asset."

"Certainly," he agreed and settled back in his chair, content to listen and look.

But his hostess was more energetic.

"I'll show you your room," she said and led the way through the spacious hall and up the stairs to the second story.

When Denton came down a little later and found his landlady walking in the rose garden he said to her: "You needn't tell me. This is an enchanted castle. Who ever heard of white bathtubs and nickel trimmings and pond lily frieses and Circassian walnut furniture for $10 a week?"

A little anxious frown burrowed Miss Carter's forehead. "I was afraid I was charging too much," she said. "You see, you are my first boarder."

It appeared on further conversation that there were to be six other boarders, and they were to arrive at 7:30.

"Five of them are maiden ladies," Miss Carter explained, "and I told them they might bring their cats and parrots"—

"And the other one?" Denton demanded.

"Is a man," said Miss Carter, "and he wants to bring his automobile."

Denton gazed pensively across the garden toward the purple hills. "Alas," he sighed, "and I brought only a typewriter. The automobile is the dragon that I must slay."

She stiffened a little at that.

"I don't think I quite understand," she said.

"Of course not," Denton agreed quite cheerfully, "as a writer of stories I deal much in metaphor. It isn't to be expected that you would understand. But you will—some day."

He switched to other topics and learned that the beautiful house, with its beautiful furniture, had been the girl's summer home. That the failure of her father in business and his absence to fill a position in another city made her decide that the house must support itself or be sold. So she had advertised for boarders, and, with two old and trusted servants, she was going to make it pay.

"We raise all of our vegetables," she confided, "and we have our cows and make butter, and there are plenty of chickens and eggs"—

"Don't say any more," Denton begged. "I am hungry enough as it is without hearing of real milk and butter and eggs."

She laughed. "The train is due now," she said; "as soon as the other boarders get here we will have supper."

Contrary to Denton's expectations, the six old maids proved to be delightful company. Three of them were teachers, one of them wrote for the magazines, one, having a private fortune, was something of a globe trotter, and the sixth, being domestically inclined, had brought the cat and parrot.

The one man was the object of Denton's special observation. His name was Nesselrode.

"He makes me think of a pudding," Denton remarked to Miss Carter.

"I don't think he looks that way at all," Miss Carter said indignantly. "I think he is very handsome, if he is stout."

"Oh, I don't mean his looks," Denton remarked resignedly, "but his name."

Nesselrode, however, proved to be very good company, and it became quite a matter of course that the two men should spin through the country every morning in the big motor car.

In the afternoon Nesselrode always took Miss Carter, and in the back seat he packed two and sometimes three of the old ladies.

"And I stay at home with the cat and parrot," Denton remarked indignantly to Miss Carter one evening when he had carried her off to the rose garden, "for the old ladies who don't go with you always take their naps at that time, and if it wasn't for the cat and parrot I should die of loneliness."

"It's too bad," Miss Carter murmured sympathetically.

"Too bad!" Denton flared. "It's preposterous. He takes me in the morning and you in the afternoon, and I have been here three weeks, and I haven't had an hour's comfortable conversation with you since that first day."

"When you thought I was a princess," said Miss Carter demurely.

"I still think you are a princess," said Denton ardently. He leaned toward her, and the moonlight showed his pale, eager face. "I still think you are a princess, and, now that I have found you in your enchanted castle, I yearn to carry you away with me to my kingdom"—

There was a rustle in the leaves behind them. Miss Carter sat up straight. "Who is it?" she cried sharply. "Who is there?"

"Polly, Polly," said a chuckling, wavering voice, "pretty, pretty Polly."

Then a deeper voice boomed beyond the bushes.

"Is that you, Miss Carter? I am looking for Miss Pierce's parrot."

"I can't even propose to you without his butting in," Denton complained the next night when he had Miss Carter to himself for a moment in a corner of the dark porch. "Say 'yes' before he finds us here, princess, and"—

"How do you know"— Miss Carter's voice trembled through the darkness.

"I do not know," he said softly. "I can only hope"—

As he reached out his hand to take hers his fingers touched something warm and velvety.

"Purr—urr—up," came a confiding feline murmur just as Nesselrode's lumbering figure loomed near the steps.

"Did Miss Pierce's pussy cat come over here, Denton? I've been sent to look her up."

* * * * * * *

That night a burglar entered Miss Carter's house. Denton was the first to give the alarm, and he showed the family silver piled up in the middle of the table in the dining room, with the corners of the cloth twisted over it.

"I saw a light," he said, "and I came—and I suppose he was scared away. I had not been to bed"—

Miss Carter, very beautiful in a rosy dressing gown, examined the silver. "I think everything is here," she said.

"You are sure that nothing is gone from your room?" Denton asked. "He might have gone there first."

Miss Carter flew upstairs, with the six old ladies at her heels. When she came down she was as white as chalk. "My pearl necklace is gone," she said.

Denton turned to Nesselrode. "Perhaps if you took your automobile and followed the man you might get the pearls"—

"But"— Nesselrode protested.

"There are no buts in the service of a lady," Denton reminded him gravely.

And after Nesselrode had whizzed away, and the six old ladies had retired to their rooms to talk it over, Denton detained Miss Carter.

And when he had pulled down the shades of every window, and when he had closed the door, he put his hand in his pocket and pulled out the pearl necklace.

"All's fair," he said, "in love"—

"But"— she gasped.

"There was no burglar," Denton declared. "I found the pearls on the porch after you went in, and that gave me the idea, and I mussed up the things on the table. It was the only way that I could get to see you again tonight, and I couldn't stand another day of Nesselrode's monopolizing"—

Slowly a smile curved Miss Carter's lips.

"Any one would know you were a writer of stories," she said, "there were so many easier ways."

"I couldn't think of any," Denton said, "so I tried this."

He went toward her. "Nesselrode will be back presently. We must be quick. Oh, princess, is it 'yes?'"

Her cheeks were as rosy as her pretty gown.

"Of course, when the prince storms the castle the princess surrenders."

As he kissed her they heard the "chug-chug" of the returning automobile.

Nesselrode came in, puffing. "Not a sign"— he began and stopped. The two people by the table were smiling radiantly.

"I am so sorry," Miss Carter said as she held out her hand, in which glimmered a little heap of milk white beads, "I am so sorry that you had your drive for nothing, Mr. Nesselrode, but"—she hesitated and then went on steadily—"but—but Mr. Denton found the pearls!"

Circular Storms.

Meteorologists are now agreed that what are called circular storms are not circular in the proper sense of the word. There is not merely a flow of air round, but also convergence toward a central area. There is also a large upflow over and near the central area and also an outflow above and a descent probably in the outskirts of the storm area; hence the motion is successively complicated. It is also very variable, as squalls and gusts of the most violent character may alternate with strong but less destructive winds; also in the cyclonic storms of the temperate regions of the northern hemisphere the winds in the same quadrant of cyclonic storm and from the same general direction differ largely in their meteorological character.

Who Whips?

The clergyman's little son was telling the small son of a parishioner of the dreadful fights which he and his sister indulged in.

"You don't mean to say that ministers' children fight?" replied the horrified little layman.

"Oh, yes."

"Who whips?"

"Mamma."—Exchange.

A Sore Test.

The schoolmaster put to his class the question: "Two jars of gas, one containing nitrogen and one carbon dioxide, are given. How may the gases be discriminated?"

One eager little pupil said: "Get a man, and let him take a deep breath of both. When he gets the carbon dioxide he'll die. That's the way it's tell."

FOR SUNDAY READING

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON QUESTIONS

The questions on the Sunday school lesson by Rev. Dr. Limcott for the International Newspaper Bible Study Club for Sunday, Sept. 6, 1908, are as follows:

Saul and Jonathan slain in battle 1. Sam. 31.

Golden text—Prepare to meet thy God. Amos, 4, 12.

What is the preparation necessary in order to meet God with confidence and in peace?

Verse 1. — Were the Israelites defeated because the Philistines had the better army, or was it because God was against Israel at this time?

Why was God against Israel at this time?

May we ever expect to win in anything, if God is against us, and if not, how do you account for the apparent success of some bad men?

Verse 2—Why did God permit the lovely Jonathan to be slain?

Is it often in these days that the innocent have to suffer with the guilty? Give some examples.

How do you justify God in permitting the innocent to suffer with the guilty?

Verse 3 — If Saul had been true to God, would this defeat have happened?

Does God often use the ungodly as instruments with which to chastize His children?

Verse 4 — Was the death of Saul determined by God to take place at this battle? See I. Sam. xxviii, 19.

Does the Lord know how, when and where each one of us will die?

Granting the freedom of the will necessary, how can God know what a free agent will do?

Is Saul to be blamed for wanting his servant to slay him, or for finally killing himself?

Verse 5—Under the most provoking circumstances, what can be said for or against suicide?

Verse 6—In the long run is it possible that in any instance sin can result in final happiness, and if an act which the world and the church label sinful, really results in all round happiness; was that act properly labelled? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Verse 7—What reason is there to believe that the wrong-doing of one person sometimes results in the ruin of a family, or a community, or a nation?

Verses 8-10—In what respects is modern warfare conducted in a more humane way than ancient warfare?

Is there any sense or humanity in modern warfare in killing and maiming all you can in battle, and then picking up all that are not actualy dead, and with tenderness and at great expense, nursing them back to health?

Verses 11-13—What had Saul done for the nation that the inhabitants of Jabesh—Gilead remembered him with gratitude?

Is there any danger that a good man may live to disgrace himself and the cause of God?

Lesson for Sunday, Sept. 13, 1908—David made King over Judah and Israel. II. Sam. ii; 1-7, v. 1-5

OUR GOD

"My God is omnipresent, best,
Life and Love and Truth and Rest.

I am the Father's perfect child,
Pure and good and undefiled.

My Heaven is the present hour;
For now I use Love's mighty power.

We ask, affirm, then wait, and we—
Then know the truth and we are free.

This truth attunes life's harp, and thus
The harmony reflects in us.

Naught can disturb. God is my peace—
With every breath new joys increase.

I am not sick—God is my health;
I am not poor—God is my wealth.

I am not grieved—God is my joy;
Abundant, full, without alloy.

Since God is all, omnisbient, best—
I cannot tire; He is my rest.

No stay and no support I seek;
He is my strength; I am not weak.

I am not blind—the holy light
Of Heaven I see; God is my sight.

I need not look beyond the skies
For Heaven, since it about me lies

And naught save what is pure and fair
And beautiful can enter there.

SUCCESS

A Kansas woman, Mrs. A. J. Stanley of Lincoln has been awarded a prize of $250 by a Boston firm for the best answer to the question, "What constitutes success?" She wrote —"He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much; who has gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of little children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; who has left the world better than he found it, whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem or a rescued soul; who has never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it; who has always looked for the best in others and given the best he had; whose life is an inspiration whose memory a benediction."

WORDS OF CHEER

Words of cheer are words of help. Words of gloom are words of harm. There is a bright side and a dark side to every phase of life and to every hour of time. If we speak of the bright side, we bring the brightness into prominence; if we speak of the dark side, we deepen its shadows. It is in our power to help or hinder, by a word, every person whom we are with. If we seek a look of health or of hope in the face of an acquaintance whom we casually meet, and we tell him so, he goes on his way with a new life in his veins. If we see a look of failing strength and of heaviness of heart in one to whom we speak, and we emphasize the fact that he looks poorly, we give him a push downward, as our contribution to the force which affects his course. A word or look can help or harm our fellows. It is for us to give cheer or gloom as we pass on our way in life; and we are responsible for the results of our influence generally.

I will sell by public auction, on Saturday morning, September 12th, on the Market Square, at eleven o'clock, one Rubber Tire Stanhope. This is a high-seated vehicle of the runabout style and is practically as good as new. Sale without reserve.

BAYNE TO BE TRIED.

Agent Charged With Corruption In Elections Committed.

Truro, N. S., Sept. 5.—Magistrate Crowe yesterday committed Alonzo R. Bayne for trial in the Colchester election case.

Upon opening court the magistrate was informed that A. L. Davison, the Conservative organizer, wished to make a statement. Mr. Davison mentioned that he was in no way connected with the case, and was told to sit down. Upon the conclusion of the session he filed with the court a statement which was not made public.

The magistrate briefly reviewed the evidence, stating that evidence had been given by certain witnesses that they had given out sums of money in Stanfield's interest. He said that anyone who had heard the evidence could form no other conclusion than that the rum and money was for the purpose of influencing electors.

MYSTERY GROWS.

New Witness at German Inquest Says Three Shots Were Fired.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—The mystery surrounding the death of James German on Aug. 22 was further deepened by the evidence of William Armitage, C.P.R. engineer, at the resumption of the inquest last night, that he distinctly heard three shots, whereas the testimony of William O'Brien and and James Balsam, G.T.R. constables, that only two shots were fired, was very positive. Armitage declared that there was a minute's interval between the reports, which occurred at 9 p.m., the time agreeing with the previous testimony. The inquest was adjourned until Sept. 10.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Detroit people have purchased the Leamington electric light plant, owned by Messrs. Slars, Reid and Post, paying $35,000.

Mrs. Hildegarde McCarthy, a bride of two weeks, committed suicide at Windsor by drinking carbolic acid. Ill-health was the cause.

Two of the United States sailors visiting at Melbourne were killed by a train, and were buried with full naval and martial honors.

Farmers are hauling water for miles, so great is the drought in Western Pennsylvania. At Johnstown, Pa., two of the three city reservoirs are practically dry.

The Wilbur Iron Mine, on the line of the Kingston & Pembroke Railway, has been closed down, and is again in the hands of its owner, William Caldwell of Toronto.

Engineers have been working in Essex County for some time making a survey for the Government transmission line in the vicinity of Leamington and Kingsville.

A party of eight men from Detroit are in Ottawa seeking transportation home or to Montreal. They say thye were engaged in Detroit by the C.P.R., not being aware or told of the strike.

Unknown Tries Suicide.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—What is likely to be a successful attempt at suicide was made about 6 o'clock by an unknown man at the Saranac Hotel, Queen and Soho streets.

He is at St. Michael's Hospital, where every effort is being made to save his life.

He is a large, thickset man with brown hair and short-cropped moustache. His face is broad and the features distinctly German. He wore a soft black felt hat, bearing the imprint of a Winnipeg store.

He had also a pawnticket bearing the name of Heide or Heicle.

Westerner Wins Medal.

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—The big event of the D. R. A. meeting yesterday was the Governor-General's match. It furnished a surprise. Capt. McVittie of the 48th Highlanders led all the way until the last range, and was looked upon as the probable winner, but he fell away at the thousand yards, and Capt. Hart McHaig of Vancouver, shooting steadily, won the coveted gold medal by a couple of points over Sergt. Kelly of the 10th Royal Grenadiers, Toronto.

Fortune Changes.

Tangier, Sept. 5.—Native reports insist upon the magnitude of the defeat inflicted upon the forces of Mulai Hafid by Mtougui on Aug. 29 at a point three hours outside Morocco city. A brother of Gliouli, one of Mulai Hafid's lieutenants, is reported to have been killed. Hafid's army is said to have been dispersed, and Morocco city is at the mercy of Mtougui.

Canadian Honors.

London, Sept. 5.—(C.A.P.)—Earl Grey has been elected vice-patron and Lord Strathcona, Premier Laurier and the Lieutenant-Governors and Premiers of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia appointed vice-presidents of the British Association. The hope is expressed that the association will give greater facilities to the discussion of science as applied to agriculture.

An Italian Robbed.

Quebec, Sept. 5.—Roch Stiffany, an Italian who keeps a general store at Harvey Junction, arrived in Quebec yesterday and complained to the police that he had been robbed of $2,500 in cash. He says some persons entered his private apartments and carried off two trunks, one of which contained his wealth.

Shortt May Arbitrate.

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—Prof. Adam Shortt has been asked a second time to mediate in the C.P.R. strike and that he will in all probability accept.

Although it was not generally known, Prof. Shortt was memorialized by the Department of Labor to act in this capacity some time ago, but he refused.

Prof. Mitchell Stays.

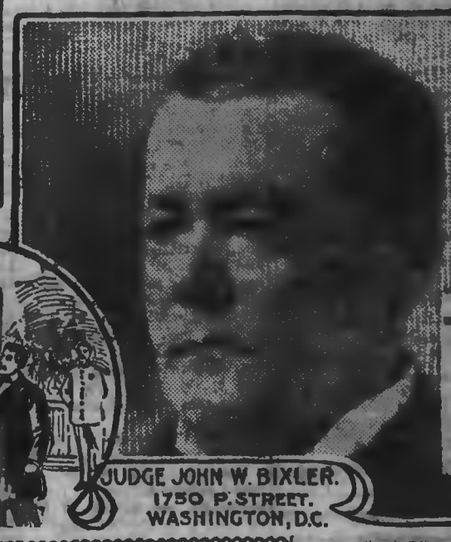
Kingston, Sept. 5.—Prof. George Mitchell, recommended to a position on the classical staff of McGill, has withdrawn his application, and will stay at Queen's as associate professor of classics, with a good advance in salary.

New Quebec Judge.

Montreal, Sept. 5.—Mr. Dominique Monet, prothonotary of the district of Montreal for the past three years, succeeds the late Justice Paradis of St. Johns in the Supreme Court.

DISTRICT JUDGE U. S. COURT
Recommends Pe-ru-na as an Invigorating Tonic

Judge John W. Bixler, formerly United States Circuit Judge, now United States District Judge, of Kansas, endorses Peruna.



JUDGE JOHN W. BIXLER.
1750 P. STREET.
WASHINGTON, D.C.

I can unhesitatingly recommend your Peruna as an invigorating tonic, also an excellent remedy for coughs and colds.

Pe-ru-na Testimonials.

When any man or woman, ont of pure gratitude, writes us a letter, commenting upon the benefits he has received from the use of Peruna, when he does this without any solicitation or remuneration of any sort, and furnishes us a recent photograph, so that his identity and responsibility in the matter is beyond question, then do we consider a testimonial available for our advertising purposes.

We are at the present time publishing many hundreds of testimonials.

We give the name and address in full of each one of these people.

We have no use for, nor would we publish for any sum of money, a fraudulent testimonial. To do such a thing would be dishonorable from a moral standpoint, and commercial suicide from a business standpoint.

Tonic and Appetizer.

W. H. Parsons is ex-State Senator and ex-Special Judge of the Supreme Court of Texas, also Brigadier General in Confederate Army. In a recent letter from 625 H St., N. W., Washington, D.C., this prominent gentleman says:

"Upon the recommendation of personal friends and many strong testimonials of the efficacy of Peruna in the treatment of the numerous symptoms of the grip, with which I have been affected for four months past, I have been induced to undergo a treatment of this justly celebrated formula.

"I feel a decided change for the better after using it only one week. It is especially good in toning up the stomach, and has a decided effect upon my appetite. I therefore feel much encouraged that I am on the road to complete restoration.

"My numerous friends in Texas, where I have had the honor to command a brigade of her Veteran Cavalry, in a four-year war, may accept this voluntary testimonial to the merit of Peruna from a sense of obligation for its wonderful efficacy."

Appetite and Digestion Poor.

Mr. Charles Schweiha, Lexington, Texas, writes:

"I suffered from catarrh of the liver. What I ate disagreed with me. I was weak and feverish. I slept very poorly, had rush of blood to the head. I was very despondent, and took no pleasure in anything. My appetite was changeable, digestion poor.

"Your medicine made me well again, for which I express to you my heartfelt thanks. I firmly believe that for all who suffer in like manner it would have the same good effect."

Disordered Liver, Constipation.

Mr. W. O. Clement, Assistant Manager "Rome Georgian," Rome, Ga., writes:

"It affords me pleasure to voluntarily testify to the true merits of your wonderful Peruna.

"I have for several years been suffering from disordered liver and chronic constipation, for which I had tried a great many remedies, but none did me any good. My whole system was so thoroughly overcome that I was easy to catch cold and the consequence was that a chronic case of catarrh was fast developing.

"I have been taking Peruna for six weeks and am happy to say that it has had the desired effect. My liver is in good condition, constipation disappeared, and I no longer feel any of the symptoms of catarrh.

"In truth I am now in better health and feel stronger than I have for several years and it is all due to the wonderful effects of Peruna."

Systemic Catarrh.

Mr. Moses F. Merrill, Route 8, Columbus, Kansas, writes:

"The improvement in my health has been wonderful. My bowels are regular as clock-work. I can now eat like other people and my victuals digest completely. I think I am cured of systemic catarrh.

"It has been a hard fight, but I came out victor. Many thanks for your kind counsel and management."

"BELIEF AND FAITH"

By Barton Earle.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Not long ago I received a letter from a young lady friend in which I was asked to explain the difference between Belief and Faith. From my knowledge of the character of my correspondent, I was convinced that, to her, the subject had a religious bearing, and I recognized the difficulty and the delicacy of the task she had set me. Since, however, I can see no good reason why one should refrain from expressing his honest convictions on a subject to which he has given his best thoughts, and, especially so, when the heart and judgment are in accord, I did not hesitate to meet, to the best of my ability, the wishes of my friend.

It is my intention, now, to give, through your columns, a somewhat fuller statement of my opinions, in the hope that some of your readers will kindly point out to me any errors into which I may have been led.

I never discuss any subject for the sake of victory, nor, though I enjoy a keen intellectual contest, do I discuss a serious subject for the sake of argument, but always to give and to receive information; and I think that those who know me best, while they may sometimes charge me with excess of enthusiasm, will not accuse me of being excessively dogmatic. I know how extremely liable we are to err, and can assure you that I approach this subject in a spirit of humbleness. Though I may appear, at times, to assert positively, I do not feel at all positive; but I do earnestly desire to make my readers think, and to elicit truth, I have, purposely, refrained from consulting a dictionary, believing that, in this case, such a work would confuse rather than aid.

Belief rests upon evidence which is the result of the judgment of the intellect on the impressions received through the senses of sight, hearing, feeling, tasting, smelling, and, therefore, including human testimony. The value of the evidence will depend upon the capability of the intellect to decide upon the accuracy of the testimony. I need not enlarge upon the liability of the senses to convey wrong impressions; but, to make the matter clear, I give the following examples:—Place a pea in the palm of your left hand, and roll it under two of your right hand fingers crossed. The impression is that there are two peas. Sitting in a railway carriage at rest while another carriage is passing, you not only see, but feel, your carriage in motion. Examples of this kind might be multiplied almost indefinitely. Again, though the impressions may not be deceptive, the mind may draw wrong conclusions; and, in short, it is impossible for the human intellect to arrive at absolute truth. To assert the right of private judgment is to assert the right to be liable to be deceived.

Belief, as I have defined it, is a purely intellectual affair, since the intellect must decide on the value of the testimony, and, further, it is concerned only in what has reference to this life. The province of the intellect is to care for the body. It has been developed in the course of a universal law. It weakens as the body grows weak, and dies when the body dies.

Do I, then, deny an existence beyond this life? Far from it. Besides the intellect or conscious mind, there is the sub-conscious mind, or soul. I shall not attempt, in this article, any lengthened discussion of the differences between the two. I have already said that the one, having to do solely with what concerns the body perishes with the body, and I now assert that the other, being the real ego, belongs to the life beyond.

Since the care of the body is the province of the intellect, and since great importance is attached, and justly so, in this life, to matters of little or no consequence in the life that is to be, it is essential to the preservation of the body that, in our present state, the conscious mind should dominate the sub-conscious. During sleep, the soul is more or less freed from restraining influences, as is the case when the intellect has become weakened by bodily ailments; and, may not the soul of the musician, the poet, the prophet, and the saint, during periods of great exaltation, attain to heights from which it can defy the power of the conscious mind?

I know that many, perhaps most of your readers will disagree with me when I say that the most profound truths come to us, not as results of intellectual efforts, but through the sub-conscious mind, as results of intuitions, or inspirations of the Universal Soul.

It may be asked whether I regard the revelations of the soul as necessarily truth. I answer, no. It is questionable whether, in this life, the soul is ever entirely free from the dominating influence of the intellect. But even if such freedom be possible, to attribute inerrancy to the soul would make it equal to God, Who alone is inerrant. Progress is the necessary condition of separate, individual existence to the soul, and progress implies imperfection. Stagnation is death, and for the soul to cease to make progress would mean loss of individuality and absorption into the Infinite.

Now, I conceive this soul knowledge to be what St. Paul means by "the evidence of things not seen." I do not know the original, but would prefer calling Faith "the result of the evidence of things not seen." What St. Paul must mean is the result of impressions not cognizable by the senses, and, consequently, outside the province of the mere intellect.

Let me repeat that I am not so presumptuous as to lay any claim to a knowledge of absolute truth, on these, or, indeed, any other subjects. What I have said is, in the meantime, truth to me; but I shall always be ready to accept new light from whatever source it may proceed.

It is my intention to show, in another article, what I conceive to be the bearing of my treatment of this subject on what is commonly called Education.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for present and past favours, and apologising to your readers for so often appearing in your columns, I am, yours very sincerely,

BARTON EARLE.

P.S.—Readers of Browning will find in "An Epistle" an able treatment of a subject upon which I have little more than touched in this article.

Major T. W. H. Young Is Acting Commander Of 10th Brigade

Lt.-Col. McNachton Has Not Yet Arrived at Camp Barriefield—Trooper Johnston Had Leg Broken—News From Cavalry And Artillery.

THE WEATHER IS FINE

Parriefield Camp, Sept. 4.—Everything is running smoothly in the camp of the 24th F. F., C. A.

Owing to the fact that Lieut.-Col. McNachtan, commanding officer of the 10th brigade, has not yet arrived in camp. Maj. T.W.H Young of the 24th Field Battery is acting as brigade commander of the 24th Field Battery.

Bomb McGee's horses, Kate and Duplicate, are looking particularly fit. The battery falls in for drill twice daily and is becoming quite proficient.

Bomb Collins is doing the work of assistant to the quarter-master sergeant exceedingly well.

With the Cavalry

The regiments have all arrived. The officers and men are in good shape and look fine.

Regiments kept coming in all day Monday, probably the last to arrive being the 14th Field Artillery.

The weather is fine.

All are getting down to good hard drill now, after a day or two of organization.

Trooper Johnston of D Squadron was kicked by a horse while on parade, sustaining a compound fracture of the leg.

Lt.-Col. Edwards has command of the 7th Brigade, and Sgt.-Maj. Brittain is brigade sgt.-maj.

The large number of Peterborough boys in the camp make things just like home.

Lt. Jos. J. Duffus is instructor of the different signalling corps.

A shower last night settled the dust.

The men are pleased with the food.

AUTUMN NOTIONS IN WOMEN'S DRESS AS FOUND IN THE LOCAL STORES

The autumn styles in women's costumes are occupying the important places of vantage in the windows of the local dry goods stores, and a select stock is found in most cases. They have received special attention from the fashion artists and the styles show considerable variation.

With the passing of summer and the peek-a-boo, the warmer clothes of autumn are again to the fore. Women's costumes are the popular fancy and give the wearer a clean and smart appearance, besides being the very latest idea. The cloth used is from a medium to heavy weight goods. Its style ranges from a smooth finely-finished Venetian to a heavy Chevron twill, including middleweight tweeds.

In patterns, the solid colours receive attention, while extreme stripes and indistinct checks are more or less popular.

Style of Cut

In the cut of the coat the tendency is to the pointed cut-away, front. Some of these are very extreme. The lengths range from 30 in. to 40 in., but 38 in. prevails in popularity. They are all semi-fitted and exceedingly neat and dressy. The most popular trimmings are satins, braids and buttons.

The skirts are of the same material and are fairly plain. The number of gores ranges from 9 to 17 in the new flare design. They are trimmed to correspond with the coats.

The favourite colours are green, brown, blue, and black. Some of the most exclusive costumes come in a medium shade of fawn.

In coats, the various styles of the semi-fitting and loose are popular. The solid colours and stripes and checks are most popular. The lengths range from 45 in. to 54 in., but 50 in., however, is most popular. The style of trimming is more or less self-strappings, but not as much as last year. Velvet and braid are both used, some giving the Gibson effect on the shoulder.

FUNERAL OF LATE MRS. A. M. ROGERS

Rev. Dr. Langfeldt Pays Glowing Tribute to Deceased at Obsequies.

LAID TO REST TO-DAY

The funeral of the late Mrs. A. M. Rogers took place this morning from St. Luke's Church, where the intimate friends of the departed had gathered to pay their last respects to her memory. Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, rector of St. Luke's, returned from Camp Barriefield last night to officiate at the obsequies, according to the dying wish of Mrs. Rogers. The service of the Church of England was read, and a few words were said by Dr. Langfeldt as a testimony to Mrs. Rogers' honourable life and true piety. He appropriated to her life the words, "Well done, good and faithful servant." She had been a true servant of the Lord in her devotion to her duties to Him and her fellow men, strictly honest and possessed of a commendable spirit of independence. Her lot was not cast on a bed of roses. From her early years until about a year and a half ago she earned her own living, and never at any time had she needed or asked for help from any one. The rector thanked God for the good example of faithfulness and integrity that had marked her earthly career, and he was sure that she would be received by her Master into the heavenly inheritance. The hymns, "How Sweet the Name of Jesus Sounds" and Jesus Lover of My Soul," were sung. Miss Fowkis presided at the organ and played, preceding the service, the "Dead March." When the body was taken out of the church the congregation sang the "Nunc Dimittis." Mr. Wm. Rogers, of the Wm. English Canoe Co., was the chief mourner. The pall-bearers were Messrs. T English, R Routley, J. Stewart, Jos. Ball, Wm. Whitcroft and Wm. Croft.

DANDRUFF CAUSED BY A GERM

A New Discovery That Kills the Germ and Prevents Baldness

Pretty nearly all the hair preparations for dandruff have some merit in allaying itching of the scalp, and in being a fairly good dressing for the hair, but there is only one that recognizes what causes dandruff, falling hair, and baldness, and that destroys the cause, a little germ—and that is Newbro's Herpicide. This germ eats its way into the scalp and digs up the scalp into little white scales. Unless it is destroyed, there is no permanent stopping of falling hair, and cure of dandruff and baldness. Newbro's Herpicide kills the germ. "Destroy the cause, you will remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00. McDermid & Jury and the Market Drug Store, Special Agents.

BACK TO NATURE

Alas my Poor Brother

Ernie Maynard, member of the rifle association, spent the week at Long Branch, Toronto, camping with Percy D'Estere, one of the markers at the ranges. He reports a good time and intends taking a hand in at the targets there next year. One day a neighboring cow came up to their provision tent and having a taste for sweet meats, ripped open the tent with its horns and ate all their grub. The owner of the cow was notified of the theft and he soon supplied them again.—Bowmanville News.

Pontypool anglers, some modern, some ancient, are taking great advantage of the trout season. Their catch varies from five to two hundred and five.—Pontypool correspondence to Bowmanville News.

Business Looking up

It is reported that on Sunday one hundred and fifty villagers went out to see the surveyors observation tower a few miles south.—Pontypool correspondence to Bowmanville News.

Pass it along to Father

Mr. Edgar Waite is at the homestead helping his son, Reuben, who is not very rugged, to get in their harvest.—Edville correspondence to the Warkworth Journal.

Cut out the Rough Stuff

The fight in front of the Franklin between Joe Curtis and a visiting brother, is strongly denounced. The authorities should have sat in judgment on the offenders and stopped their future pugilistic attempts. Our citizens generally regret the occurrence, as it has a tendency to destroy the fair name of Markham as a town where you can be sure of a hospitable welcome. What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander—and if people will disturb the peace they should be made to suffer the consequences.—Markham Economist.

Good by John

On Sunday a gang of Italians, part of a gang who are working on the cement sidewalks here, procured a gun and went shooting on Morgan's flats west of Main street. Constable Hebson, hearing the gunshots, was soon of the scene and stopped the sport. The contractor, Mr. Schoales, made enquiries and sacked two of the ringleaders on Monday morning. — Markham Economist.

Have You Ever Worn Our Famous Kabo Corsets?

EVERY Stout Woman desires to appear slender and up to now, she has been only partially successful. Many ideas for reducing the large figure have been advanced by Corset Manufacturers, but, in our opinion until now, none have produced the ideal form reducing corset. This may seem an egotistical statement on our part, but if it were possible for the women desiring a corset this description to compare other makes with the form reducing corset pictured here, we are positive she would agree with us, and would consider the above remarks very consertive. We call your particular attention to the reducing device, which does not come to a point as in other makes, but reduces over the breadth of the wide flap, appearing in the illustration. The advantage of this is readily apparrent, as it successfully prevents any bulging of the flesh. With this corset the form can be positively reduced from three to five inches without discomfort to the wearer. Another exclusive feature of this style is the fact the reducing device can be adjusted while the corset is being worn which is another great advantage over other makes. This admirable garment is made with six extra strong wove suspender web hose supporters and the 12 1-2 inch front clasp is reinforced by an extra strong steel. Style No. 1011 shown here is for the medium stout figure. Style No. 1010 which is made up in the same durable manner is somewhat longer below and above the waist line and is designed for all tall, stout figures. We guarantee both of these models to be unbreakable. Both are made of the best grade of Coutil, and are boned throughout with double non-rustable steel.

THE REVIEW PRIZE ESSAY

Editor Examiner,

Sir,—I see that the Review is offering prizes for the best essay on the effect that the G. T. P. will have on farm values in this Province. The object of the Review is, of course, very plain, viz., to stir up its readers to the point of belittling the project and thus throw discredit upon the Government that has called it into being. In the dim past the Conservative party stood for something higher than the deliberate distortion of facts pertaining to the welfare of their country. But the patriotic politicians of the great party of bygone days have given way, in large measure, to political patriots in the present, heedless of truth and anxious to get into power at all costs, even at the expense of their country's prosperity.

The editor of the Review is a gentleman, who in private life would be quite incapable of a mean or dirty action, but, in common with many others who have sought political honours, ambition to enter public life seems to have engendered an astigmatism in his political vision, which is both astonishing and painful. He has made use of many surprising arguments since his assumption of the editorial chair, and his premises and deductions have been alike peculiar. As one instance out of many, can be mentioned his statement that the outflow of population from Ontario to the West is depopulating and injuring this Province. Has anybody been heard to complain, outside of the editor of the Review, that such is the case? As a matter of fact, there is just as steady an influx as there is an outflow of population, and the filling up of the West is keeping our manufacturers busy supplying the wants of the settlers. The C. P. R., for which all credit can be given ungrudgingly to Sir John A. Macdonald's Cabinet, has been the means of opening up the great West to settlement, but how do the subventions and grants of millions of acres of land to that company compare with the bargain that has been made by the Liberal Government with the G. T. P.? In the former case, the C.P.R. absolutely owns the entire roadway that goes under its name. The Government, in spite of the vast subventions given to that company, has neither right nor title to any part of it. In the case of the G. T. P., which traverses a territory as rich in natural resources as that traversed by the C.P.R., the railway company, so far as the eastern section is concerned (eighteen hundred miles odd) is simply in the position of a lessee under the Government, and pays interest on the amount of money that has been expended on that section. Nobody, not even the hardest-shelled Liberal, thinks at the present day of either ridiculing or denominating as monstrous the establishment of the C.P.R. It is hard to conceive why, under circumstances vastly more favourable to the people, a project, Imperial in its design and positively assured of ultimate success, should be held up to reprobation by the organ locally representative of the Federal Opposition.

Children's EYES

Need the most careful and persistent attention. Early headaches and other troubles frequently emanate from defective eye-sight, which in itself, may have originated in early neglect of the eyes. The trouble is, parents seldom know their children's eyes are weak until it is too late.

School will be opened shortly, you had better bring your children to us, as we make a specialty of examining the eyes of the young and fitting them with the proper lenses.

ST. VITUS DANCE

A Severe Case Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

St. Vitus'dance is a disease of the nerves brought on by a morbid condition of the blood. It is a common disease with children and attacks females oftener than males. The only cure lies in plenty of pure blood, because good blood is the life food of the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure even the most severe forms of this trouble because they enrich the blood supply, thus carrying the necessary food to the nerves. In proof of this we have the statement of Mrs. Alex. Cameron, Summerside, P. E. I., who says:—"Some years ago my daughter Lena, then a child of ten years, became afflicted with St. Vitus' dance. At that time she was attending school and the first indication I had that something was wrong, was that she appeared easily discouraged in her studies. She was naturally a spirited child, not given to tears, but she would cry over what I thought should be easy work for her. The disease progressed so rapidly that in the course of a few weeks she became unable to hold anything in her hands, and we were obliged to take her out of school. She became so afflicted that she could not hold a cup to her lips without suddenly losing hold of it. I knew from the first by the symptoms that her ailment was St. Vitus' dance, and despaired of seeing her cured, as it was looked on as such a hopeless ailment. She became so bad that she could not hold herself still for the space of ten seconds. Her hands or feet were continually moving and last of all she would contort her features so that she was losing her natural expression. At this stage I chanced on a paper containing a testimonial in favour of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, describing the cure of a little girl afflicted as mine was. I hastened to get a couple of boxes of the Pills, and by the time she had used them I noticed a decided change for the better, and purchased a further supply. By the time she had taken Although she seemed thoroughly cured Although she seemed thoroughly cured I was afraid the disease might return again, but it never did, and she has since enjoyed the best of health. I cannot thank Dr. Williams' Pink Pills enough for what they did for my child, and I hope my experience may be of benefit to someone afflicted as my daughter was."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or may be obtained by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

LEGISLATOR MAKES A GET-AWAY

New Brunswick Local Member Charged With Forgery.

NEARLY $200,000 IS MISSING

W. B. Dickson Agent at Hillsboro For W. M. MacKay, and Is Charged With Forging Lumber Orders With Which He Victimized Poor Dealers In Neighborhood —County May Lose Money.

St. John, N.B., Sept. 5.—One of the members of the local Legislature for Albert County, Walter B. Dickson, who has had trouble with his business principals, is not to be found in the county, and he is believed to be in the United States. It is declared that he has misappropriated funds to the extent of from $150,000 to $200,000.

Mr. Dickson was elected at the recent local election and is a Conservative. He was a prominent resident of Albert County, largely engaged in lumbering and shipping, and acted as resident representative at Hillsboro of W. Malcolm MacKay of St. John, one of St. John's leading lumber exporters.

As one of the Albert County representatives, he had a considerable sum of road money in his possession and took it with him.

In many cases his victims are poor people, who supplied him with lumber and took his notes.

It was for some time hoped that Dickson's affairs would not prove as bad as they seemed to be.

Apparently that was not the case, for yesterday before Judge McLeod an application was made by Weldon & McLean, acting for Mr. MacKay, for an absconding debtors order, which was granted. The application let some new light on Mr. Dickson's affairs, for it was declared that he had defrauded Mr. MacKay by means of forged lumber orders, and that this had been going on for a considerable period.

An information was later made out charging forgery.

Recently Mr. MacKay was surprised to find that he had no cargo for a steamer he sent to Hillsboro to load. Investigations since made are said to have revealed the fact that for a considerable period Dickson had been in difficulties, involving MacKay in the loss of a large sum of money.

Yesterday before Judge MacLeod an absconding debtor's order was applied for on Mr. MacKay's behalf, and granted.

Girls' Escapade.

St. Catharines, Sept. 5.—As the result of an escapade two Thorold girls, Alice Dundas and Lena Crick, had an experience Thursday and are in a precarious condition.

About 9 o'clock they took possession of a rig standing on Albert street belonging to Burwell Dilts of Decew Falls, and went for a drive, when the horse became frightened and ran away. It continued on its mad career until Merritton trolley station was reached, when it fell. The girls were thrown out in front of the Riordan Paper Mill and seriously hurt.

Law's Trial Set.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—Twenty-four summonses for crown witnesses in the trial of Frank Law, charged with William Lockhart Russell with conspiracy to fraudulently effect the price of Cobalt stocks through the issue of false and misleading prospectuses, have been issued.

They are returnable at the court of quarter sessions, Sept. 14, the court opening Tuesday.

It is understood that this case, which has been twice traversed since Law was granted $20,000 bail, will be pressed to trial by the crown.

Salts Are Drug.

Stratford, Sept. 5.—The Barnsdale Trading Co., doing a general bakery, confectionery and grocery business here, were yesterday fined $20 and costs for unlawfully selling drugs. John B. Grant, Government agent under the Pharmacy Act, prosecuted.

For the purposes of conviction he had caused to be purchased aromatic cascara, rochelle salts, citrate of magnesia and tartaric acid, which druggists testified came under the head of drugs.

Telford Is Chosen.

Owen Sound, Sept. 5.—The Liberals of North Grey met here yesterday afternoon to select a candidate. Eight names, including that of Hon. A. G. MacKay, M.P.P., were put forward; as well as the present representative, W. P. Telford, M.P. The other nominees having declared that they would not enter the field against Mr. Telford, that gentleman was unanimously selected.

Will Represent Heirs.

Hamilton, Sept. 5.—P. James Gage will be sent to Germany by the heirs of Isaac Kearns of Ryckman's Corners, who claim to own a large stretch of reality in Berlin, which was leased for ninety-nine years. It is also said that the late Mr. Kearns made a loan to the German Government about 100 years ago which has never been collected.

Soo Works to Open.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Sept. 5.—Superintendent D. D. Lewis of the Algoma Steel Co. announces that the plant will be running in full force by Oct. 1. It is hoped the mills will be enabled to continue running for a long time. It ensures work for hundreds of well-paid men.

FIVE WERE HURT IN THEATRE

Balcony Rail Breaks in Toronto Jewish Playhouse.

FALL TO GROUND FLOOR

Dissatisfaction of Auditor With English Song Causes Usher to Attempt His Eviction and Crowd Rushes In to See Trouble—Audience Beneath, Warned by Cracking, Escapes—Relatives Frantic.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—Pressing forward to watch an usher evicting a man who had greeted in Yiddish of an English song with loud cries of "The Hook," the crowd in the south gallery of the People Theatre, a Jewish resort at Elm street and University avenue, broke through the railing and about 15 fell a distance of 12 feet to the pit.

With them was torn away 30 feet of heavy railing and all landed upon the seats below, smashing many of the chairs.

The accident happened at a few minutes before 10 o'clock.

Those on the ground floor were warned by the cracking of the rail, which also enable many of the occupants of the gallery to crowd back and thus save themselves from the tumble. Five only were injured.

Samuel Herchowitz, a newsboy, 12 years, sustained a four-inch cut at the back of his head and his left thigh was injured. Dr. Johnson of Elm street attended him at home.

Louis Levy, 15 years, a newsboy, had his left shoulder broken and his left ear torn. He was taken to the Sick Children's Hospital after his injuries had been dressed by Dr. Johnson.

Sadie Swartz was cut about the head.

Sarah Polinsky was cut about the face. She went home.

David Eisen was cut about the face.

All these fell with the dislodged railing.

The news spread like wildfire through the gossiping knots "in the ward" and as the audience was largely young people a crowd of sobbing and shrieking parents soon pressed upon the police, calling in Yiddish enquiries as to the safety of their offspring.

LABOR CANDIDATES.

Railway Brotherhoods Will Put Three Men In Field.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—West Toronto, East Elgin and Fort William are three constituencies which the railway brotherhoods are arranging to contest in the Dominion elections. Candidates and the sinews of war are available, and they will be supported by the Trades Congress of Canada.

The cities of West Toronto, St. Thomas (in East Elgin) and Fort William have a large railroading population.

The entry of the railway men into the political arena was not anticipated in other trades union circles at present, as the railway men have been the most conservative in regard to political action of any of the labor bodies.

The Ontario executive officers of the Independent Labor party are: President, Walter Rollo, Hamilton; vice-presidents, Wm. Kelly, Kingston; C. C. Hahn, Berlin; secretary, W. R. James, Toronto; treasurer, C. S. Chisum, Toronto.

PIONEERS AND PRESSMEN.

Newspapermen From All Over Country Attend Exhibition.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—Yesterday was Pioneers' and Pressmen's day at the Exhibition. The pioneers headed by the Winnipeg city band marched and those too feeble to walk went in autos.

The occasion was marked with announcement to the effect that the York Pioneers are to have a new building in the grounds, to be ready for occupation next year.

A large number of British and European engineers, the guests of the Canadian Mining Institute, on a tour through Canada, were among those honored, together with the press, at the directors' luncheon in the afternoon.

Jordan Pleads Insanity.

Boston, Sept. 5.—Attorney Scharton, who has been procured for the defence of Chester Jordan, the actor who slew his wife and put her body in a trunk, states that he already has evidence of Jordan's mental derangement several weeks before the murder, and in this case the murderer's insanity may account for some of the lapses in his confession, although as a whole it was remarkably clear.

When brought before Justice Butler in the Somerville Police Court yesterday forenoon Jordan pleaded not guilty to the charge of having murdered his wife. The case was continued until Sept. 11.

Deficiency Smaller.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—The all-important question to be finally dealt with at the meeting of the Ontario Bank shareholders, to be held in a few days, will be how the actual deficiency found to exist, amounting to about $850,000, is to be made up. The present board of directors took office for the purpose of saving as much of the wreck as was possible, and they have succeeded much better than was at one time even hoped.

Plowing Fish.

St. John, N.B., Sept. 5.—Director Peters has had the city snowplows at work at Courtenay Bay for two days. In this instance it is fish that are being plowed. For some days the tide has been washing up countless thousands of small herring along the shores of Courtenay Bay, and great quantities have been left high and dry by the tides, so that during the past few days they have been decomposing.

Rev. Dr. Patterson Ill.

NEVADA TOWN IS BADLY SCORCHED

Business Section of Rawhide a Prey to Flames.

MANY PERSONS ARE HURT

Loss to Property Will Be $750,000 and 3,000 Are Homeless as Result of the Blaze Which Sweeps Mining Town—Other Cities Send Money and Supplies Are En Route From Reno—Famine Feared.

Rawhide, Nev., Sept. 5.—Three thousand people homeless, a score or more injured, and a property loss of over $750,000, is the result of a disastrous fire which started yesterday morning in the Rawhide Drug Co.'s building. Fanned by a gale the fire swept rapidly south and east to Balloon avenue and up Rawhide avenue to within sixty yards of the People's Hospital.

Over a ton and a half of dynamite was used in the demolition of buildings, which in a measure stayed the flames progress.

The volunteer fire department and five hundred miners worked heroically, but owing to the inflammable construction of the buildings they were swept away like tinder.

At 11 a. m. the business portion of Rawhide was a smoldering ruin, the flames being finally checked south of Balloon avenue. Collins' hardware store, containing two tons of dynamite, exploded, hurling burning planks and boards a great distance, and setting fire to a number of buildings simultaneously.

Many persons were injured by flying debris, but none seriously. A famine was feared, for all the supplies and grocery stores were wiped out. A subscription list was started, and in a few minutes over $5,000 was raised and a relief train started from Reno, carrying food and bedding.

All the mining towns of the state came quickly to the assistance of the sufferers with cash contributions. The San Francisco mining exchange sent $500. The extent of the damage done the mining properties is $10,000.

FIRE AT ST. REMI.

One-Third of Village Is Destroyed With Damage of $300,000.

Montreal, Sept. 5.—The village of St. Remi, Quebec, has been swept by fire, which broke out at 6.30 yesterday morning in the store of Mr. Ladure at St. Remi from some unknown cause, and rapidly spread to adjoining buildings. A hurried call for assistance was sent to Montreal and several fire engines left on a special train.

Fully a third of the town was wiped out. Most of the buildings destroyed were private residences.

The loss is placed at, $300,000 and the total insurance amounts to only $79,000.

St. Remi is about 25 miles south of Montreal and has a population of nearly 1,200 people, with one bank.

Two Barns Burned.

Durham, Ont., Sept. 5.—A disastrous fire occurred at the farm of Mr. Parrs, about three miles from here yesterday at a threshing, when a spark from the engine set fire to the barn containing all this season's crop. A team of horses was also burned.

Aided by a strong wind, the sparks were carried a quarter of a mile away, where they set fire to a barn owned by Mr. Staples, and his season's crop and barn was also burned. Both barns were valued at $2,000.

Japanese City Burns.

Tokio, Sept. 5.—Despatches from the City of Niigata in the Ichigo Province, 18 miles northwest of this city, tell of a fire in which 4,000 houses were destroyed by the flames.

Fearful scenes of destitution and suffering are reported as a result of the disaster and the Government is rendering every possible assistance.

Niigata is a city of over 40,000 inhabitants and is an open port on the west coast Island of Hondu.

Successful Flight.

Washington, Sept. 5.—Orville Wright made another flight over the drill grounds at Fort Myer, Virginia, yesterday. He encircled the field five times, besides making his aeroplane go its full length before landing directly in front of the tent which shelters the machine.

Shot Chief of Police.

Ware, Mass., Sept. 5.—In attempting to arrest an alleged horse thief at the Hampshire House yesterday, Chief of Police Maurice Fitzgerald of this town was shot four times by the man, and probably fatally wounded.

The Only Way.

London, Sept. 5.—(C.A.P.)—The Glasgow Herald says it is impossible to see how reciprocity can be achieved unless the West Indies unify their tariffs, and opines that it is a possibility of a not distant future.

New Railway In Perth.

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—The St. Mary's and Western Ontario Railway Co. has filed plans showing the proposed location for a branch line in the Township of Blanchard, Perth County.

ROGERS WINS BOUT AFTER HIS BIG OPPONENT IS DISABLED; GERMAN TAKES FIRST FALL

Mohl Had Better of the Argument Until He Was Hurt—Crowd Did Not Like the Finish and Winner Was Hissed.

UNSATISFACTORY ENDING

Yankee Rogers won the Graeco-Roman wrestling match with Fritz Mohl, the big German, at the Brock street rink, last night in a most sensational manner. Mohl won the first fall in 29 minutes and Rogers the next two in 10 and 3 1-2 minutes, respectively, but in order to do so he had to disable his opponent, and the wind up of the match was not entirely satisfactory. During the first period Mohl had clearly the better of the argument, having Rogers in difficulties several times before the fall finally came and he kept up his aggressive tactics in the second bout until the moment came that lost him the match.

After nine minutes had elapsed in the second bout Rogers suddenly picked Mohl up by the waist near the edge of the mat and slammed him, head first, down on the bare boards, driving his head on the timbers with a dull thud that could be heard in all parts of the rink. Mohl was knocked out completely, and for a minute was unconscious. When he got to his feet he was dazed and went at Rogers like a prize fighter. The big Yankee picked him up and hurled him clean from the platform, the heavy German lighting on his head in the sawdust. It looked as if he were out for keeps, but no gamer man has been seen here than the same Mohl. Dazed, almost helpless, he staggered back on to the mat and faced his merciless adversary. There was nothing to it after that, Rogers went at him like a tiger and in less than a minute secured a fall.

When the men came back after the ten minute rest, it was seen that Mohl was in no condition to wrestle. He dragged himself across the rink to the platform and had to be assisted up. He walked groggily out to the centre and faced his adversary who crouched down in his corner, waiting for the word, like a man-eating tiger, ready to spring upon his prey. And when it came Rogers went at his man fiercely and with lightning speed. Seizing Mohl he banged him down upon the mat and pummelled him around for several minutes and then turned him over with a bar Nelson, getting the fall without difficulty. Mohl could put up no resistance. His strength was gone and although he had given or rolled out of similar holds earlier in the struggle, he was no longer in shape to put up a defence.

The greater part of the crowd was disappointed. They wanted Mohl to win, and he was warmly applauded by the crowd for his gameness, while Rogers did not get a cordial reception after his pile driving stunt, which put Mohl out of the running.

Although Rogers won, Mohl proved himself to be the better man of the two at the Graeco-Roman style. That fact cannot be gain-said. Mohl is just as superior to Rogers in the Graeco-Roman style as Rogers is to Yohl under the catch as catch can rules. Until he was disabled Mohl had considerably the best of the match. He was on the aggressive throughout the first bout and Rogers seemed non-plussed under the rules. The German kept at him, worrying him with neck and arm holds until it could be seen that Rogers was dead anxious to use his legs to protect himself, and to assume the aggressive with. In fact, he did use them once when Referee Fitzpatrick was not looking, and punished the German over with a lightning fast leg Nelson. Mohl was never very much in danger during that period, easily spinning out of the holds which Rogers once in a while worked on him; while Rogers, despite his great strength and speed, found himself up against his master. Until that paralyzing blow on the head came, Mohl was the better man, afterwards, of course, he was like a child.

The main bout was started at 9.07. The men were announced to the crowd by Manager Naylor, and both got warm receptions. The first few minutes were tame. The big fellows were cautious and sparred each other around, looking for an opening. Finally, however, Rogers succeeded in getting Mohl off his feet and the two went down on the mat only to arise again and more sparring followed. Finally they got going with Mohl on the aggressive, and the crowd saw some pretty and lively wrestling. Rogers put up a great resistance, once throwing Mohl over his head with a quick roll, when he appeared to be in difficulty. Mohl kept at him, however, with half and half Nelsons, and nearly had the Yank several times. In fact, they were such close falls that the crowd thought they were falls, and some of them showed their disapproval by hissing the referee when he did not call them. After many minutes of hard going, however, Mohl succeeded in getting a bar Nelson on Rogers that the Yankee could not break, and although he put up a most determined resistance he could not wriggle over, and finally his shoulders were pressed down upon the mat and Referee Fitzpatrick tapped Mohl on the back. He had won the first fall in 29 minutes and the crowd cheered wildly. Both men appeared fit and fresh when they came back and the match was resumed at the same furious clip. Rogers seemed more aggressive in this bout, but Mohl had just as much of the going as the Yankee, if not, a little more. Neither had been in great danger when the blow that put the German out of business came. Suddenly when the men were near the edge of the mat Rogers picked his opponent up and banged him down on the boards as described. Mohl was out for over a minute and the match might just as well have been awarded to Rogers then, as the Buffalo man was in no shape to continue. The aftermath was not entertaining and elevating.

It was clear that Mohl was "all in" for the time being at least, and Rogers went at him to polish him off as quickly as possible. Mohl tried pluckily but had no command over himself and was an easy victim for the big Yank, who did not spare his adversary, even in his weak semi-conscious state. It was not a spectacle that wins many people and the writer for one was glad when it was all over and Rogers had got his two falls and the match. To see a man that has been rendered helpless by a blow on the head thrown around and jumped on is not, a sight that appeals to true lovers of sport, and the greater part of the crowd was disappointed and indignant. The first half-hour was fast, clever wrestling; the remainder was about as elevating as a lumberman rolling a sawlog around only in this case the "log" happened to be a helpless human being. It was generalship on the part of the Yankee and he won with it. It may go in wrestling, but if so, the people of Peterborough don't want to see any more of the mat game, at least that seems to be the opinion of nine-tenths of the people who saw the match.

Mohl made hundreds of friends by his gameness, while on the other hand the Yankee lost a good deal of his popularity.

The preliminaries were well contested and lively and the crowd seemed to enjoy them very much. A. C. Yokome met his old adversary, Bobby Long, in the first curtain-raiser, and defeated him in a ten-minute bout without much difficulty. He was on the aggressive nearly all the way and seemed to be in better shape than his opponent. Yokome got the only fall of the match in two minutes with a bar-Nelson.

Ted Crowe and Jack Wilson put up a lively exhibition in their fifteen-minute bout in which neither got a fall. They went at each other in no gentle fashion and the crowd was much amused with the struggle. Crowe had a little the better of the argument but could not get a fall and the decision was given as a draw.

Ned Fitzpatrick of Spencerport, N. Y., refereed the three bouts and gave satisfaction, although his decision in regard to the blow that put Mohl out was not fancied by a large part of the crowd.

CITY LEAGUE IS BADLY NEEDED; WOULD DEVELOP MATERIAL

The action of the Peterborough Rugby Club in deciding to encourage the formation of a City League is most commendable and should receive the support of every lover of the game in Peterborough. Only by a City League can Peterborough hope to be able to place in the field a team that will be able to hold its own with other teams.

This city is handicapped by its size. Most Rugby centres are large cities where there is a constant incoming of players from outside and where educational institutions tend to bring players within reach of the city clubs. It is not so in Peterborough. The material for a team, for the most part, must be developed here, and the importance of looking after young players, in view of this fact, cannot be overestimated. An effort should be made to get hold of the juniors when they are, say 16 or 17 years of age, and no difficulty would be experienced in teaching them to play the game as it should be played. There are in the city a number of veteran Rugbyists who are competent and who, it is certain, would be willing to act as coaches for one or other of the teams.

The intention of the promoters of the scheme is to have two series, and of the two the more attention should be paid to the junior. An age limit of 17 years has been suggested, and no doubt it would be found to be very satisfactory. An effort should be made to have a constitution, the provisions of which cannot be easily broken, and to see that its rules are carried out.

The City League is a step in the right direction, and no doubt will prove very successful.

CONKLE-HURTUBISE BOUT OFF; HAMILTON MAN BACKS DOWN

The match between Hurtubise and Conkle, the Hamilton grappler, has fallen through, the Ambitious City man evidently suffering from an attack of cold feet. For weeks he has been making a big noise about what he could do with Hurtubise, now he was certain he could throw the big local man around at will, and how dead anxious he was to get a chance at him. Last week his challenge took a more definite form. He stated that he wanted a match with Hurtubise and would guarantee to throw him twice in one hour. Well, he got his chance. Chris Graham, Gene's manager, jumped at the offer and notified the Hamilton man that they were ready for the go at any time. Now Conkle has backed down on the proposition. Looks as if he only wanted to get a little newspaper notoriety, and realizes that he would have no chance to throw Hurtubise once in an hour, let alone twice. Conkle is showing his wisdom, too, for the local man is in fine shape and wrestling faster than ever.

CREMATED BEFORE CROWDS.

Two Little Ones Jump to Death and Third is Burned.

A terrible mistake occurred recently at a fire display in Durban by the Durban fire brigade and seamen of the British warship Hermes.

The display concluded with the destruction by fire of some temporary buildings, at the top of which were three children, aged 9, 8 and 7 years, the two sons of Firemaster Lambeth and a son of a fireman named Scott. It was arranged that the signal for igniting these structures should be given by means of a naval rocket. But some men from the Hermes were giving a display with a field gun, and the firing of this gun was mistaken for the rocket, with the result that the torch was applied to the house fully five minutes before the time fixed.

The result was that before the children could be brought down the escape, as arranged, the whole building, which had been saturated with paraffin, was in flames.

Two of the children, at the call of those below, jumped down from the burning building and sustained such injuries that they died shortly after, and the third fell back into the burning house.

Five firemen were on the roof of the buildings (the children being on an upper floor), but they slid down ropes and then jumped to the ground.

Several thousand people, present to watch the display, were witnesses of the tragedy. The scene was heart-rending, with frantic parents and children screaming, women fainting and the inability of any one to do anything. The buildings were so quickly in the power of the flames that firemen and onlookers were alike helpless. What had up to that point been the scene of a highly successful display was turned in a few minutes into a camp of mourning. When the incinerated body of the child who had fallen into the flames was brought forth every one was overcome. During the first moments of the accident the spectators thought that only dummies were falling from the building.

ASLEEP IN BATTLE.

Uncontrollable Desire in Situations of Great Tension.

It is not an unknown thing for a soldier to fall asleep even when ostensibly taking an active part in an action. A case in point is supplied by an interesting communication from a London surgeon who served in South Africa. He writes:

Any one who has seen men in situations of great tension knows that some of them—in fact, a small minority of them—may be overcome by an uncontrollable desire to sleep. It affects some men more than others. At Honning spruit, June, 1900, the writer happened to be the only surgeon on the spot when Colonel Bullock was attacked for about nine hours by a Boer force double his own in numbers, better armed and assisted by artillery. We were without this invaluable assistance. The Boers failed to take the post.

During the attack the writer visited a trench in which one man was badly hit and another was lying apparently dead, except that he had not the color of a man killed in action. The writer turned him over to get a better look at him and found the man had been sound asleep, and this was not the only case of sleeping that day.

Colonel Bullock's force was called upon to repel an attack at about 7 a.m. on empty stomachs, were obliged to lie face downward in shallow trenches and endure the shell and rifle fire from all but invisible foes, and in the sun, after a sleepless night of travel in railway trucks, a few of them went to sleep. The main cause, the writer believes, was the tension of the situation in the absence of active physical exertion.

The writer felt the same desire for sleep, but active employment kept him awake. The wounded, except the most severely wounded, soon succumbed to the beautiful action of this natural anaesthetic.—British Medical Journal.

It is possible, even probable, that the sea serpent myth started in all good faith. In the southern seas grow the gigantic algae, the largest of which measure from 400 to 600 feet in length. These when rolled on the beach form enormous cables several hundred feet long and as thick as a good sized tree trunk. Such cables washed out to sea by storms may very easily have given rise to the farfamed but yet undiscovered sea serpent.—New York American.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The wave of prosperity seems to be on the flow, the reliable barometer of trade, railway freight traffic, by its increased activity justifies this statement.

Mr. Bayne, the dispenser of solid and liquid political arguments, in the Colchester bye-election in the Conservative interests, is in the (tomato) soup; he has been committed for trial on a charge of corrupting the electors by the wholesale distribution of money and whisky.

The Examiner extends hearty congratulations to Sergeant W. H. Moore, who, by his sure shooting at the Dominion Rifle Association meet has won a place on the Bisley team for 1909. He has brought credit to Peterborough at Ottawa, and will, doubtless, maintain his place among the cracks at Bisley.

How To Keep Green Tomatoes; Their Ripening May Be Delayed

From The Canadian Dairyman.

Just as soon as the average date of the first killing frost approaches in the latitude in which you live, gather all the green tomatoes, big and little, and sort them over, putting the fairest and largest in one lot, and the smaller and inferior ones in another. Put a large crumpled newspaper in the bottom of a clean wooden box (a cracker box is best, because it has no resinous odors, such as a pine box gives out, that may be imparted to the fruit,) place a layer of the large tomatoes upon the paper, leaving space of say an inch between; then put on another layer crumpled newspaper, pressing it down carefully into the interstices and around the edges, so the tomatoes may be kept from contact and from the air, and so on, layer upon layer, with crumpled newspapers between, until the box is full; tack a cover on, so that neither mice nor chickens may attack them, and set the boxes in your barn or some dry, cool place, such as a fruit or root cellar. If placed in a barn they should be shielded from severe cold with hay or straw, until the weather gets too cold for their safety, then they must be stored in a frost-proof but not too warm place, as heat, of course, will ripen them too rapidly.

If they are kept thus, at a cool and even temperature, somewhat above freezing, the time of their ripening may be delayed until or beyond New Year's. This may be called putting them in "cool" storage; but if put into cold storage, with ice, and an exact, even, cool temperature maintained, their time of ripening can be lengthened out almost until spring.

It will, of course, be found necessary to examine them from time to time, to remove ripe or decaying fruit. I have put them up some years, wrapped each one separately in pieces of paper, but this makes the examination more difficult, as each tomato has to be unwrapped to ascertain its condition.

The balance of the crop of green fruit, the smaller and rougher specimens, make excellent mincemeat for pies, if treated as follows: Remove stems and leaves, and wash the fruit in cold water, chop them in a wooden chopping bowl, as fine as ordinary mincemeat, pouring off all the green juice. They should then be cooked slowly until tender, in a porcelain-lined kettle or earthen jar or crock, and to a peck of the green tomatoes should be added a teacup each of English currants and stoned raisins, and of sugar or molasses, spices, a little salt and grated lemon or orange peel to suit the taste. Bottle the product hot in self-sealing jars, just as other fruits are preserved. This will be found to make excellent pies no other ingredients, such as apples or meat, being required or desirable. We think no one not let into the secret would ever guess them to be made almost entirely of green tomatoes.

The larger ripened fruit should bring a good price in market, in midwinter. They should be wrapped separately, or two together, not touching each other, neatly, in square pieces of clean unprinted newspaper, and packed in one third bushel crates, or, better still, in four-pound straight sided splint baskets without handles. If baskets are used, put the fruit in on edge. The contrast in color of the brilliant red of the fruit with the white paper, when this is partially removed, will be found very pleasing and attractive.

Apple Crop Will Only Be About One-Half That Of Last Year

From The Canadian Dairyman.

There has been a material decrease in the prospects for a crop of winter apples. It is now estimated at about half of last year's crop. The fruit is growing rapidly, and is much larger in size and finer in quality than at this time last season. Crop correspondents of The Canadian Dairyman and Farming World point out the situation in Ontario to be as follows:

Trenton.—The apple crop is the lightest I have ever seen. Some growers claim that they have not enough for their own use. There is a little spot; also considerable railroad worm in some sections, which is causing the apples to drop. Leaf blight is prevalent in some orchards. Baldwins seem to be more affected than other varieties. The buyers are paying from 50c to $1 a barrel, the grower to do the picking.—W. H. D.

Oshawa.—The apple crop will be something over one-half of last year. The fruit is large and of good quality. Coddling moth is showing quite a lot but very little scab. Only a few varieties are heavily loaded. Pears are very light. Strawberries have been fair; raspberries good. Plums are mostly a failure. The oyster-shell bark-louse has done quite a bit of harm; some orchards are almost ruined.—E. L.

Ingersoll. — European varieties of plums are rather scarce; Japanese varieties plentiful. Apples are a little more than one-half of last year's crop. Early varieties are very plentiful, but Spys and Greenings are scarce in places. As a whole, the crop is fairly clean but very bad when unsprayed.—J. C. H.

Walkerton.—Early apples are a very good crop; late falls and winter, light, particularly Spys, Baldwins and Kings. The quality is good. The frequent rains are making apples a good size. Plums are medium to good but the rot has started in some varieties and, if the weather continues damp, it will reduce the crop. Pears are light; the twig blight has nearly cleaned them out.—A. E. S.

Some Hints To Those Who Aim To Carry Off The Butter Prizes At The Exhibitions This Year

From The Canadian Dairyman.

Every fall I get letters from people asking me to give them suggestions regarding the making of exhibition butter. I thought the hints I give to the few might perhaps be appreciated by the many whose ambition leads them to try for the butter prizes, and perchance add to their fame as butter makers, also a few dollars to their spending money. It is a worthy ambition to help on the fairs in this way and if entered into with the right spirit leads to a wholesome rivalry which is good for a community.

With the greater refinement manifest in all phases of living has come a more fastidious taste in regard to butter. Of this change no one is in closer touch than the expert judges who visit the fairs. They know what the best buyers in the market are demanding and make the awards to the packages coming nearest to the requirements.

Year by year the desire for a highly flavored butter has lessened and now that butter which scores highest, has a very mild creamy flavor—one would almost say a lack of flavor were it not so pleasing and clean-tasting to the palate.

This flavor is brought about by having the cream with a low percentage of acid in it. In other words with a very mild sour taste. Apart from the acid in the cream the flavor may be due to the kind of bacteria, some forms producing a more pronounced odor and flavor than others. If a butter-maker has doubts about the culture she is using, or the flavor brought about by the natural souring of the cream, it would be well to procure a culture from the O. A. C. or from a creamery where the butter is of No. 1 quality. Always give a new culture a trial test before using it for exhibition butter.

If there is the least suspicion of any objectionable flavor being in the cream due to feed, unclean milking, etc, it is wisdom to pasteurize the cream. The method has been often told but it may be best to repeat it. Heat the cream to 160 degrees by setting the can in a vessel of hot water and hold at that temperature for 30 minutes. A higher temperature is now recommended but is apt to give a cooked or boiled milk flavor to the butter, so for exhibition work I would be on the safe side and not go over the 160 degrees. The cream should be stirred while heating and after standing the half hour should be quickly cooled to 60 degrees or lower. Such cream needs to have from 5 per cent to 10 per cent good culture added to it, and should be ready for churning the next day.

Hand in hand with the mild flavor has come the desire for lighter colored butter. A clear straw color meets the taste of the fastidious. I have known butter to be scored severely when the cow alone had been responsible for the high color. However, with the careful judge it is the evenness and clearness or brightness rather than the depth or shade of color that counts.

To obtain that firm, waxy texture so desirable, I believe it necessary to hold the cream for some hours at a temperature some degrees below churning. Then just before putting the cream in the churn bring it to the required temperature, having it on the cool side rather than have the butter come too quickly and be soft.

There is no use to state temperatures for conditions have to be always considered. With good cream, and the churn not half full, I like the butter to come in from 20 to 30 minutes. I find from experience with cream that the temperature which will bring the butter in that time is right.

Just before drawing the butter-milk add some cold water and revolve the churn a few times, rapidly. This frees the butter-milk from the butter, and it will drain away much more readily. Rinse down the butter with a little of the wash water, then wash but once. Much washing robs the butter of its aroma and gives it an insipid flavor.

Light salting is also another requirement of the high-class market. It is not desirable to hide the sweet, creamy flavor with salt, neither is it necessary to use excessive salt to keep the butter, for it is supposed now to soon reach the consumer.

With small churnings, I prefer when making exhibition butter, weighing the butter and salting it at the rate of ¼ oz. a lb. This is per prints for the home market.

Sift on the salt and give the butter a slight working. Allow it to stand two or three hours, but do not let it become hard. At the end of this time give it another working, using pressure only, as a sliding, rubbing motion produces a greasy texture. Only work sufficiently to expel excessive moisture and to insure an even distribution of the salt.

Use the best of parchment paper and have the package entirely free from holes and neatly wrapped. Avoid all fussiness.

See that the butter is thoroughly chilled before taking it to the fair, otherwise it is impossible for the judge to pull out with his trier a nice smooth plug of butter from the print. Many a good butter maker does not get the high score she should because her butter had not firmed before coming to the fair.

It is always best to make the butter early the day before it is to taken to the fair. I consider it gets a better texture and flavor by being at least a day old before being submitted to the trier of a judge.

To guard against this it is necessary to set the milk sweet, cut the curd evenly and fine, and stir out all free moisture at the time of removing the whey. Too much importance cannot be given to having the curd in proper condition at this stage, for if such is obtained, and the curd well matured before salting, there should be little danger of further trouble.

To obtain the best results in finish and closeness the cheese should be turned in the hoops every morning, and the pressing continued for two days.

The prevailing high prices being offered for fancy cheese this year should be a stimulus to both patrons and factorymen to do everything possible to furnish the buyer and consumer with quality of such a standard that the demand would be increased or at least maintained.

THE CHEESE WANTED BY EXPORTERS

During September It Should be Made to Keep Long in Storage.

CLEAN MILK SUPPLY

From The Canadian Dairyman.

The quality of cheese desired by exporters for the month of September is in no way different from that of other months. They, however, look for cheese with better keeping qualities, as those made during the latter part of the season are usually held in storage to supply the trade of winter months and early part of next season, before freshly made cheese are fit for consumption.

A long keeping cheese should have the followng characteristics. First, it should be clean and sound in flavor. Second, the body should be firm and the texture close and meaty. Third, The color should be bright and uniform. Fourth, finish should be neat and attractive.

Special attention should be given towards securing a clean milk supply and to the careful use of reliable commercial starters. It is upon these two points that cheese flavor largely depends and which are frequently neglected by makers, especially during the closing part of the season. To insure good body and texture it is essential that the curd be so firmed in the whey that it is springy and elastic by the time sufficient acid has developed. This season during September we are likely to have no difficulty in securing such a quality if the following points are kept in mind: 1st. The supply of after-grass is very abundant and high in water content. 2nd. For the above reason ourds will require special attention to prevent the too rapid development of lactic acid in the early stages of manufacture.

THE PRICE OF FEED WILL DROP

Purchase of Large Quantities Should be Delayed Until Later On.

From The Canadian Dairyman.

For the last year and a half or two years feed prices have been excessively high. The prospects of a fair to good grain crop in practically every township of the country, increases somewhat the probabilities for lower prices. While the grain farmer may not view the falling market with any great degree of enthusiasm, the change will be most welcome to Canadian live stock men, no matter what the stock, from the hen to the horse, in which they may be interested.

A common practice, for dairymen at least, has been to order during the summer, and at summer prices, practically all the feed they expected to need for the winter's operations. This refers, of course, more particularly to such feeds as bran, shorts, gluten meal, oil cake meal, cotton seed meal and other bye-products now so extensively used by all our Canadian stock men, although possibly most largely bought by Eastern dairy farmers.

Generally speaking, this practice of summer buying is highly advisable, but this year, owing to the scarcity of raw material (grains of all kinds) last year, nearly all bye-products are scarce and prices rule high. The placing of the new grain crop on the market, together with brightening trade prospects will soon increase the supply of such feeds, and consequently have a tendency to lower prices.

During the past few weeks the only feed on the market that has not been unusually dear, was oil cake meal. Until this feed rises over $35 or $36 a ton it may be considered as a profitable feed for either the dairyman or the beef producer.

In view, therefore, of the probable lowering of prices, purchases of feed in large quantities should be deferred till a good deal later in the season. It is certain now that no raise in prices will occur; it is practically certain that prices for all feeding material, for the next few months will have a downward tendency.

"After Results."

Fired Three Shots.

St. Catharines, Sept. 5.—Louis Copina, an Italian, employed at Queenston quarries, was yesterday committed for trial by Police Magistrate Fraser at Queenston for shooting with intent to kill Mrs. Mufffminy, his boarding house mistress.

Copina fired three shots at the woman, but all lodged in the wall.

Cut to Pieces by Train.

Chatham, Sept. 5.—An unknown man, about 70 years of age, with grey hair and whiskers, and a brown suit, was found ground to pieces on the M.C.R. track, near Fletcher, yesterday morning.

He is thought to be a tramp. There will be no inquest.

Shoots Her Rival.

Wichita Falls, Tex., Sept. 5.—Lillie Wheatley was shot and killed yesterday by Mrs. Walter Allen, wife of the proprietor of the St. Charles Hotel in this city.

Miss Wheatley was in a carriage with Mr. Allen when the shooting occurred.

Bullet Wound Fatal.

Cornwall, Sept. 5.—Royal Aubrey, the young man from North Bangor, N.Y., who was shot at a dance or charivari at Dickson's Centre on Tuesday night, died yesterday afternoon from his wounds at the Cornwall General Hospital.

Will Implicate Others.

New Bedford, Mass., Sept. 5.—Auguste Charest, formerly a foreman of the street department of Montreal, who was arrested here recently for an alleged embezzlement of $1,500 of the funds of the city, left yesterday for Canada, in charge of Deputy Chief of Police Carpenter. He expressed his intention of implicating others in the crime, which he admitted, according to the police, before leaving the city.

Freight Train Wrecked.

Trenton, Sept. 5.—A whole carload of horseshoes were not enough to save a Grand Trunk freight train from being wrecked near here at 3 o'clock yesterday morning. Eight cars were ditched, and of these three were badly smashed and totally destroyed by fire.

The Best Fattening Food For Raising Good Poultry

From The Canadian Dairyman.

In Sussex, the staple fattening food is oats, ground very fine by a special process, mixed with skim milk. But here are other less costly mixtures which have given excellent results, and there is no reason why the fowl-fattener should depend solely on one kind of food. Success depends largely upon the proportions in which the various feeding stuffs are mixed. A mixture of ground oats, two parts, maize meal, one part; middlings, one part, makes an excellent fattening ration. The principal moistening agent in all mixtures must be skim milk, since nothing else that may be used for this purpose is quite as good. Some fatteners, however, feed a good deal of broth, which is made by boiling down all kinds of rough fat, tallow, bones, pieces of meat, livers, etc., which can be picked up at small cost. The method is to boil these various kinds of offal in a large vat for several hours, and according as the broth or soup is required it is drawn off and mixed with meal.

TIMES OF FEEDING.

Fowls in coops may be fed either twice or thrice a day; but we prefer to feed them only twice, as we have found that they keep healthier, and maintain a hearty appetite for a longer time upon two meals a day than on three, while there is no apparent difference in gains of weight. Much labor is also saved by feeding only twice a day, and this is an important consideration in establishments where some hundreds of fowls are being fattened at once. The hours of feeding should be regular and evenly divided—that is to say, there should not be too long a period between any two meals, for fowls in close confinement, with no opportunity of foraging for a single morsel of food, suffer in health and decrease in weight, when kept fasting too long. The attendant should be early astir, so as to give the fowl their morning meal between 5 and 6 o'clock in summer time, and as early as there is daylight in winter, and the evening meal is also to be regulated by the length of the day. In winter it must be fed between 3 and 4 o'clock, but in the time of longer daylight the usual mealtime is about 5 p.m.

QUANTITY OF FOOD.

At feeding times the attendant should be particularly observant, for there is no other time at which the health of the birds can be so accurately gauged. It will be observed that certain fowls will eat ravenously from the start, and will improve in condition daily, whilst others seem to lose their relish for food within a few days after having been placed in the coops. The latter birds are usually unsuitable subjects for fattening being anæmic and thriftless, and the only course that can be taken with them, is to let them loose, and if they can be got into good health and fair condition in the fields, to sell them off without fattening, for anything they will fetch. We may mention that the fowls which have necessarily to be handled in this way are exceptional, and that the majority of healthy fowls respond readily to the efforts of the fattener. It is unnecessary and indeed impossible to lay down and keep rules as to the quantity of food to be fed, and in this the attendant must be guided entirely by observation. The practice is to place as much food in the troughs as it is supposed the fowls will eat up greedily, and then to observe them in order to ascertain if all are feeding well. If the attendant sees that more food is required, he gives it; but, if, on the other hand, there is food left over, the troughs are scraped into the feeding pail, and as the food cannot possibly get soiled in the troughs, it may be fed again at the next meal. The attendant should, however, aim at mixing only as much food at a time as will be consumed at a single meal. —Homestead Poultry Expert.

Experiments In Rideau Factory; The Results Of Cooling The Milk

From The Canadian Dairyman.

The nature of the experiments that are being conducted in Rideau cheese factory, Smith's Falls, by the Dairy Division of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, were explained to a representative of The Canadian Dairyman and Farming World, while in Ottawa recently by George H. Barr, who is conducting the experiments. Arrangements have been made with two farmers to send their milk to the factory by which the Government takes entire charge of the evening's milk from their farms. The morning's milk is sent to the factory by these patrons in the usual manner. The department is experimenting to find the results of cooling the milk in different ways, such as with an aerator, and cooled by the use of ice, and so forth. The milk thus cooled is manufactured in separate vats at the factory that have been placed in the factory in unclean and rusty cans, in order that the effect of such cans on the milk may be determined. The same tests are being repeated at regular periods in order that the tests may be made under different conditions of temperature as affected by the season. The cheese made from the milk is kept in an ordinary cool curing room for 15 days.

About a 45 lb. cheese is made each day. When the test started the milk of 37 cows was used, but, as the season advanced, there was a shrinkage in the supply of milk.

Speaking to the representative of The Dairyman and Farming World, Mr. Barr said: "We intended to make an 80 lb. cheese each day, and to use the milk sent by four or five patrons. We found, however, that it was impossible for us to watch carefully enough the milk sent to us by so many patrons. For instance we described to one patron just how we wanted him to cool his milk by means of ice. When, however, we came to make up his milk we found that the cheese was gassy. This man stated that he had followed our instructions to the letter. I am convinced, however, that the can containing the ice was placed on the ground before it was sunk in the milk, and that in this way contamination got into the milk. We now take charge of the milk ourselves as soon as the milking is over."

Mr. Barr stated that during September the test may be made of the new casein test. One or two informal experiments on this test have been made. Mr. Barr states that the test is a nice one.

TERRIBLE FATALITY AT STONY LAKE; ROY McKELVIE INSTANTLY KILLED BY ACCIDENTAL DISCHARGE OF SHOT GUN

Drew the Gun Towards Him by the Muzzle—Charge Entered His Left Breast—Was Duck Shooting Near Crowe's Landing

WELL KNOWN TO CAMPERS

Special Staff Correspondence.

Crowe's Landing, Stony Lake, Sept. 8.—A terrible fatality, which has cast a gloom over the east end of the lake, occurred near here last evening, when Roy McKelvie, second son of Mr. J. McKelvie, of Norwood, proprietor of "Belvidere," summer Hotel at Crowe's Landing, was instantly killed by the accidental discharge of a shot gun.

The unfortunate young man, who was well known to the summer frequenters at the lake, left the Landing about 6.30 o'clock last evening, in company with Walter Crowe and John Harrison, two young men residing in the neighbourhood, to try a shot at the wild ducks, their destination being an inlet locally known as the "duck pond," and situated along the Dummer shore, about a mile west of this place. Harrison and Crowe were just leaving the Landing when McKelvie shouted down to them and asked to be taken along. They waited for him, and the three set out in a skiff for the spot where they thought there was a chance of getting a shot or two at the ducks during the evening flight. On reaching the duck pond the young men left their boat and stationed themselves along shore. McKelvie took his place on a high rock and the other two were some distance away from him. The boy had his loaded shot gun with him, and was sitting with it across his knee while he smoked his pipe. Suddenly the others heard his gun go off, and looked around for the ducks. Not seeing any they looked towards the rock where they had left their companion, and saw him take off his hat and fall backwards. Hurrying to the spot they found him dead, with his left side torn by the shot and with the clothing around the wound on fire, so close had been the muzzle when the gun was discharged.

It is thought that the shot gun slipped off his knees while he was smoking, and was sliding down the rock when he seized it, and in drawing it to him discharged the piece, the contents striking him in the left breast and killing him almost instantly. As quick as possible Harrison made his way back to Crowe's Landing and broke the terrible news to the boy's family, while Crowe remained to watch the body. When the news reached Crowe's Landing a boat was sent back and the remains brought to his home here, and will be taken to Norwood to-day where the funeral will take place.

The accident is particularly sad, inasmuch as the young man was to have been married to-day, and was leaving Crowe's Landing this morning, after spending the summer there. In fact the Majestic made a special trip up to Crowe's Landing last night in order to take the unfortunate young man away this morning. He had been clerk in the store at the Landing for several years, and the many summer visitors who have made his acquaintance will be shocked by the news of his tragic death.

He is survived by his parents, two brothers, Charles, in Toronto, and Norman, at home, and one sister, Miss Lovie. He was about twenty-two years of age.

PETERBORO'S TRIM REDCOATS JOIN THEIR BROTHERS-IN-ARMS AT BARRIEFIELD CAMP SUNDAY

THEY ENJOYED THE TRIP

Preceded by both bands the 57th Regiment marched from the Armouries on Saturday night to the G. T. R. station, where they entrained for Barriefield Camp, Kingston. As usual their military appearance, as they paraded down George street was all that could be desired, and a large crowd bade them farewell as the train pulled out. They arrived at Kingston Junction at 4.30 a. m. Sunday, and 5.30 they detrained at the Barracks gate and marched to Barriefield, arriving there at 6.45 o'clock. The advance guard had everything in splendid shape.

At 9.00 o'clock the regiment, at full strength, comprising 242 non-commissioned officers and men, turned out for church parade. They formed a hollow square, with the officers and ministers in the centre. The sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Wallace, of Kingston, chaplain of the 14th Rifles.

Massed bands played for the singing.

In the afternoon the men were free to do as they pleased. Some visited the city, others went to see old Fort Henry, once a stronghold that guarded Canada in its earliest days. It now lies vacant, a memorial of the pioneer days of our forefathers.

Sunday evening the 57th Band gave a sacred concert before headquarters. This was greatly appreciated and attracted a large crowd.

On Monday morning the regiment had several hours squad drill.

River Trip

On Monday afternoon they boarded the Str. Alethea and enjoyed a delightful sail thirty miles down the St. Lawrence to Alexandra Bay. Everybody was well satisfied with the whole trip. The meals were prepared under the supervision of Mr. Thos. Hooper, who, with fifteen men, had charge of the commissariat.

This morning about sixty-five of the regiment returned home. The remainder will take part in the camp drills and work until Thursday, when they also will be back.

Notes

The bugle band delivered the goods. They were general favourites with the whole camp, and as they were the only bugle band they had the whole field.

Among the visitors to the lines were Major Young and Capt. Ackerman, of the 14th Field Battery, and Capt. Medd, Capt. Langfeldt and Lieut. Leary, of the 3rd Dragoons.

The camp password is "Beans."

Sergt.-Major Brittain was at home with the whole regiment.

The 57th Band provided excellent music.

The band of the 57th Regiment is staying over to-night to give a concert in the Opera House at Kingston and to-morrow night it will take part in the military tattoo at Barriefield.

WEST PETERBOROUGH.

At the Liberal Convention in the Opera House, Peterborough, on Saturday, Mr. R. R. Hall, member for West Peterborough, was tendered the nomination, but for reasons involving considerations of the interests of his private business, declined its acceptance, and Hon. Mr. Stratton, perhaps to the surprise of some, received and accepted the practically unanimous nomination of the convention. On Wednesday night preceding the convention, Mr. Hall conferred with his friends and pointed out that, in view of the interests of his private business affairs, it was impossible to withdraw from them the time and attention a protracted campaign would involve, and that in the immediate future he would have to devote a great share of his attention to them, so that necessarily he must decline a nomination.

Mr. Stratton was urged under the circumstances, to consent to his name being placed before the convention, and was tendered and accepted the unanimous nomination of one of the largest nominating conventions of Liberals ever held in West Peterborough. Since his retirement from active politics Mr. Stratton has not, as it is well known, been permitted to enjoy his retirement. For the past two years he has been the object of persistent, organized, systematic and malignant attack from certain elements of his political opponents who had, for the moment, or arrogated to themselves, a leading place in their (party. He could engage in no public activity in discharge of the duty of a public-spirited citizen, without his motives being impugned and his actions made the excuse for bitter attack. It was, therefore, not unnatural, under these conditions, that the feeling should be engendered on the part of himself and his friends, that, if he were to be subjected to slander and abuse from political motives, he might as well be in the thick of the fight, especially having regard to the circumstance that, as at present, he could be of use to his old constituency and at a time when his services were demanded, and compliance meant response to a call to duty.

Mr. Stratton was heartily offered, and has as heartily accepted nomination as a necessary, not to say obvious, preliminary to election at a time when West Peterborough needs the services of a man of large experience in public affairs, and with a business equipment and energy necessary to give the riding the practical and effective attention it deserves, and to insure a continuation of the energetic and productive representation it has had at the hands of its retiring member, Mr. Hall.

There are two points of view from which the representation of West Peterborough should be regarded by the electors at the present time—representative capacity and administrative capacity. In considering the choice of a representative the electors might reasonably ask themselves which of the two candidates, now formally in the field, would make the better and more useful member; which of the two has done more in the past for the advancement of the interests of Peterborough and West Peterborough; which has shown the more public spirit and has more actively and practically identified himself with movements in the public interest; which has brought more solid benefits to the riding; which has more liberally embarked his means and enlisted his energies in promoting the industrial interests of the city, in promoting industrial activity, creating employment and contributing to the prominent industrial position the city now occupies, and, in fine, which possesses the greater capacity for giving the riding energetic and effective service in all respects.

In regard to administrative capacity, in considering the choice of a government supporter, the electors might reasonably and profitably ask which of the governments representing the two great parties, has done more in their terms of power for the building up of the country; to inquire under what government Canada has made the more progress; and enjoyed the greatest prosperity; which government has raised Canada from a position of comparative obscurity, made it "the brightest jewel in the British Crown, placed it in the broad sunlight of the world, made it one of the greatest countries in regard to its population and made the eyes of the older countries to be directed to this new star in the terrestrial firmament, the home of progress, liberty and civilization," and, in fine, which government gives certain promise of giving Canada the more progressive, the more advanced, the more satisfactory administration.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Sept. 7.—(Special)—at the Montreal Stock Yards' West End Market the receipts of live stock for the week ending Sept. 5, were 4230 cattle, 4363 sheep and lambs, 2268 hogs and 569 calves, while the supply for local consumption this morning was 2500 cattle, 600 sheep and lambs, 750 hogs and 150 calves. The supply of cattle was larger than it has been for some weeks past and as it consisted chiefly of common and inferior stock the market for such was weak and prices since this day week show a decline of fully ½c per lb. But as really good and choice beeves continue scarce values for these were maintained. Considering the large offerings which were somewhat in excess of the requirements of the trade a fairly active business was done, owing to the fact that the demand from Quebec buyers was good and at the reduction in prices for the lower grades local operators showed a disposition to buy more freely on account of the cooler weather and now that householders are returning from the country fast the consumption of beef is steadily increasing. There was no demand from local exporters, they having ample stock coming forward from the west to fill all their space. Cables from Liverpool on Saturday reported trade slow, but noted no change in prices as compared with a week ago. Just choice beeves sold here at 5c; good, at 4¾c to 4¾c; fair, at 4½c to 4¾c; common, at 3½c to 3¾, and inferior, at 2¾ to 3½c per lb. Owing to the steady increase in the receipts of lambs of late, a weaker feeling has developed in the market and prices have declined ½c to ¾c per lb. At this reduction the demand for local consumption was good and a fairly active trade was done at 5¼c to 5½c per lb. There was no change in sheep, but the demand for export account was somewhat slow this morning, at 4c, with the calls at 3½c to 3¾c per lb. The supply of calves was small, for which the demand is fairly good and prices rule firm at 4½c to 5½c for choice stock and grass fed are selling at 5½c to 5½c per lb. In sympathy with the advance in prices for Canadian bacon in the foreign markets and the small supply of hogs coming forward a very firm feeling prevails, but prices show no actual change compared with a week ago. The demand was good from local packers and dealers and sales were made of selected lots at $7 to $7.10 per cwt., weighed off the cars.

FIRES IN MINNESOTA.

Several Towns Suffer and Thousands Are Homeless.

Duluth, Sept. 8.—Forest fires, after burning for three days, enveloped several towns near Duluth Saturday, rendered thousands of people homeless and destroyed millions of dollars' worth of property.

Chisholm, Minn., a town of 4,000 inhabitants 90 miles north of Duluth, was completely wiped out.

Hibbing, five miles from Chisholm, was surrounded by forest fires and was saved only by the shifting of the wind.

The entire northern portion of Douglas County, Wis., is on fire.

Benshaw, a village 25 miles west of Duluth, is surrounded by flames and there is no hope for it. The farmers have been driven from their homes and the passage along the roadway is difficult owing to the dense smoke and the heat.

JAIL BREAKER CAUGHT.

Robert Snow Is First of Toronto Prisoners to Be Captured.

Toronto, Sept. 8.—Hidden in a windowless garret in his father's home on Farley avenue, Robert Snow, the youngest and least dangerous of the seven criminals who escaped in such a sensational manner from Toronto jail on the afternoon of July 17, was recaptured in the early hours yesterday morning by Acting Detective Cronin and Patrol Sergeant Umbach. The place where the lad was caught was a little hole up under the gable of the house and entered a small opening cut in the ceiling of the upstairs hall. There was no place to sleep in the hole, and young Shaw had been hoisted up by his father when the police called. He put up quite a fight when caught and threatened to shoot the officers.

Kilties See King.

Toronto, Sept. 8.—Major T. F. Michie of the 48th Highlanders on Saturday received a cable from Col. Robertson that the detachment of the regiment now visiting at Aldershot was to be received on Monday, Sept. 8, by His Majesty the King.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 8.—Unless prevented by the New York authorities Harry K. Thaw will come to Pittsburg Friday morning, Sept. 11, to be examined by his creditors in his proceedings in bankruptcy.

ROPE BREAKS.

"Death Defying" Performer at Toronto Exhibition Has Bad Fall.

Toronto, Sept. 8.—The thrilling and death-defying dash through space taken by Mlle. Marie la Blonche, which has been probably the most exciting feature of the grand stand program at the exhibition, was brought to an abrupt conclusion yesterday afternoon by the failure of the rope upon which the performance was carried out. Mlle. la Blonche was precipitated about thirty feet to the ground, alighting fortunately on the tan bark scattered over the sward and only a yard or two from the platform, to fall upon which would likely have resulted fatally for her. As it is her back may prove to have been broken.

Yesterday was Labor Day at the exhibition, and fully 135,000 passed through the gates creating a record for a single day's attendance. A few trivial accidents occurred as a result of the huge crowds who swarmed over the grounds.

Paris, Sept. 8.—Leon Delagrange, president of the Aviation Club of France, yesterday beat his world's aeroplane record, made Sunday.

He circled the field at Issy eighteen times at an average height of 13 feet, and remained in the air 31 minutes.

Welshman's Suicide.

LARGEST LIBERAL CONVENTION IN HISTORY OF WEST PETERBOROUGH

Unanimously Nominates Hon. J. R. Stratton, Who Accepts On The Retirement of Mr. R. R. Hall For Business Reasons.

GREAT ENTHUSIASM AND CONFIDENCE SHOWN

Mr. Hall Relates In Detail What Has Been Got and Done For The Riding, to Justify His Demand For Retirement.

One of the most enthusiastic and largely attended, Liberal mass-meeting conventions ever held in West Peterborough, was that which convened in the Grand Opera House, Peterborough, on Saturday afternoon. The object was to nominate a candidate to contest the representation of the riding in the Liberal interests at the forthcoming general election. The result was the practically unanimous and wholly enthusiastic nomination of Hon. J. R. Stratton, proposed by Mr. R R Hall, M.P., at the close of the announcement by the latter that in difference to interests of his private business, he was compelled to decline acceptance of the candidature, which had been unanimously tendered him by convention on the nomination of Mr. Stratton. In the course of his address, Mr. Hall, to justify the course he had taken, outlined the advantages and benefits which had come to Peterborough and West Peterborough since he became their member. The large amount of time required in taking the necessary steps, and the attendant inquiry and investigation of conditions precluded the possibility of his giving any more than perfunctory attention to private business. A reference to the large number of public improvements and other things obtained by Mr. Hall in the interests of his constituency showed that he had made an excellent member, ever alert, energetic and fully alive to his responsibility as a representative. The enthusiasm with which Mr. Stratton's nomination and his acceptance were received, shows that he has still a very warm place in the hearts of the electors of West Peterborough and that they are not forgetful of, nor ungrateful for, the service rendered by him during his nearly twenty years representation of West Peterborough in the Local Legislature, and the feeling was that his return by a substantial majority was a matter beyond peradventure.

The chair was occupied by Mr. J J Hartley, President of the West Riding Liberal Association, and on the platform were Hon. G A Cox, Hon. J R Stratton and Mr. D O'Connell and Mr. Hall. Mr. Hartley, in the course of a short eulogy of the present administration, said it would be a calamity if the Laurier Government were not returned to power. He called for nominations.

Mr. Hall Nominated

Hon. Mr Stratton said they had met to discharge a most important duty and responsibility, incumbent upon all good citizens, to provide for the representation of the riding in Parliament—to nominate a candidate. In the Dominion Parliament West Peterborough had had capable and efficient representation. Perhaps no member had ever gone to Ottawa from West Peterborough, in support of any Government, who had given more efficient service than Mr. R R Hall, or had shown as much zeal and energy and success. (Applause.) He might suggest a few instances, which, by no means, included all that Mr. Hall had done for West Peterborough Among these, as a monument, stood the new armouries in Central Park, now approaching completion. We had the energetic application of the Laurier Government's policy of canal completion, largely due to Mr. Hall's efforts shown by the long stretch from Healey's Falls to Trenton, being under contract. This was a fulfilment of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's promise that there would, under his Government, be no more dilly-dallying. With so large a stretch of the remaining uncompleted sections under contract, and with preparations for other work, the canal would be completed during the regime of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his Government. (Applause.) Mr. Hall's work in procuring the acceptance by the Dominion Government of the county swing bridges, represented a very large saving to the county; the construction of a concrete dam and bridge at Buckhorn was another large item of direct saving to the county; new post offices established in the county, city delivery for Peterborough, the placing in the estimates of $100,000 to satisfy claims—some of them extending back forty years—for drowned lands; the Government's contribution towards the site for our splendid new Collegiate building, a wharf at the south end of the city, a grant for wharf on the city front—an addition representing convenience and increased beauty of our water front, the provision of wharves in other parts of the county—all these were very largely due to Mr. Hall's untiring zeal in the interests of West Peterborough, and no matter whom the convention might select, they would not get one who would look after the interests of the riding more faithfully than Mr. Hall had done. He had no doubt that Mr. Hall would again be returned if he accepted the nomination he had great pleasure in making.

The nomination was seconded by Mr. T M Hunter, North Monaghan, and very heartily and unanimously tendered Mr. Hall.

Mr. Hall Declines

Mr. Hall thanked the mover and seconder for the kind words that had accompanied the nomination. He also thanked the electors for the cordial support they had given him. He then went into detail, showing some of the leading works that had been done in and for West Peterborough during his four years of representation.

The revision of the Customs tariff was one of the most important matters vitally affecting the manufacturing and commercial interests of the Dominion which came before Parliament.

On account of the fact that Peterborough occupies sixth place as a manufacturing city the revision of the tariff was one of the questions which demanded caretul attention and consideration. Mr. Hall said he made special representations to the Government to have the Tariff Commission, Messrs. Fielding, Paterson and Brodeur, sit in Peterborough. He gave notice to all manufacturing and farming interests and assisted in the preparation of several cases. All the parties who had cause of complaint against the present tariff presented their several respective cases and every one was carefully investigated and considered. When the tariff was brought down in November, 1906, it was so generally satisfactory that only minor objections were made to the tariff as brought down by the following Peterborough Companies, namely, Canadian General Electric Company, Quaker Oats Company, Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Company, Peterborough Shovel Company, Canadian Cordage Company, and the Colonial Weaving Company. No other manufacturers and no merchants, mechanics nor workmen nor farmers in the West Riding of Peterborough made any objections to the new tariff. It was therefore entirely satisfactory in the main. Mr. Hall said he took up with the different Peterborough manufacturers the minor objections each Company made and had each objection considered carefully by the members of Government. It is a satisfaction to know that the Peterborough manufacturers' objections to the tariff were so well taken and were so reasonable that every single objection that was offered to the tariff by the Canadian General Electric Company, the Quaker Oats Company, Peter Hamilton Company, Peterborough Shovel Company, Canadian Cordage Company and the Colonial Weaving Company were acceded to and embodied in the tariff.

Whether or not our factories are able to run full time, or half, or quarter time depends upon the demand for the goods produced by each particular factory. Such demand for manufactured goods is affected by foreign and home competition. The tariff regulates the foreign competition. It is satisfactory to note that such regulation of foreign competition is satisfactory to the Peterborough manufacturers, and hence it should be reasonably satisfactory to the many employees of the various industries. In the revision of the tariff the interests of the great consuming masses, and particularly of our farmers, who really form the backbone of the country, were carefully guarded. Hon. Mr. Stratton took a very active interest in the revision of the tariff, and frequently visited Ottawa while it was under consideration, and gave much valuable advice and assistance in connection with the revision on account of his wide and varied experience in commercial, manufacturing and financial affairs.

Peterborough Post Office

Mr. Hall said the post office in 1904 was in a very congested state. Every available letter box was rented and one letter wicket only was made to serve upwards of 25,000 people living in Peterborough and vicinity. At the first session of Parliament the necessary funds were voted to have the office completely renovated, additional boxes were installed, two letter wickets established and one parcel wicket. Still the office was congested, and the people were poorly served.

City Mail Delivery

Mr. Hall suggested that the most effective remedy would be to establish city mail delivery. This was accomplished in 1907 and now every householder in the city has his mail delivered at his own door without extra cost. The postage rate on drop letters was formerly two cents, now it has been reduced to one cent. The number of parties authorized to sell postage stamps has been largely increased. The congested state of the Peterborough post office has been relieved, and the mail service has been vastly improved. In 1904, only 16 letter boxes existed in the city, and from these letter boxes the mail was collected only twice a day. Since then twenty additional letter boxes and eight boxes for parcel collection have been established throughout the city, and the mail is collected morning, afternoon and evening.

Rural Mail Service Improved

Mr. Hall said that after inquiries into the mail service, affecting every part of West Peterborough, he found that on account of no representations having been made to the government, the farming community were not receiving the mail service that they were entitled to. He made representations to the Post Master General, and these requests were so reasonable and so necessary that they were readily acceded to. The mail service between Lakefield, Selwyn, Buckhorn and Lakehurst in 1905 was but three times a week. This was changed to a daily mail service. Bensfort and South Monaghan mail service was heretofore but three times a week. It has now changed to a daily mail service. A new post office, known as Lorens, was established in South Monaghan with a daily mail service. Nogie's Creek post office was opened in 1905 with a semi-weekly service between Bobcaygeon and Nogie's Creek. Kinmount and Mount Irwin service in the Township of Galway was increased from twice a week to three times a week. Ewan, Furnis Falls and Fortescue mail service was extended to provide for more prompt delivery of outgoing mail. Daily service was established between Springville and Kendry Station, to insure more prompt and frequent service, and to obtain the Peterborough daily papers on the day which they were printed. At Buckhorn, Rockcroft and Catchoma the weekly mail service, in the Townships of Harvey and Cavendish were increased to semi-weekly. New post offices have been established at Byersville in North Monaghan, at Downer's Corners, and Union Creek in Galway.

C. P. R. Mail Service

The mail service on the Canadian Pacific Railway service between Toronto and Montreal was also greatly improved. It seemed strange that the mail upon this leading line had previously been handled as baggage—if a letter was posted in Peterborough for Cavanville, Manvers or Pontypool, it would have to first go to Toronto and then return the next day. Mr. Hall said, he made special representations to the Post Master, General regarding this defective service. The government took the matter up with the Canadian Pacific Railway, and a special mail car was established upon the C. P. R., between Toronto and Montreal, much to the advantage of every one, and particularly to the smaller offices along the route.

Many additional improvements could be made to the mail service throughout the county. There is no reason why letter boxes at convenient points could not be established along the regular mail routes so that farmers could post their letters and could obtain their letters without having in many cases to walk several miles to the post-office.

Peterborough Armouries

Mr. Hall said that so soon as he received his nomination as Liberal candidate for West Peterborough he took active steps with the Department of Public Works of the Dominion Government to acquire the Separate School grounds upon which to erect the new Armouries. The purchase was finally made by the Dominion Government contributing $10,000, the city of Peterborough $10,000, and the School Board $10,000. A great deal of time and consideration had been given to the plans and specifications of the proposed new Armouries to make them complete in every respect as possible for the accommodation of cavalry, artillery and infantry. Ample accommodation has been provided for the squadron of the 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons, the 14th Field Battery and its guns and ammunition, and the 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers. There are at least between 600 and 700 young men in the city and county of Peterborough who are directly interested in these Armouries. Ample facilities are being provided in them for bowling, shooting gallery, concert hall, gymnasium, drilling, lecturing, etc. Separate quarters are provided for officers and men. The cadet corps in connection with our Collegiate Institute has ample accommodation. In the militia, said Mr. Hall, our young men are taught discipline, which is so important in every walk of life. Young men are taught to work in harmony with each other, which is one of the foundation principles of success. These magnificent Armouries, when completed, will be an ornament to the city and will tend to enthuse our fellow citizens with more patriotic pride.

Improved Water Front

In 1902, while the Hon. Mr. Stratton was Provincial Secretary, the city of Peterborough obtained a grant in fee simple of all the drowned lands upon our water-front in the heart of the city, without one cent of cost to the city. These lands formed a large pool of stagnant water and were a menace to the public health. Mr. Hall said that shortly after his election, he took up the question of the dredging of the Otonabee River at this point for the purpose of enabling boats to come up the river into the heart of the city. Upwards of $24,000 was spent in dredging the river above the C.P.R. bridge and in front of the Quaker Oats Company. A splendid eight-foot channel has been made. Some further improvements have yet to be made in the turning basins, and for that purpose and for the completion of the work, the sum of $5,000 was placed in the estimates during this last session. The dredging of the river at this point has enabled the city to create a valuable asset along the whole water-front, which to-day is well worth upwards of $25,000 and which only cost the city the trifling expense of paying for the cost of distributing the dredging material taken from the bed of the river.

New Wharves Established

Much has been said and done in the past in the building and improvement of the Trent waterway. Boats have been plying upon our waterway for many years, but it does seem strange that more active steps had not been taken in the past to have more wharves established at convenient points upon the Trent waterway, for the accommodation of farmers along the route. These wharves are of as much advantage to merchants and householders in the city of Peterborough as they are to the farmers along the route of the canal, because farmers are enabled to bring their produce to market more economically and more frequently. One can readily see how dangerous it was for passengers, including women and children, to walk a plank to get on the boat or leave the boat at different points along the route. Mr. Hall stated that he took a great deal of care in personally examining the points where suitable wharves should be established. Since he has been the representative he stated that he had asked the Government to establish wharves at convenient points. A wharf has been established at Hall's Landing on Rice Lake, another wharf at Wallace's Point Bridge and another at Bensfort Bridge. A wharf has been built at Lock street, at the lower end of the city, thereby enabling passengers coming up or down the river to take the street railway and save time both coming and going. We have also a wharf established at Burleigh Falls. A new wharf was also built at Gannon's Narrows, an advantage to the residents of Ennismore and Harvey. Another wharf was built in front of Chemong Park, and a wharf at Chemong Indian village was improved, and a new wharf was built at Buckhorn for the further accommodation of the residents of Harvey. At the last session of Parliament an appropriation was placed in the estimates for the construction of a new wharf at Juniper Island in Stony Lake. An appropriation of $5,000 was also placed in the estimates for the repair and extension of the Wolfe street wharf in Peterborough and the Mark street wharf, East City. An appropriation was also obtained to extend and improve the wharf at Lakefield, where so many thousands of our fellow citizens take the boat at Lakefield for the Kawartha Lakes. The wharf at Bridgenorth, known as Kelly's Wharf, is to be repaired and extended.

New Wharves Still Required

There are many points upon the Otonabee River and Rice Lake and upon the upper lakes where wharves could with great advantage be established. There should be a new wharf at the mouth of Nogies' Creek, Harrington's Landing in Ennismore, at the Ennismore side of the Chemong bridge, and at different points on Rice Lake and the Otonabee River, all of which would stimulate trade with Peterborough and be a great advantage to the residents. Many of us but little appreciate the extent to which our navigation facilities are taken advantage of at the present time. Take the lockages at Young's Point alone. In 1907 there were no fewer than 1,035 boats locked through at Young's Points. Over 30,000 passengers passed through these locks in 1907. There were 3,272 cords of wood passed through these same locks in 1907. Surely this must convince anyone that the navigation upon the Trent waterway and the general improvements that have been made were necessary and beneficial. It will be remembered that the old dam at Buckhorn was in a precarious state of repair. Few prople realized that if an unforeseen flood of water and ice had under certain conditions been forced against this dam, that it was not strong enough to resist it. The breaking of the dam which holds back the waters of Chemong, Pigeon and Buckhorn Lakes, would have produced a calamity. Mr. Hall stated that he urged upon the Department of Railways and Canals the pressing necessity for the reconstruction of this dam. A new concrete dam has accordingly been built at the cost of upwards of $58,000.00. A permanent steel bridge, with concrete abutments, has been erected over this dam at the cost of only $3,000.00 to the country. He had presented the representations of the county council in regard to the matter.

It must be gratifying to the residents of the county that this permanent steel concrete bridge has been erected at a cost to the county of only $3,000.00, whereas a similar bridge, if the canal had not been under operation, could not have been built for less than $50,000.00. A new concrete dam had been built across Little Bob River at Bobcaygeon, and new locks are being constructed at Rosedale, and a canal is being cut across the narrow neck of land separating Balsam Lake and Cameron Lake, for the purpose of replacing the old wooden dilapidated lock and dam, and lessening the distance about two miles.

A great deal of dredging has been done upon the Otonabee River, and at Rice Lake during this last four years, tending to improve navigation.

Young's Point Improvements

The old wooden bridge at Young's Point was built over the lake so that while boats were being locked through traffic was suspended. When the Hon. Mr. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, and Mr. Butler, Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals, made their first trip over the Trent water way, Mr. Hall said, he pointed out the necessity for improvements. Accordingly a new steel bridge has been built across the canal but not over the lock, and traffic is not now delayed. A new concrete pier, 400 feet in length, has been built above the lock, and a new concrete pier, 300 feet in length, below the lock. The depth of the lower waters of the lock and channel has been increased from 5 feet to 9 feet, and the general appearance of Young's Point has been greatly improved.

County Bridges

Heretofore the County of Peterborough has had to contribute to the cost of operation and maintenance of the swings in connection with the county bridges over the Trent Waterway. Different councils recognized that this was an expense of which the county should be relieved of, but heretofore nothing has been done in the way of having the government take over these swings. Mr. Hall said that he pointed out to the government that if the Dominion Government had not made the Trent Waterway navigable, the building, operation and maintenance of these swings in these county bridges would not have been necessary. It was the duty of the Dominion Government to build, operate and maintain these

Best Programme Of Athletic Events In Lindsay's History

Catholic Literary Society Had Fast Entries in all Their Races and Exciting Finishes Resulted—A Weird Ball Game.

GREAT CROWD PRESENT

Yesterday was a red-letter day in athletics for Lindsay, and the Catholic Literary Society of that town may well feel proud of the unqualified success of the interesting programme of sports which was conducted under their auspices at the exhibition grounds.

From the 10-mile road race to the Peterborough-Lindsay ball game every event proved a good one and the unusually large crowd of visitors and Lindsayites who swarmed the grandstand and points of vantage along the track had an afternoon of varied but exciting fun.

The premier event of the day was the 10-mile road race which started in front of the Y.M.C.A., running to the exhibition grounds, where the remaining nine miles were completed. Longboat, Simpson, Sellen and others were entered. Kent street was literally banked with people when Starter Alex. Paton let off the long distance men at nearly 1.30 p.m.

The entry list for this race showed the following — Longboat, Fred Simpson, Percy Sellen, Black of Toronto, Smoke of Chemong, Jos. O'Donnell, Jno. Brownlee, Geo. Robinson, H L Brace, Chas. Thorpe, of Peterborough; H. Carson, Toronto; H. Neill, W. Jones, P. Maddock, P. Sutton, of the British United A. C., Toronto.

Longboat, of course, was the centre of attraction with Fred Simpson a genuine favourite. Flanagan's Onandaga was not forced to extend himself and finished in first place, his time being 56.24 1-4. Black beat out Percy Sellen after a ding-dong performance. They were close together at every stage, although at times they interchanged positions. Simpson finished in fourth place, about 600 yards behind Longboat. Fred did not speed up much, seeming to be contented with the pace. He finished as strong as when he started.

Henry Smoke, the youthful Indian from Chemong, ran a good race, staying with the leaders all the way, Longboat being the only one to pass him. He finished fifth. Thorpe rounded up in sixth place in good shape. Lincoln Brace hung on to the last lap, showing endurance but not much speed. He was the eighth man in.

Tom Flanagan was on the track and was noticeable by the attention he paid to the swarthy Tom.

Billy Milburn was looking after Simpson and Thorpe.

The other events resulted as follows:—

ONE BAD MISTAKE

Is Frequently Made by the Wisest of Peterborough People.

It's a serious mistake to neglect backache. Backache is the first symptom of kidney ills. Fatal complications may follow. Booth's Kidney Pills act quickly to overcome kidney ills, do not delay until too late, it may mean Diabetes, Bright's Disease. Read what a Peterborough resident says.

Mrs. R. Duncan, of No. 115 McDonel street, Peterborough, Ont., says: "Some thirteen years ago I suffered with a severe attack of la grippe that had until this spring left me in a weakened and miserable condition. The kidneys had been disordered through this and became so inactive that doctors had pronounced it Bright's Disease, and termed my case incurable. My back was very weak and the pains across the kidneys were most excruciating. The urine was highly coloured and contained a quantity of whitish sediment. I had become so discouraged through my years of suffering that I had no care for anything. Booth's Kidney Pills were advertised at the Market Drug Store and I tried them. The first box convinced me of their merits. I used five boxes of the remedy and I have been entirely cured. I am like a new person, well and strong and can sleep through the night and awake refreshed and ready for the day."

Sold by dealers. Price 50 cents. The R. T. Booth Co., Ltd., Fort Erie, Ont., sole Canadian agents.

I will sell by public auction, on Saturday morning, September 12th, on the Market Square, at eleven o'clock, one Rubber Tire Stanhope. This is a high-seated vehicle of the runabout style and is practically as good as new. Sale without reserve.

The City Council's Duty Towards Cavan Drain Road

Deputation From Cavan Council to Wait on City Fathers This Evening at 7.30.

Mr. Charles McNeil, reeve of Cavan, and Mr. Geo. Berry, councillor, are a deputation from the Council of that township to solicit the co-operation of the City in improving the road created by the construction of the great Cavan drain. This road shortens the distance between a large part of Cavan—the northern part—and Peterborough market by four miles. The road has been brought into existence by the construction of the Cavan Drain at a cost of between $15,000 and $18,000. Peterborough and Peterborough's representative the Legislature at the time, have taken a deep interest in the building of this drain. In the performance of the work the road in question has been opened. However, it is not completed in the best form for traffic; it needs to be gravelled and two or three bridges are to be built.

The deputation which will wait upon the City Council at 7.30 this evening, are asking the City to give assistance in making the road as good as possible, something which they rightly claim is in the interests of the city as well as the township. The township through its representatives, have waited twice on the City Council in connection with aid in improving the means of communication between township and city, and this time it would appear that the matter should take definite shape and the city authorities should deal with the matter in a liberal spirit. One of the chief elements in Peterborough's growth and commercial prosperity is the splendid farming community surrounding it. The advantages the city derives and will derive from this fact are, and will be, in proportion to the ease of access of the farmers to Peterborough. The city has been liberal in giving material assistance to enterprises having this effect in the southern and northern districts. Now the call comes from the west, and in view of precedent, it cannot very well be ignored. It is hoped that the Council will deal liberally with the request of the Cavan gentlemen forming the deputation.

Children's EYES

Need the most careful and persistent attention. Early headaches and other troubles frequently emanate from defective eye-sight, which in itself, may have originated in early neglect of the eyes. The trouble is, parents seldom know their children's eyes are weak until it is too late.

School will be opened shortly, you had better bring your children to us, as we make a specialty of examining the eyes of the young and fitting them with the proper lenses.

CAUSE OF FALLING HAIR

Dandruff, Which is a Germ Disease—Kill the Germ

Falling hair is caused by dandruff, which is a germ disease. The germ in burrowing it into the root of the hair, where it destroys the vitality of the hair, causing the hair to fall out, digs up the uticle in little scales called dandruff or scurf. You can't stop the falling hair without curing the dandruff, and you can't cure the dandruff without killing teh dandruff germ. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Newbro's Herpicide is the only hair preparation that kills the dandruff germ. Herpicide is also a delightful hair dressing. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00. McDermid & Jury and the Market Drug Store, Special Agents.

THE PROVINCIAL EXHIBITIONS

—All cities over the Province are preparing for their exhibition, and Peterborough is no exception to the rule. It is the time we meet our old and new friends, and those who are not our friends. It is also the best time for the introduction of the newest and smartest cuts in fall suits and where they can be shown to the greatest advantage. THE STEAMER MONARCH

Quite an interesting number of citizens took advantage of the steamer Monarch's regular trip to Rice Lake on Labour Day. Capt. Harris and his crew were, as usual, very obliging and attentive, and won the good opinion of the passengers in contributing to their pleasure, comfort and safety during the day. Calls were made all the way down the river and at Gore's Landing, Harwood and Idyl Wyld. Capt. Harris told the Examiner that this was likely to be the last regular trip of the season, and that this steamer would be engaged in other work until close of navigation. It has been the general remark that the steamer Monarch has rendered good service to the public during the season.

GIVE THE CHILDREN PLENTY OF FRUIT

It Helps to Keep Them Well.

In a growing, active child the cells of which the body is composed are being worn out—and replaced — very rapidly. This dead tissue must be gotten rid of somehow, and the danger is that the eliminating organs—the Bowels, Kidneys and Skin—may not do their work well enough. Then the blood becomes poisoned and the child does not thrive.

Nothing has such an invigorating effect on these organs as ripe fruit juices. Apple juice increases the action of the kidneys; other fruit juices stimulate the liver to secrete more bile, and bile produces easy and regular movements of the bowels; others stir up the glands of the skin to throw off more waste matter.

The difficulty is that to get these effects a great deal of fruit must be eaten, and the excess of pulp and woody matter may upset the digestion. The better way is to give the children "Fruit-a-tives", which are tablets made of concentrated fruit juices with valuable tonics added.

"Fruit-a-tives" have the combined effect of the different fruit juices, helping all the eliminating organs to work properly, curing Constipation, toning up the system, and keeping the children plump and rosy. 25c. for a trial box. 50c. for regular size—6 boxes for $2.50. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

PREMIER OPENS HIS CAMPAIGN

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Addresses Ten Thousand at Sorel.

BORDEN AT BRIDGEWATER

Premier Gets Enthusiastic Reception and Says He Has No Anxiety as to Result of Election — Will Not Change His Policy—Opposition Leader Gets Good Reception at Bridgewater, Nova Scotia.

Montreal, Sept. 8.—Picturesque as ever and enthusiastic to a degree, Sir Wilfrid Laurier in his address to ten thousand people in Sorel Saturday had no difficulty swaying them to his smallest word.

Sir Wilfrid was not communicative as to the time of the elections. He said:

"To-day I call upon you to work in the coming election as in the past for that party which stands for equal justice and liberty to all. And I would urge you to be ready for the elections, whether they come in 1908 or 1910, for whenever they come our policy will always be the same in this respect."

Sir Wilfrid appeared to be in splendid form, and spoke with all his old-time vigor and good humor.

Sir Wilfrid was supported by Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Hon. J. P. Brodeur, Hon. Jacques Bureau, and a whole host of lesser notables who crowded the platform.

"As to the result of the election," said the Premier, "I have no anxiety, any more than I had in 1904, and for the rest, whatever may be the result, neither my voice nor my course of policy shall be changed. I have given my life to my country, and in the future, as in the past, I shall be able to say the words of the popular song: 'My country is my love!'"

Bridgewater, N.S., Sept. 8.—R. L. Borden opened his Nova Scotia campaign at Bridgewater, Lunenburg County, yesterday, under the most auspicious circumstances.

Labor Day attractions and the Halifax Exhibition had drawn large crowds of people out of the county, so that not more than six or seven thousand persons at the outside were expected to be present. There were large crowds in evidence from all over the county. When Mr. Borden and party appeared the assembled crowds gave a welcome which continued for some minutes after he had entered the rink and ascended the platform. At this time there must have been about 1,500 people in the rink, and they kept coming from outlying towns for some time after the meeting began.

S. E. Mackay, president of the Lunenburg Conservative Association, introduced the speakers. Dr. Mosher, the Conservative candidate, who contested the riding at the last local election, addressed the audience briefly. He paid a tribute to Mr. Borden—"a statesman second to none, who is recognized by both Conservatives and Liberals at Ottawa as head and shoulders above everyone in political life in Canada."

He asked for a clean election, and said that if either money or rum were used in his behalf he would resign the minute the facts were proven.

Of his work as leader of the Opposition, all he would say was that he had given to it the best of his strength, said Mr. Borden, his time, and his ability, and he could say that when questions arose in Parliament when country and party come in conflict he had sacrificed and would sacrifice the latter.

Miss Peck Holds Record.

Lima, Peru, Sept. 8.—Miss Annie S. Peck of Providence, R. I., the mountain climber, has succeeded on her second attempt within a month, to reach the summit of Mount Huascaran. She calculates that the height of the summit is 26,000 feet.

A Swiss companion of Miss Peck had a foot and both hands frozen, which caused gangrene to set in, and an Indian guide was miraculously saved from death after falling a thousand feet down a ravine.

Business Man Arrested.

Toronto, Sept. 8.—Charged with forging a promissory note for $1,800, Albert E. McLean of the Levy, Weston & McLean Machinery Co., was arrested at his office yesterday morning by Detective McKinney. The detective was armed with a warrant sworn to by Charles E. Holland of the Imperial Bank.

The check, it is said, purported to be signed by Wm. Forbes, a wealthy American.

Toronto Ex-Mayor Dead.

Toronto, Sept. 8.—Ex-Mayor W. B. McMurrich passed away Sunday at his summer home on Lake Joseph, after an illness of many months. The chronic affection from which he suffered had become acute within the past few weeks and his death was not unexpected. He was 65 years of age.

LABOUR MEN MARCH ON HOLIDAY

C. P. R. MACHINISTS MARCH

Strikers to Number of 2,500 on Parade In Montreal Ranks—Toronto Has Small Procession—Galt Joint Demonstration Is Huge Success—Bryan Walks In Chicago—Unemployed In New York.

Montreal, Sept. 8.—Labor Day was celebrated in Montreal by a large parade, followed in the afternoon by games and picnics. Some 15,000 workers walked. Prominent among them was 2,500 C.P.R. strikers, who were little labels in the caps, showing why they were idle. Considerable enthusiasm was aroused by their appearance. The Stonecutters and Carpenters had two floats in the procession typifying their trades.

In the evening a banquet was held at Bout de Lile, where Alphonse Verville, M.P., John A. Flett of Hamilton and L. Beaudoin, president of the Trades and Labor Council, made speeches.

The day was generally observed by merchants, the streets, in fact, having a holiday appearance.

Toronto, Sept. 8.—Labor moved about pretty freely yesterday. It was a great day for going, and thousands of the "horny-handed" knocked off to join in the prevailing pursuit of pleasure.

Though the annual parade of the unions, which took place in the morning, was not as large as usual, owing to some of the labor organizations going to out-of-town points and to the absence of the fire men and their apparatus, nevertheless it attracted thousands of people to the streets through which it passed. There were not more than 2,500 union men in line. The route of procession was by way of Wellesley, Jarvis and Queen streets to Sumach, where cars were taken for Scarboro Beach. There were about 30,000 tickets taken at the gate, and about half of the admissions were members of union bodies with their wives and families.

Galt, Sept. 8.—Labor Day was celebrated with eclat. Galt, Brantford and Guelph joined in a monster demonstration. A fire brigade run and trades procession was the morning program. The procession was over a mile long.

The prize for the largest union turnout went to the Brantford moulders, for the best union turnout to Galt moulders, with Preston a close second, and for the best wagon display, Sleemin Brewing Co. Guelph. Mayor Patterson welcomed the visitors, and warmly praised the committee of management.

A. Studholme, M. P. P., spoke ten minutes extolling labor and eulogizing unionism.

Berlin, Sept. 8.—The Labor Day celebration here yesterday was a decided success. The trades procession was one of the longest and best ever seen here and was witnessed by immense crowds.

Ottawa, Sept. 8.—Beautiful weather favored Labor Day here, and the celebration was the finest for many years. Every trade was represented and the uniforms were very striking. The procession was over a mile long.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—William J. Bryan was yesterday the centre of a Labor Day celebration that outranked similar celebrations in Chicago for years past.

The Labor Day parade, with approximately, 20,000 union men and women in line, passed in review before him.

At 4 o'clock he addressed the labor men at Forrest Park on the abuse of the injunction in labor disputes.

The parade was the greatest event of the sort, numerically at least, since 1892.

New York, Sept. 8.—A perfect autumn day with cloudless sky and cool, invigorating air gave labor's hosts the opportunity of a generation yesterday, and they made the most of it. Forty thousand strong they marched from early morning until mid-afternoon.

At the same time, hundreds of less fortunate, who had banded themselves together under the banner of the "unemployed," were participating in a counter demonstration. They, too, met cheers at almost every stride.

Will Ignore Lemieux Bill.

Calgary, Alba., Sept. 8.—The United Mine Workers have decided in future to ignore the Lemieux Bill. A meeting Saturday afternoon of mine officials and President Sherman and Organizer James of Edmonton, representing the miners, discussed the famous bill and decided that as the courts could not enforce the bill it was useless.

President Sherman says the miners will fight their battles in the same old way in future.

New Church Superintendent.

London, Sept. 8.—Rev. S. R. Drake of Brantford was yesterday elected general superintendent of the British Methodist Episcopal Colored Church of Canada and the United States, in succession to the late Rev. C. A. Washington, deceased.

The next conference will be in Guelph in 1909.

SOME LABOUR RIOTS AT GLASGOW

Unemployed and Socialists Hoot Prince of Connaught.

CHARGED BY THE POLICE

Body of Two Thousand Attempt to Force Entrance to Cathedral But Are Repulsed—Threaten to Raise 50,000 and Attack the Municipal Buildings — Bread Riots Are Feared in the Scottish City.

Glasgow, Sept. 8.—Two thousand Socialists and unemployed after an open air meeting Sunday, at which violent speeches were made, attempted forcibly to invade the cathedral during services.

A large body of police, which had been specially stationed there to prevent just such an occurrence, frustrated the designs of the mob by charging it with their batons. Several of the rioters were injured, and the mob was finally dispersed.

The Socialists threaten to meet on Thursday, 50,000 strong, and attack the municipal buildings.

For two days the city has been threatened with a recurrence of the bread riots following an attempt made on Thursday of a large number of the unemployed to force a hearing before the municipal council.

On Saturday, a large number of Socialists and unemployed men, who had assumed a very threatening attitude in the last 24 hours, took part in a hostile demonstration against Prince Arthur of Connaught, on the occasion of a review of 10,000 members of the boys' brigade.

Glasgow has recently been deprived of cavalry, which was stationed here, and the only troops present were a guard of honor comprising infantry, but the authorities, fearing trouble, greatly strengthened the police forces, which succeeded in overawing the crowd of 5,000 malcontents.

These had gathered along the line of march and bands of them, during the early part of the ceremonies, made ugly rushes in the direction of the prince's carriage, but were successfully checked by the police.

They were compelled to content themselves with hooting and singing the "Marseillaise" and other revolutionary songs, which they kept up despite the rain, during the three hours of the review and the luncheon in the city hall, at which the prince was entertained.

Bishoprics Changed.

Rome, Sept. 8.—The last meeting of the congregation of the propaganda for the discussion of American questions was held yesterday.

The congregation approved the transfer of the seat of the Canadian ecclesiastic province of Victoria from Victoria to Vancouver, appointing the Right Rev. Augustin Dontenwill, Bishop of New Westminster, as Archbishop of Victoria, in succession to Archbishop Orth, resigned, and appointing the Very Rev. Alexander McDonald, Vicar-General of Antigonish, as the new Bishop of Victoria.

Robbed; Kills Himself.

Hamilton, Sept. 8.—A man named Evans, who came from Toronto, committed suicide at the Bethel Mission early yesterday morning. His body was found suspended from a water-pipe by a strap. He had been dead several hours. Coroner Dickson concluded that an inquest was unnecessary. According to statements made by the dead man, he was doped and robbed of $40 soon after arriving in the city on Saturday night. He spent most of his time between this city and Toronto.

Holland's Ultimatum.

The Hague, Sept. 8.—Holland's notes to Venezuela contain one point which appears practically an ultimatum.

Holland demands of Venezuela the revocation before Nov. 1, of the decree issued by President Castro on May 14 last, which resulted in the practical suppression of Curacoa's trade.

The demand, however, is framed in courteous and mild language.

Young Hunter Killed.

London, Ont., Sept. 8.—Daniel McKeever, 17 years old, residing on Hamilton road, was killed near Pottersburg yesterday.

He was out shooting with some companions, and was using the rifle as a club to knock apples down, when the gun exploded.

A CRIME THAT IS NOT PUNISHABLE.

How many people reading this article have gone into a drug store and asked for some well known and highly tried medicine and some unscrupulous druggist has said, "Yes! we have that, but have you ever tried this remedy, it is just as good and costs less." Any druggist doing this has not the interest of your health at heart, but the interest of his pocket, as he can make more profit out of the cheap substitute.

For the protection and benefit of the public, we wish to say that DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY has been used in thousands of homes for the past sixty-three years and has never failed to give prompt relief and cure in all cases of Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Colic, Stomach Cramps, Summer Complaint, Sea Sickness, Cholera Infantum, Cholera Morbus and all Fluxes of the Bowels. When you buy DR. FOWLER'S, you are not experimenting with a new and untried remedy, but are getting one that has stood the test of time.

Miss Lettie Reid, Vivian, Ont., writes: "Last year I suffered untold agony from cramps in the stomach and did not know what to do until a friend suggested I should try DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY and as I was glad to try anything I purchased a bottle.

"When I had taken four doses I found relief and since then I never fail to keep a bottle in the house."

Stanfield's Underwear

(Chapter 1)

A Talk by the Maker to the Wearer.

The Wool

Stanfield's Underwear is made of the best wool that grows on the best wool-bearing sheep in the world—the long, silky-fibred Nova Scotia wool.

The founder of the Stanfield mills did more than anyone else to develop the wool industry throughout the Maritime Provinces. For half a century, the farmers of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island have saved their best wool for the Stanfields—first for C. E. Stanfield—and now for his sons, John and Frank, the President and Treasurer of Stanfields Limited.

The wear of a garment depends on the quality of wool from which it is made. Underwear may be PURE WOOL, and ALL WOOL—and still shrink, ravel and wear out in a single season. Because the underwear is not made of good wool in the first place.

There are seven grades of wool in the fleece when clipped from Nova Scotia sheep. Only the first three grades of this best wool are used in making Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear for men and women.

There are no weak spots in the fibre to break in the garments.

There can be no unraveling, because every stitch is locked.

Garments can't shrink, because of our perfected process of treating the wool BEFORE garments are woven, thus insuring absolutely Unshrinkable Underwear.

swings. This argument appealed to the government, and accordingly the county has been relieved of an expenditure of at least $2,500.00 a year for all time on the operation and maintenance of the present swings, and the county is further relieved of the expense of building any new swings that may be required.

Conservation of Waters

The chain of lakes upon the Trent Waterway, exclusive of Lake Simcoe, contains 140 square miles. The small lakes north of the Trent Waterway and tributary to it, have an area of over 100 square miles. The control of these northern lakes was formerly under the Ontario Government, which was interested only in the floating of logs. The control of the chain of lakes upon the line of the canal was under the control of the Dominion Government. The result of this dual management was high spring freshets, extremely low water during the months of August and September, resulting in a great injury to navigation and great injury to the power owners and manufacturers upon the whole line of the canal, to say nothing about the general inconvenience to the public. Moreover, these injurious results had a far-reaching effect, because every citizen who visited the Trent Waterway from different parts of Canada during the season of navigation while low water existed, went home and ridiculed the Trent Canal as a ditch, and boldly declared that it would never form an important factor in the Canadian transportation system.

One of the first things, Mr. Hall stated, that engaged his attention was to have all the waters of the Trent Canal placed under the control of the Dominion. Mr. Stratton was Provincial Secretary at the time. The consent of the Ontario Government to the transfer, through Mr. Stratton's influence, was readily obtained, as he appreciated the importance of the Trent Canal and the making of the transfer of these waters to the Dominion, and the Ontario Government was accordingly committed to the transfer by him. The reasonableness of the proposition readily appealed to the Dominion Government, and hence the maintenance and operation of thirty-two dams were taken over upon Gull River, Burnt River, Nogie's Creek, Massassaga Creek and Squaw River were assumed by the Dominion. These dams are being repaired as rapidly as possible, and upwards of $10,000.00 per annum has been expended for that purpose, but much still remains to be done. Splendid results have been obtained from intelligent management; high spring freshets have been avoided, a more uniform flow of water obtained, a higher level of water maintained in the reaches of the canal throughout the entire season, and navigation has been greatly improved and great improvement has been made to the power facilities along the route, much to the advantage of our manufacturing industries.

New View of Canal

The transfer of these waters from the Ontario Government to the Dominion Government had very far-reaching results. When the Kirkfield Lift Lock was opened, Mr. Hall stated, that he made it a special point to notify representatives of all the leading Canadian daily newspapers to attend the opening. Newspaper representatives from all parts of Canada and the London dailies were present at this great function and all these newspaper correspondents sent out to different parts of Canada favourable reports upon the splendid facilities of the Trent Waterway. It is a satisfaction to know, said Mr. Hall, that while the Trent Canal in 1904 was ridiculed by members on both sides of the House coming from different parts of Canada, and not immediately concerned in the Midland district, that an appropriation of one million dollars toward the construction of the canal was made in 1907, and an additional million dollars was voted in the session of 1908 for the same purpose, without one single dissenting voice from any part of the House, and accordingly the Trent Canal will be pushed to completion as fast as the work can be done.

Drowned Land Claims

Farmers in Ennismore and Emily have suffered damages from flooding by the construction of the Buckhorn dam, and farmers in South Monaghan, North Monaghan and Otonabee have suffered from the Hastings dam. These claims have heretofore been presented on the eve of every election. Heretofore a continuous chain of promises has been made and this continuous chain of promises has been broken. "Prior to my election," said Mr. Hall, "I declared to the electors that I would have a commission appointed to enquire into and report upon the justice of these claims." So soon as his election was over the matter was taken up with the Hon. Mr. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals. When the latter made his visit over the Trent Canal, Mr. Hall said, he pointed out the fact to him that under the former management of the canal, the waters in the northern lakes and chain of lakes, which form the waterway were deliberately rushed off during the spring, thereby creating high spring freshets for the purpose of minimising from time to time the claims for damages. It was manifest that intelligent regulation of the Trent waters could not be secured unless the water were conserved in the lakes and reaches of the canal, and unless the government acquired additional flooding rights and extinguished by payment all fair claims. Heretofore lands flooded through high spring freshets could be utilized for late crops but the interests of the Canal could not be permanently secured unless permanent rights of flooding were acquired throughout the entire season of navigation. "A Commissioner was appointed," said Mr. Hall, 'to report upon the situation and he reported in favour of my contention and the result was that at this last session of Parliament the sum of $100,000.00 was placed in the supplementary estimates for the purpose of extinguishing drowned land claims, and it is as certain as the sun goes down, all just claims will be paid." In fact active steps have been taken to adjust these claims. The adjustment, however, has been seriously delayed by reason of the serious illness of Mr. W. B. Aylesworth, the Commissioner, which extended over a period of eight months, but all are glad to learn that he is now able to resume his duties.

Trent Canal

The building of the Trent Canal has been under consideration and under construction since 1837, and prior to Confederation the sum of $309,371.31 had been expended upon it. Its total length when completed between Georgian Bay and Lake Ontario will be 212 miles. Its total completed length between Healey's Falls and Balsam Lake in 1904 was 118 miles. Since 1904, Mr. Hall stated that 37 miles had been added to the Canal through the opening of Lake Simcoe and Balsam Lake sections and the total length now completed is 155 miles. The total length to be completed on the southern section is 43 miles and of this 43 miles, 28 miles are now under contract and the remaining 15 miles has been surveyed and the necessary information nearly completed for the purpose of inviting tenders. The total length of the Canal to connect Lake Simcoe and Georgian Bay is 14 miles, and the necessary survey and data is being compiled in connection therewith.

The size of the old locks was 134 by 33 feet. "I strongly urged," said Mr. Hall, "upon the Government that the new locks below Peterborough should be 175 feet in length by 40 feet in width, with a channel of 9 feet in depth, so that barges having a capacity of 1,000 tons could be operated upon this lower section." It is a satisfaction to know that the new section below Peterborough will enable barges having a capacity of 1,000 tons to be operated upon it.

The Laurier administration have taken up the question of the completion of the Trent Canal as a business proposition in a business-like way. Comparisons are odious but at the risk of making a disagreeable comparison it is gratifying to the electors of West Peterborough to know that whereas for the 29 years prior to 1896 only $1,230,030.16 was expended. Since then, under the present administration over five million dollars has been expended upon new construction work. Ever since Mr. Stratton has been in public life we all know that he has been one of its strongest and most substantial supporters. He has frequently accompanied deputations to Ottawa at his own personal expense for the purpose of urging its early completion, said Mr. Hall." "I have yet to learn of one single instance where Mr. Hampden Burnham, the Conservative Candidate in this election, ever accompanied a single deputation to Ottawa for the purpose of urging the completion of the Canal, and I regret to say that since he has been the Conservative candidate in this Riding he did not see fit to support the City Council and the Board of Trade in urging the completion of this canal on the occasion of the recent visit of the Minister of Railways and Canals to our City while he was engaged in making his inspection of this important waterway." Mr. Burnham surely does not appreciate how important this Canal will be to Peterborough, which will result in saving 75 cts. a ton on coal to every householder in Peterborough. The consumption of coal in Peterborough is upwards of 45,000 tons per annum. A saving of $33,000.00 per annum could be made in coal alone to Peterborough. It will result in a saving of 3 cents a bushel upon grain which is grown in this county. It will stimulate the grinding of grain from the Northwest in transit to the seaboard. The railways charge 5 cents per hundred pounds extra on grain ground in transit. A 1,500 barrel flour mill in Peterborough is handicapped on its export business to the extent of over $45,000 per annum as compared with what it will be when the canal is completed. Every employee of the Quaker Oats Company and other mills is interested in receiving steady and continuous employment. The completion of the Trent Canal will insure it. Cheaper freight rates will be secured upon iron, steel and heavy commodities of all kinds. The manufacturing industries of Peterborough will receive a great impetus and the development of every one of our valuable water powers will then be made to its fullest capacity. New flour and cereal mills will be established to the advantage of farmers. Higher prices will be obtained for grain and products of the farm throughout the whole district. Bran and shorts from these mills would be more plentiful for cheap fodder for the cattle and hog industry and it must be admitted that the cheese, butter and bacon industry in our district is of the most vital importance to every farmer in the county. When the Hilliard Mill, the Denne Mill, the Ashburnham Mill, the Hall Mill and the Meldrum and Davidson Mill were operating in Peterborough bran and shorts could be purchased for between $9.00 and $10.00 a ton. Now the price of bran and shorts with only two mills in competition, is between $20.00 and $25.00 a ton. With additional mills competition will have splendid results to our farming community. Boats and barges passing and repassing on the canal will furnish cheap freight rates on all products of the farm and on the output of our manufacturers. The employment of labour will be more constant and the supplies for boats and barges plying upon these waters will be a benefit to every merchant upon this route.

Tourist Traffic

The completion of the Trent Canal will stimulate the tourist traffic. Steam Yacht owners of Chicago could make a most pleasant trip through Lake Huron, Georgian Bay, down the Trent Waters to Lake Ontario and back home via the Welland Canal and Lake Erie. Wealthy yacht owners of Milwaukee, Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland and Buffalo and the coordering American cities will not rest content until they have seen the beauties of the Kawartha Lakes.

Last year tourists to the State of Maine spent upwards of sixteen million dollars. When the Trent Canal is completed it will mean that millions of dollars will be spent in our midst by tourists, and farmers living along the line of the Canal will find a ready and profitable market for their butter, eggs, poultry, vegetables and other products of the farm.

Government Praised

Mr. Hall then dealt with the great advancement that was taking place in different parts of Canada and showed this great development was taking place without practically adding a dollar to our national debt, because the large sums of money that are being put into the National Transcontinental Railway are being invested and the Government will own the road and will receive interest upon it.

It must be gratifying to know and many of the electors of West Peterborough who waited upon the Government during this last four years do know, and realise that the members of the Laurier administration have diligently, honestly and fairly considered every matter that came before them in so far as the same affects this Riding and I will say more, that the same diligence, honesty of purpose and sense of fairness has been characteristic of the Laurier administration in its dealings and transactions with every constituency in Canada, and certainly is well worthy of the confidence of the people of Canada and notwithstanding the storm of slanders and false charges which have been unjustly levelled against it by the Fosters, Bennetts and Fowlers, and others it is still strong in the confidence and in the hearts of the Canadian people and will certainly be again returned to power with a large majority in the coming contest.

"The Laurier Administration," said Mr. Hall, "has done much to stimulate the growth and development of Canada during this last twelve years. Some of the main causes that have produced the growth of Canada have resulted from the improvement of the St. Lawrence ship canal. Encouragement to building of railways, increase of our transportation facilities, improvement of our canals and harbours, deepening of our waterways, improvement of our terminal facilities, improvement in transportation of perishable goods such as butter, cheese and fruit, improvement in our ocean steamship service, establishment of trade commissioner service outside of Canada on a business-like basis, by peopling of the Northwest and by development of our resources."

"When I had the honour of becoming your representative in 1904, I realised with a just pride that a great honour had been conferred upon me, but I also recognised that I would be unworthy of such honour it I did not assume and perform its high duties and great responsibilities. From session to session I have found that the time and attention necessary to give to public affairs was becoming greater and greater and consequently that the time which I could devote to my own business affairs was gradually becoming less I am sure you all realise that the performance of the many public duties as your representative must have consumed a great deal of time to say nothing of having to attend prolonged sessions in Ottawa, extending from six to eight months every year and that there is a time to which a man can neglect his own private business and those of his own business associates."

"It is with deep regret that I must decline the honour of being the standard-bearer of the Liberal party in the coming contest. To me, in one sense of the term, it is a double pleasure, because I know that I shall be able to give more attention to my own business affairs, and because I know that I can name a standard-bearer of the Liberal party who can carry our flag to victory in the coming contest. We all know that for more than twenty years in our Local Provincial elections we had a man of whom we were all justly proud and who in no less than six contested elections carried our flag to victory. "I therefore have very great pleasure in proposing the Hon. J. R. Stratton as the Liberal candidate in the coming Dominion elections. He is a true and tried friend of West Peterborough. He knows its wants and requirements. He has the ability and energy to properly represent this constituency, and he has a record of success behind him to insure him a worthy and triumphant victory."

Unanimous Nomination

Mr. Stratton's nomination, which was seconded by Mr. William Telford, Smith township, was endorsed by the large gathering with practical unanimity, amidst most enthusiastic applause.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams rose in the audience and stated that he was dissatisfied with the nomination and would oppose Mr. Stratton's candidature. He intimated that he would support the Laurier Government, but would do his work in another riding.

Mr. Andrew McFarlane said he was not surprised at the present action of Mr. McWilliams. He had claimed that he had been robbed of the nomination in 1904. At that time, because he could not pack the convention with enough Tories to give him the nomination, he offered his services to the Conservatives, at that time without a candidate, and this great admirer of Sir Wilfrid Laurier—this staunch Liberal—actually prepared an address to the electors in which, as the Tory candidate, he denounced the policy of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and endorsed that of Mr. Borden, and he has now the cheek to claim to be a champion of Liberal principles. He says he will work in support of the Government in other ridings.—"For God's sake keep him away and don't have our friends in other ridings snowed under." (Cheers and laughter.)

Mr. Stratton Accepts

Mr. Stratton, on rising to speak, was vociferously cheered. He said he had had no intention of being a candidate till last Wednesday night, when Mr. Hall had said that his business interests would prevent him from being again a candidate. "In view of this, and in view of your desire so unmistakably and heartily expressed, I now accept the nomination." (Great applause.) Mr. Stratton was not surprised at the attitude of Mr. McWilliams. He expected, but did not fear, his opposition. He had been used to opposition from that quarter for years and decided it now as little as he had done in the past, Mr. Stratton added that, as publisher of the Examiner, he had a duty to perform towards the public and towards the city. In the interests of the public, the Examiner had felt it its duty to oppose Mr. McWilliams' election as mayor. As a result, he was defeated by 800 of a majority, and hence was out for revenge. He (Mr. Stratton) was not afraid of his opposition; he firmly believed that at the end of the coming campaign they would meet in that place to celebrate the return of a Liberal supporter of the best Government the country has had since the Confederation. (Loud applause.)

Mr. D. O'Connell paid a warm tribute to the extent and value of Mr. Hall's services, referring especially to his pluck and ability shown in redeeming West Peterborough in the Liberal interest after so long a tenure of office by the Opposition. He, as well as his many friends, regrette dhis retirement, since he had entered upon a brilliant career and had made a good representative. His record showed that there never was a more energetic and useful member in either East or West Peterborough. The statement he had made to-day was a statement unexcelled by any other record. (Applause.) Mr. O'Connell stated that Mr. Hall's large private and industrial interests compelled so much attention as to necessitate his retirement. He agreed with Mr. Stratton that if he returned to public life he would be warmly welcomed. (Applause.) He had great pleasure in moving the following resolution:

Moved by Mr. D. O'Connell, seconded by Hon. Geo A. Cox, That this Mass Meeting of Liberals learn with regret of the decision of Mr. R. R. Hall, M. P., not to again be a candidate at this election. While reluctantly accepting his decision, this Convention desires to bear testimony to the effective, satisfactory and energetic representation he has given West Peterborough. It is a fact stated with pleasure that he has been the most alert, active, energetic and painstaking member ever sent from this riding to Ottawa. He has looked after the wants and requirements of this riding with so much solicitude and success and the Government has so reasonably responded that this Convention has no hesitation in declaring that West Peterborough has very substantially benefitted by having the Liberal Government in power and by having Mr. Hall as its representative.

Hon. Senator Cox, in seconding the resolution, deeply regretted Mr. Hall's retirement, but this regret was mitigated by the fact that Mr. Stratton has accepted the nomination and he had for many years so effectively and ably represented West Peterborough that he was sure they would send him to Ottawa as they had sent him to Toronto. He would go there to support one of the greatest statesmen this country has ever had. He (Mr. Cox) had heard him at London among the brightest men gathered from all parts of the Empire, and Laurier was head and shoulders above them all. (Applause.) He was glad that West Peterborough was to send to Ottawa a supporter of Sir Wilfrid in the person of Hon. J. R. Stratton. (Applause.)

Mr. Hall returned thanks for the kind remarks accompanying the resolution. He had not felt so happy, in view of the work and worry of the past two years, as he had done since Mr. Stratton had accepted the nomination. He made a splendid representative and he will again give West Peterborough good service.

Mr. Stratton announced that the committee rooms would be open during the coming week, work would begin, and not cease until the last vote was polled.

A most successful convention came to a close with cheers for Mr. Hall, Mr. Stratton, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the King.

ARMY CRISIS AT HAND.

Reduction of Forces By 30,000 May End In Disaster.

"Unless rumors in quarters usually to be credited are singularly misinformed," says the London Telegraph, "we are approaching one of the gravest crises in the history of the army. It is understood that a section of the Cabinet definitely contemplate another reduction of the army by no less than 30,000. This disastrous course is one to which Ministers are not yet finally committed, but there is a real danger that it will be taken by the Government unless the anger and condemnation of the country are expressed in such unmistakable terms as to compel a pause.

"The reductions in the professional forces, which should have been made last—if at all—were made first. It is estimated that when the measures taken in the last two years have produced their full effect the number of our regular troops will be smaller by no less than 36,000 compared with the strength we possessed when the present Government took office. Even if the Territorial army were at full strength this would represent a mistaken decision. As matters are, it has turned out to be a lamentable and deplorable policy. The whole process of throwing away trained strength had been regarded by the country with perplexity and misgiving.

"Already 36,000 men have gone. Another 30,000 are to go if the so-called economists have their way. That is the proposition, and it is the policy which will prevail unless the faction that is fighting for it in the Cabinet is beaten by public opinion. Strict military issues are not occupying the attention of Ministers. They are concerned with parliamentary manoeuvres.

"There are two very distinct factors in the Government. There are the seniors in a quandary. There are the young men in a hurry, who will stick at nothing to win their goal, and who desire to get there quick. Mr Asquith is now confronted with the Nemesis of his notorious Budget. He committed the country to vast, to unlimited, to almost illimitable expenditure.

"The motto of the forward school in the Cabinet practically amounts to this: Let the Social programme prevail, though the Empire fall. It was at first thought that the navy might be successfully plundered. But the situation is serious enough in that respect to fill even our present Government with affright. Unless there is a large increase in the naval estimates next year, another power would be positively equal to us in strength in the narrow seas, and perhaps slightly superior by the beginning of 1912.

"For weeks, as is well known, the War Office has been under the knife. Mr. Churchill has been allowed to overhaul all its business. It is said that the Household Cavalry are to be cut down from three regiments to one—a change that would deprive our greatest State ceremonials of the military dignity which it is of high political importance to retain. We appeal to Mr. Asquith to support his War Minister, and resist all proposals calculated to bring into grave peril the safety and honor of our country."

Reed and Strout.

Thomas B. Reed served in the navy during the civil war, and in 1865 he returned to Portland to practice law. One of the strongest men at the Portland bar at the time was A. A. Strout. Before beginning the trial of a suit it was Strout's habit to inquire of every juror as to the state of his health and impress each with the idea that the lawyer was solicitous of that juror's personal welfare. Reed and Strout were constantly antagonising each other, though they were very good friends. In nearly every case of importance Strout and Reed were on opposite sides. It was annoying indeed for the suave Strout to hear Reed drawl out before the opening of a case:

"Well, your honor, Brother Strout having finished his morning task of shaking hands with the jury, we may now, I hope, proceed with the business of the court."

ORGANIZATION IN THE SCHOOLS

Overcrowding in Some of Them Relieved —Additional Class at the Central.

FORTY-THREE TEACHERS

Inspector Mowat when asked if he had anything to report on public school matters said that, when the Public Schools opened on Sept. 1st, it was found that certain of the primary forms were overcrowded. Steps have been taken to remedy this and the organization is now fairly complete.

In the King Edward School there are now seven regular forms in addition to the Kindergarten, and while the forms are well filled there is, so far, no overcrowding.

In the Park Street School there are four forms, all well filled.

In the East City School there are five regular forms in addition to the Kindergarten and the classes are of the right size for good work.

The Queen Alexandra School was found to be overcrowded in the primary Part I. form, while the third book classes were not sufficiently large for two divisions. This difficulty has been overcome by forming an additional primary class and combining the two third book classes into one. In order to do this a few third book pupils had to be transferred to the Central School and those were sent who live nearest this school.

To relieve the overcrowding at the Central and South Central Schools an additional class has been formed at the Central School and several transfers have been made from the South Central to the Central. As a result of these changes the classes are now of such a size that better attention can be given the pupils than could possibly have been given under the old conditions. In all the changes made the pupils' welfare has been sought after.

There are now forty-three teachers engaged on the Public School staff and six Kindergarten teachers.

An encouraging feature of this term's commencement is the large number of Kindergarten pupils in attendance.

The opening of the Normal School marks an era in the Public School history of Peterborough and the Board has done everything possible on its part to make the undertaking a complete success and at the same time to derive the greatest possible benefit from its being in our midst.

WANT $1,000 FROM THE COUNCIL

Representatives of Cavan Township Council Ask for Grant to Help Build Road.

WILL BENEFIT THE CITY

A deputation of members of the Council of the Township of Cavan waited on the Council last night asking for a grant towards the completion of a road through the Cavan swamp. Reeve McNeil, Deputy Reeve Kelly, Councillors Benj. Shields and Vance composed the representation, and advanced a strong argument. Reeve McNeil stated that it was not only of interest to the township of Cavan and those surrounding it, but was also of importance to the city. This road leads east from Mount Pleasant towards Peterborough through the swamp.

The Reeve said that the farmers of Cavan, Manvers and that district would come to this city whereas they now go to Lindsay. In coming here now the road is four miles longer than that which has been begun through the swamp. There would be therefore 8 miles saved in the return trip. This the speaker said, meant considerable to a farmer in the wear and tear on his horses and waggons. Moreover a former council of the city had promised the Cavan Council the sum of $1,000.00 towards the work, "and it would not have been begun if we had not received that encouragement," Reeve McNeil concluded.

This road will be less hilly than any of those in the neighbourhood, being carefully constructed and is sure to be, the deputation said, largely patronized.

The other gentleman of the deputation spoke along the same lines. The Mayor later promised them that their request would receive due attention.

RESIDENCES ALONG C.P.R. TRACKS NEAR INDIAN RIVER IN DANGER FROM SPREADING BUSH FIRES

The prevailing drought throughout the country has been the cause of several bush fires recently. One is now reported near Guerin which is about a mile west of Indian River Station and the residents of the vicinity are somewhat alarmed at its tenacious progress through the swamps and woodlands.

Evidently it caught from a spark from a passing train engine on the C.P.R. railway. A day or two ago the residence of Mr. John Clancy was in danger but by the assiduous work of the fire fighters, its advance in that direction was checked. However, the danger is not all passed yet. It is now in the vicinity of Mr. James Carter's property. This morning the wind rose and it was feared that it might spread. Since catching in one of the swamps it has crossed the track and is making headway on the opposite side.

SON SAVES FATHER FROM DROWNING OFF THE STEAMER

Passengers on board the steamer Water Lily on Labour Day had the opportunity of witnessing a clever and heroic act on the part of a son towards his father. The two were visitors from Montreal and they took in the trip to Stony Lake. On the return voyage while the boat was in the canal the father fell off the ledge surrounding the hull. His son who is only about 20 years of age, was on the upper deck at the time and as soon as he saw the perilous plight in which the father, who couldn't swim a stroke, was in, he dived and succeeded in accomplishing a daring rescue.

Russian Pole Was Robbed; Otonabee Man In Trouble

A well known resident of Otonabee was charged in the police court this morning with stealing $5 from Gulek Serakwas, a Russian Jew, on Saturday. He appeared before City Clerk Armstrong, on Saturday, and the case was enlarged until this morning. The defendant pleaded not guilty this morning and asked to be tried by a jury, but changed his mind later on and consented to being tried by His Worship.

Serakwas, who cannot speak English, had to have an interpreter. His story was to the effect that the prisoner had seen him putting money in his pocket, and had snatched it and ran away, whereupon witness had given chase, and, catching the prisoner, held him until the police arrived.

P. C. Adams testified that when the prisoner had been brought into the police station, he had said that he had been given the money by the Jew for the purpose of buying a bottle of whisky.

P. C. Newhall testified that he had arrested the prisoner at the Munro House on Saturday evening. When he arrived on the scene the Jew had hold of the prisoner and the officer separated the two, whereupon the Otonabee man had tried to run away.

It was stated that the men were under the influence of liquor at the time.

The magistrate remarked that the prisoner had a good character and would allow him to go on suspended sentence. The defendant, however, had to pay the costs of the proceedings, which amounted to $3.75.

On leaving the court room the prisoner walked over to the bench and shook hands with the magistrate, and then followed it up by shaking hands with the Jew.

BRACELET AND SUIT OF CLOTHES AMONG THE BURGLARS' LOOT

Burglars broke into the residence of Mr. McGregor near Downer's Corners on Saturday, while the family were absent, and made away with some articles. Among the things known to be missing are a gold bracelet belonging to Miss McGregor, a $22 suit of clothes belonging to one of Mr. McGregor's sons, and some preserved fruits. The identity of the thief or thieves has not been discovered up to the present.

Nine-Year Old Boy Would Adopt Harvey From Shelter

Mr. Geo. Cochrane, agent for the Children's Shelter, received the following letter from nine-year-old Leonard Cline, of Mapleton, Ont., asking for one of the children of the Shelter. He writes as follows:—

Dear Sir,—Having seen you children's pictures in the Canadian Dairyman my choice would be little Harvey, age 3 years. Has he got a home yet, or could I get him? Do I have to pay anything for one of those boys? Please write and tell me by return mail. I want him all myself. I am nine years old and can take care of him myself. Hoping to hear from you soon, etc.

The youthful would-be foster father has evidently taken a decided liking to Harvey. It is not known whether he will be able to get him.

TIMELY ARRIVAL OF CHURCH FOLK SAVES HOUSE FROM FLAMES

Church service at Stewart's Hall, Otonabee, was interrupted on Sunday by the news that a bush fire was raging near the bank of the river and threatened to destroy the barn and residence in a clearing of the woodland, belonging to Mr. Sandy Matchett. The house is occupied by Mr. Sherman Mann, who happened to notice the steady advance of the fire and gave the alarm. Had the firefighters been fifteen minutes later it is stated that it would have been impossible to prevent a disastrous fire.

TRANSCONTINENTAL TRAMP FOR MEMBER OF THE FOURTH ESTATE

Mr. F E Mason, grocer, has received a letter from Bovril, Limited, requesting him to supply a transcontinental "tramp" with all the Bovril he requires. This pedestrian is Mr. H N Clark, a London journalist, who has set out from Quebec to walk to Vancouver. He will pass through Peterborough some day soon and will obtain enough Bovril to give him strength to reach the next supply station.

FAMILY REUNION IN SMITH; BROTHERS MEET AFTER 36 YEARS

A most pleasant gathering of about thirty-two was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Trude, "Little Lake Farm," Smith, on Labour Day. Among the guests were Mr. A. W. Trude and daughter, Daisy, Cleveland, O.; Miss F. Nortncott, Cleveland. Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Leggott and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Waldon and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Abbott and family, Mr. and Mrs. Trude Waldon, Miss Bessie Trude, all of Lakefield, and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. McWilliams, Peterborough. The most interesting event of the gathering was the meeting of the two brothers, Messrs. A. W. and W. F. Trude, who had not met for thirty-six years.

SEMI-READY WARDROBE

Early Pickings of the Autumn Crop

"Styles," you say. Yes, the fall styles are here in all the newness from the American centres of fashion. There's one most decided feature in the new Coats, or, at least some of them — the long open vent again appears and will resume its extreme popularity of a few seasons ago. The Tweeds are, as ever, the leading suit fabrics for Autumn, 1908, and striped too, but the stripe patterns are rather more modified, or indistinct, than of past seasons. The lines of the Fall Suits are not exaggerated or faddy, but appeal to the educated taste of the man who knows. Prices $15.00 to $25.00.

TO RAISE LEVEL OF LOVESICK LAKE

Engineers Are Surveying the District—Lock Will be Done Away With.

The Department of Railways and Canals is contemplating changes at Burleigh Falls that will do away with the lock at Lovesick. Yesterday a party of engineers left for Burleigh, and will survey the district with a view to ascertaining the advisability of raising the dam at Burleigh Falls five or six feet, in which case there will not be any need of the lock at Lovesick. There are six summer cottages between Burleigh and Lovesick, but it is not likely that the high water will cause any damage, except in the case of one or two of these.

WATER LILY'S RECORD TRIP

Had a Long and Busy Day of it on Saturday.

Captain Frower and crew of the Water Lily made a record run on Saturday last when they left Crowe's Landing at 5.30 a.m. on their weekly market trip and arrived in the city on schedule time. The return trip to the landing was made in the afternoon and the Lily returned to Peterborough, arriving here at 11.30 p.m. This meant 24 lockages and 20 calls during the day.

EAST PETERBOROUGH.

Attention is again directed to the announcement of a convention of delegates from the several polling subdivisions of the East Riding, to be held in the Town Hall, Norwood, on Tuesday, September 15th, to nominate a candidate in the Liberal interests to contest the representation of East Peterborough at the next Dominion Elections. At the conclusion of the business of the convention a mass meeting will be addressed by prominent Liberals. It is desirable that there should be as large an attendance of delegates as possible.

R. R. HALL M. P.

A correspondent writes to inquire if, in view of Mr. Hall having declined nomination, he is "still entitled to the addition, M.P." Certainly. His declining or accepting nomination in no way affects his standing as a member. There has been no dissolution of Parliament and he and all other members of Parliament are "in good standing," and, if a session were called, would be entitled to take their seats. The constitutional life of Parliament is five years. The last general election was held November 3rd, 1904, so that Parliament could do public business and dissolution and a general election could be deferred till 1909. Mr. Hall's retirement from nomination does not relieve him from responsibility as a representative. He is still the member for West Peterborough, and would doubtless be elected again if his private affairs would permit his candidature. One has only to read the record, printed in yesterday's Examiner, of what Mr. Hall has done, of what he has procured for this riding in the form of substantial benefits, to recognize the claim he has upon the electors, in respect of good, faithful service. His retirement, justified by the increasing personal attention demanded by his business affairs, is rendered more necessary by the period of depression which calls for closer attention to the details and management of all great enterprises. And it is further justified by the fact that his successor has shown during a period of a score of years of valuable service as member, that he possesses the qualities of energy, enterprise and representative ability that will assure a continuity of good representation to West Peterborough.

MARINE AND FISHERIES.

It is a notable fact that of the many scandals dealt with in the House last session by the Conservatives as part of their policy few were definite enough to be made the subject of investigation, and those that had the light of evidence let in upon them collapsed, and the others, resting upon mere assertion, have only a corresponding warrant. Among other scandals was that attacking the Department of Marine and Fisheries. In regard to this, Mr. Brodeur, the Minister of this Department, had, before any particular charges of scandal were made, reason to believe that the system of ordering and purchasing goods for this Department was not a good one. It had been established by a Conservative Government, and the Liberal Government had not only inherited this defective system from the Conservatives, but many of the officials were appointees of a preceding Conservative Government. Mr. Brodeur found reason to suspect that undesirable results were flowing from an undesirable system, and that some of the officials were negligent and extravagant, but none of them have been proved to be corrupt. Mr. Brodeur took steps to mend matters. Before these were completed the scandal charges came. While they were in progress the Government appointed a commission of three men of recognized inquisitorial ability. They were empowered to investigate the conditions of the civil service generally. The commissioners found a good deal of fault with the Marine and Fisheries Department, and hinted rather darkly that some of the officials must be corrupt. The Government suspended the men against whom the insinuations of the commission had been directed, and, in earnest of its desire to correct apparent wrong conditions, appointed Judge Cassells to make a thorough probing and investigation of affairs with a view to disclosing the actual conditions. So far as the investigation has proceeded upon specific charges or insinuations, nothing has been shown to justify the reflections made by the commission upon the Marine Department. Mr. Hugh Allan, representing the shipping interests of Montreal, called as a witness, declared that the strictures were unwarranted and unjust, which hinted at a "lack of conscience" in the management of affairs. As a member of the Lighthouse Board, he declared the criticisms of that body were "made up of despicable insinuations" and were a libel upon men trying to do their duty. He explained how the Board had systematized the Department, and kept shippers advised and posted regarding changes and improvements, and had made the St. Lawrence route one that compared favourably with any in the world, safe as mid-sea and as well lighted as the London Strand. He denied that money was needlessly expended. The outlay of $1,500,000 in making the channel safe had resulted in a direct saving of $230,000 to $240,000 a year to Canadian shippers, the insurance on provisions being lowered because of the improvements from 84 1-2c to 38c, and on grain from 99c to 38c between 1900 and 1907. Mr. Allan assured the Commissioner that no part of this saving was due to competition. The Board had not passed one improper item. Asked if it would not have been well to have had the Minister of Marine on the Board, Mr. Allan emphatically said that it would not. It would have taken up his entire time, and no good could have resulted. The Board made recommendations, and the Department acted upon them. He complimented the officials of the Marine Department upon their efficiency, and strongly approved of the Board and its work. Thus early in the investigation, by the evidence of Mr. Allan and others, the insinuations contained in the Civil Service Commission report do not seem to have been justified, and the criticisms of Hon. Mr. Brodeur lose point. Of course, large sums have been expended on improvements of the St. Lawrence section of the highway to Great Britain, but the benefits have been corresponding. The vast progress made in Canadian shipping activity—a progress which disturbs New York, Philadelphia, Boston and other United States ports — proves that we receive value. The gain of $240,000 a year in insurance rates on goods alone is 15 per cent. on the capital invested, and that saving goes to the shippers of Canadian produce.

THE LINE DRAWN.

The Finance and Insurance Chronicle of Montreal, in a brave attempt to write an independent or, rather, neutral, article on Canadian politics, after dealing with the alleged recriminations of the two parties, exclaims "and all this with not a single issue of any magnitude before the country!" Is that correct? There is the issue of sincerity as against self-seeking; of progress, as against stagnation. The great problem of transportation and its related subject, immigration, as represented by peopling our waste wheat-wealth areas, make a sharp line of demarcation between the two parties. The Conservative party is opposed to Grand Trunk Pacific progress and logically enough is opposed to immigration. It we have not the railway, our millions of acres of fertile wheat lands yet in a state of nature, will not need population, for, without the railway there will be no avenue of access to permit of development and hence no output requiring transportation; and still logically there is no need for immigration. Perfection of transportation as far as possible is the measure of national growth and development. The Laurier Government believes in transportation and has showed its faith by its work. It has spent millions in improvements of our canal system to the point that the greatest commercial emporium of this continent, New York, is raising a wail over the fact that Montreal is stealing its wheat shipment supremacy. The Laurier Government has deepened and improved the St. Lawrence channel from Montreal to Quebec, it has been deepened and buoyed till it is as safe as mid-ocean, and, in the words of a witness in the Marine Department investigation, "it is as well lighted as the Strand in London." The policy and practice too, of the Government and the policy of the Opposition in regard to the national matter of transportation are as wide asunder as the poles. The Chronicle says that in the United States there is a "policy at stake, the tariff." The Laurier Government has a distinct tariff policy which cannot be said to be antagonistic to the Conservative policy, because on that matter the Conservatives have no policy, judging by recent ominous silence on the subject. The policy of the Liberal party is a stable tariff with no unsettling and frequent changes—a tariff that will produce revenue and afford incidental protection to established industrial interests. The Liberal policy is a policy of hopefulness and progress. The Conservative policy is a policy of blue ruin and slander, alike of their political opponents and their country. And yet it is said there is "no single issue at stake." There is a sharp line of demarcation.

SHOT AT THE RUBBER DECOYS

Roused Ire of the Owner—Also Upset in Monarch's Waves.

One of our well-known Provincial Government officials and especially well-known down the river, had an unique experience near Rice Lake last week of which his many friends enjoy reminding him. Together with a friend, he started out early in the morning on September 1 to open the duck-shooting season. Putting into Kent's creek before daybreak they secured a good position and went on duty, and when day broke they discovered a fine flock of duck within nice range and immediately commenced to blaze away, but before they had fired many shots they were called down by one of Gore's Landing's oldest and best known sportsmen, who objected to people shooting at his new rubber decoys, costing in the neighbourhood of $2.50 each. Mr. Official and his friend naturally apologized but they certainly realize that the joke was on them. To make matters worse, while passing the steamer Monarch, in response to some remarks made at him from the steamer's deck, Mr. Official brought his paddle to the present, but in doing so upset the canoe.

THE TWO INVINCIBLES

Cod Liver Oil and Iron.

Cod Liver Oil and iron in some form or other are prescribed by physicians the world over, more than any other two remedies the world has ever known, for anæmia or poor blood, weakness, convalescence, and all wasting and pulmonary diseases.

Iron, because it is the basis of the blood, and without a sufficient amount the blood is impoverished, watery, pale and impure.

Cod Liver Oil, because it contains curative and reconstructive qualities greater than that possessed by any other one medicinal agent.

In Vinol, modern science has given to the world a combination of these two world-famed tonics — Cod Liver Oil and Iron, but shorn of all useless oil or disagreeable features.

Vinol is made by a scientific extractive and concentrating process from fresh cods' livers, combining with peptonate-of-iron all the medicinal, healing, body-building elements of cod liver oil, but no oil.

As a body-builder and strength-creator for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, after sickness, and for Chronic Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles, Vinol is unexcelled.

We ask Peterborough people to give Vinol a trial. It won't cost anything unless it gives satisfaction. McDermid & Jury, druggists; also the Market Drug Store, Peterborough.

FRUIT JUICES CLEAR THE SKIN

The skin mirrors faithfully the state of the blood, and the blood shows how well—or how badly—the liver, bowels, kidneys and the millions of tiny glands in the skin are doing their work. If these organs are not properly clearing out the waste matter, the blood will be poisoned and the skin sallow, "muddy" and sprinkled with pimples.

Plenty of ripe fruit helps more than any other food to cure this condition, but even more effective, as well as less expensive, are "Fruit-a-tives." These are little tablets of concentrated fruit juices, combined in such a way as to many times increase their action on those organs that eliminate impurities. One or two "Fruit-a-tives" a day will keep the blood pure and give the skin the clear glow of health. 25c for trial size box—50c for regular size—6 for $2.50. Dealers everywhere should have both sizes. If you are unable to obtain "Fruit-a-tives" in your neighborhood, they will be sent on receipt of price. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

BORDEN AT LIVERPOOL.

Opposition Leader Resurrects His Halifax Platform.

Halifax, Sept. 9.—The second meeting of Mr. Borden's tour was held in the Liverpool Opera House last night. There was a good audience present.

In large gilt letters was the inscription "It is time for a change of Government." The body of the Opera House, the gallery and the platform were all crowded.

"It is said we have no policy," declared Mr. Borden, "but we have one, well understood by those who care to understand it, and it is away ahead of any put up by our opponents."

He reviewed the principle laid down at Halifax, that the patronage system should pass away, and candidates should be appointed to office by examination. Another point was that of Government-owned telegraph service; another plank was complete control of all public utilities, all great lines of railway. He thought the present Government's greatest work was the establishment of the Railway Commission, and the Opposition had supported them in this. The Government had adopted his suggestion, made in Halifax, that the powers of that commission and its personnel be enlarged. The Opposition has been able to make the Government carry out more of the Halifax platform since it was announced than all the measures they have themselves proposed or carried out.

BREAKERS UNDER GUARD.

Presence of Police Averts Possible Riot in Montreal.

Montreal, Sept. 9.—By prompt action on the part of the police, what looked like an attempt at more rioting on the part of the C.P.R. strike sympathizers was prevented yesterday afternoon.

Long before the arrival of the afternoon work train at Place Viger station, bringing back men from the Angus shops, it was noticed there was a large gathering of men nearby which had increased to 500 before 6 p.m. As trouble was feared, 50 police went sent down to the station to protect the employes. As soon as the train arrived cries of "scab" were heard on all sides. But the police guarded each group of the non-union men and sent them away safely.

Bell Hardy, in an interview yesterday, declared that of the 150 men brought out from Glasgow in the Lake Erie some were professional bums, while others claimed to have been hired under false representation. Thirty of them, he says, came to the picket headquarters Sunday night and told of how the company had deceived them. They were to come back again last evening, bringing the whole force over.

SUICIDE PLOT FAILS.

Doctor Attempted to Kill Himself Scientifically.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 9.—The World-Herald yesterday afternoon says Dr. Frederick Ruskin died from a suicide compact with Mrs. Rice. Mrs. Rice's nerve failed her and she did not carry out her part of the agreement. Mrs. Rice was his paramour in one section of the city, while he maintained his home in society row.

For three years it became known here yesterday, he had been carrying on a series of terrible experiments upon himself, the object being to end his existence in a manner that would avoid the appearance of self-murder, so that his life insurance policies would not be declared void.

He inoculated himself with typhus and tetanus germs and opened his veins while in a wreck, but to no result.

To Declare Him Dead.

Hamilton, Sept. 9.—Mrs. Sidney F. Pilgrim and her son Orville, have applied before Judge Monck to have Sidney F. Pilgrim, the husband and father, declared legally dead, and for leave to administer the estate. Mr. Pilgrim left on a journey nine years ago from which he never returned. The judge reserved decision. The family will try to collect $1,250 insurance if the application is granted.

Caught In Sand.

New York, Sept. 9.—Buried above their waists in the treacherous quicksands abounding in the marshes near Coney Island Creek, two women, a girl and two men, all members of one family, Monday afternoon for four hours faced a horrible death, unable to extricate themselves, and unable to make their frantic cries for help heard by the hundreds who passed a quarter of a mile away. They were eventually rescued, but just in time.

Youth Set Free.

Lindsay, Sept. 9.—Wm. Benton, one of the Detroit youths charged with assaulting and stabbing Sam Nicholls and Jack Barry on Aug. 31, was acquitted at Fenelon Falls yesterday. The plea of Benton's lawyer was self-defence, and the prosecution failed to prove that Benton did the "cutting."

Liquor at Golf Club.

St. Catharines, Sept. 9.—License Inspector King has caused somewhat of a sensation by laying information against the Alexandra Golf Club, charged with selling liquor without a license.

The inspector, accompanied by the chief of police, visited the club house some time ago, armed with a search warrant.

Essex Victims Sue.

Windsor, Sept. 9.—Actions were instituted yesterday against the Michigan Central Railway by Rev. G. V. McVittie asking unstated damages, and Miss Leila Beattie, asking $5,000 damages for injuries received in the dynamite explosion at Essex.

British Columbia Lumbering.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 9.—Both lumbering and logging industries of the coast are exhibiting signs of healthy improvement, the result of an increased demand for lumber from northwest points.

Thrown Seventy-Five Feet.

Winnipeg, Sept. 9.—A. Marks, a threshing engineer, was thrown 75 feet into the air and killed by the explosion of a boiler near Dacotah, Man.

SOLD LIQUOR IN CAMP.

Three Illegal Canteen Operators at Barriefield Are Fined.

Kingston, Sept. 9.—As a result of a raid at the Barriefield camp canteens, which are in a local option district, fines amounting to $90 were imposed. John Cairns, running the army medical corps sergeants' canteen, pleaded guilty, but was fined $50, and Daniel Fowler and William Harris were each fined $20. Harris is a city hotelman.

The charges were laid by the local W.C.T.U., backed up by Rev. T. W. Burke, who was behind the recent round-up of city hotelmen.

Several more cases will be heard to-day.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

George Holmes, aged 17, was drowned at Vancouver, B.C.

Peter Deslaurier, tug owner, was drowned at Port Arthur.

Patrick Glynn, who cut his throat with a potato knife a few days ago at the home of David Rose, West Zora, is dead.

Edward Graham, living three miles north of Newburgh, received such injuries by falling from a butternut tree that his life is despaired of.

The French army manoeuvres began yesterday in the Touraine Region, and are considered the most important since war play was inaugurated under the republic in 1891.

C. B. Foster, C.P.R. district passenger agent, with headquarters at Toronto, for two years, has been placed at the head of the passenger agent's office in Vancouver, B.C., as assistant general agent for western lines.

Hyomei destroys the germs that cause disease of the breathing organs; you simply, by the use of a rubber inhaler, mix Hyomei air with your inward breath as it reaches the diseased parts, where catarrhal, bronchial, croup or pneumonia germs are multiplying by millions, their life is snuffed out, as they are the disease, their extermination means quick improvement.

Wm. Madill has the agency for Hyomei and will furnish the complete outfit for $1 under guarantee to satisfy. For sale by Wm. Madill, corner of George and Hunter streets.

"I hardly know how to thank you for the good Peruna has done me.

"I suffered five years with pain in the stomach. About a year ago it became so bad I could hardly bear it. I coughed day and night and grew weaker and weaker. The pain extended through my body and I also had difficulty in breathing, which made me cough. Everyone thought I had consumption.

"My husband heard of Peruna and bought five bottles. This treatment virtually cured me and now I recommend Peruna to every one who is suffering.

"I thank Dr. Hartman for this excellent remedy."

Ste. Julie de Vercheres, P. Q., Canada. —Mrs. Mois Pariseau.

A NEGLECTED cold is generally the first cause of catarrh.

Women are especially liable to colds. These colds occur more frequently during the wet, sloppy weather of winter and spring than any other time of the year. Often they are not considered serious and are allowed to run on, or they are treated in such a way as to only palliate the symptoms, while the cold becomes more deep-seated and the patient finally awakens to the fact that she has a well-developed case of catarrh.

WOMEN SHOULD BEWARE OF CATCHING COLD.

By reason of their delicate structure, the lungs are frequently the seat of a cold, especially if there is the slightest weakness of these organs. The treatment of catarrh of the lungs is also more difficult and discouraging than catarrh of any other organ of the body.

It would be wise therefore, to guard against it by every precaution possible.

Peruna has been found the most reliable of all remedies for coughs, colds and catarrh, by reason of the fact that it goes at once to the very seat of the trouble.

It searches out every crevice, every duct of the body. It quickens and equalizes the circulation of the blood, thus relieving the congested mucous membranes. It exercises a healing and soothing effect upon the mucous membranes, no matter whether they are the more exposed membranes of the head and throat, or whether they line the remotest cells of the lungs.

PE-RU-NA THE REMEDY FOR CATARRH OF THE LUNGS.

Mrs. Jaschob, 1631 Hicks St., Toledo, Ohio, writes:

"When I wrote to you for advice, I had been sick for three years. I had trouble with my throat. Often I could not breathe through my nose. I also had pains in my chest and a cough. I took Peruna according to directions and it has cured me."

CANOPY FOR THE GRAND OPERA HOUSE

Will be Built Over Street Entrance This Season.

The facade of the Grand Opera House will be greatly improved in appearance during the season that is now being entered by the erection of an artistic canopy over the entrance. Ald. Turner referred to the matter at the meeting of the council last night, stating that the work would be done if the proper permission were received. The balcony will be as wide as the entrance and will extend over the sidewalk, thus being of decided convenience to patrons of the Grand.

Mr. Turner was informed that there would be no obstruction to the work if it met with the approval of the city engineer. Not only will it be of service to the public, but will be an adornment to the main street.

LINDSAY CHEESE BOARD MEETING

Ald. Gillespie Bought Half the Offering —Mr. Fitzgerald Present.

Ald. Gillespie and Mr. Geo. Fitzgerald, of the city, were in Lindsay on Labour Day, attending the meeting of the Lindsay Cheese Board. Although the Board was not sold at the last meeting it was disposed of on Monday at 12 5-16 cents. Mr. Gillespie secured about half of the offering, amounting to about 600 boxes, and Mr. W. Flavelle took the rest, the same number. It was the first visit of Mr. Fitzgerald to the Lindsay Board, and, in fact, to the town in several years. Previously to that time he was always a heavy buyer on that Board and was welcomed back on Monday by those who had formerly done business with him.

VALUE OF SIGNS TO THE CITY

Strangers Judge Activity by the Illuminations and Electric Signs.

Ald. Turner is of the opinion that this city is making a mistake in discouraging the merchants and business men from placing signs and illuminations over their offices and stores on the main street. In all the big cities the leading thoroughfares are brilliantly lighted at night, one firm vying with another in the artistic design and attractiveness of the illuminations. He also said that he considered this city was making a mistake in allowing a by-law to go on the books which enacted that a nominal sum must be paid for the privilege. One of the things which a stranger in New York delights in is viewing the large signs which are found everywhere, and in other cities the same thing is true. "Let Peterborough show itself a city in this respect and visitors will judge our progressiveness by the signs that are found on the main streets," he concluded.

FIRE BRIGADE'S WORK APPRECIATED

Village of Stirling Expresses Its Regard in Letter to Local Council.

That the village of Stirling appreciated the work done by the local fire brigade in preventing the further spread of the fire which visited it on August 8th, is shown in the following communication to the City Council:

"Moved by L. Meiklejohn and seconded by E. Wright, that the Council of the Village of Stirling desires hereby to express to the mayor, aldermen and Fire Chief Howard of the City of Peterborough, their deep sense of obligation and appreciation for the free and generous response made by them to the appeal of our reeve for aid in fighting the disastrous fire which devastated our village on Sunday morning, August 8th, 1908, and further to intimate that their noble and disinterested exertions shall not soon be forgotten by the citizens of Stirling, on whose behalf they were made."

GIVING UP BUSINESS

Having decided to retire from business, I have sold all the fixtures and stand to The Peterborough Furnishing Co., who are now at 163 Charlotte Street, and I have to give them possession on September 20th next. In the meantime I must clear the whole stock, worth $8975, consisting of General Dry Goods, Clothing, Millinery, Mantles, House Furnishings, Boots and Shoes, Furs, Toys, Fancy Goods, etc. This sale is genuine, and there is no question about the prices. Everyone who has visited my store in the last five years know the bargains they got, but there will be no comparison with the bargains you can get now. The stock is assorted in every line. The first comers will have the best chance.

City Fathers Meet Again In Regular Monthly Session

More Demands for Pavement---Reports From Various Committees Received---Statement of the Roll---Routine Business.

The regular meeting of the City Council was held last night with the following members present: Mayor Rush, Ald. Tovey, Johnston, Elliott, Morgan, Buller, Turner, Gillespie, Bradburn, Neill and Morrow.

There was no exceptionally important matter presented for discussion, but considerable routine work required attention.

A letter was received from Rev. H. J. Keith, asking on behalf of Knox asking for a sidewalk on the north side of Wolfe street between Reid and Aylmer streets. The people were assured of accommodation in this regard, but the work was only done from Reid street to Rubidge street. Mr. Keith pointed out the disrepair of the walks on Wolfe, Townsend and Rink streets, in some cases there being none at all. The people living in the neighbourhood of Aylmer street to the number of about thirty families are affected, Mr. Keith said, and they would like to see a walk laid.—Received.

The following resolution passed by the Board of Health was read: "That this Board recommend that under Sec. 668 of the Consolidated Municipal Act, 1903, a sewer be constructed on Bethune street from Brock street to Hunter street, for the purpose of draining that locality for sanitary purposes as a local improvement."

Regarding the city's request for permission to erect a foot bridge across the unused right-of-way of the old Chemong branch at Conger street, Mr. Tiffin, superintendent of the G.T.R., said that he personally had no objection and would recommend that the privilege be granted. His decided answer would have to await the decision of the management.

A communication from the Water Commissioners stated that the standpipe at the corner of Park and Charlotte streets belonged to the city. If the latter will pay for the work the Commissioners will have it repaired. When it is repaired the Commissioners will turn on the water. — Received.

A communication was received from W. Stevely, Mayor of London, acknowledging Peterborough's expression of condolence at the recent fire fatality in that city. — Received.

Mr. H. L. Beal, secretary of the Peterborough Horticultural Society, applied for the annual grant to the society for the maintenance of the Central and Victoria Parks. — Received.

Bylaw No. 1408, to authorize the execution of an agreement with the G.T.R. Co.

Bylaw No. 1409, to authorize the execution of an agreement with the Peterborough Hydraulic Power Company.

Bylaw No. 1410, authorizing the construction of granolithic sidewalks on certain streets and parts in the city of Peterborough as local improvements.

By-law No. 1,411, authorizing the construction of sewers on certain streets and parts of streets, as local improvements.

By-law No. 1,412, to increase the salary of Robert Wilson, caretaker of the public buildings.

Board of Works

The report of the Board of Works was read as follows, by Chairman Phelan:

Your Board of Works beg leave to report and recommend as follows:

That if possible the sidewalk on the south side of Townsend street, from Stewart street to Park street, be built this year.

That proceedings be taken at once to expropriate the land needed for the extension of Westcott street, from George street to Lock street, and that the city clerk be instructed to publish and serve the necessary notices for this purpose.

That if it is at all possible the sidewalk on the north side of King street, from Pearl avenue to Margaret avenue, be built this year.

That a temporary sidewalk of old plank be built on the east side of Park street, at Mr. English's terrace.

That if the Township of Douro will assume the maintenance of the boundary from the corner of Smith and Concession streets east, the city assume the maintenance of that portion of the boundary from the same corner north.

That the city engineer be instructed to procure larger grates for the crossings at the corner of George and Simcoe streets and place them in position.

That the chairman be authorized to have concrete pipes placed in the drain on the railway right of way, along Mr. Pilmar's house at the corner of Argyle street.

That an application of J. J. Turner & Sons to connect the floor of their driving shed to the surface drain at the corner of King and Water streets be granted, Messrs. Turner & Sons to deposit $20 with the city treasurer to pay the cost of the work on the street, which shall be done by the city engineer, and the balance of the work to be done by Messrs. Turner & Sons.

That the appropriation for roads and bridges be increased to $2,500 for year, this sum to be taken from any unexpended appropriations.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

(W. G. MORROW,
Chairman.

It was moved by Ald. Morrow and Ald. Neill that steps be taken at once to put the Romaine sewer in proper working condition. Ald. Bradburn said that there was no use of undertaking this, as it was impossible. In fact, it had been partly relaid, but to no purpose. The water is the outfall on Lock street backs up past the G. T. R. tracks on Romaine street, thus blocking this sewer. This question will be reported on later.

I will sell by public auction, on Saturday morning, September 12th, on the Market Square, at eleven o'clock, one Rubber Tire Stanhope. This is a high-seated vehicle of the runabout style and is practically as good as new. Sale without reserve.

HOW TO OPERATE FIRE ALARM BOXES

Chief Howard Makes Some Explanation to the Public in Regard to The System.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Dear Sir,—Be kind enough to grant me space in your evening paper to make the following explanation, of how to operate a Fire Alarm Box.

To send an alarm of fire, open the outside door of the Fire Alarm Box and pull the hook down once.

It is of vital importance that every citizen should learn how to operate the Fire Alarm Boxes, and if the above explanation is not clear we cordially invite the citizens to visit the Fire Station, where any of the firemen will be pleased to give a practical demonstration.

Any telephone can be used free of charge for sending an alarm of fire. All that is required is to call the Central and tell the operator where the fire is. Or if you wish to speak direct to the Fire Station the number is 24 on both telephones.

When the operators receive messages of fire they turn in three rings to the Fire Station, and the horses are turned out in readiness to proceed to the fire as soon as the exact location is ascertained.

Thanking you for your valuable space, I am

Yours respectfully,
W. A. HOWARD,
Chief Fire Dept.

THE BIG MOCK COURT TRIAL

List of Characters and Other Interesting Particulars—To Be Held On Friday.

THE PLAINTIFF ANNOUNCED

Since the announcement was made in these columns that a big mock court trial was to be held, under the auspices of the Boys' Department of the Y. M. C. A., in the Conservatory of Music Hall, on Friday evening, September 11th, there has been great curiosity to know "who 'tis."

The secret is going to be let out right here and now, and the public can begin to look forward to the merry event.

No wonder there is deep interest when so important a question is at stake, as to whether the affections of fair woman shall be trifled with, her tender heart rent asunder and her future blighted, with no redress whatever.

That this Mock Trial will be no light affair will be clearly seen and here comes the list of participants.

His honour the judge will be R. F. McWilliams, Esq.; clerk, City Clerk S. R. Armstrong; court officer, W. R. G. Higgins; court crier, George Martin; plaintiff's attorney, Col. A. V. Newton, of Worcester, Mass.; defendant's attorney, Walter Davidson, Esq.

The broken-hearted plaintiff in this highly interesting breach of promise suit will be Miss Ruth Carlisle, but the name of the luckless defendant is not yet disclosed.

The witnesses will be Dr. J. Malcolm McCullough, G. E. Bruce, Frank Simpson, and Miss Florence Coveney.

The jury to be empanelled, if the lawyers do not kill each other before the trial begins, will be as follows:

Messrs. A. W. Cressman, J. J. Turner, Jr., J. H. Connal, A. B. Cunningham, V. Eastwood, E. N. McWilliams, R. M. Glover, R. J. Kidd, R. L. Dobbin, J. S. Thornton, C. G. Graham, A. McFarlane. Altogether this Mock Court Trial promises to be one of the events of the season, both in the interest attached to it and in the crowd that will attend.

It is hardly necessary to say more than it is coming off as scheduled and will furnish the biggest dose of fun that an equal sum of money ever purchased before. There is a great deal of interest naturally, and the proceedings will be so skilfully managed that the attention will be closely held all the way through. Several attempts have been made the past week to tamper with the jury, but their price is so high that they are as yet uncontaminated.

The fact that the defendant has some exceedingly good witnesses, and will put up a defence as strong as it will be surprising, will compel the plaintiff to put forth her very best efforts if she expects to win. Naturally the jury will be susceptible to feminine tears, and so fully is it expected that at least two of the jurors will be unable to stand such a sight, that arrangements have been made to have the ambulance in waiting at the stage entrance to convey them to the hospital.

Deep interest centres around the testimony of Mr. G. E. Bruce, and the prosecution is so anxious over what he may say that liberal inducements have been offered him to be too ill to attend that night, and many other plots have been devised to prevent his being present at the trial. He is now under police protection.

The prosecution is relying heavily on the evidence of one of the lady witnesses, who will testify as to the general character of the defendant.

All who are to participate in the event are entering into it enthusiastically and a successful performance is assured.

MR. R. H. SHEPPERD HAS RETURNED TO PETERBORO

Mr. R. H. Shepherd, formerly with the Canadian General Electric Company, has returned to the city to remain, after having spent the time since last spring in the United States in the employ of the International Paper Company. This company has thirty-three mills affected by the bad times, which Mr. Shepherd reports as acute and general. It is not expected that the cloud of depression will lift till after the elections, if it does then. Mr. Shepherd contemplates remaining in Peterborough, which he must consider better than the land of promise he has left.

QUINCY ADAMS SAWYER

The Grand Opera House was opened for the season last night with a presentation by the Atkinson and Thatcher Company of that delightful New England pastoral comedy drama "Quincy Adams Sawyer," which thoroughly pleased a fairly large audience. The production is an excellent one carrying a splendid cast and adequate scenic facilities. The play deals with the adventures of Quincy Adams Sawyer a young lawyer in a little New England town, "where the village gossips wondered who he was, what he was, what he came there for and how long he intended to stay." Among the scenic effects are the interior of a country grocery store, an old fashioned husking bee in a barn and a New England snow storm. George E. Lockwood gave a splendid interpretation of the title role and the rest of the cast looked after their parts in a manner that left little cause for complaint.

"Quincy Adams Sawyer" is an agreeable means of spending a delightful evening and no doubt will play to good business on its present trip.

Theatregoers will rejoice that the Grand is now open for the season. Some changes have been made in the popular play house that the patrons will appreciate and a number of sterling attractions are being booked, so that there is something to be looked forward to in this line.

Havelock Man is Fined $5 for Such an Offence—Similar Case to be Tried.

For slapping his wife on various occasions, Clarence Hubbel, Havelock, was yesterday fined $5 and costs by His Worship County Magistrate Edmison. The case was tried in Havelock and was of short duration, as Mr. Hubbel admitted he had slapped his wife.

The Magistrate has received another information of a similar nature from Norwood, and strange to say, the name Hubbel is prominent in it. It will probably be tried in a few days' time.

THE PROVINCIAL EXHIBITIONS

—All cities over the Province are preparing for their exhibition, and Peterborough is no exception to the rule. It is the time we meet our old and new friends, and those who are not our friends. It is also the best time for the introduction of the newest and smartest cuts in fall suits and where they can be shown to the greatest advantage. The New York Ladies' Tailoring establishment have removed their parlours and workshop from 658 George street to 387 Reid street, opposite St. Peter's Cathedral, for the better accommodation of their patrons, and are prepared to take orders in any line of ladies' garments. Children's EYES

Need the most careful and persistent attention. Early headaches and other troubles frequently emanate from defective eye-sight, which in itself, may have originated in early neglect of the eyes. The trouble is, parents seldom know their children's eyes are weak until it is too late.

School will be opened shortly, you had better bring your children to us, as we make a specialty of examining the eyes of the young and fitting them with the proper lenses.

Mr. Hamilton Corrects The Dairy Commissioner

Challenges the Correctness of Mr. Ruddick's Statements re Cull Cheese for Local Consumption.

Editor Examiner.

Dear Sir,—I notice in a recent issue of the Examiner a statement made by Mr. Ruddick to the effect that our people have to use cull cheese because the grocers do not buy higher grades. I trust the gentleman has been misquoted, as a falser statement has never been made. Mr. Ruddick may be a dairy expert, but he certainly knows nothing about the retail grocery business in reference to cheese. There are possibly two thousand cheese consumed in Peterborough each year, probably more, but certainly not less. Does he mean to say the banner cheese district of Ontario produces that many culls? I very much doubt if there are, all told, fifty genuine cull cheese made during the season in the county, and these are invariably cut up in the factories.

Of course, we can only speak for ourselves in this matter, and wish to state that during the past sixteen years we never have bought or used one cull cheese in our trade. We buy our cheese off the sheese board the same as the larger buyers do, getting the same quality and at the same prices. This no doubt applies equally as well to other dealers in our city. Possibly the great trouble is that few dealers have proper facilities for curing and storing their supply, thereby having to sell the cheese too new.

If Mr. Ruddick had had an opportunity of testing some of the cheese we are now cutting, being August, 1907, make, he never would have made such a sweeping statement. We are sending you, Mr. Editor, a small sample of this cheese, knowing that you are a good judge, and are quite willing to leave the verdict in your hands. Thanking you for the space.

Yours truly,
W. H. HAMILTON.

Chief Howard Gets The Light Waggon He Says He Has Needed

Chief Howard is very anxious that the council procure for him the light waggon which he asked for before, although not directly to the whole body of aldermen. At the meeting last night he stated that the salary which he was receiving was a large one and he wished to earn it.

"I want to give you more than full return, if possible, and to do so I should have the proper equipment. This light waggon should be capable of carrying three men, and should have a place at the back where I could throw a chemical tank, put a small extension ladder underneath and hurry to a small chimney fire, thus leaving the majority of the firemen with the apparatus at the hall.

"Not only that, but it would enable me to make a thorough inspection of the stores. I consider that this work is one of the most important of the fire department, because the result of regular calls is that the property is kept clean and free from inflammable material and explosives from cellar to garret in the central and business parts of the city." These are only a few of the duties which the waggon would allow, the chief to perform, which he says he now finds impossible to do.

On motion of Ald. Neil and Turner the Fire, Water and Light Committee were given power to act in the matter, and were authorized to purchase a light waggon and harness for single horse.

PIC-NIC TO CROWE'S LANDING WAS A SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

A most successful excursion was held on Monday under the auspices of the Lakefield and Young's Point Courts, Catholic Order of Foresters, to Crowe's Landing, Stony Lake. The steamer Empress and a large barge were necessary to transport the large number of Rev. Father Phelan's parishioners who turned out for the occasion. A very large number of Douro people drove to Lakefield and took in the trip which was in every way most enjoyable. There was abundant music for dancing on the barge, and when the Landing was reached the young people had an opportunity to trip the light fantastic in the pavilion. A programme of sports was pulled off, including at ug-of-war, in which the team representing the Lakefield Court defeated Young's Point. An orchestra consisting of Messrs. Fanning Bros., Jas. McPherson and Miss M. Kearney, provided most enjoyable music. Messrs. F. J. Young and Morris Hinds acted as floor managers very acceptably, while Mr. Frank Welsh was in charge of the booth on the board. Rev. Father Bretherton of Hastings was a guest of Rev. Father Phelan for the occasion. This is the first excursion which Rev. Father Phelan's parishioners have undertaken, although they have held many fine picnics, and he and they are to be congratulated upon the success of the venture.

Following are the results of the sports:

Officers and men unite in saying that the camp is the most enjoyable and successful they have ever taken part in. The 57th Regiment took a trip through the 1000 Islands Monday, returning at 8 o'clock. A number of the men left for home that night.

A military tattoo will be held this evening, the Mayor of Kingston having contributed $100 towards the event.

READ WHAT HE OWES TO

Zam-Buk

Mr. R. C. Blurton, a prominent Salvation Army worker, who occupies the proud position of Deputy Band Master at the Temple, Toronto, bears testimony to the the great healing power of Zam-Buk balm. He says:—

"Pimples and sores broke out all over my face and neck and notwithstanding all I did to try and cure them they spread. In places the skin was inflamed over big patches and caused me great pain and inconvenience. I was advised to try Zam-Buk and for several days I applied it to the sores anointing it often with the healing balm. It soon began to sooth the pain, and in a short time the sores ceased to be so angry and painful. With perseverance Zam-Buk healed the sores completely and made my skin as smooth and clear as possible. I strongly recommend Zam-Buk to all who suffer from unsightly skin troubles, sores, ulcers, etc. It is a wonderful healer!"

Zam-Buk cures eczema, itch, blood poison, festering, chronic and suppurating sores, burns, cuts, barber's rash, fistula and all skin injuries and diseases. It is also a specific for piles. All druggists and stores 50c. a box or 3 for $1.25. Send 1c. stamp to Zam-Buk Co., Toronto for sample box.

Owing to the volume of business we have in our pressing department it has become necessary for us to arrange for the dying and cleaning branches to be handled elsewhere. We have just completed arrangements whereby the British-American Dying and Cleaning Co., the largest concern of the kind in Canada, will do all our work of that nature. There is no class of work in dying and cleaning line that we will not guarantee to get out in a prompt and satisfactory manner.

THRESHERS REPORTED TO BE SCARCE

West Has Not Enough Harvest Hands After All.

ALBERTA IN DIRE STRAITS

Despite Reports That Hundreds of Easterners In Wheat Fields Were Unable to Get Work a Scarcity of Men to Help In Threshing is Felt—Wages Are Already Up to Three Dollars a Day.

Winnipeg, Sept. 9—The cry from the West for men to work in the harvest fields is again becoming a loud one, and the conditions of labor are evidently getting to be serious.

It was thought that a sufficient number of men had come to the country, but this is far from the case, and hundreds are still wanted to do the work. The scarcity is principally from Alberta, where very few harvest hands can be got.

Monday 800 men came from the east and were immediately sent to Edmonton and the surrounding districts. When they left the city they all had positions to go to. It is chiefly men to do the threshing who are wanted.

At the provincial immigration office demands for men are coming in thick and fast, and the department is at a loss to find sufficient men to answer the call. The scarcity is causing an upward move to be made in wages, and the price for a man in Alberta is a good one, as much as $3 a day being given.

To Erect Memorial.

Halifax, Sept. 9.—C. A. Evans, secretary of the Canadian Club here, has sent out a circular which sets forth a proposal to erect a lofty symbolical memorial tower. The appeal is made directly to the sons of Nova Scotia in all parts of the Dominion and to Canadians in general. The estimated cost is $15,000.

The memorial will mark the great historical epoch of which the meeting of the first elected Assembly in Halifax in 1758 is the most notable.

Fireman to Blame.

Winnipeg, Sept. 9.—Half a dozen witnesses were examined in the enquiry into the loss of the Premier. They concurred that the fire started amidships, but could not definitely place the origin. The mate stated the captain did all possible. Another witness testified hearing the missing fireman, Anderson, say, "My God! My God! It's all my fault."

Farm Hands Scarce.

Ottawa, Sept. 9.—The Immigration Department reports that the dearth of farm hands in the Ottawa Valley continues to be very great, and applications for help are being received daily.

Young women also will not remain here for $10 per month when they can get $15 or $20 in western cities.

Tries Hard to Die.

Toronto, Sept. 9.—S. B. Weems, 51 years old, turf reporter for The New York Telegraph, made a frantic attempt at suicide at the Queen City stables, opposite the Woodbine track, early yesterday. He is in a serious condition, but will recover.

Weems had cut his throat with a haying sickle, had ripped his wrists with a saw and beaten his head with a hatchet and then pounded his head against a brick wall.

Weems is celebrated in his work, having covered the leading turf assignments for the greatest sporting papers in the United States.

Rescued by Gallant Captain.

Port Huron, Mich., Sept. 9.—Had it not been for the prompt assistance of Capt. Morton of Detroit, four persons might have been drowned in Black river in the sight of more than 500 people Monday night. Those who were dangerously near being drowned are Miss Alma McKay of St. Thomas, Ont., Nelson McKay and Stella Hicks of Port Huron, and Frank Bailey of Ubly. They were run down and their boat destroyed by a steam launch.

Ontario Railway Board.

Toronto, Sept. 9.—The Ontario Railway Board is hearing a deputation from Fort William and Port Arthur to-day, in reference to the appointment of a fifth commissioner to run the Twin City Railway.

On Thursday a Georgetown deputation will be heard with reference to the town's financial position.

Osler May Go to Edinburgh.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 9.—Information has been received through private sources that Dr. William Osler, for many years resident in Baltimore, but now regius professor of medicine at Oxford University, will probably be elected lord rector of the University of Edinburgh.

THREE GET DECORATIONS

His Majesty Confers Victorian Order on Col. Robertson, Brig.-Gen. Buchan, and Color-Sergt. Grant, Members of Toronto Regiment Visiting Gordon Highlanders at Aldershot Manoeuvres.

London, Sept. 9.—(C.A.P.)—General Smith-Dorrien, Col. Gordon, of the Gordon Highlanders. Lieut.-Col. D. M. Robertson, Brig.-Gen. Larry Buchan and a detachment of noncoms of the 48th Highlanders, Toronto, arrived Monday morning from Aldershot at Waterloo.

It was intended that the presentation be in ordinary dress, and it was only at the last moment the King was informed that the officers and men were coming in uniform; His Majesty hastily changed his morning dress for a uniform.

On being presented the King referred to the presence of Col. Gordon and his being honorary colonel of the 48th, Toronto, remarking that it would greatly tend to bind more closely the ties between the Mother Country and the colonies.

The King expressed his great pleasure to Col. Robertson, that he and his men had had opportunity to witness the manoeuvres. He also mentioned how pleased the Prince of Wales had been by his reception at Quebec, the King adding that he himself was also greatly pleased that the Quebec celebration had been such a great success.

His Majesty then handed to Lieut.-Col. Robertson a morocco case, saying: "I have much pleasure in presenting you with the Victorian Order." Turning to Col. Buchan, he presented in the same words the Victorian Order. To Color-Sergt. Grant the Victorian Order was also presented, General Smith-Dorrien presented the officers to the King.

His Majesty, in speaking to Lieut.-Col. Robertson, remarked that if the men present had comrades in Canada as fine-looking, soldierly fellows as they were, then their path must be a magnificent body of men.

TO STRENGTHEN TIE.

Lord Crewe Says Australia's Reception of Fleet Has Done Good.

London, Sept. 9.—The governor of Victoria, Sir Thomas Gibson-Carmichael, on behalf of the Ministers, has sent a cablegram to the Earl of Crewe, Secretary of State for the Colonies, in London, that events in connection with the enthusiastic reception of the American fleet at Melbourne "will only serve to strengthen, if that is possible, the feeling of loyalty which is so deeply rooted in Victoria."

Alfred Deakin, the Premier of the Commonwealth, has also issued a statement which has been made public here, explaining in a similar way that the reception of the Americans does not imply any failure to recognize the kinship of the Mother Country, or Great Britain's naval power.

Three Men Missing.

Fort Frances, Sept. 9.—Indians living up the lake reported that a gasoline launch was seen to blow up and sink near Jack Fish narrows on Monday afternoon with all hands lost.

Enquiry and search revealed that one of the gasoline fishboats from International Falls is missing with the owner, Mr. Infelt, and two fishermen.

Western University Governors.

Toronto, Sept. 9.—The Government has appointed the following governors of the Western University at London: Justice Richard M. Meredith, John H. Chapman, merchant; C. R. Somerville, manufacturer; John O. Dromgale, barrister.

HIBBING MAY BE WIPED OUT

Citizens of Grand Marais Are In Terror That They Cannot Escape From the Flames That Threaten to Destroy Their Town — Hibbing People Are Fighting the Fire—Bovey and Coleraine Are Safe.

Duluth, Sept. 9.—Forest fires, which have been raging for several days, is now threatening Hibbing, the largest and most prosperous town on the Mesaba range. Every place of business is closed and the men are all out fighting the flames. A telegram from Hibbing says:

"The fire is very near the Great Northern spur on this side of Brooklyn, a suburb of Hibbing, and the wind, is blowing in our direction.

"The city has available hose out and every man we can find is fighting the fire. They have established a pipe line and installed two pumps."

In response to an appeal the Duluth fire department has gone to the scene, while the Mesaba Railroad has trains in readiness at Hibbing to take the people away.

Smoke from the forest fires which surrounded the town make Hibbing so dark that the electric lights have been turned on there in the day to enable the citizens to see their way about. The smoke is stifling and the heat very oppressive. Unless the wind changes Coleraine and Bovey will be safe. In these towns the schools and business houses are closed and everyone is prepared to flee.

Grand Marais, Minn., on the north shore, is on the verge of the fire. The women are weeping with fright and the worst part of the situation is that there is no avenue of escape open. A. J. Smith, county attorney of Hennepin County, who has been camping beyond the Grand Marais, was burned out at his camp, and with his party escaped to Grand Marais in a launch. Settlers are walking into Grand Marais, smoke begrimmed, burned and exhausted, with packs of their most valuable belongings on their backs and their families dragging behind them.

When Mr. Smith left the fate of Grand Marais was in doubt. The citizens were loath to leave their homes and belongings without making a fight for them, so many of them remained behind.

Mr. Smith says that an east wind would bring on the destruction of Grand Marais in an hour and no power can save the town. If a fire comes before a boat gets there the fate of the population will be in doubt.

TO OPEN ROAD.

G.T.P. Will Inaugurate Service on Section of Line Sept. 14.

Winnipeg, Sept. 9.—In order to serve the people living along the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific west of Winnipeg, who have been rushing in ever since the road was started, a regular train service will be inaugurated on Sept. 14.

This service will run from Winnipeg to Earl, Sask., three times a week, and on westward to Wainwright, twice a week. This establishes a service at once over 666 miles of the new road, and the entire service will be for a time subject to the work of the construction department, in whose hands the road still rests.

Fireman Saved Ten Lives.

Denver, Col., Sept. 9.—Five men lost their lives and a score of persons were injured, several of them seriously, in a fire that gutted the Belmont Hotel, a three-storey building, yesterday morning.

Patrick Treadwell, a fireman, of Cripple Creek, Col., who was sleeping in the Belmont, when the fire started, is credited with having saved at least ten lives by inducing entrapped guests to jump from the upper storey windows across a five-foot alley to the roof of an adjoining building and catching them in his arms.

Child Burned to Death.

St. Thomas, Sept. 9.—Kenneth Dyker, three and a half years old, was burned to death yesterday morning, and the house was damaged to the extent of $1,000.

His mother left him to take charge of a year-old baby, while she went to a neighbor's. The child got matches and set the woodshed on fire.

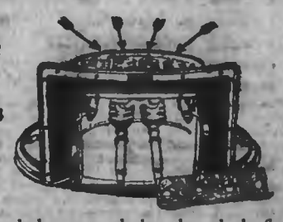
You shake down the ashes —not the coal—in the

"Hecla" Furnace

There are four grate bars in the "Hecla"



Each one can be shaken separately.

You don't have to shake the whole fire to get out the ashes around the edges of the firepot.

You don't shake down a lot of good coal with the ashes.

You don't have to use a poker at all.

The "Hecla" Triangular Bar Grate allows you to shake just the part of the fire where the ashes are, without disturbing the rest of the coals.

Naturally, one grate is easier to shake, than four all geared together. That is why people find the HECLA "no trouble to look after."

Fused Joints—a patented "Hecla" feature—keep the house free of gas, smoke and dust.

One of the leader's, after asserting that it had been decided to make a series of midnight marches into the wealthy sections of the city, made the extraordinary threat that, unless the municipal council did something practical for the unemployed within a month, he would reveal all the secrets of the Masonic organization.

THE EXAMINER'S SPORTING PAGE

THE HARRIER'S MEET NEXT WEEK WILL BE A GREAT SUCCESS

The Y. M. C. A. Harriers meet next week promises to be the most successful sporting event ever held in Peterborough, not excepting the phenomenally successful meet held under the same auspices last year. With Bobby Kerr, British, Canadian and world's 200 metre champion, and British and Canadian 100 yards titleholder, starting in the sprints with Sebert, Jack Tait, Archibald (the British and Canadian pole vaulting champion, Tom Longboat and other well known members of the Canadian Olympic team, all entered in the different events, it will be seen that the contests will be fought out with very classy fields and the public should get its money's worth of excitement. There are a large number of promising athletes in Peterborough, who will take part in the different events, and the Harriers themselves will be well represented. It will be a great night's sport and no doubt the Brock street rink will be crowded to the doors.

LINDSAY PRESS COMMENTS ON THE LABOUR DAY CONTESTS

The Indians were very popular and Longboat, Simpson and Smoke were amply applauded when they appeared before the grand stand. It was thought that the race would be between Simpson and Tom, but Sellen and Black, of Toronto, intervened between these two Marathon runners, making Simpson finish fourth. Smoke, though he did not finish within the jewelry, made an excellent showing and showed himself to have all kinds of pluck. This youthful redskin was unheard of until Dan Whetung got him training for the Examiner road race, and that paper began to help him along. When he heard of the Lindsay run he decided to make his first appearance here, and arrived in town yesterday penniless. Those who heard of this all came to Smoke's assistance, and he had no trouble in finding a willing host. Those who saw him race are looking forward to see him finish well up on Thanksgiving Day.

The Peterborough boys all made a good showing, and as the T. A. S. team is only a young organization there is, judging from their appearance yesterday, a great future before them.—Free Press.

The race put up by the Irishmen and Simpson and Smoke was a beautiful one. The sympathies of the immense throng seemed to be divided between Longboat, Simpson and Smoke, but they were very liberal in their applause towards the other contestants. The excitement among the spectators was at fever heat, and a mighty shout went up from thousands of throats as the runners would pass the stand.—Post.

Fred Simpson finished fourth and received an ovation, "Come on Fred," the Peterborough crowd pleaded, when they saw the redman being beaten by his brother Indian.

"He'd have a chance if the race was a hundred miles," commented Tom Flanagan.

Simpson ran a steady, plodding race and finished strong. He has great stamina and powers of endurance.

In the fifth place came little Smoke trotting sturdily along and encouraged by the plaudits of the crowd. Smoke is a comer and may some day be among the big ones in the running game.

The other runners finished in the following order: 6, Thorpe; 7, Robinson; 8, Jones; 9, H. Neil; 10, Maddox; 11, Brace.

Thorpe ran under the colours of the Peterborough Y.M.C.A. and showed his pluck throughout the race. The pace was fast, and only the cream came out on top. Robinson was also from the Porridge City, and though he came seventh, he deserves credit.—Watchman-Warder.

Mr. W H Simpson, the well-known local horseman and all round sport, has taken Smoke, the Indian runner, under his care and will endeavour to develop him into a second Longboat. Smoke made a very favourable impression here in the race yesterday, standing fifth. He is only a youngster and has had little or no training. Under such able management something big should be made out of this latest addition to the ranks of the dusky runners. If Smoke can acquire the necessary speed he will be one of the greatest favourites in the game. In yesterday's race he never failed to get the glad hand from a host of admirers.—Watchman-Warder.

CAIRNS BROKE ALLEY RECORD

Put on a Score of 264 at P.B.C. Alley Last Night.

A new record has been set at the Peterborough Bowling Club's Alleys that will take a lot of beating. Last night George Cairns succeeded in rolling up the remarkable total of 264, beating the former alley record of 256, held by Tommy Boyd. The latter put on the score soon after the opening of the alleys and it has held ever since. The only close call it had was Hemstead's score of 254. Cairns has, however, boosted the mark considerably and is being warmly congratulated on his fine bowling. He came near breaking the record for the best total for three consecutive games by putting on 623.

WAS A RESIDENT OF PETERBOROUGH

Rev. David Tully, 90 Years of Age, Once Lived in This City.

The following refers to a gentleman who is well known in Peterborough, and who has preached in the St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. Rev. Mr. Tully is a brother of the late Messrs. John George and William Tully, all of whom were connected with St. Paul's Church, and at one time was a resident of Peterborough. The clipping is from the Toronto Mail and Empire:

The Rev. David Tully, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Media, U. S. A., was 90 years of age last week, and is still active. He received many congratulatory letters and telegrams. At a reception in the evening there were present James Brown, 90 years of age; Mrs. James Brown, 92; Miss Elizabeth Russell, 94; Samuel P. Rush, 82; Mrs. John Miller, 80; and Samuel Dutton, 92. Quite a lively party of youngsters.

CASE IS FINISHED AT LAST

Raceway in East City Has Been Filled up and the Trouble is Over.

The case against the Peterborough Hydraulic Power Company, which has been before Magistrate Dumble for the past month, was finally disposed of at the police court this morning, when the company was ordered to pay the costs of the witnesses.

When the case was called this morning P. C. Adams testified that he had visited the premises and had found that the nuisance had been abated. The raceway had been filled in.

Mr. E. A. Peck, on behalf of the company, stated that earth from the adjoining property had been secured to fill in with and there would be no more danger from stagnant water.

The magistrate said that he would not impose any court charges, but ruled that the defendants should pay the witness' costs, which amounted to $3.75.

PRICE OF MILK TO BE RAISED SOON BY LOCAL MILK VENDORS

In conversation with one of the local milk vendors, an Examiner representative learned this morning that the price of milk would soon be advanced in Peterborough. It is now selling at six cents per quart but the new price will be seven cents.

The milkman stated that the reason for the proposed advance was the difficulty in obtaining the milk, and, hence the rise in the expenditure to the members of his occupation. Pastures have been and are suffering from a want of moisture, so that the scarcity of the milk supply has been marked.

"Why," remarked the milk vendor, "nine cows in June last gave as much milk as eighteen do now," which indicates that the supply has dropped off one-half.

Around the city, individual cows that have been supplying the demands of many of the householders, have gone dry, and thus there has recently been an increased demand on the regular milk vendors.

WEDDING BELLS

MATCHETT—SMART

A pretty wedding was yesterday afternoon celebrated in Toronto at the home of Mr. Joseph T Smart, 94 Lindsay avenue, when his youngest daughter, Miss Louie, was united in marriage to Mr. Oscar S Matchett, 384 Mark street Peterborough. The officiating clergyman was Rev. J McIntosh, pastor of Olivet Baptist church, Toronto, and the marriage was solemnized in the presence of many of the friends of the bride and groom. The bride entered the room, where the ceremony was performed, on the arm of her father, by whom she was given away. She wore a pretty costume of ivory fantoy with touches of applique and point d'esprit. She was attended by her sister, Miss May E Smart, who wore a dress of point d'sprit over silk. Mr. Bertrand McKee of Fort William and formerly of Peterborough, performed the duties of groomsman. The wedding march was played by Miss M. Hodgson, of Port Huron, Mich. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome pearl brooch, to the bridesmaid a gold bracelet and to the groomsman a tie pin. The marriage ceremony concluded, the guests sat down to a sumptuous repast.

Mr. and Mrs. Matchett have gone to Niagara Falls and Buffalo on a honeymoon trip and they will also spend a few days in Toronto before coming to Peterborough where they will reside at 384 Mark street, East City. The bride's going away dress was of navy blue lady's cloth with hat to match.

HENDERSON—ANDERSON

The marriage was solemnized at St. Paul's Church this morning of Miss Winnifred Anderson, only daughter of Mrs. Thomas Anderson, 149 London street, to Mr. Ebert William Henderson, son of Mr. O. E. Henderson of Almonte, and lecturer in the electrical engineering department of the School of Mining, Queen's College Kingston. The ceremony was performed at 9.45 o'clock by Rev. Robert A. Pogue, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties, the wedding being of a quiet nature on account of recent bereavement in the family of the bride.

The charming bride was costumed in a Mikado Princess dress of white silk crepe de chine, trimmed with fillet net, baby Irish lace and satin. She wore a white hat and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid was Miss Alberta Simpson, of London, Ont., a cousin of the bride. She wore a pretty dress of white fillet net over white tafetta silk, with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was attended by Mr. E. M. Montgomery, of Lanark, Ont. The bride was given away by her cousin, Mr. H. P. Wanless, of Owen Sound.

After the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served at the home of the bride's mother and Mr. and Mrs. Henderson left on the 11.45 Grand Trunk train for Toronto and from there will proceed to Kingston via Rochester. The bride's going away suit was of black and white lady's cloth with silk blouse to match, and black hat.

The bride received many beautiful presents—an evidence of her popularity among a host of friends in the city. The groom's present to the bridesmaid was a gold ring set with three pearls and to the groomsman a gold stick pin. Mr. and Mrs. Henderson are both extremely popular and will have the best wishes of a legion of friends.

Among the out of town guests present at the wedding were Mr. Stewart Simpson, of Montreal; Misses Alberta and Marcilla Simpson, London, Ont.; Mr. H. P. Wanless, of Owen Sound; Miss Pearl Main, of Toronto and Mr. Stewart Anderson, of Toronto, brother of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Henderson will reside in Kingston.

MACDONALD—DUGAN

A quiet wedding was celebrated at All Saints' Church to-day, when Miss Eleanor Stewart Dugan, daughter of Mrs. R. H. Smith, 472 Reid street, was united in marriage to Mr. George Alexander Macdonald, son of Mr. Wm. Macdonald, Woodstock. The ceremony was performed at 11 a.m. by Rev. Wm. Major in the presence of the relatives and immediate friends of the young couple.

The bride, who looked charming in a travelling suit of brown with hat to match, was given away by her mother. She was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret Dugan, who wore a pretty suit of blue and hat to match. Mrs. Peter Kerr, aunt of the groom, played the wedding march as the bridal party entered the church. The groom was assisted by Mr. Charles Anderson, East City.

Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald left on the 11.45 G.T.R. train for Port Hope, taking one of the lake steamers for Niagara, visiting Buffalo, Sarnia and western points. On their return they will reside at 565 Homewood avenue. Many beautiful presents were received from their friends, who join in wishing them a bright and happy married life.

STOLE FROM MR. C. B. ROUTLEY

Montreal Man Gets Into Trouble by Robbing His Employer.

Examiner Special

Montreal, Sept. 9.—Detectives McCall and Savard arrested Ernest Normandin yesterday afternoon while he was at his work in the offices of C. B. Routley & Co., dealers in wall paper, 530 West St. Catherine street. Normandin is charged with having stolen money and goods from his employers.

A few days ago he is alleged to have made a sale amounting to $13, failing to remit this amount to his employers. After he was taken into custody, a mink muff belonging to Mrs. Routley, which was kept in the store, and 30 to 40 rolls of wall paper were found in his room at 979 East De Montigny street. It is believed that over $88 worth of goods were thus taken away by the accused, and some has been sold by him to painters and paperhangers with whom he was acquainted. He was arraigned before Magistrate Leet this morning and pleaded guilty. He was remanded until next Monday for sentence.

GREAT MEN BORN IN 1809

1909 Will be Centennial of Singularly Fruitful Year in World's History.

The year 1909 will witness the hundredth anniversary of the birth of a group of some of the earth's greatest men. The year 1809 must have been what the Latin poets called an "annus mirabilis"—a wonderful year. They were:—

Edgar Allan Poe—Boston, Mass., Jan. 19.
Felix Mendelssohn-Bartholdy—Hamburg, Germany, Feb. 3.
Charles Robert Darwin — Shrewsbury, England, Feb. 12.
Francois Frederic Chopin — Near Warsaw, Poland, March 1.

COMPANY TO EMPLOY TWO HUNDRED HANDS ASKS THE CITY COUNCIL FOR AID IN SHAPE OF $40,000 LOAN

Will Carry on Business Similar to That of the Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Company—Factory in the West End.

COMMITTEE FAVOURABLE

If the City Council deals favourably with a proposition that is being submitted to them, Peterborough will in a short time have an industry that will give employment to 200 hands. A company is being promoted by Messrs. J. C. Smith, G. Walter Green, A. McFarlane and H. B. Collier, which will have a paid-up capital of $100,000 and which proposes to carry on a business similar to that until recently conducted by the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Co. The following letter was the means of calling together a meeting of the Manufacturers' Committee of the City Council last night:

R. Neill, Esq.,
Chairman Manufacturers' Committee.

Dear Sir,—

I have the pleasure to inform you that Messrs. G. Walter Green, A. McFarlane, H. B. Collier and myself intend to organize a company with a paid-up capital of $100,000 to erect new buildings, install new machinery and carry on a business in Peterborough similar to that formerly conducted by the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company, Limited, which will likely employ about two hundred men.

We think of asking the city to grant the company a loan of $50,000 to be used as working capital, and in addition to the covenant of the company, to be collaterally secured by a first mortgage on the fixed assets of the company.

Interest to be paid annually on the current amount of the loan at the rate of three per cent. per annum, and the principal to be repaid in ten equal annual instalments, the first of said instalments to be paid at the end of the fifth year. The company also to be granted a very low fixed assessment.

With your kind approval, we will be pleased to meet the members of your committee and answer any questions and give any further information relating to this proposition, which in the meantime we commend to your most favourable consideration.

Yours truly,
J. C. SMITH.

All four gentlemen interested in the new company were present at the meeting and the matter was discussed for some time. The representatives of the company stated that it was the intention of the company to erect factory buildings on the Roger property to the rear of Mr. G. M. Roger's residence on Park street. In talking the matter over to the committee, the company reduced the amount of the loan which they asked to $40,000. The committee were very favourably impressed with the proposition and agreed to recommend it to Council, although they did not pass a formal resolution to that effect. There will in all probability be a meeting of the Council on Monday night next at which the question will be taken up again. It is quite likely that the offer will be looked upon with favour by the aldermen.

Rev. H. R. Trompour The Choice Of All Saint's Congregation To Succeed Rev. William Major

Rev. H. R. Trumpour, curate of the Anglican Church, of St. John's, N. B., was the choice of the congregation of All Saints' Church last night as successor to Rev. Wm. Major, who leaves at the end of September to assume the position of assistant rector of St. George's Church Montreal. The meeting was one of the largest in the history of All Saints, and was presided over by Mr. Jas. Edgar, People's Warden.

Among the names considered were Rev. Mr. Patterson, of Arthur, Ont.; Rev. R. B. Grobb, of Port Hope; Rev. R. Perdoe, of Dunnville, Ont.; Rev. Benj. Oliel, Millbrook; Ven. Archdeacon Batty,; Rev. J. A. Teeter, Omemee, and others. Rev. Mr. Trumpour is not only curate of the Anglican Church at St. John's, but is also a teacher in a school for boys.

After the names were duly considered last night, that of Rev. Mr. Trumpour was unanimous agreed upon for submission to the Bishop of Toronto for the approval, which it is expected will be given.

Rev. Mr. Major leaves Peterborough at the end of September, after a ministry extending over four years. He will be greatly missed, not only by his own congregation and in church circles generally, but by the community at large.

HON. SENATOR COX IMPROVES THE HAZEL BRAE BUILDINGS

Hon. Senator Cox's semi-jocular statement at the Liberal convention, Saturday, that, while he was not an elector here, he still took a deep interest in the welfare of the county and city, and "left a good share of any little money he might make in Peterborough," is further justified in his latest benefaction. Senator Cox at his own cost is providing for the enlargement and improvement of the buildings of the Hazel Brae branch of the Barnardo Homes, which was originally donated by himself.

Hon. Mr. Cox is providing the means of making an addition of three stories to the present Hazel Brae building. The new annex will be 28x48 feet in area and will consist of three stories. The basement floor will contain the lavatories, laundry and furnace rooms. The first of the two other floors will be used for the dining rooms and associated apartments, and the remaining floor will be devoted to the sleeping rooms.

New verandahs will also be constructed, the heating system—heretofore by stoves, will be changed to hot water, and in fact, the entire building will be thoroughly renovated, modernized and improved, at an estimated cost of from $12,000 to $16,000, and in keeping with the requirements of the beneficient work there carried on.

Liberal Organization Effected At Last Night's Meeting

Last night the Liberal Committee Rooms were opened for the coming campaign, in the usual place, the Richard Hall & Son's store on Simcoe street. There was a large attendance from each of the city wards. Thorough organization was effected, and complete committees formed for active and energetic work throughout the city. Mr. Adam Hall was made chairman of the general committee, and Mr. A. McFarlane vice-chairman. Harmony and hopefulness were the dominant notes of the meeting.

REGIMENT ARRIVED HOME THIS MORNING FROM CAMP BARRIEFIELD

The 57th Regiment returned from Barriefield Camp this morning, arriving in the city about three o'clock. They left Kingston last night about 11.30 o'clock and made a fast run to Peterborough. While at Barriefield they took part in the regular drill at the camp. The Composite Regiment was exeused from inspection by Gen. Lake, as they were striking tents, as they were breaking up camp. As the 57th had already been twice inspected this year they were not called upon for the detail of inspection. The military tatoo on Wednesday night was a great success. The local band combined with eight or nine others with splendid effect.

Everybody seems to have been the camp, the success of which is greatly due to the efforts of those who had the arrangements under their supervision.

ATMOSPHERE DENSE WITH SMOKE

SMOKE FROM BUSH FIRES

The smoke-laden condition of the atmosphere last night and to-day was one of the main topics generally discussed on the streets during the last twenty-four hours. Last night the moon crossed the sky like an ominous ball of glowing fire shrouded by a rather dense pall of smoke. This morning the sun rose in the east through a veil of the same murky red.

The cause of the present conditions is the large bush fires that are raging throughout the country. Speaking to Rev. Dr. Marah to-day, he said that with the exception of strong magnetic currents the atmosphere is normal. The sun shows large spots centrally located. There are also hydrogen and calcium fires on the solar periphery.

The upper air currents are in such a condition that the smoke cannot ascend. The upper strata is heavier than the lower, hence the smoke lies close to the earth.

Liberal Organization Effected At Last Night's Meeting

Last night the Liberal Committee Rooms were opened for the coming campaign, in the usual place, the Richard Hall & Son's store on Simcoe street. There was a large attendance from each of the city wards. Thorough organization was effected, and complete committees formed for active and energetic work throughout the city. Mr. Adam Hall was made chairman of the general committee, and Mr. A. McFarlane, vice-chairman. Harmony and hopefulness were the dominant notes of the meeting.

REGIMENT ARRIVED HOME THIS MORNING FROM CAMP BARRIEFIELD

The 57th Regiment returned from Barriefield Camp this morning, arriving in the city about three o'clock. They left Kingston last night about 11.30 o'clock and made a fast run to Peterborough. While at Barriefield they took part in the regular drill of the camp. The Composite Regiment was excused from inspection by Gen. Lake, as they were striking tents, as they were breaking up camp. As the 57th had already been twice inspected this year they were not called upon for the detail of inspection. The military tatoo on Wednesday night was a great success. The local band combined with eight or nine others with splendid effect.

Everybody seems to have been the camp, the success of which is greatly due to the efforts of those who had the arrangements under their supervision.

ATMOSPHERE DENSE WITH SMOKE

SMOKE FROM BUSH FIRES

The smoke-laden condition of the atmosphere last night and to-day was one of the main topics generally discussed on the streets during the last twenty-four hours. Last night the moon crossed the sky like an ominous ball of glowing fire shrouded by a rather dense pall of smoke. This morning the sun rose in the east through a veil of the same murky red.

The cause of the present conditions is the large bush fires that are raging throughout the country. Speaking to Rev. Dr. Marsh to-day, he said that with the exception of strong magnetic currents the atmosphere is normal. The sun shows large spots centrally located. There are also hydrogen and calcium fires on the solar periphery.

The upper air currents are in such a condition that the smoke cannot ascend. The upper strata is heavier than the lower, hence the smoke lies close to the earth.

BIG LITTLENESS.

The world does not sympathize with meanness in money matters, such as the great Whitney Government is slightly addicted to. It had some Normal Schools to place and in a very peddling spirit required as a condition of location that the favoured city should provide a site, a little thing for a big, rich government to do. Now it is concerned in building a power transmission line and its commission is using the same huckstering methods in getting the towers to carry the copper placed. Instead of purchasing in a purely business way the right of way, as was done by a private corporation, the Toronto and Niagara Power Company, it is haggling for "easements," or permissions to place poles or towers without acquiring any right or title in their site. The offers made range from $10 to $25 for this permission, while the private company mentioned paid individual farmers as high as $400 for right of way through their farms. Farmers in Lincoln County are indignant over the peanut financing being done by the Ontario Government through its Hydro-Electric Commission.

A WISE MOVEMENT.

It is not extravagant to pronounce national transportation and its allied interests as the prime duty of the Government of Canada. Upon the extent and efficiency of transportation facilities depend the efficiency and value of the markets for farm products and industrial products. In the heart of the untapped Northwest, cereals and vegetables can be produced in abundance and of good quality, but they have no market value because there are no means of transportation. Thus is justified liberal expenditure to provide transportation facilities,—to improve their capacity, promote rapidity and bring about as short as possible a period of transit under as favourable conditions as possible, in order to insure products of a perishable character reaching the market in good condition, and, indeed, all products, so that they may be on sale on a favourable market. The present Government of the Dominion has taken a pronounced and energetic attitude towards the transportation question and has shown a proper solicitude for providing convenient access to markets and for the care of products of the farm, orchard, and dairy on the way. The Government has provided for experimental shipment of early Ontario apples for the British markets. The Government's share in this enterprise consisted in guaranteeing to the steamship companies that a certain amount of space would be taken. Heretofore the difficulty in the way of the shipment of early fruit has been, not that there was no fruit to ship, but that the steamship companies would not open their cold storage holds for fruit without the assurance that a hold would be filled. The Government guarantee overcame this difficulty, and the fruit division of the Department of Agriculture was able to give the assurance to shippers that holds would be available on the "Ontarian," sailing August 22; the "Sicilian," August 29, and the "Hurona" sailing September 5. The space reserved on the "Ontarian" was all taken up, the shippers sending their fruit under usual conditions, paying freight, etc., themselves. It is not likely that the Government will be called upon to make good its guarantee, or if it does, it will only be for a small amount.

The importance of this action, apart from its demonstration of the Government's anxiety to promote the interests of the farming and fruit-growing fraternity, consists in its determination of the question whether or not early apples can be practically and profitably added to the export products of the country—whether or not a virtually waste variety of fruit is to be made a source of profitable shipment. From experience, we know that, at present, thousands of barrels of early apples go to waste. The local market cannot absorb one-tenth of the crop, which consequently goes to loss. If this early trade can be established, and it will not be the Government's fault that it is not done, the apple-shipping season will be extended from three to six weeks, and farmers and fruit-growers will realize good profits from a crop which now practically goes to waste. Any person who opposes extension and improvement of transportation facilities either does not understand the merits of the matter or is so blinded with partisanship as to fail to see any good in the energetic policy of the Government in this regard. It seems that, as we shall always have with us the poor in worldly gear, so we shall have with us the poor in spirit—the Little Canadians.

THE DISAPPEARING TIMBER.

(Montreal Herald.)

A report as to the United States lumber output, recently issued at Washington, shows that the cut last year was the largest in history, exceeding that of 1906 by over seven per cent. The production of 38,850 mills was over forty billion feet of lumber, which is believed to include 95 per cent of the actual cut.

In two States, Michigan and Wisconsin, there was a marked reduction of the output of mills, the reason being that the forests of those states have practically disappeared. For many years Michigan led all the States in lumber production, but finally gave way to Wisconsin, and in 1907 dropped to seventh place, while Wisconsin fell to fifth place.

It was not until the latter part of the 90's that the South came into prominence as the most important source of lumber supply, and since southern pine is abundant in all the Atlantic coast states, the region as a whole will doubtless maintain its leading position for some years to come, although at the present rate the bulk of the timber will be gone in another decade. If to the output of sawmills is added the destruction of forests by fire, it will be seen that there is ground for the fear in the United States that a timber famine is not very far off.

It is a noteworthy fact that though timber prices have been steadily advancing during the last half century the per capita consumption of lumber has also been going up. In 1850 the average consumption to each person in the country was 250 feet; in 1900 460 feet, and in 1907, 480 feet.

A century ago the settler in the United States forests regarded timber as an incubus on the land, and trees which to-day would be worth fortunes were cut and burned to make clearings for the plough. The Canadian need not be very old to remember the time when splendid maple was hauled to the city markets and sold for firewood at $2 or $3 a cord. Such wood can hardly be obtained now at any price, and many a farmer who once left huge trunks to rot where they fell to-day finds it economy to haul coal from the city for his own use. What maple there is used is preserved for building and manufacturing purposes, while the dwindling of our own supply of white pine is causing a concern which is happily being reflected in forestry legislation.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Ottawa Free Press says: "The House of Commons will sadly miss 'Bob' Hall."

There was the swing of victory in Sir Wilfrid's Sorel speech, the opening address of the campaign.

Our good Yankee neighbours are improving. In their democratic simplicity they admire Rockefeller more for his alleged aristocratic lineage than for his money making astuteness.

A British bluebook reveals rather paradoxical conditions according to widely accepted standards. In London there has in the past ten years been a notable increase of pauperism and lunacy. While in the same period there has been a decrease in consumption of intoxicants and consequently of drunkenness. These are given as official facts and they upset the widely held theory that drink produces pauperism, without possibly, disturbing the actual relation.

The Mail and Empire slogan is "honest men, better times." Very aptly the organ punctuates its battle cry. It places an astonishment mark after "honest men"! The party of the organ had eighteen years opportunity on a stretch to find honest men. Some of its "honest" men got into jail for political crookedness and its regime ended in a "nest of traitors" fighting over the spoils. Its party had eighteen years on a stretch at bringing better times. The times under its rule became worse, the longer they ruled—incompetency, deficits and general disaster marked the close of eighteen years search after "better times." Go to. The same electors of Canada wont apply to the Opposition for "honest men," or "better times."

Every patriotic citizen should hail any indication of the lifting of the little cloud of commercial depression with pleasure. The following from the Springfield Republican is encouraging:—The gold output of the past month in the Transvaal district of South Africa is placed at 600,000 ozs., or about $12,600,000. This is a new high record, and represents a yearly rate of some $150,000,000. As there are no indications of any very serious shrinkage in gold production elsewhere in the world, it is quite possible that the total output for 1908 will surpass all previous records. Considering the vital relationship existing between changes in the money volume and the course of commodity prices, this must have an important bearing upon the immediate future of industry among the leading commercial nations. It would make for business revival.

PYTHIANS HONOUR A DEPARTING MEMBER

On Tuesday evening a number of the Knights of Pythias assembled in their hall to bid farewell to Mr. E. M. Best, who leaves Peterborough shortly. Many of the members expressed their regrets that such an enthusiastic and active worker should be leaving the city, and testified to their appreciation of his assistance and company while a member of the order. A supper was afterwards held in his honour at the Dominion Chinese Cafe, [illegible]

SAILORS' MISSIONARY IN THE CITY

Literature for Steamers Plying on Peterborough County Waters.

Mr. Jas. S Potter has been spending a few days in the city in the interests of the Sailors' Work. Mr. Potter preached last Sunday in two of the city pulpits and addressed the Sunday schools of two other churches. The Upper Canada Tract Society under whose auspices Mr. Potter labours, has twenty-one workers in the field, five of whom have charge of the Sailors' Mission Work. There are some 250,000 men in lumber and mining camps and on the waters, and of that number 25,000 are sailors. The work is done by personal heart-to-heart talks on board ship—by frequent services on wharves or decks of vessels and by the placing of library boxes and literature bags.

While here Mr. Potter made definite inquiries regarding the steamers on the Otonabee and Stony Lake and at an early date literature will be placed within the reach of every sailor.

Mr. Potter leaves for Ottawa tomorrow, where he will present his work in the various churches.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—I heard the evidence at the inquest last night and it appears from it that the sole danger from gasoline, consists in the fumes or vapor of this extremely volatile substance. Then ventilation will lessen or eliminate the danger. Would not an exhaust fan expel or extract the vapours completely, or sufficiently to remove danger? A little expenditure of this kind, should not be allowed to stand in the way of preventing the shocking fatal events that have followed in sad succession within the past few weeks.

Yours truly,
"SAFETY."

THE PLANS ARE NOW APPROVED OF

Niagara Power Union Delegates Gather in Toronto.

MONEY IS VOTED FOR WORK

A Thousand Dollars Will Be Sent Into Various Municipalities to Carry on Operations of Organization—W. K. McNaught, P. W. Ellis, Mayor Stewart of Hamilton and Others Speak at Meeting.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—A strong resolution of support of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission plans, moved by Mayor Stevely of London, and seconded by August Lang, was carried unanimously by the members of the Niagara Power Union, at the meeting held in the City Hall yesterday afternoon.

Delegates were present from Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford, London, Stratford, Woodstock, Berlin, New Hamburg, Waterloo, Ingersoll, Galt, Guelph and St. Mary's.

Besides these municipalities already in the union, there were representatives present from Oshawa, Whitby, Cobourg, Norwich, Acton, Weston, Georgetown and Dundas, places which expect to join the union. In the eastern towns' organization work will be taken up at an early date.

Ald. J. T. Fryer, Galt, presided, and besides Hon. Adam Beck and other members and officials of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission.

F. H. McGuigan, the contractor for the new transmission line, was prominent among the visitors.

Power at Cost.

W. K. McNaught addressed the union on the salient points of the scheme.

"It comes down to this," he remarked, "if your commissioners are capable and honest men, you will get your power at cost, and no corporation can or will give it to you at that."

P. W. Ellis went into some detail with regard to the advantages to the manufacturer. Experience would prove that the cost of power would be lower than the estimates, and every h.p. sold would further reduce the cost.

Dr. Mearns, Woodstock, regarded the meeting as the best they had had. He denounced the blocking tactics of the power companies, and condoled with the public and manufacturers of Hamilton on the conduct of their city council.

Mayor Stewart of Hamilton had no doubt in his mind that the best interests of the province were served by pushing the power scheme. He recounted the Hamilton situation, and declared that the bylaw would be carried by 75 or 80 per cent., if voted on at present.

It was moved by Ald. Dr. Mearns, seconded by Controller Spence, and carried, "that the call for $1,000, funds to carry on the work of the union, made at a previous meeting of the executive, be now sent out to the various municipalities, in order to provide funds for the necessary work of the union. The assessment to be pro rata, according to population of the cities and towns, members of the union."

The meeting then adjourned.

Sleuths Charge Perjury.

Hamilton, Sept. 10.—Provincial Detectives Miller and Greer yesterday went to Burlington, where they arrested Alfred Ireland on the charge of perjury. Ireland was to have been the star witness for the crown in a recent liquor stealing case in Burlington. He told Detectives Miller and Greer a very convincing story, which they considered sufficient to convict three other men who were under arrest, but when the case came to trial, Ireland went back on his original story. He was taken to Milton jail.

Chinamen's Feud.

Hamilton, Sept. 10.—Thomas Lee Sing, a local restaurant keeper, is contemplating an action against Lee Hing, a laundryman, for damages for alleged wrongful arrest and imprisonment. Lee Sing was arrested on Lee Hing's premises recently and charged with theft, but was acquitted. It is said there is bad blood between the two Chinamen because they both loved the one girl and Lee Sing married her.

Looseness of The Bowels.

It is very seldom during the summer months that most people are not troubled with "looseness of the bowels."

Sometimes it only goes that far, but generally it develops into Diarrhoea, Dysentery or Summer Complaint and has a tendency to weaken the whole system.

When the bowels get loosened up in this way and you wish to check the unnatural discharge without bringing on constipation, there is only one remedy to use, and that one is DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY. This remedy is not an experiment as it has been used in thousands of families during the past sixty-three years.

When you ask for DR. FOWLER'S be sure you get it, as many unprincipalled druggists will try to palm off a cheap substitute on you.

Miss M. Hopkins, Roseview, Sask., writes: "I have used DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY and found it is all it is recommended to be for Diarrhoea and Summer Complaint. We would not be without a bottle of it in the house."

GOES THROUGH BRIDGE.

Atlantic Express Wrecked on Burning Trestle Near White River.

North Bay, Sept. 10.—Engineer Nice of Schreiber was killed and his fireman suffered a broken leg when the first section of the Atlantic express was wrecked at 6 a.m. six miles west of White River. The passengers were all Chinamen passing through from coast to coast, and they escaped injury.

The train ran into a ravine, the bridge collapsing from fire. The engine turned over on its side and the mail and baggage cars were burned.

How the passengers escaped injury seems miraculous.

The bridge, which is 600 feet long, is still burning fiercely, and no estimate can be made of the duration of the tie-up until the flames subside.

The origin of the fire gives rise to suspicion, as no bush fires were raging anywhere in the vicinity.

Toronto trains will take the Soo-Minneapolis route until the bridge is repaired, as will the Imperial Limited and Pacific Express. Two or three days will be required to replace the bridge.

TITLES ARE INSECURE.

Luc Montreuil's Will Regarding Walkerville Property Misconstrued.

Walkerville, Sept. 10.—A hitherto unnoticed clause in the will of Luc Montreuil, who, fifty years ago, was the owner of farm property now comprising a considerable part of this town, it is said, seriously affects the title of the present holders of the different plots of land sold from the original holdings of the Montreuil family.

The property extends along the river front for half a mile, and is covered with residences and some of the largest factories in the town and is estimated to be worth upwards of one million dollars.

THE PERFECT WOMAN IS NOT A FAT ONE

Artists say that the ideal proportion of weight in a woman is 26 pounds for every foot of her height. This would make a woman of 5 feet 4 inches weigh 136 pounds 8 ounces.

If you weigh more than this in proportion you are on the danger line and are likely to get too fat in a few years. Check it by taking a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime of this receipt: 1-2 ounce Marmola, 3-4 ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic and 4 3-4 ounces Syrup Simplex. Get the Marmola sealed and mix it with the other ingredients at home. This mixture is harmless, will not cause wrinkles, and has been known to take off seven pounds of fat a week without any help from exercise or dieting. It is inexpensive.

Arrest Causes Wind-Up.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—Levy, Weston & McLean Machinery Co., 102 Front street west, have assigned to E. R. C. Clarkson for the benefit of creditors. The assets are estimated to be about $40,000. The liabilities are not yet ascertained.

The assignment follows the arrest of A. E. McLean on the charge of forging a check for $1,800 on the Imperial Bank, which yesterday at Osgoode Hall filed a petition for the winding up of the company. The company is said to be indebted to the bank to the extent of a three months' promissory note for $400 and to the extent of $28,000 besides.

Public Pasteurization.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—Dr. Charles Hastings, the convener of the milk commission, nominated by the Canadian Medical Association to look into a pure milk supply for the people of Toronto and the province as a whole, waited upon the city board of health at the meeting yesterday, to report on the findings of the commission, the result of a tour through all the principal cities in the United States.

This finding was that all milk not miscroscopically pure should be pasteurised under municipal control, that is, all milk not officially certified to by the authorities.

A Danish Sensation.

Copenhagen, Sept. 10.—M. Alberti, who retired recently from the post of Minister of Justice, yesterday surrendered to the police and confessed to a series of frauds against the Rondestendens Sharkasse, a savings bank of which he was president. The affair has caused a great sensation, as it was entirely unexpected. Alberti was an intimate friend of the King, and very popular at court.

The frauds exceed $5,000,000, which the ex-Minister lost in speculations in stocks in the United States.

Interfered With Funeral.

Albany, N.Y., Sept. 10.—John Fahey, arrested recently for interfering with a funeral procession, was found guilty yesterday by Recorder Frost and sentenced to the Albany penitentiary for two months. He was later released pending an appeal.

Fahey, it was charged, advised union drivers to strike at a funeral because the driver of a hearse was not a member of the local union.

Request For Arbitration.

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—The locomotive men of the Canadian Northern have applied for a board of conciliation under the Lemieux Act to investigate a demand for a new wage schedule and changes in the conditions of employment.

The company has named F. H. Richardson, Toronto, and the men Harvey Hall, Toronto, as their representatives.

Sectionman Killed.

North Bay, Sept. 10.—J. Parent, sectionman, of Wahnipitae, was killed by the Soo express while on a track velocipede. He leaves a wife and family. The body was taken to Quebec for burial.

Shot In the Face.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 10.—F. A. Morrison, Vegreville, Conservative candidate in the Federal constituency of Victoria, was the victim of a shooting accident. Morrison was out duck shooting.

Liverpool Grain and Produce.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 9.—Closing—Wheat, spot firm; No. 2 red western winter, 7s 6½d; No. 1 California, 7s 11½d; futures, quiet; Sept., 7s 5¾d; Dec., 7s 6¼d. Corn, spot, steady; American mixed, 7s 5d; futures, quiet; Sept., 5s 9⅞d; Oct., 5s 7½d.

Hams—Short cut, 14 to 16 pounds, steady, 54s. Bacon Cumberland cut, 26 to 30 pounds, strong, 52s 6d; short ribs, 16 to 24 pounds, strong, 53s 6d. Shoulders, square, 11 to 13 pounds, firm, 38s 6d. Lard, prime western, in tierces, strong, 49s 6d; American refined, in pails, strong, 50s.

J. R. Heints & Co. wired R. B. Holden: Wheat—Market opened ¼c to ⅝c lower, the trade playing for a setback on account of the heavy northwest receipts, 1,230 cars, against 778 year ago. We advise purchases of wheat on all the recessions; the general market is too strong to warrant any material decline. We expect to see wheat above the dollar mark for December very soon and then the outside public will begin to buy.

Corn—Opened shade lower, but soon recovered; there was some good buying, notwithstanding the poor weather over the entire corn belt with the very small stocks of old corn and the great amount of new, which will not be out of the frost danger before October 1. We look for much higher values and believe purchases should be made on all setbacks.

Oats—Strong; commission houses mostly on the buying side; the elevator interests sold some. The situation in oats is extremely strong, and it looks as the May bought on the reactions would pay good profits.

Provisions—Steady; market dull; packers bought little lard and ribs.

New York Dairy Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Butter—Firm; receipts, 21,469; creamery specials, 26½c; extras, 22¾c to 24c; state dairy, common to finest, 18c to 22½c.

Cheese—Firm, unchanged; receipts, 11,965.

Eggs—Steady, unchanged; receipts, 20,275.

CATTLE MARKETS.

The common stock sold at 3¼c to 3c, while the lean canners sold at 1¼c to 2c, and the small bulls at 1½c to 2c per lb. Trade was very dull, and a large proportion of the cattle will be held over for a future market. Milch cows sold at from $30 to $50 each. Grass-fed calves sold at 2½c to 3¼c, and good veals at 4c to 5c per lb. Sheep sold at 3½c to 4c per lb., and the lambs at 4½c to 4¾c per lb. Good lots of fat hogs sold at $6.85 to $7.

WHAT IS ITCH BUT?

It is the old Anglo-Saxon name for Dandruff and it's a good one. If you have dandruff you have itch dirt and the little microbes that are part and parcel of dandruff are working persistently night and day and sooner or later will reach the very life of your hair and destroy its vitality.

Madill druggist, sells it—recommends it and guarantees it; only 50 cents a large bottle and your money back if it fails to cure Dandruff, Falling Hair and Itching of the Scalp.

TEACHER HONOURED AT UXBRIDGE

Citizens Tender Him Banquet—Presented With Cane and Leather Violin Case.

TO TEACH AT NORMAL HERE

Before leaving Uxbridge for Peterborough, Dr. H G Park, who has come to teach in the Normal School, was honoured by two presentations. The Uxbridge North Ontario Times in reporting these says:—

Last Friday evening a representative body of Uxbridge citizens tendered Dr. H G Park a royal send-off at the Mansion House previous to his leaving town for Peterborough where he has been appointed a member of the Normal School staff. There were about 75 present, and after doing ample justice to the excellent table prepared by Mr. Robert St. John, Mayor Crosby called the gathering to order and in a brief speech outlined the purpose of meeting together. A short toast list was honoured, the first being that of the "King," which was heartily responded to "The Educational Institutions" was responded to by Rev. J R Fraser and Mr. H S Peters. The toast, "Our Guest" was well received and Major Sam Sharpe was called upon in reply and made a short speech eulogizing Dr. Park for the excellent work he has done in the Uxbridge high school owing to his thoroughness in training and discipline. He considered him a man of fine character, a sturdy, virile and capable citizen. Mr. George McGuire presented the doctor with a beautiful gold headed cane, suitably engraved, as a mark of appreciation and a remembrance of his Uxbridge friends. Dr. Park replied very feelingly and thanked his friends for their kindness. He said that he had often tried to place himself in sympathy with men who had been honoured by their friends in leaving town, and tried to anticipate their feelings that such an occasion would give, but he utterly failed until at that banquet to realize what they were. It would be difficult for him to tear up old associations that had been made during his stay of twenty years in town. His family were nearly all born here, and had received their education in town. He then returned to Uxbridge when he first came here as being a hot bed of political, religious and social conditions which centered around the high school which became nothing more than a bye-word throughout the Province. He succeeded in running the institution along right lines and brought the school from the mire and clay to its present standing. The high school was doubly dear to him as he had received his own education there, also his family. To the members of the School Board present, he intimated that owing to the increased attendance it might be necessary to build a wing and make re-arrangement and changes as suggested by the Inspector. He was sorry that the changes ordered last term had not been carried out as it might attest the standing of the school with the Government. He hoped that the Board would look after such matters very closely. He thought the many compliments that were paid him during the evening should be taken with a grain of salt, but it was pleasant for him to think that there was in them a certain part of esteem. For his successor, Mr. Smillie, he had the fullest confidence and recommended him for the position owing to his sterling independence; all pupils, rich or poor, would receive the same treatment. In closing he thanked his hearers for their kindness shown towards him. The orchestra then palyed a selection, followed by a speech by Mr. I J Gould, chairman of the Board of Education. Mr. Wm. Low responded to the "Business Interests" and said whilst every man ran his own business to suit himself there was three points that he wished to mention, viz.: the credit system is a drawback to the town, legitmate profit and treat all customers the same. The toast to the "Ladies" was responded to by Messrs. J A Walker and W S Ormiston; reading by Dr. Bascom; "Press" by Messrs. W H Keller and J H Chinn. The meeting then broke up all feeling that Uxbridge was losing an excellent principal and esteemed citizen.

At a meeting of the Uxbridge Orchestra last Friday evening at Mr. M W Plank's, Dr. H G Park, who is the first violinist of that organization, was presented with a leather violin case as a remembrance from his musical friends in town. Mr. Wm. Hamilton made a short address and Mr Geo. McGuire made the presentation. At the close light refreshments were served and the members and lady friends enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

Prospects For Peterboro's Fair Were Never Brighter

Meeting Held Last Night When General Business Was Considered — Arrangements Are Now About Complete—Midway Expected To Be Large.

ENTRIES COMING IN FAST

The directors of the Peterborough Industrial Fair held a meeting last night to complete the arrangements for the exhibition. If the present indications are realized it should, this year, eclipse any that have been held in the past. Secretary Hall has already received entries from parties that have never exhibited here before and they are promised from many others who are expected to be here from an unusual distance.

The judges have been secured and the directors feel that they have done their duty in this respect and that there will be general satisfaction from all the exhibitors.

The Midway

Some of the directors are of the opinion that it would be a wise idea to have the midway moved up west of the west gate. The majority, however, feel that it is better to leave them the same as last year and this will likely be carried out, as it is felt that it is necessary to have these attractions in the vicinity of the main building. The secretary has had many inquiries for ground and there is no doubt but that the majority of these will come to this city.

Special Constables

There will be the usual number of constables on guard, besides application will be made to the Chief of Police for one of the policemen to be on duty during the last two days. The annoyance of fence tickets will eliminated if possible and it is likely that an example will be made of some of those who try to get in without passing the gatekeepers.

Home-made Bread

One of the contests which is going to be of special interest at the fair this year is the homemade bread entry. In spite of the jokes that have been made at the expense of women who are said to be incapable of turning out a good quality of bread there are many who intend to enter two loaves and thus prove that breadmaking is not a past art. The directors have secured good judges for this and the secretary states that there will be more entries in this particular event than for any year in the past.

Thefts will be Punished

Another nuisance that will be guarded against this year by the officials at the Fair is the stealing of articles which have been entered. Usually on the last day after four o'clock the Fair being over, the articles are taken from the shelves by the owners. Just about that time the ever-evident small boy does his best to get away with almost anything worth stealing. On one occasion a man from the vicinity of Hastings had a large entry, but lost some of his exhibits of honey, apples and other eatables. He took the remainder to Norwood and lost nearly all he had left in the same manner.

The extra precautions which will be taken this year will safeguard against actions of this kind and exhibitors are assured that their entries will be protected.

Notes

Ample provision will be made in the line of gates so that there will be no delay and every ticket may be received.

It is likely that the ticket sellers will be the same as in previous years. It has been the custom to have bank clerks handle the money behind the wicket as the task is a difficult one to the ordinary individual.

The stand on which the performances will be given will be raised several feet in order that everything may be easily seen by those standing around it.

The speeding events will be a distinct feature. The classes are fast and the entries will be numerous according to the statement of one of those who are looking after this department.

The band will be present and that fact alone will add materially to the strength of the attractions.

Fire Brigade Have Awkward Task With Fire In Sawdust

The fire brigade had an awkward proposition to handle yesterday when a fire broke out in the sawdust on the east side of the river near the old Dickson dam. The alarm was sent in shortly after 2 o'clock in the afternoon and a portion of the brigade with one waggon answered the call. It was found necessary to send back for more hose, and even the other waggon was not enough, a small truck with an addition five hundred feet of hose having to be called into use. Altogether the fire-fighters laid some three thousand feet of hose to reach the fire, and they remained with it until the blaze, which had nearly reached the lumber piles, was extinguished. It was after 9 o'clock when they were at last able to leave the scene, but the fire was entirely extinguished. The task of cleaning 3,000 feet of hose this morning was by no means the most enjoyable feature of the blaze.

"Done Brown" In Cincinnati By Several Smooth Strangers

M. D. Boland, of Stirling, a photographer and dealer in photobraphic supplies, was leaving Cincinnati late Thursday night with the paraphernalia for a moving picture theatre. He was in the waiting room at the Grand Central Depot when an affable stranger accosted him and invited him to have a drink. Several acquaintances joined the stranger in the barroom. Borland left his baggage in the train shed while he went in to quench his thirst at the expense of the polite stranger, and when he returned to the spot where he had left it he found that a thief had appropriated the baggage and moving picture paraphernalia during the brief time that he was gone. He also discovered at about the same time that his wallet, containing all his money, was gone. He had about $100 in cash, and the baggage and picture machine were worth $300 more. Boland, fortunately, had his ticket home in an inside pocket. He had not time to remain in Cincinnati to trace the thief, but had 10 minutes before train time in which to report his losses to the police. In the loot were included some valuable lenses, and the police are watching the pawnshops for them.

REPORT ON LABOUR CONDITIONS

As Presented to the Government by Ald. J. W. Johnston—Activity is Visible.

SOME DISTRICT NOTES

The following is the report of Ald. W. J. Johnston on labour conditions in Peterborough during the month of July.

Industrial progress was on the increase during July, conditions being better than in any previous month this year. The building trade seemed to be on the increase, and business men pronounced trade as good as they expected it to be. Activity prevailed in the new Armouries, Collegiate Institute and the Roman Catholic Church. The city is laying down new sewers, sidewalks and watermains. The gas company is also employing a large force of workmen laying new mains and connecting the service with a large number of houses. Transportation companies and banks reported business fair. Wholesale and retail trade was active. Rates of wages and hours of labour remained unchanged, and the labour market was free from unrest of any kind.

Local Industries

Agriculture—Work consisted chiefly of harvesting hay and fall wheat, and attending to root crops.

Fishing—Busy conditions prevailed.

Lumbering—Activity was the rule.

Mining—Dullness prevailed.

Railroad construction and employment—The chief work consisted in section repairing and laying of new ties.

Manufacturing — The Cordage works were very busy and found it difficult to keep up with orders. J. J. Turner and Sons have been exceptionally active endeavouring to fill orders from outside places for decorating purposes, and large orders for canvas work, a specialty with this firm. The several iron industries, canoe factories, sawmills, grist mills and other industrial concerns were fairly active, employing full staffs in most departments.

Particular Trades

Activity was the rule in the building, metal, woodworking and furnishing trades, except with iron moulders, brass workers, tool sharpeners and car builders, who found conditions somewhat dull. Printers had a fair month considering the number of holidays. Journeymen tailors and boot and shoe workers were active, but garment workers and hat makers were more or less dull. Bakers and confectioners, butchers and meat cutters, cigar-makers, etc., were active, and ice-handlers busy. Harness and collar makers and employees of customs shops were active, the latter mostly on repair work. Active conditions prevailed in other industries, except that furriers and theatre employees were dull.

District Notes

The district will have one of the best crops on record. Haying and fall wheat harvesting is over. The root crop is looking exceptionally well. Cheese factories are in full operation and are obtaining good prices. Peterborough and Lindsay Cheese Boards have sold several hundred boxes of cheese. Market prices are very good, and fairly good markets are being held weekly. General stores and places of industry are all doing an active business. Threshing is in progress in some parts.

Cobourg—Market quotations were as follows: Butter, 20c per lb.; eggs, 16c. per doz.; fowl, 90c to $1; potatoes, 75c. a bag, and hay, $9 to $10 per ton.

HAMILTON'S CHEESE TESTS "GILT EDGE"

In a letter in yesterday's issue, Mr. W. H. Hamilton, the Simcoe street grocer, contradicts the statement of Chief Dairy Commissioner Ruddick to the effect that our people have to use cull cheese because the grocers do not buy the best grades. Mr. Hamilton asserts that in the past sixteen years he has not bought or cut a single cull cheese. He buys his cheese on the cheese board and gets the same quality that is shipped abroad. Mr. Hamilton sent the Examiner a sample of the cheese he is now selling—August cheese of 1907. It is certainly a splendid sample, possessing all the qualities of texture and flavour that are possessed by gilt-edged cheese. The Commissioner may have been misquoted, for certainly his rather sweeping remarks regarding cull cheese on the local market do not apply to Mr. Hamilton, or, as far as can be learned, to other Peterborough grocers.

The finest leaves from Ceylon tea plantations are contained in "Salada" Tea. It is packed in sealed lead packets to preserve its delicious flavour and aroma. Sold by all grocers; never by peddlers, or in bulk. 70

CAUSES OF JOHN GREER'S DEATH UNKNOWN, SAYS CORONERS' JURY; BETTER INSPECTION NEEDED

"That John Greer came to his death from causes not made clear to us, but in our experience he had not sufficient experience in the handling of this dangerous explosive to be allowed the management of this branch of the business. We would recommend that those places where gasoline and other explosives are handled should be under strict inspection by the city authorities."

The above was the verdict reached last night by the jury in the inquest into the death of the late John Greer who died on Sunday, August 30, as the result of injuries received in a fire in "My Valet" establishment the preceding day. Last night's session was short, only three witnesses being examined, and the jury agreed upon their verdict after a few minutes' discussion of the evidence, which did not throw much light upon the cause of the accident, as it dealt largely with the properties of gasoline.

Alf. J. Parker, the first witness, testified that he had had experience with gasoline for cleansing purposes for 27 years. It was not dangerous if handled properly. A room should be reserved especially for the purpose of doing gasoline cleaning, the larger the better. In Ottawa his firm used one barrel of gasoline per day. In the plant at Peterborough the whole top flat, 22x50 feet, was used. There should be plenty of ventilation. He had never had any experience with gasoline explosions, as there never had been any in connection with his firm. Witness gave evidence as to the properties of gasoline, saying that the fumes would ignite from a pipe.

George Irwin, barber at 196 Charlotte street, three doors east of "My Valet" establishment, was the next witness sworn. He had knowledge of the premises and had seen deceased at work there on the Friday before the accident. He was washing some goods near the window. Deceased was smoking a pipe at the time. That was the only time he had seen deceased smoking there.

George Record testified that he had had about two years' experience with gasoline. It was a large question just what care should be exercised. He thought it required an actual flame to cause an explosion, and did not agree with Mr. Parker that a lighted pipe would be sufficient.

Coroner Gray, before dismissing the jury, stated that gasoline was very explosive and would ignite easily, the heat of the sun being sufficient to cause an explosion.

The jury, after discussing the evidence, returned the above verdict.

FINANCE COMMITTEE DECIDES TO PURCHASE NO MORE PARK LANDS

At a meeting of the Finance Committee, the agreement with the Peterborough Cereal Company was discussed and it was decided to give the company a deed of the land in question on condition that they pay the city $350 in lieu of building a conduit through the property.

There were present Ald. Morrow, chairman; the Mayor, and Ald. Bradburn and Neill.

Ald. Bradburn moved, seconded by Ald. Neill, that the Peterborough Cereal Company be given a deed of the land mentioned in Bylaw No. 1126 upon the company paying to the city $350 in lieu of constructing a conduit through the property and also paying the city $1,000 in accordance with the terms of the said bylaw, and that the clerk notify the company of the action of the committee, and that the committee wishes an answer at once.—Carried.

The mayor reported that the committee appointed on Tesday night had seen Mr. H. Best, and that he would sell one acre to enlarge the King Edward Park for $2,000, and land for the extension of Aylmer street for $500, provided the land for the park was purchased.

On motion of Ald. Bradburn and Neill, the committee decided that no more land could be purchased for park purposes this year, but that the mayor be authorized to purchase the land for the extension of Aylmer street at $500.

AN UNFOUNDED RUMOUR RE DEFENDANT'S DEPARTURE

Principals in Breach of Promise Case Will Be At Trial.

The rumour to the effect that the defendant has left this city to avoid the result of the breach of promise trial at the Conservatory of Music Hall, on Friday evening next, is unfounded. He is in the best of health and spirits, and proposes to be on deck every moment of the trial and will make it exceedingly interesting for the plaintiff and her attorney.

It should not be forgotten that this is a mock trial under the auspices of the Boys' Department of the Y. M. C. A., and that every moment of the two hours and more will be exciting, instructive and fun-provoking.

The defendant's identity will not be disclosed until court is called tomorrow night.

Music and Drama

CHARLEY GRAPEWIN IN "MR. PIPP"

The advent of another theatric season sees unctuous Charley and his inimitable creation in the merry musical comedy again to the fore, as a success in blotting out with its fun many of the cares of the hurly-burly country of ours. One of the beauties of this attraction which comes to the Grand next Tuesday, Sept. 15th, is the fact that it is not one of those light and frothy skits devoid of plot. "The Awakening of Mr. Pipp" is a comedy with a well refined clean cut story, of which it has been said the attractive musical features are but punctuation marks. The girls, of which there is a large bevy of comely and shapely ones an incident, while the shoulders of Mr. Grapewin have to bear the major portion of the burden of giving a performance that everywhere makes an audience sit up and take notice. So well has Mr. Grapewin seized and moulded to his use each one of his many opportunities in protraying the peccadellos of "Pipp" that he has indelibly written the name of Grapewin on the list of successful comedy stars of the era. The plot is clean, wholesome and entertaining. The characters not overdrawn, the scenes and situations deftly woven, while the musical features have been cleverly chosen. It is an entertainer and a joy to the stage of to-day, which has been much abused by having thrust upon its admirers much that can only be characterized as trash.

I will sell by public auction, on Saturday morning, September 12th, on the Market Square, at eleven o'clock, one Rubber Tire Stanhope. This is a high-seated vehicle of the runabout style and is practically as good as new. Sale without reserve.

WEDDING BELLS

ALLEN—FAIR

One of the prettiest of the many early September weddings of this district was that solemnized on Wednesday morning at eleven o'clock in St. Thomas' Church, Millbrook, the principals of the happy event being Miss Ida Margaret Fair, youngest daughter of Mr. William Fair, Millbrook, and Mr. Henry Burke Allen, the fifth son of the late Venerable Archdeacon Allen, who for more than half a century was rector of that parish. The bride and groom are among the most popular and esteemed of the young people of Millbrook hamlet, so when the time announced for the ceremony arrived the church was filled by a large number interested in witnessing the event. The nuptial knot was tied by a brother of the groom, Rev. Wm. Cartwright Allen, Rural Dean of Durham and Victoria, and rector of Cavan. The bride entered the church leaning on the arm of her father, by whom she was given away. She was attired in a handsome dress of Parisian tailor-made striped broadcloth with hat to match. The organ was presided over by Mrs. (Rev.) Wm. Cartwright Allen, and during the ceremony the choir sang two hymns. The altar and chancel of the church was handsomely decorated with golden and asparagus. After the signing of the register, which was witnessed by Miss Eileen Fair, of Peterborough, and Mr. Thos. Allen, Toronto University, the Swedish Wedding March by A. Suderman, was played. The bride received many handsome presents, showing her popularity among a wide circle of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Allen left on the 12.10 G. T. R. train for Toronto, amidst showers of rice and confetti. At Toronto they took boat for a trip down the St. Lawrence, their destination being Portland, Mr. After spending their honeymoon there they will return to Millbrook to reside with Mr. William Fair. The bride is a sister of Mr. Robert Fair, of Peterborough.

WILSON—HOPE

A very pretty Otonabee wedding was solemnized yesterday evening at "Riverside," the residence of Richard Hope, Allandale, when his daughter, Miss Mary, was married to Mr. Jas. Allan Wilson, son of James Wilson, also of Otonabee. Rev. D. D. McDonald, Keene, was the officiating clergyman. Guests to the number of about seventy were present, including relatives and immediate friends of the bride and groom, who were unattended. The bride wore a dress of pearl gray silk trimmed with lace and carried cream roses. The wedding march was played by Miss Adeline Hope, sister of the bride. At the conclusion of the ceremony the guests partook of a dainty wedding supper. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have gone to Toronto and Niagara Falls on their honeymoon tour and returning will reside in Otonabee, not far from the city. The groom is a captain in the 57th Regiment and is very well known in Peterborough.

PARKE—KETCHESON

A quiet house wedding was celebrated this afternoon at three o'clock at the residence of Mr. W. D. Ketcheson, 159 Rubidge street, when Marie, his second daughter, was united in marriage to Dr. J. M. Parke, of Marshville, Ont. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Henderson, of Charlotte Street Methodist Church. The drawing room was tastefully decorated with flowers and evergreens, the colour scheme being green and white. The bride was unattended and was given away by her brother, Mr. M. E. Ketcheson. Miss Annie Spicer played Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bridal party entered the drawing room.

The bride looked charming in a travelling suit of navy blue broadcloth. After the ceremony a recherche luncheon was served in the dining room, which was prettily decorated in pink.

Dr. and Mrs. Parke left on the afternoon C. P. R. train for a two weeks' visit to points west. Many beautiful presents were received as evidences of the esteem in which they are held by their numerous friends.

WILLIAMSON—CURRY

The marriage took place quietly yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Curry, 273 McDonel street, of their daughter, Miss Gertrude P. Curry, to Mr. Cecil Hector Williamson, of the Quaker Oats office staff, son of Mr. James Williamson, 83 Aylmer street. Rev. J. G. Potter officiated.

The bride was unattended, owing to recent bereavement in the family. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was partaken of. The bride and groom were remembered by their many friends and were the recipients of numerous gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Williamson left on a wedding trip to Toronto and points west, and on their return will reside at 512 Aylmer street.

COCHRANE—SIMPSON

A quiet wedding was celebrated at St. Andrew-s Manse yesterday afternoon at four o'clock, when Mr. Hugh Davidson Cochrane, of Ketchecum, Cavendish township, was united in marriage to Miss Violet Sampson, daughter of Mr. Alexander Sampson, of Harvey. The Rev. James G. Potter, of St. Andrew's church, officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Sampson left on the C.P.R. 5.08 train for Toronto and Brantford and on their return will reside in Cavendish.

DEVER—THOMPSON

Mr. Miltred Dever, of Smith township and Miss Margaret Cathcart Thompson, daughter of Mr. Alexander Thompson, of Harvey, were united in the bonds of matrimony at St. Andrew's manse yesterday at 7.30 p.m., by the Rev. James G Potter. The wedding was of a quiet nature. After a brief honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Dever will reside in Smith township near Buckhorn.

TWO MEN FINED FOR BEING DRUNK

Magistrate Levied $2 on a Pair This Morning.

Jas. Jordan had no answer but "Guilty" ready this morning at the police court when the magistrate read out to him a charge of being drunk and disorderly in a public place. He said he was a labourer and P. C. Adams informed the magistrate that he had been behaving very well up to this time. He was allowed to go with a fine of two dollars, being given the customary ten days of grace in which to raise the money.

Sam Young was up against a similar hearge and could give no reason why he was there. He pleaded guilty to the charge, and, like his predecessor, was relieved of $2.

PRELATES HOLDING A CONFERENCE

Vannutelli Delivers Pope's Message at Eucharistic Congress.

REGRETS THE DIVERGENCIES

Purpose of Congress, Says Cardinal, Is to Exalt Worship of Eucharist—Hopes For the Time When One Star of Faith Will Unite Peoples —Thousands Travel Far to Attend the Conference.

London, Sept. 10.—With all the solemn splendor of the Roman Catholic Church, Cardinal Vannutelli, the Pope's legate, was formally received by the prelates who have gathered here for the Eucharistic Congress, over which he will preside.

Cardinal Vannutelli, with the attending priests, walked from the archbishop's house, a block from the cathedral, through lines of cheering people, including hundreds of priests who came from almost every country in the world to attend the congress.

Cardinal Vannutelli, speaking in Latin, said that which touched the delegates most deeply was the fact that they were receiving this hospitable welcome in England, a country upon which for centuries past God had bestowed his benefits. If in the passage of time painful divergence had arisen, they gradually had been changed into a desire for peace, and so, after centuries, for the first time the doors of "free England" had been opened to a pontificial cardinal legate, the prince of the church, the bishops, and a select group of ecclesiastics.

It gave the Pope great pleasure to have the congress held in London, not only because of the salutary effects for which he hoped, but because he was thus able to give a high public testimonial of his deference to and esteem for the whole British nation. It was to give proof of this affection for his English children that the Pope recently issued a decree removing them from the regime of the mission countries to which they hitherto had been subjected.

The Papal Wish.

"Oh, that this congress," said the legate, "might revive that other eucharist, which was the essential character, honor and glory of the Island of Saints, banishing all doubts and divergencies, and causing the eyes of all to be fixed on the same star of faith, which was the dearest treasure of the bishops, kings and people of England."

Archbishop Bourne replied in English. He welcomed the papal legate in the name of the clergy and laity of England. Speaking of the congress he said:

"It is an act of worship, an act of faith, and at the same time an act of reparation intended to atone for all these words uttered in the English language that some emit forth in knowing and bitter malice and many more spoken in ignorance, which surely will be pleaded in mitigation of their guilt, have done outrage to the blessed sacrament."

A number of Protestant societies which recently petitioned King Edward not to receive Cardinal Vincent Vannutelli have telegraphed His Majesty at Doncaster requesting him to ask to home offices to forbid the procession of Catholic societies Sunday in honor of the blessed sacrament on the ground that it is likely to cause rioting. His Majesty ignored the former communication from the societies and it is improbable that he will answer this one. The Protestant Alliance is an uninfluential body.

I. O. G. T. Grand Lodge.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—The Good Templars yesterday federated their provincial grand lodges by the establishment of a National Grand Lodge of Canada. This body, which will have Dominion jurisdiction, will meet biennially. The next meeting will be held at Winnipeg in July, 1910.

Killed While at Play.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—A death trap built by boys at play collapsed on its makers, killing one of them, fatally injuring a second and seriously injuring a third.

Italians Worked Check Swindle.

Cobalt, Sept. 10.—Two Italians worked a successful fraud on three local Assyrian merchants, who cashed for them checks of the face value of $59, $52, and $55. They procured three Bank of Commerce forms and made them up as if issued by the Township of Coleman, forging the signature of the treasurer and reeve.

AEROPLANE RECORD.

Orville Wright Sails Around For More Than an Hour.

Washington, D.C., Sept. 10.—Orville Wright, in three phenomenal flights at Fort Myer yesterday, established new aeroplane records that not only assure the success of the official trials before the army board, but indicate that aerial flight is now only a matter of development.

Two flights of approximately one hour each, another flight in which two men were whirled through the air for upwards of six minutes, were the achievements of the Wright brothers' aeroplane yesterday. That these flights, record-breaking as they were, will even be surpassed by Orville Wright during his trials at Fort Myer, is confidently predicted.

The first flight, made this morning in which the machine circled the drill grounds at the fort 57 times in 57 minutes and 31 seconds, was surpassed last evening when a flight of 62 minutes and 14 seconds was made.

Not satisfied with breaking all distance and time records for a heavier-than-air flying machine, Mr. Wright took Lieut. Frank P. Lahm, the aeronaut of the signal corps, for a spin around the drill grounds, making a new record for a two-man flight.

FIRES AT FORT WILLIAM.

Heavily Wooded District Around City Is Mass of Flames.

Fort William, Sept. 10.—The entire district is now a mass of forest fires, which have approached right to the city's limits. The far side of Mount McKay has been burned over, while the fires are raging at many points on the Indian reserve near the Grand Trunk Pacific property. From Hymers, up the Canadian Northern, comes word this morning that the settlers are very uneasy. One settler is already burned out. In the unsettled portions of Gillies and Scott townships fires are now sweeping the bush, and there is nothing that will stop them except a heavy rain.

Casgrain For Commons.

Montreal, Sept. 10.—The announcement was made last evening that Hon. Thomas Casgrain, ex-M.P., and ex-Attorney-General, will accept a nomination for the Federal election in the Conservative interest. The Conservatives of Bagot and Nicolet have both offered him a nomination.

Newsfrom the County of Montcalm is to the effect that Hon. L. P. Pelletier, defeated in Dorchester in the local contest, will be the Opposition candidate for the Commons.

Wright Loses Vote.

Arnprior, Sept. 10.—South Renfrew Liberals in convention yesterday nominated Thomas A. Low, lumberman, of Renfrew, as their candidate for the Federal House.

To the surprise of many, the convention turned down A. A. Wright, M.P., Renfrew, who has been the Federal member for this riding for eight years.

At the Liberal convention for North Renfrew held at Pembroke, Henry Barr was nominated.

Quebec Needs Fire Protection.

Montreal, Sept. 10.—That the lack of proper fire protection in the Province of Quebec is a constant menace to the lives and property of the inhabitants is the statement made by J. A. Tremblay, the deputy chief of the Montreal fire department. Lack of adequate protection caused three million dollar fire loss during the past year.

New Flyer Launched.

London, Sept. 10.—The pioneer boat of the new service from Britain to Canada, under the White Star flag, the Laurentic, of 14,000 tons, was launched at Belfast Friday. Great secrecy was observed regarding the speed, but it is expected to be very fast.

Mrs. Sherwin Home.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—Mrs. Sherwin returned yesterday morning from the Pasteur Institute, in New York, where she was sent a couple of weeks ago by the city to be treated for injuries received from a dog affected with rabies. She is doing well.

LIBERALS IN SPLENDID FORM

The General Reform Association Meeting Is Enthusiastic.

GOOD INCREASE PREDICTED

Hon. G. P. Graham Says Liberal Majority Will Be Larger Instead of Smaller After Election — Confidence to Carry Polls Shown In Stirring Speeches at Meeting —Mr. Graham Indisposed.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—Confidence in the strength of Liberalism, coupled with a determination to leave no stone unturned to secure victory for the cause in the coming elections, was the dominant note at the fourth annual meeting of the General Reform Association of Ontario, held in the Temple building yesterday. "We enter the approaching Federal election contest with confidence and enthusiasm," was the inspiring declaration of President H. M. Mowat at the outset of the proceedings, and the same spirit of healthy optimism was reflected in the encouraging message of the Minister of Railways, who unfortunately was unable, through indisposition to take part in the meeting, and in all the speeches that were delivered in the course of the three hours' session. "The outlook is most encouraging," wrote Mr. Graham, "and every indication points to an increase rather than a decrease in the strength of Liberalism. Let every man do his duty and victory is assured." These and similar sentiments expressed evoked a response which demonstrated beyond doubt that the Liberals of Ontario have been roused to a sense of their power, and that the contest which they have entered upon will be waged with the utmost vigor and enthusiasm. Not only was the attendance the largest that has taken part in any meeting of the association—over one hundred delegates being present—but it was the most representative, those present including over a dozen members of the Dominion Parliament, several Senators and a number of M.P.P.'s and candidates, besides office-bearers of various local associations.

November 3 the Day?

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—It is positively asserted that the Government has definitely decided on Tuesday, Nov. 3, as the date of the general elections.

A well-informed politician who made this statement adds that the formal announcement will be made before Sir Wilfrid leaves on his Ontario tour, unless the Premier should decide to make it himself at the meeting at Niagara on Sept. 15.

This will bring the United States and Canadian elections on the same day.

Motor Boats Collide.

Brockville, Sept. 10.—A motor boat collision occurred Tuesday night at Alexandria Bay in which two swiftly-moving launches came together.

In one launch was seated Mr. and Mrs. Capt. Livingstone. Their boat sank slowly, and although both occupants were thrown into the water both were rescued. The other boat disappeared under the water immediately, and the occupants, four men, swam to shore.

Madman's Work With Axe.

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 10.—Pearson Talley, aged 60 years, while temporarily insane, attacked his wife in bed yesterday morning, splitting her skull with a broadaxe; then he split open the head of his niece and fractured the skull of her husband, Andrew Johansen, who were living with the older couple.

The three victims are dying.

World Changes Politics.

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 10.—The World newspaper, until recently Liberal, came out yesterday flatfooted in favor of the election of George Cowan, one of the candidates before the Conservative convention last night.

Winnipeg Next.

London, Sept. 10.—(C.A.P.)—The British Association adjourned its sessions at Dublin yesterday, to meet in Winnipeg next year. Francis Darwin is president.

SENT TO THE ROCKIES FOR HEALTH, RETURNED HOME TO DIE

The following should inspire every one who is discouraged on account of continued ill health to give Psychine, THE GREATEST OF TONICS, a trial before giving up hope even though physician and friends think and say your case is hopeless. Mr. Alex. McRae, of Sault Ste Marie, says:—"I was failing every day and had to quit work. I lost 46 lbs. in a short time and was advised to go to the Rockies or the Coast. I tried them both with considerable expense but I got worse instead of better. All hope seemed to leave me and I decided to come home to die. I tried Psychine and since starting its use I have gained from 119 to 141 pounds. I am now a well man and I cannot say too much in praise of Psychine. The strongest recommendation would be weak in view of the fact that I believe it has saved my life. It is without doubt the best remedy for run-down conditions and weak lungs. I sincerely hope that you will continue your good work of saving run-down people and consumptive from the grave."

Psychine improves the appetite and generally tones up the system. We would like every family to try it FREE (see coupon).

TOM FLANAGAN OF THE I.C.A.C. WILL ENTER MEN IN Y.M.C.A. MEET

"I would like very much to receive an invitation from the Y. M. C. A. Harriers of Peterborough to attend the meet which I understand they are holding in a short time," said Tom Flanagan to an Examiner reporter in Lindsay on Monday last. It was at the big meet of the C. L. S., and Longboat had just completed his ten-mile grind in easy style. The big chief of the I. C. A. C. was pleased with the performance of his Onondaga and laughed at the suggestion that he was a "has been."

"I intend to enter him in all the big races this fall," Flanagan siad, "and I guess we will show the Canadian people that Tom is as good as he ever was. He will be in the Hamilton and Montreal road races, and also the Ward Marathon at Toronto. He is now almost recovered from the effect of the weather in the Olympic race." The Irishman was not a bit backward in expressing his opinion of those who unearthed the dope allegation, stating that it was well known what spirit prompted that rumour.

Will be Here

The manager of the Irish-Canadians has since received an invitation to have that athletic body represented at the big indoor meet, which will be held in the Brock street rink on the evening of September 17th, and Mr. Ernie Bart expects that Percy Sellen and others that don the colours of the I. C. A. C. will be here. Flanagan considered that last year's meet was all to the good, and particularly the treatment which was accorded the visitors by the Y. M. C. A.

ENTRIES COME IN FOR HARRIERS' BIG INDOOR MEET SEPT. 17th

Entries are beginning to come in for the big Y.M.C.A. athletic meet in Brock street rink on Thursday, Sept. 17. Last night entries were received from Jake Bailey, unattached, in the 50 yards and 220 yards, George Fowler of the Y.M.C.A. Harriers, who was second to Chuck Skene in the mile race at Lindsay, in the mile and three-mile events, and Chas. Thorpe, of the Y.M.C.A. Harriers, in the same events. A letter was received by the management this morning from Booby Kerr, Canada's famous sprinter, to the effect that he will be able to come here next week for the meet and will start in the 50 yards and 220 yards, which will, of course, be handicap affairs. Altogether there will be ten outside athletes present, including Lou Sebert, the well-known Toronto sprinter; Jack Tait, Olympic miler, and Archibald, champion pole-vaulter. The Irish-Canadians will send down a string that will probably include Chuck Skene in the mile, and Tom Longboat in the three-mile event. The entries close Saturday night in order that the handicaps for the sprints may be made. The meet gives every indication of being a phenomenal success.

"Races At Local Fair Will Be The Best Ever Seen Here"

"We are going to have the best races we ever had in Peterborough particularly at any Fair," was Dr. Johnston's confident assertion this morning.

"We've got the money for large prizes, and we are going to have fast horses enterewd. In fact I've got letters in my pocket from Toronto men and others, promising us that they will be here. There will be two days of good races and no one will be disappointed. Hazel Belle will be an entry in the 2.20 class and we have several new ones in the 2.17. They are "Deltie" owned by Mr. Van-Woodruff of Oshawa, and "Gipsy Girl" owned by Jas. McDowell, of Toronto. These are only a few. We have others from Port Hope, Lindsay and other places and a big string will be found in each class."

The purses are as follows for Friday, Sept. 18:—

2.50 class, pace or trot—$100.00.
2.20 class, pace or trot—$200.00.

For Saturday they are as follows:

2.28 class, pace or trot—$150.00.
2.17 class, pace or trot—$200.00.

The people attending on either day are reminded that it is against the rules of the National Trotting Association to throw paper of any kind on the track. Accidents have occurred before from this cause and the only way to prevent a repetition of these unforseen happenings which may easily result in a fatality, is to keep the paper off the track.

Among the officials for the races are, F B Chalk, of Port Hope, and Mr. F Peake, of Campbellford. Others are being secured who by their experience will make the races a success.

BATTLING NELSON THE CHAMPION

Defeats Joe Gans in Twenty-one Rounds —A Hard Fight.

San Francisco, Sept. 9.—Battling Nelson clinched his claim to the lightweight pugilistic championship by defeating Joe Gans for the second time at Colma Arena this afternoon. The fight ended in the twenty-first round, when Gans beaten down by a succession of blows from his sturdy conqueror, failed to get upon his feet within the count of ten. The veteran coloured fighter was severely punished, but the champion, too, bore the marks of battle. From the first clang of the gong to the last moment Nelson forced the fighting, never giving ground, and gradually battered down his older and less vigorous opponent. Gans succumbed in the twenty-first round, after being unmercifully trounced.

The fight was spectacular, and at no time did it appear that Gans had a chance to win. Time and again he would shoot wicket punches to Nelson's face and body, but the latter never for an instant wavered. Failing to arrest the rushing champion at any stage, Gans seemed to lose heart and gradually weakened though he often rallied and fought back fiercely.

Referee Smith after the fight gave out the following statement: "Gans was all in after the ninth round. In the twenty-first both the timekeeper and myself counted ten, therefore making Nelson the winner. Gans, I believe, did not know he was counted out, but it is just as well that he was, for Nelson had him completely at his mercy, and it was useless for the game coloured man to take a further beating."

"MISS FIDGETY" HURLS CHALLENGES

Speedy Craft Just Back From Stony Lake is at the Toronto Fair.

The Toronto Star has the following to say of "Miss Fidgety," the motor boat which opened the eyes of the visitors at Stony Lake this season:

Miss Fidgety, the little thirty-foot flyer that the Schofield-Holden Machine Company turned out two seasons ago and opened the eyes of motor boat enthusiasts to the possibilities of racing motor boats and engines wholly constructed in Canada, is still creating a sensation in marine circles, despite the advent of plank-on-edge racing machines of a type wholly unsuitable for open lake work. Miss Fidgety made her appearance in the lake off the Exhibition grounds yesterday, and the way in which she threaded her way through the assembled fleet at a 20-mile-an-hour clip drew thousands to the waterfront to see her perform.

Miss Fidgety is not and never was claimed to be a racing boat. The Schofield-Holden people built her for a demonstrating launch and utilized her to try out their engines and to test improvements. She is what is known as a semi-speed model. That she is still in the hunt even with the out and out racers is eloquent testimony to the reliability and worth of her Schofield-Holden engines. Miss Fidgety is a boat that weighs 2,900 pounds, a thousand pounds more than thirty-footers she has raced against with success. She is a thirty-footer with 5 feet 8 inches beam, a craft from 12 to 18 inches wider than racing machines, and yet at that she has always held her own with them.

Though Miss Fidgety is not a racing craft, her owners and builders are ready to start her in any race in which Ameriena Power Boat Association ratings govern. These ratings equalize matters between the out-and-out racing machine and the speedy, safe, semi-speed type of boat to which Miss Fidgety properly belongs.

The confidence of the Schofield-Holden concern in the reliability and control of Miss Fidgety's power equipment is testified to by an open challenge to meet any speed launch on the lake in a reliability and control contest.

The remarkable success of Miss Fidgety has encouraged the Schofield-Holden Machine Company to enter into the racing games and the chances are that next season will see this firm with craft in which everything is sacrificed to extreme speed.

LINDSAY WILL HAVE A RUGBY TEAM

The Officers of Club to be Elected on Monday Night.

Lindsay, Sept. 9.—A meeting of the local Rugby enthusiasts was held last night in the rooms over the Canadan Bank of Commerce and about twenty were present. From the spirit prevalent last night, it appears that Lindsay will have a good team to represent them in the O. R. F. U., and will no doubtmake a good showing. The game calls for big and small men, and from present appearances it is believed that the officers will have plenty of material to choose from.

The names of those who were likely to play in the game were taken last night and at the present time fifteen are on the list.

The election of officers was left over until the next meeting, but a committee composed of McHugh, Conway, Burke, Parkin and Nesbitt were appointed to solicit new membership.

Several other matters were discussed and the meeting adjourned. The next meeting, at which the officers of the club will be elected, will be held in the Simpson House parlours on Monday night next.

PERFORMANCE OF BLUE STREAK

Owner Tells How She Trimmed the Miss Fidgety in Launch Race.

The Examiner has received a communication from Jno. G. Robinson, proprietor of the fast launch "Blue Streak," which was to have met the "Miss Fidgety" at the Stony Lake regatta. He says:

During the recent visit of the motor boat "Miss Fidgety" to your vicinity, there was considerable controversy about the relative speeds of "Miss Fidgety" and my boat, "Blue Streak," which were to have met at the Juniper Island regatta. Owing to an accident at Cobourg I was unable to get my boat to Stony Lake at all, and so the race didn't come off, and "Miss Fidgety" reigned supreme as queen of the lakes. It may be of intedrest to you to learn that these two boats met at Hamilton last, Saturday in an international race.

Owing to her smaller power plant "Blue Streak" received one minute start in a fifteen mile race over "Miss Fidgety," but gradually pulled away from her steadily during the race, and won by two minutes. "Sterling Flyer," of Buffalo, was the scratch boat, and beat "Blue Streak" by twelve seconds, in one of the most exciting finishes ever witnessed, "Mavis," of Hamilton, finished third, twenty-one seconds behind ("Blue Streak," with "Miss Fidgety" next, over a minute and a half behind "Mavis."

Sporting Comment

An Ottawa despatch states that Marty Walsh, of Kingston, who played centre for Ottawa at hockey last winter will be with the team again the coming season.

• • • •

The Post was informed on Monday by a Peterborough man that the Electric City was going into profesional hockey this winter. The promoters of the project, it is said, have their optics on several good ones, and intend having a team of winners.—Lindsay Post.

• • • •

Peterborough is represented in Lindsay to-day by a golf team.

• • • •

George Ballard was in receipt of a letter yesterday from the Western University team, and they are eager to enter the junior series if proper grouping can be assured. It is likely that a meeting of Toronto, Peterborough, Hamilton and London representatives will be held right after the annual meeting in Montreal on Sept. 12.

• • • •

Fred Simpson, Tom Longboat's Mississauga rival, who was scheduled to meet the Onondaga, Harry Lawson, winner of the two Canadian trial Marathons, and Billy Wood of Brantford, the first Canadian to finish in the Olympic Marathon, in a reunion of Olympic Marathoners at Scarboro Beach to-night, got enough of Big Chief's medicine to do him for a while at Lindsay on Monday, and will not be present.

The Marathoners will run a three or five-mile handicap with Longboat on scratch. Lawson will make the big fellow travel to win, and Billy Woods' 1 1-16 miles in 5.20 at Hamilton the other day presages trouble for Longboat if he gets any sort of an allowance.—Toronto Star.

In Robt. Fair and Company's Window This Afternoon.

Much attention was directed this afternoon to the model dressed with the new sheath gown in Robt. Fair and Company's window. The Directoire gown is coming before the public, and it was possibly the first opportunity of Peterborough ladies to see its exact nature.

Several new members were put through the impressive initiation ceremony, after which the right hand of brotherhood was extended to them. The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent, several of the brethren contributing to the song list. Piper Mackay roused all present with his stirring strains on the bagpipes, for which he was lifted shoulder high (still playing) and was carried round the room several times, while all joined in singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The meeting was brought to a successful close by the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

THIS BOY IS A HUMAN DYNAMO

Can Run an Electric Fan With Surplus Electricity—Fair Directors Should Get Busy.

Galveston, Sept. 10.—E. G. Atloy, a seven-year-old boy of Russian parentage, born in America and living in Houston, has been discovered to be a human storage battery of electricity. The widowed mother fears the boy is possessed. He is red-headed, freckle-faced and blue-eyed. A court of medical experts, electricians and physicians has made remarkable tests with the boy.

His strange powers were accidentally discovered by a metal filling which had been put in one tooth. The boy picked up the disconnected porcelain knob that was used to connect an electric fan with an electric light wire and thrust it into his mouth. As the metal cap touched the metal tooth filling the fan began to revolve and then to buzz at full speed. A 32-candle-power bulb was attached to the end of the wire and the light burned brilliantly.

When a steel thimble was put on the boy's finger and he grasped the end of the wires in his hand the same result was obtained. A piece of iron held in the boy's hand for a few moment becomes highly magnetized. A hammer with an iron handle held in his hand will attract tacks at a distance of four feet.

Placed on a glass-legged stool, any one touching him received a distinct shock. An ordinary flat iron held in his hands for five minutes and then passed over tenpenny nails driven into hardwood will pull them with ease.

ENNISMORE HAS BUSH FIRE

Is Raging in Woods on Two Properties —Heavy Losses.

The intelligence was received this morning from Ennismore that a bush fire was raging in the wooded property of Mr. Edward Corkery and Mr. Wm. Crough, between the bridge and the Cross. While it was not extremely large there was, however, a danger of it spreading to more extensive woods. The neighbours have been fighting it during the last few days and are on the alert to keep it within a small boundary.

LADY DRIVERS AT THE FAIR

A Feature This Year and Should Attract Many.

One of the features of the fair this year will be the exhibition of horses and in this regard a special attempt is being made to have a large entry of lady drivers. This is an accomplishment that everyone likes to see carried out gracefully, and at the Fair there is generally an assembly of ladies who are good drivers. The judges for this department have been secured and those wishing to enter should secure a prize list and communicate with the secretary.

McDONEL STREET WOMAN BURNED WHILE PREPARING DINNER---APRON CAUGHT FIRE

While Mrs. Jas. Brownlee, 288 1-2 McDonel street, was preparing the mid-day meal to-day her apron caught fire from the stove, and as a result she was rather severely burned.

She was lifting a pot from the stove and used her apron to take hold of the handle. In some manner the apron caught fire, and it is thought she threw it over her shoulder in an endeavour to put it out.

She was burned on the back to a considerable extent. Dr. McClelland was called and attended her.

It is understood the injuries are not dangerous.

ROBBERY AT DOWNER'S CORNERS REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN CLEARED UP BY THE EXAMINER'S ACCOUNT

Boy Cut the Article Out of the Paper—Parents Became Suspicious---Boy Confessed the Whole Affair.

THE POLICE ARE SEARCHING

The report of a series of petty thefts occurring in rapid sequence last week has stirred the police to increased activity and it was learned last night that they were close on the trail of a gang of boys who are believed to be the guilty parties.

Last Saturday a young lad was arrested on the charge of stealing a case of liquor from a local hotel. One night during the same week the report was received of the theft from another hotel of a considerable quantity of eatables, including a large roast of beef. On Saturday last another robbery occurred at Downer's Corners, when, during the absence of the family, Mr. McGregor's house was looted and among the goods carried off was a gold bracelet, suit of clothes, etc.

One of the boys who was connected with two of these affairs is said to have confessed his guilt, and to have given to the police the full details of the thefts. One of the police was on the lookout last night for the other boys and it is believed that the robberies will be cleared up in a short time.

As usual, there is a leader to the gang, a boy older in years and experience than the rest. Being hungry last Saturday afternoon he told the other boys where they could get some "junk" and led them to Downer's Corners. They carried off butter, preserves, bread, etc., and then went back for money and revolvers. They did not get what they expected in this respect, but ransacked the bedrooms and pocketed small articles which were of value. Among these was the gold bracelet which was mentioned in Wednesday's Examiner. When the paper had been delivered at the home of one of the boys, he, seeing the account of the robbery, cut it out. His parents later secured another paper and after some questions learned everything from the boy. The police shortly after, it is understood, were communicated with and they have been on the lookout for the other boys, who are believed to be in hiding somewhere in the suburbs.

Elopement Of Two Sherbrooke Street Young People On Monday

The report of an elopement of two local young people has been received and from the facts as they are stated there seems to be no doubt that it is a case of the old saying that "love laughs at locksmiths" and parental opposition.

It is learned that the young people have been well acquainted for some time, although the girl's parents objected to the Lothario in the case. Both live on Sherbrooke street, and although the girl's parents tried to keep her from seeing her "beau" their efforts were of no avail. The result seems to have been the opposite to what they wished, and finally terminated in the disappearance of the young couple, a few days ago. Where they went to has not yet been learned, of whether they intend to return to Peterborough. It is of course understood that they ran away to get married since there were objections at home.

New Secretary And Domestic Science Teacher For Y. W. C. A.

Some change are taking place this autumn in the officers and staff of the Y.W.C.A. Miss Maynard, who has been secretary for some time, has gone to Dodds' Ferry, N.Y., where she has assumed her duties as superintendent of a boys' home. Her successor here will be Miss McCullough of St. Catharines, who is expected to arrive about Sept. 15.

Miss Johnston of Rochester has been selected to take charge of the Domestic Science department. She will be in Peterborough on Sept. 21 and will begin her work at the beginning of October.

Miss Coventry will remain physical directress and will begin her work also about the first of October.

The Y.W.C.A. of Peterborough has become a popular place for young ladies. The rooms are or will be all occupied by next week when the Normal School opens, and more could be used if there were more.

Tom Longboat Coming For Y. M. C. A. Harriers' Meet

To-day word was received from Tom Flanagan, president of the Irish Canadians, that Tom Longboat would be here for the athletic meet of the Y. M. C. A. Harriers next Thursday. Tom will run in thee three-mile open race, and with Simpson also a starter, this event alone will be enough to attract many. Tom Flanagan will bring a couple of more runners with him—probably Seljon and Black—who will also enter the three-mile event.

I will sell by public auction, on Saturday morning, September 12th, on the Market Square, at eleven o'clock, one Rubber Tire Stanhope. This is a high-seated vehicle of the runabout style and is practically as good as new. Sale without reserve.

WHY?

It is yet to be explained why Mr. Borden the Conservative leader, in his speaking tour is not accompanied by any of his lieutenants, who have been so conspicuous in exploiting the obiet policy of the party, mud throwing? Hon. Mr. Foster, Mr Fowler, Mr. Bennett, Mr. Ames, at alli, are ignored, and Mr. Borden is starring the provinces accompanied, and joined on the platform, by four Provincial Premiers, who, except as citizens and electors, have no right, official or otherwise to mingle in Dominion politics, who can assume no responsibility and can have no share in carrying out any policy by Mr. Borden in the extremely improbable event of his being given an opportunity. If Mr. Borden should be returned to power he would have to call these gentlemen, whom he now ignores, to his counsels, then why does he keep them in the back ground? He repudiates liquid tomatoes by word of mouth, repudiates his right hand supporters by deed, and aims to play the lone hand.

TWELVE YEARS OF LAURIER.

During the twelve years wise rule of the Laurier Government the export trade of Canada has shown an increase of a thousand million dollars over the export figures of 1896, the last year of Conservative management of national interests. The key to this extraordinary development is found in the following comparison of the export trade of the Dominion with that of 1896. The second column showing the gain.

1897	134,000,000	$18,000,000

TRANSCONTINENTAL ENDORSED

Our local contemporary, can see nothing but evil in the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, but its political confrere, the Toronto News, almost as influential as the Review, endorses the enterprise though it criticises the details and mode of construction. The News, speaking of this great nation-building work is, no doubt, under compulsion of some little consistency and regard for facts when it says:

It is not disputed that the Transcontinental Railway is an important national enterprise, and that the country will benefit greatly by its construction. If by driving a road across Northern Ontario the wide unoccupied gap between Eastern and Western Canada can be bridged with population, the commercial and national unity of the Confederation will be greatly strengthened. If, moreover, it is possible to construct a transcontinental highway by which, through the increasing cheapness of rail transportation, the products of the West can find an all-year outlet by Eastern sea ports, the Maritime Provinces will at last derive some proportionate benefit from the settlement of the Western prairie and the heavy financial burdens which the Eastern people have had to assume on that account.

The Maritime Provinces will, of course, with all Eastern Canada, "derive proportionate benefit." This is not, however, to say that they and all Eastern Canada have not derived benefit from the settlement of the western prairie, as developed by the Canadian Pacific Railway. This benefit has been exercised continuously, since the opening of the latter railway, and the benefits will be duplicated many times by the Transcontinental in operation. The News and other Conservative journals criticise the expenditure upon the Grand Trunk Pacific. Let them contrast the construction of this railway with that of the Canadian Pacific, under the Conservative Government, which was given twenty-five million acres of land and millions in money, while the Grand Trunk Pacific is not given an acre of land, and 1,800 miles will be owned by the people, and the interest on its cost will be repaid into the public treasury. The country does not own a foot of the C. P. R. line, which, nevertheless, has done more than any other similar agency to develop the Northwest, and incidentally, contribute to the prosperity of the older provinces.

The News also endorses the Hudson Bay Railway, and adds that the Conservative party is as clearly committed to the immediate prosecution of this enterprise. But the Liberal Government has the matter in hand and has provided for the construction of the railway by means which will not impose any burdens upon the revenues of the country. It is to be built from the proceeds of the sale of public lands, which by the construction of the line will become of value, instead of being as they, now are, valueless, and willl continue valueless without the construction of the Hudson Bay Railway, or some similar line. The Liberal Government in power are clearly committed to these great enterprises and they are in practical process of completion. The Liberal Government will be returned to power and the country will benefit for another administrative term like those under which Canada has progressed more in twelve years than in all the precedent history of the country.

ELOQUENT SILENCE.

Montreal Herald,

A good deal of curiosity has been excited by the utter and unbroken failure of the Montreal Star to furnish any indication in its editorial columns that there is an election going on. Those who remember that in the elections of 1900 and 1904 the Star was tremendously active in the Conservative interest naturally want to know why it has not a good word to say for Mr. Borden now. We submit that the real reason is not far to seek. There is a question as to personal veracity that has been publicly outstanding for a year between Mr. Borden and Mr. Hugh Graham, who controls the Star, and as Mr. Borden has shown no disposition to publicly withdraw an affront publicly made, it is fair to assume that Mr. Graham, as a man of spirit, finds it impossible to act the servile part that would be involved in giving an active support to the man who effectively accuses him of having made a false statement when on oath. That surely is enough to account for the silence of the Star. In view of the turn Mr. Borden is giving to his present speeches in Nova Scotia, it may be as well to recall the circumstances.

A year ago, Mr. Borden began a tour of Canada at Halifax. In his opening speech at Halifax, carefully prepared and revised long in advance, he made use of these very pointed expressions:

"Fight the ballot thief and the briber of the Liberal machine.

"Strike not only at them, but expose and send to the penitentiary if possible the respectable gentlemen who supply the funds and superintend the work from a safe distance.

"Fight also any influences within your own party which favour corrupt methods.

"Let there be no party fund, the details of which may not be known and the expenditure of which cannot be made public.

"Above all there should be an unflinching determination to pursue by every punishment known to the law the respectable conspirators and not alone their infamous instruments."

This, it will be agreed, was pretty strong language, language which ought not to have been used by a man who was in the remotest way connected with any such proceedings. It seemed to The Herald to be totally out of keeping with the sworn testimony given by Mr. Hugh Graham in a suit brought against him by L'Evenement, a Quebec newspaper, just after the elections of 1904. In the course of his testimony Mr. Graham said that he had assisted the Conservative party "to the utmost of my ability, "principally by making them gifts of money"; that there was a cipher code used, under which he was known as Zandray, Casgrain as Zandrank, and Mr. Pelletier as Zandring; that he sent $10,381.70 to Mr. Pelletier, and $19,000 more to a local committee; and then he continued:

"Perhaps I had better go into a detailed explanation of the matter, because it is a little involved. About the 24th of October—the 23rd or 24th of October — I received a letter from Mr. Borden, the Chief, telling me that monies must not be handled by any person, I believe—I won't quote the exact words, but to the effect that monies must not be handled by men in the party, in public life, or words to that effect, and that it was better to have, in each Province, persons appointed who were in every way acceptable to the party, locally. I sent a copy of that to all the different Provinces where I was giving any assistance."

And Mr. Graham further said that he had sent on October 10, $2,000, on October 17, $3,000; on October 24, $4,000; on October 25, $5,000, and on October 29, $5,000. The elections were on November 3.

The Herald was still endeavouring to reconcile this statement by Mr. Graham with Mr. Borden's talk about sending to the penitentiary respectable people who supply funds from a safe distance, when Mr. Borden reached Montreal. In his speech at Montreal he made a statement which Mr. Graham's newspaper failed to report, but which was as follows:

"I am reproached, I believe, on account of a letter supposed to have been written by me with regard to the distribution of money to men throughout the country, who are not in public life. DURING THE CAMPAIGN OF 1904 NO SUCH LETTER WAS EVER WRITTEN BY ME, NOR AT ANY OTHER TIME.

"So far as these matters, which have been alluded to as matters of reproach to me, are concerned, I say that I have had nothing to do with them from first to last, and I absolutely disown any connection with them.

"Something has been said about some money spent in the Province in the autumn of 1904. I know nothing about that sum of money. I do not believe that the Conservative party had any fund out of which any such sum of money could be sent."

The contradiction of Mr. Graham's sworn statement was so flat that, in his absence from the country, his friends might be excused from printing what Mr. Borden said. But in a few weeks Mr. Graham came back, and, the contradiction outstanding between him and "Mr. Borden, the Chief," being brought under his notice, he wrote an open letter, which he sent to a number of newspapers, preferring, as he explained, to send a signed letter rather than submit to a general interview, "because it is of importance to myself that the impression which goes abroad shall be accurate." He then explained that when the party managers became anxious, because subscriptions might come in slowly, he promised "to make advances against these expected contributions." They did not come, but he had spent his money. And then he says: "WHEN MR. BORDEN WROTE ME THAT FUNDS SHOULD BE DISTRIBUTED ONLY THROUGH COMMITTEES ACCEPTABLE TO LOCAL PARTY FRIENDS" (the letter Mr. Borden had said he did not write) "he had, as far as I am aware, no personal knowledge of any such fund; and is not to-day, so far as I know, cognizant of any such fund, except possibly from hearsay."

There the incident closed. Mr. Graham had sworn he got that letter, Mr. Borden had publicly denied writing it, Mr. Graham had publicly repeated that he received it. And Mr. Borden took no steps, either to send to the penitentiary any respectable gentleman who might have admitted sending money from a safe distance, or to compel a public accounting of the money sent, or to denounce those who had organised a party fund behind his back. He simply went on talking about elections as if none but Liberal workers ever did anything wrong, just as he still gives himself airs of superior virtue, with the aroma of the Colchester tomatoes all about. No doubt Mr. Bayne would say of the grips full of "booze" what Mr. Graham says of the fund from which the "gifts of money" came, that Mr. Borden learned of it only afterwards. But both operations were deliberately planned for his benefit, and one of them succeeded.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Mr. Borden claims that the Conservative party of to-day is the Conservative party of Sir John Macdonald minus Sir John—quite a companion burlesque to Hamlet with Hamlet left out.

Correspondent Claims That Even the Side Lines Are Not Safe From Them

Examiner Special.

St. Joseph s, Douro, Sept. 9. — The weather is very dry here just at present and complaints are heard on every side. The farmers find it almost impossible to plough the ground for the fall crops and are waiting patiently for rain.

Quite a few men from here took in the annual excursion to the West last week.

All are through harvesting in this vicinity with the exception of one or two, who expect to get through before the snow falls. The others are looking around for something else to do.

Automobiles are becoming numerous in Douro. One was seen in the neighbourhood last Sunday painting things red. Even the side lines are not safe from their visits.

Miss Josie Condon has commenced teaching in No. 8, Douro.

Several teachers from this vicinity are going to attend the new Normal School in Peterborough.

Victoria, B.C., Sept. 11.—At a reception given Hon. William Templeman by Liberals, the Minister, referring to what he said the Laurier Government had done, instanced the bonus granted to this section of the Victoria and Eastern Railway from the east and north extension to Fort St. George. He said this would afford means for the G.T.P. to reach Vancouver Island and Victoria, so that Victoria might really become the terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Forest Fires Raging.

Port Arthur, Sept. 11.—Bush fires surround Port Arthur and Fort William, and all day Wednesday the fire-fighting appliances of the two towns were engaged in fighting the flames. At one time the fire between the cities threatened several residences, but after a stubborn fight it was finally extinguished. At the mission at Squaw Bay the Indians had a hard fight with the elements to save the village from destruction.

BEATS JAIL GOVERNOR.

Barrie Prisoner Makes Desperate Attempt at Freedom.

Barrie, Sept. 11.—J. A. Cannon, a smartly-dressed young man, arrested here for passing worthless checks, made a daring attempt to escape, and almost succeeded.

When Turnkey Joseph Somerville went to the south upstair corridor to remove the breakfast dishes, Cannon jumped past the guard into the hospital ward, closing and fastening the corridor door behind him. With the turnkey safely disposed of, he opened the hospital door, which, as it happened, had been left unlocked, contrary to orders, and encountered Governor Sissons in a narrow hall. Here a rough and tumble struggle took place, the governor, notwithstanding his advanced age, putting up a determined fight. The younger man pummelled the governor without mercy. Cannon then jumped over a bannister and landed on the ground floor. Cannn then reached the open air without further serious difficulty.

He was captured at Allandale about six hours later, after having had a shave in the meantime.

The bride tried to raise money by pawning some of her wedding presents, but none of them would advance her any money upon them. Someone, who discovered their plight sent them to police headquarters, where Lieut. Rutledge supplied them with supper and a comfortable room Wednesday night and secured transportation for them to Ithaca.

J. McVety Predicts Blockade of Grain In West.

Winnipeg, Sept. 11.—J. McVety, speaking from the standpoint of the striking C.P.R. mechanics, yesterday predicted that the greatest blockade in the history of the west would be the inevitable result if the present strike continues much longer. He produced reports from points in the country to substantiate this, showing that already the company has failed to supply rolling stock to handle the grain offering. Strikers are now busy preparing affidavits showing the condition of the rolling stock and the running of trains, which will be submitted to the Railway Commission next week. That body will be asked to see that the law regarding inspection is carried out.

Few exporters were on sale and few buyers. Several drovers have made consignments to the British markets, refusing to take the offers of the dealers at present operating on the markets. The highest price quoted at the latter end of the week was $5, and many cattle have been reported at much lower quotations, some even as low as $4.30 to $4.50. Milkers and Springers.

There was a fair supply of milkers and springers offered, and as there were buyers from Montreal, the market ruled fairly strong at about the same prices that have been quoted for some time past. Good to choice cows, ranged from $50 to $60 each, but few bring the latter quotation. The average price for the best cows offering would be between $40 and $50; medium cows, $35 and inferior $30 down to $20.

HAVE YOU THESE SONGS?

In every home that boasts of a piano there is generally a desire among those who sing and play to have the popular music of the day for their own pleasure and that of their friends who call to visit them. While there are some music cabinets that never have on their shelves the compositions of George M Cohan, Richard Carle, et al, still the majority like to have some of the "Harrigan" style for lighter amusement. For the benefit of the latter a few of the new pieces are given here: "It Looks Like a Big Night Tonight" is the song that was whistled at the Toronto Exhibition. It is featured by Leona Thurber in one of the productions of "Coming Thro' the Rye." It is published by Jerome B Remick.

Another is "I Want Someone to Call me Dearie," by Williams and VanAlstyne, also "When Night Falls Dear" and "Rainbow." A very pretty song is "Don't be Anybody's Moon But Mine," the hit of Jos. Howard's musical show, "A Stubborn Cinderella.' "Cuddle up a Little Closer" is the hit of "The Three Twins," the successful show that has had a good run in New York. This music can be secured from the local dealers.

Examiner Special:

Bridgenorth, Sept. 11. — There is something peculiarly interesting in old landmarks. Anything that links the present to the past is looked upon with a certain degree of reverence and should be regarded as almost "holy." That this is so, one need only observe the desire on the part of people and governments to preserve old buildings, citadels, etc., with which is connected any historic event whatever, in order that the young of our land may connect the living with the dead—the present with the past. And it is necessary, particularly in this age when "Young Canada" may be justly accused of a tendency to disregard the old, that such landmarks be preserved, and occasionally pointed out to the rising generations, that its members may see and appreciate their present condition and position in life.

But landmarks are not always of a purely material nature. There are, around us, human landmarks, who serve as links between the present and the past. There are those living in our community whose lives tell stories of patient endurance and victorious industry. The story of the opening up and of the development of our country is the story of the lives of some of our old people.

Only those who have visited the remote backwoods districts north of the settled parts of old Ontario, where pioneer farm settlements follow the track of the lumber camp, can form any idea of the hardships undergone by the first settlers of Peterborough county, at a period still within the memory, of living men and women. There are those living in our vicinity who remember well when an almost "illimitable forest-sea surged" around them, through which for years they had only the precarious guidance of the axe-hewn "blaze" upon the trees. There are those who remember the many contrivances used to pulverize the wheat grain into some resemblance of flour — such contrivances often being mortars made out of the hollowed stumps of hardwood trees, or the use of stones and a pounder. There are those who well remember when the tallow candle gave place to the oil lamp; when horses supplanted oxen as beasts of labour; when the ox-cart gave place to the waggon, etc.

To preserve these human links in bodily form is, of course, an impossibility. Yet, while they live there should be on the part of those who benefit so much from the industry and perseverance of these nation-builders a greater appreciation of their services to the country at large, and when they are removed from the scenes of activity, as they must be, they and their works should be more closely cherished in the hearts of those left behind than, sad to relate, they very often are.

Undoubtedly to many it would seem tedious to set down a mere list of names of those whose memory carries them back to the early years of the past century. It is not the object of this sketch to do. There is, however, one nonagenarian whose privilege it is to recall vividly such early scenes as have been mentioned. To one who has reached the 90th milestone in her life, and to one who has lived the majority of those ninety years in one township, there must be a strange contrast as she looks about her to-day and compares present conditions with those of her early years. To recall the time when her father found it necessary to walk from the township of Smith to Port Hope with a bag of wheat to be ground into flour and to return in like manner, the load however, being much lighter because of the miller's toll; to recall the time when all travel to and fro in the township was by ox-cart or springless waggon; to recall the time when cook stoves were a novelty; such, with other numerous similar recollections incident to pioneer life, are the recollections of Mrs. James Mann, Sr. of Smith, who to-day, surrounded by her family, grandchildren and great-grandchildren celebrated the 90th anniversary of her bith.

MRS. JAMES MANN, SR.,
Who to-day celebrates her ninetieth birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Mann.—Margaret Robinson, — was born in the northern part of Yorkshire on September 11, 1818. When she was six months old her parents sought Canada, to hew out a home for themselves in the then thinly populated country. The journey across the ocean lasted thirteen weeks. When Mrs. Mann was two years old the Robinson family moved from Port Hope into Smith and settled upon the farm now owned by Mr. Frank Higgon the seventh concession of Smith.

In 1841 Margaret Robinson became the wife of Mr. James Mann, who died some years ago, going with him to the farm now occupied by her son, Mr. G. W. Mann. Here their family of seven—three sons and four daughters—were born, all of whom are living except the eldest, Mr. J. H. Mann of Bridgenorth, who died last April.

Mrs. Mann has fifty grandchildren living and twenty-eight great-grandchildren, the majority of whom are celebrating her birthday to-day at the old homestead in Smith.

During her long life Mrs. Mann has been a power for good in the community in which she lives. Her influence was particularly felt in her own home where there grew up sons and daughters to call her name blessed. Some one has said that that parent is thought to have made a valuable contribution to the strength of his or her country who gives her a group of healthy, stalwart, courageous sons for her armies; but, if this be true, how much more shall he or she be reckoned a benefactor who leaves behind a whole family of children trained to wisdom and exercised in godliness? Increase in population may be only the increase of idleness, ignorance, vice etc., but increase in trained Christians will be the security of good institutions. Hence Mrs. Mann felt that the very noblest field of every patriotic and Christian exertion is that which is nearest — the home field. Thus it was that she, now so widely known, has had such a far-reaching influence in the community in which she lives.

Though ninety years old, Mrs. Mann is still very active and attends to her own household duties. Sunday always sees her in her accustomed pew, and, despite her years, she is intensely interested in all that pertains to church work of any kind. Her many friends and acquaintances hope she may yet be spared a number of years, and that the same Divine protection and blessing so long experienced by her may be vouchsafed to her in the coming years.

In order to show, in some external form, a proper appreciation of this good woman, a family reunion is being held this afternoon and evening at the old homestead—a home which speaks volumes for the indomitable courage and persevering industry of this aged woman and her late husband.

Negotiations Under Way To Extend The I. B. & O. Railway

To Georgian Bay On The West And Montreal On The East—The Distances Required.

SUBSIDY VOTED IN 1906

The Railway and Marine World has the following of interest. It is understood that negotiations are in progress with a view to extending Irondale, Bancroft and Ottawa Railway from the point of junction with the G. T. R. near Kinmount, to a point on the Georgian Bay, and from the present terminus near Bird's Creek to Montreal. We are advised that the negotiations have not yet reached a point when a definite announcement can be made.

Last session of the Dominion Parliament, the subsidy voted in 1906 for a line from a point at or near Baptiste, east to Renfrew, not exceeding 75 miles, was revoted. Baptiste is the name of a station near the present terminus of the I. B. and O. Railway, and Renfrew is the point where its terminus is to be situated to conform with the subsidy vote of the Ontario Legislature.

The Toronto and Nipissing Eastern Extension Railway was incorporated by the Ontario Legislature in 1880, with power to construct a railway from a point on the Georgian Bay to Ottawa. In 1884 the name of the company was changed to the Irondale Bancroft and Ottawa Railway, and its powers have been confirmed and extended from time to time. By one statute it was provided that the terminus of the line should be at Renfrew, and one of the subsidy grants provided for the construction of the line from Bird's Creek, the present terminus, easterly, either by the I. B. and O. Railway or by the Toronto, Lindsay and Pembroke Railway. By an act of the Ontario Legislature passed in 1907 the payment of the subsidy for the eastern extension of the line was extended to 1910. The line extends from I. B. and O. Junction on the G. T. R. line to Haliburton, via Irondale to Baptiste, near Bancroft, fifty miles.

A REMEMBRANCE OF THE PAST

Incident in Life of Mr. Alex. Paton Showing Gratitude of the Corporation.

WELL KNOWN IN THE CITY

The Lindsay Free Press has the following story of Mr. Alex. Paton, new proprietor of the Lindsay School of Telegraphy, and a man well known in Peterborough:—

That "corporations have no souls" is an axiom frequently made use of in press and elsewhere. No doubt much occurs to apparently justify the expression, but "an ounce of proof is worth a pound of assertion" any day, and this time the proof is inimical to the axiom above quoted. It is our pleasant mission to supply the rebutting testimony, as follows:

Many in this section are aware of Mr. Alex. M Paton's long connection with the Grand Trunk Railway, yet for the purposes of our story it is necessary that they should be again set forth for the information of all and sundry. Mr. P. was station agent at Harwood from 1877 to 1881, during which period the town was one of the largest lumbering centres in Canada. On the decline of the traffic he was transferred to Hastings, another busy point, where he remained from 1881 until 1893. In the latter year his splendid record won further advancement, and he was given the important position of agent at Lindsay where he looked after the company's affairs with signal success until 1906, when he resigned after 30 years' service in order to prepare for the launching of the National School of Telegraphy, of which he had long before seen the need.

Now comes the really pleasant part of the story. Some few weeks ago Mr. Paton had occasion to apply to Mr. W E Davis, of Montreal, Passenger Traffic Manager of the Grand Trunk, for a railway pass, having occasion to make a journey of some length. The reply to the Davis letter arrived a few days later in the form of a communication from Mr. Logan, assistant to the 2nd Vice-President, informing Mr. Paton that General Manager Hay had confirmed the recommendation of Traffic Manager Davis that Mr. Alex. Paton "be excused from paying fares on any part of the Grand Trunk system in future in recognition of his unblemished record as a servant of the Company for 30 years, and in special recognition of same, that Mrs. Paton be also allowed free transportation."

Surely the above constitutes a gracious action on the part of the Company, and indicates that Mr. Paton stands high in the esteem of the management.

MET AFTER A LONG ABSENCE

Family Gathering at Daisyville, Ont., on Labour Day.

A family reunion was held on Labour Day at the home of Mr. A J Davis and Mr. George Saunders of Daisyville, North Toronto, which proved to be a happy affair. BIGGER, GRANDER AND BETTER THAN EVER--PETERBORO'S FAIR SHOULD BE A GREAT SUCCESS

Bigger, grander, and better than ever.

One week from to-day and the big Fair will be in full swing.

Secretary Hall is a very busy man just now. Entries are coming in fast.

The horse-racing will be about the best ever seen in this city. A number of very fast animals have been entered.

The Midway this year will be large. A number of amusement men have already applied for privileges.

The poultry will this year, as last, be shown in a large tent near the main entrance.

The street railway company will put on a special car service during the days of the Fair, and there should be no complaint on that account.

On the evening of the second day of the Fair there will be a night performance. A band concert, moving pictures and vaudeville performance will be among the items on an unusually attractive programme.

A splendid bill of grand-stand performances has been arranged for and the acts in front of the grand-stand will be well worth seeing.

The grand-stand will be brilliantly illuminated at night.

On the second day there will be a big excursion from Picton which will help to boost the attendance.

There will be special rates on all trains and boats during the Fair and arrangements have been made for a special train as far east as Campbellford on the last day.

Imports Of Canadian Wheat To Britain On The Increase

Still An Unlimited Market There For Our Produce—Butter And Cheese Market.

JAPAN PRODUCING FLOUR

The weekly report of the Department of Trade and Commerce issued yesterday from Ottawa has the following items of interest to Canadian manufacturers and other commercial men. It says:

Birmingham, Eng.—The Board of Trade returns show that Great Britain imports of wheat from Canada are £560,000 in excess of the imports for the corresponding period in 1907; while her imports of cheese from New Zealand show an increase of £200,000. Canadians must not lose sight of the fact, however, that although her exports of wheat to Great Britain show an increase, it is infinitesimal compared with the exports of the United States and Argentina, proving that there is still an unlimited market in the home country for Canadian wheat. Of course, it is well understood by students of the returns that the Canadian harvest of 1907 was exceedingly disappointing. The influence of the United States crisis on Canada's commerce generally is also well understood.

Two items of interest to Canadians, in view of their large imports of cotton and woollen goods, are the decreased British imports of cotton and wool. The decline is something like £16,000,000. The decrease in imports of wool has affected some British possessions very seriously, the shipments from Australia and New Zealand showing a decline in value of over £3,000,000, while British South Africa shipped £600,000 less, and the British East Indies £250,000 less.

Messrs. Waddel & Co.'s weekly report gives the price of butter during the current week at $27.73 and $28.22 per cwt. Salted and choices unsalted at $28.70. Canadian cheese has sold at $14.60 and $14.84, and $15.08 for anything special. The imports of Canadian butter for the week totalled 2,151 cwt., and cheese 65,754 cwts.

Japan — Trade with Canada has only shown a light increase of 12,804l., or 2.5 per cent., a gain in imports, accounted for by an advance in wheat and flower, being counterbalanced by a falling off in exports; of the latter, tea, matting and rice were shipped in larger quantities, but there was a reduction in raw silk and silk piece-goods.

Once more a decrease occurred in the total import of wheat flour, the figures for 1907 being £634,200 as compared with £836,200 in 1906 and £1,961,000 in 1905. The United States were the chief sufferers, their share falling off from £809,000 to £598,000 last year; the Australian contribution also declined from £9,000 to £4,000, but it is satisfactory to note that Canadian flour improved considerably on its previous position, having increased by £9,000, or 63 per cent.; the Japanese, however, are not yet experienced enough to distinguish between cheap American flour and the better but high-priced Canadian products. The reduction in the import of flour is, of course, directly ascribable to the growth of the flour-milling industry in this country, and the larger purchases of wheat; the figures for wheat being £374,600 in 1907 as against £140,000 in 1906.

CHARGED WITH BEATING HIS SON; BOY SAID TO BE INCORRIGIBLE

John Moore was charged in Police Court this morning with cruelly beating his 11-year-old son Walter on Sunday last, Sept. 6. The case was dismissed after the Magistrate had heard the evidence, but both parties were given a warning.

The boy stated that his father had beaten him with a strap on Saturday night for going away from home when he was told to stay, and again on Sunday with a stick for dropping a jar of preserves. He told the court that his father had struck him all over the body, but when at the order of the court he pulled off his shirt only one small mark could be found. The boy explained that he could not go to school because he had been expelled by the teachers.

Mrs. Gray, the boy's grandmother, testified that the father had come to her place on Sunday afternoon looking for the son, who arrived shortly after, whereupon Moore had beaten his son with a stick. She testified that the boy was very bad and that the father could do nothing with him.

Mr. Geo. Cochrane, who was present on behalf of the Children's Aid Society, testified to finding the boy on Murray street on Sunday with a large lump and several marks on his head. He also admitted that the boy was incorrigible and that it was impossible to keep him at the Children's Aid Society's Shelter, as he constantly ran away.

Moore informed the court, that his wife was ill and that he had instructed the boy to remain at home. On Saturday the boy had gone away, leaving his mother alone, and he had thrashed him with a strap. On Sunday the boy had gotten into more trouble and when sent to his room had jumped from the second storey window and escaped to his grandmother's, where Moore found him, and, after cuffing him with his hand had hid him several times with a piece of edging.

The Magistrate remarked that if there was any time when a father should be cool and judicial it was when he was punishing his own child. He did not think it safe to allow a father to hit his son with a piece of edging in a passion, and in dismissing the case warned the defendant to that effect.

Mr. Dumble gave the boy a lecture on his bad behaviour and extracted a promise from him to be good in future and to go to school.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams appeared for defendant.

DOG BIT BOY ON THE FACE; FATHER DEMANDS ITS DEATH

Mr. A. E. Sedgewick who resides about a mile east of the city near the lift lock, registered a complaint this morning against a neighbour, Mr. Harry Butcher.

He states that the latter owns a dog that jumped at his son, biting him on the cheek and drawing blood. Mr. Sedgewick considers that the dog should be shot. Last spring his dog ran after a sleigh and bit Mr. Butcher's son on the leg. On the father's demand that the dog be shot, Mr. Sedgewick gave his permission, as Mr. Butcher said that it the dog became mad his boy would likely suffer, and he did not want to take any chances. When this recent affair took place, Mr. Sedgewick considered that his neighbour should reciprocate, but he says that Mr. Butcher declines to do so. It bit his boy on the face a week ago, but the father has not had a chance to get into the city until to-day. Mr. Sedgewick states that he does not want to cause any trouble, but he believes that it is only fair that this dog should be shot. He will likely try and have the authorities take a hand in the affair.

DIFFICULTY IN BEING ABLE TO OBTAIN OATS

The Quaker Oats Company, have been experiencing difficulty this week in obtaining oats. They use such an enormous quantity, that unless large shipments are brought in at once they have difficulty in keeping the machinery going. The majority of the grain comes from Western Canada and the trouble in getting oats apparently lies in the difficulty in obtaining cars. The company, of course, purchases considerable local oats.

WORKMEN BEG TO GET LABOUR

Twenty-Five Thousand Unemployed in Glasgow.

ARE PLEADING FOR SOULS

Industries on Clyde Are at a Standstill and Thousands Face Starvation —Delegation Presents Pitiful Appeal to the City Council—The Troops Are In Readiness to Quell Any Distrubance.

Glasgow, Sept. 11.—A remarkable scene was witnessed at the offices of the City Council yesterday afternoon.

A crowd of the unemployed gathered in George square, before the council convened, and a delegation of 12 was admitted to the meeting. The councillors received the delegation by rising from their seats.

The spokesman of the unemployed said that never before had there been such distress in Glasgow.

"Every human unit," said the man, "is entitled to food. We make no outrageous request; we are only here to plead for the souls of men and women. They demand work."

The chancellor replied with deep emotion. He said the council had received the delegation in a spirit of brotherhood and that it would do all in its power to help those who needed work.

Large bodies of troops were held in reserve yesterday afternoon in anticipation of rioting and attacks on property. The men, however, have decided to refrain from demonstrating for one week in order to give the council an opportunity to adopt measures for the improvement of the situation.

Estimates of the number out of work in Glasgow and in the towns along the Clyde run as high as 180,000. This is the estimate of the Socialist orators, and men in a position to know call the figures absurd, but the most conservative admit that the number must reach 25,000.

The shipbuilding industry is almost paralysed and most of the great yards on the Clyde are doing little or nothing.

The depression has spread to the steel and textile manufactories, few of which are now employing anything like their full quota of men. Almost every industry is at a standstill, the building trades suffering keenly.

Fierce Football.

Foster at Tillsonburg.

Tillsonburg, Sept. 11.—Hon. Geo. E. Foster addressed the electors of South Oxford and South Elgin in the opera house here last night. The place was packed to the doors, and the meeting was very enthusiastic. Donald Sutherland and David Marshall, M.P., also gave addresses.

Murder Over Watermelons.

Fayetteville, Ark., Sept. 11.—Because John Murray, a well-known farmer, who lived near here charged John D. Holt, aged 28, son of a prominent merchant of Lincoln Park, with stealing watermelons and threatened to whip him, Holt shot and killed Murray from ambush.

Murray's grandfather was shot from ambush and killed in Ohio 40 years ago by a man named Holt.

Federal Contracts Announced.

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—Among the contracts awarded by the Public Works Department are: Military magazine, Toronto, to Baker & Jordan, Toronto, $3,467. Movable dam, steel service and highway bridge and repair shops at St. Andrew's Rapids, Winnipeg, to Canada Foundry Co., Toronto, $548,000. Public buildings at Welland, to Nagle & Mills, Ingersoll, $26,526.

Teachers at Plymouth.

Plymouth, Sept. 11.—The steamer Teutonic, having on board the first contingent of Canadian and American school teachers who are to study the school system in England, arrived here. The teachers were received by one of the reception committees and Alfred Mosely the English educator.

Attempts Suicide in Cell.

Kingston, Sept. 11.—Michael Ryan, arrested for drunkenness, attempted suicide in the police cells. He had his shirt tied around his neck to the iron bars when caught. He is a marine fireman.

St. John Nominates.

St. John, N.B., Sept. 11.—Dr. Pugsley and James Pender were last night nominated for the City and County of St. John, and City of St. John respectively, at the Liberal nomination.

TOLSTOI IS EIGHTY YEARS OF AGE

Great Russian's Birthday Receives World-Wide Celebration.

ADULATION FROM JOURNALS

Newspapers Bring Out Special Jubilee Issues In Honor of Famous Reformer, Philosopher and Author—The Government and Church Frown on the Demonstration on the Part of His Compatriots.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 11.—The newspapers of Russia appeared yesterday, almost without exception, in Tolstoi jubilee numbers, and published pages devoted to his life, criticisms of his literary work and anecdotes of his career. Many of the articles naturally are phrased in terms of extravagant adulation, but in general the criticisms are discriminating and just.

Count Leo Tolstoi, novelist, author and social reformer, celebrated the 80th anniversary of his birth at his home in Yasnaya Polyana yesterday.

The celebrations throughout Russia of the count's birth are much less widespread than was the original intention of his countless admirers, and the prime reason of this is the opposition of the Russian Government and the orthodox Russian Church.

As a reformer, Tolstoi has been the one articulate voice for the one hundred and twenty odd millions of silent suffering people who speak the Russian language.

As an author, he is the greatest survivor of the 19th century, the one man of letters whose reputation has gone to all the ends of the earth.

Uniting the genius of a Shakespeare with the moral fervor of a Hebrew prophet, the recluse of Yasnaya Polyana towers above the grand dukes and superficial aristocracy of his day as a giant among pigmies.

Excommunicated by the church, contemptuously ignored by the state, impatiently regarded by the Liberals, and flouted by the aristocracy, this grown old warrior-saint—the only free man in Russia, as he has been called—is, at four-score years of age, still the beloved and admiration of millions.

Want a French Organ.

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—French Conservatives in Ottawa, are propagating a movement to establish a daily paper in this city, at least during the election campaign, and proposals for the printing are being asked.

The only French paper in the city is Le Temps, of Liberal politics.

Brazil Has the Biggest.

Newcastle-on-Tyne, Sept. 11.—What on paper at least is the most powerful warship ever built for any navy, was launched here yesterday, for Brazil. This latest war machine was christened Minas Geraes by Madame Regis de Olivera, wife of the Brazilian Minister to Great Britain.

Wine District Ravaged.

Rheims, Sept. 11.—The vineyards throughout the entire champagne districts have been devastated by mildew. The crops have been practically destroyed and the output will be only 2,000,000 bottles instead of 45,000,000, which represents a loss to the growers of nearly $20,000,000.

Sent Improper Cards.

Guelph, Sept. 11.—A young Greek, caught by the postmaster of Toronto, sending indecent postcards through the mails, pleaded guilty yesterday in the county court.

He was fined $5 and costs.

AGAINST GRAND JURY.

Montreal Judge Says There Is No Advantage In System.

Montreal, Sept. 11.—At the opening of the September term of the criminal side of the court of King's Bench yesterday, Justice Trenholme condemned the grand jury system.

In his address to that body he said: "So long as the Legislatures of the country see fit to impose upon the community the burden of the grand jury system, which it does in my opinion without any corresponding advantage, it is the duty of the judge presiding at the opening of the term of his court to give the grand jurors some instructions that may aid them in discharging their duties."

A mob at Kenosha, Wis., threatened to lynch Henry Bushman, who while intoxicated, brutally assaulted Miss Anna Doherty.

J. Westmore, aged 101, Kent County's oldest citizen, fell down stairs at his home in Raleigh Township and fractured his collar bone.

Nicholas Prasiloski, a pioneer settler in the Matapi district, was shot and instantly killed by Paul Welsh, who mistook him for a bear.

Five children burned to death in the destruction of a Minnesota farm house while neighbors, unaware of their presence, were saving the furniture.

Ex-Senator Led Mob.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 11.—A despatch from Oxford, Miss., quotes former United States Senator W. V. Sullivan as follows with reference to the lynching Wednesday night:

"I led the mob which lynched Nelse Patton, and I'm proud of it. I directed every movement of the mob and I did everything I could to see that he was lynched.

"Cut a white woman's throat—and a negro — of course I wanted him lynched.

"I don't care what investigation is made or what are the consequences, I am willing to stand them."

Dreyfus' Assailant Tried.

Paris, Sept. 11.—The trial of Louis A. Gregori, the man who on June 4 of this year fired two revolver shots at Major Alfred Dreyfus in the Pantheon at Paris during the canonization ceremonies of Emile Zola, was begun in the Assize Court here yesterday.

Gregori admitted that his act was premeditated and he repeated that he had shot at "Dreyfusism," and not at Major Dreyfus, as a protest against the participation of the army in the ceremonies at the Pantheon.

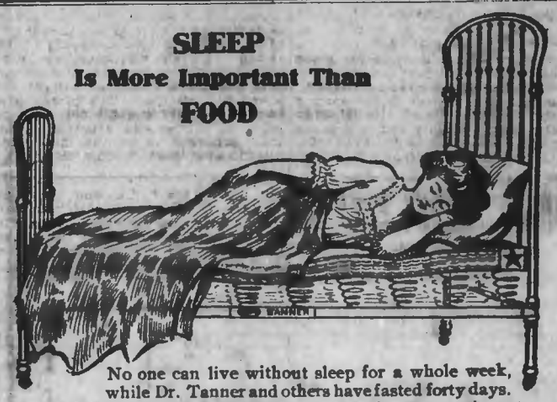
SLEEP

Is More Important Than FOOD



No one can live without sleep for a whole week, while Dr. Tanner and others have fasted forty days. Restful sleep is necessary to do good work—you can't rest in a hammock, or on a spring bed that sags to the centre—your body should be supported throughout, and yet be on a level surface, which yields to every move.

A "Star" Felt Mattress and a "Banner" Spring

fill this bill exactly—will give you comfort and rest—will prevent that tired feeling next morning.

The two cost less than a cheap hair mattress, and are good for an ordinary lifetime—no cleaning—no repairs.

THE EXAMINER'S SPORTING PAGE

NOTES OF THE HARRIERS' BIG MEET; CRACK ATHLETES ARE COMING

Harry Munro, of the Y. M. C. A. Harriers, who won the Eastwood trophy at the boys' meet this summer will be an entrant in the 60 yards handicap at the Y.M.C.A. indoor meet in the Brock street rink next Thursday.

He is in good shape and should make an excellent showing in the event.

With Freddie McGrath and Bobby Kerr battling out the sprints with a big bunch of local and visiting sprinters at the Y.M.C.A. Harriers' indoor meet next week, the result should be some grand contests.

It is altogether likely that the old rivals, Tom Longboat and Percy Sellen of the Irish Canadians will come together in the three mile event at the Harriers' meet. A number of fast local men will start in this event which should be a feature of the programme.

Archibald's pole vaulting exhibition will be an event at the Harriers' meet that should not be missed. The big Y.M.C.A. vaulter who holds the Canadian and British championships jumps in the neighbourhood of 12 feet, and will make an effort to break the Canadian record.

Gebert, who has been doing some grand running this fall, and who was a member of the Canadian Olympic team, will be a starter in the sprints at the Harriers' meet. He cleaned up at Lindsay handily and will make a grand race of it with Fred McGrath and Bobby Kerr.

Ernie Wilson, winner of the Examiner road race last year is in training for the one mile event at the Harriers' meet and will have an opportunity of meeting his old rival Jack Tait, of the Toronto West End Y.M.C.A., and as Chuck Skene, Tait's erstwhile team mate, and now a member of the Irish Canadians, is another probable starter, the race should be about the best of the whole bill, which is going some.

The Otonabee Athletic Club will likely have entries in the sprints and mile race at the Harriers' meet. The club has some promising material and will be heard from before long.

George Fowler of the Y. M. C. A. Harriers, the little English runner who was second to Skene in the mile event at Lindsay on Labour Day, will start in the mile open and the boys' handicap half mile. He will take a lot of watching.

Len Dobson, of the Y.M.C.A. Harriers, who won the half mile handicap last year, will likely start in some of the events at the meet next week.

Smoke, the Chemong Lake "find" who is running under the colours of the Otonabee Athletic Club will, it is expected, start in the three mile open event in which Longboat and Sellen will be entrants.

The entries should be in the hands of Secretary Glover at the Examiner office on or before Saturday next as the handicaps will have to be settled. It should be understood that only registered amateurs will be allowed to compete. The prizes will be well worth going after. Both in point of entries and attendance the meet promises to be the most successful ever held in this city.

DUNLOP TROPHY RACE ON OCTOBER 3RD

Big Field of Famous Ones to Contest for Silverware.

Toronto Sept. 11.—Special.—A merry scrap over the possession of the Dunlop trophy is the next big five-mile event in local running circles. The Dunlop trophy is put up for a team race of five miles. Each team must start six men, and the first four to finish count.

The West End Y.M.C.A. team won the trophy from Central Y.M.C.A. last year, and will defend it on Dec. 3rd.

The West End will have two teams, the Central Y.M.C.A. two, or may be three, and the Irish-Canadians, who are going to take a crack at it this year for the first time, two teams.

West Ends will place their hopes in the keeping of a team composed of Harry Dawson, Fred Meadows, Jack Tait, Alt Sellers and Nat Dyment, while Centrals have a team led by Bredin Galbraith, Jack Near, Frank Schofield, Arnold Knox, Hamilton Adams, with W B Howard, Geo. Lister.

The Irish, of course, will head their team with Tom Longboat and Percy Sellen, with George Black, Claude Pearce, Hilton Green, Chuck Skene, Billy Thomas, Tod Sloan, Jim Corkery, Harold Smith, Delieux, Ernie Woods, and others battling it out for the other four places.

The second teams of each club will consist of the younger runners.

The first teams of each club are truly formidable. From this distance it looks like a toss up for every place. With Meadows, Galbraith and Dawson, in, it will keep the Indian hustling to even land first for the Irish-Canadians, and Near, Dyment, Green, Skene, Sellen, Black, Sellers, Tait are all so close on present form that it is even money and take your choice.

THE SILVER CUP NOW ON EXHIBITION

Has Been Won by the Strathcona Baseball Club.

The Review Cup that goes to the Strathcona Baseball Club, the champions of the Intermediate City Baseball League for the season of 1908, is on exhibition in the window of Lang & Maher's clothing store. It was won by the West Ends last year, the first season of the League. The display of silverware that the Strathconas always have on hand is an indication of their prowess in the different sports they enter. They are at present holders of the Examiner Hockey Trophy which they obtained by winning the championship of the City Hockey League last winter.

McGRATH TO START IN SPRINTS

Fast Local Man Will Appear at the Harriers' Meet Next Week.

Fred McGrath has decided to take part in the sprints at the Y.M.C.A. Harriers' big indoor meet in the Brock street rink next Thursday night and is in training for the 60 yards and 220 yards handicaps. Bobby Kerr and Lou Sellen start in these events there is to be a grand race it the ping is right, and no doubt be. McGrath has a great a sprinter and his many friends will be glad to learn that he out next week. He won the 60 yards at the Harriers' meet last year but in doing so sprained his ankle and was unable to take part in the 220 event which he would no doubt have cleaned up without trouble.

The much-talked-of motor-boat race between the Smalley of Brockville and the Miss Fidgety and Blue Streak, Toronto, came off yesterday afternoon over the National Yacht Club course, Toronto, the Smalley winning by 3 minutes, with Miss Fidgety second, 1 minute ahead of Blue Streak.

T. A. S. CLUB WILL LIKELY ENTER MEN

At the Y.M.C.A. Harriers' athletic meet next week there will in all probability be a string of T.A.S. men entered. Secretary Picard received an invitation this morning and it is likely that the pick of the Club's track men will be entered.

RUGBY

There will be a Rugby practise at Riverside Park to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Every Rugby player in the city is asked to turn out and get in shape. The sooner the players get into shape the better and a big turnout is looked for to-morrow. Any new players in the city are extended a special invitation to be present and they will be cordially welcomed.

MOCK COURT TRIAL NOTES

Of course he fooled her.

Look the jury up all night,

It looks like a packed jury.

Be sure there is no mire on the ermine.

One juror has been tampered with, bought off; this we can prove.

Go to the trial and see how justice is "dispensed" with in Peterborough.

The court officer has a cell all ready for the defendant. He must have "seen" the jury.

Too many widows have been fooled in this city. Some one should be hanged to round out the season.

Make the learned witnesses swear in plain English. That jury is not deep enough for Latin.

Some folks will make a fuss over a smaller matter than a promise of marriage, but they don't live in Peterborough.

One juror has a leather halter in his pocket; made it himself and says it is just the defendant's size.

We are sorry for the defendant; he is guilty, of course, but we always weep when we see a man drawn into a threshing machine.

The judge has blood in his eye. He will avenge the outrage on the affections of the widows of this city or perish at the bar.

Go to the trial and take your wife with you. If you have no wife take your sister, or better yet, take the sister of some one else and let him take yours. In any event go to the trial and have an evening of rare enjoyment.

REAL ESTATE BUSINESS NOW ON THE INCREASE

Rents and Sales Reported Brisk During The Past Week.

A real estate agent remarked to a reporter to-day that business was on the increase. The firm with which he is employed has had numerous inquiries during the past week about houses to rent. These appear to be in great demand. Buyers are also on the increase and real estate men expect to experience a good autumn.

THE DOINGS AT JUBILEE POINT

Big Dance There on Saturday—Many Labour Day Visitors.

Examiner Special.

Jubilee Point, Sept. 9.—Things are still booming at the Point and if present conditions can be considered there will be enough sport to keep the place lively for the rest of the month.

On Saturday last there was a very exciting baseball game between a team of Americans and one of Canadians. After many star plays on the infield and outfield the game was called on account of darkness. It was a pitchers' battle between Mr. Harry Bloom and Mr. Charlie Sisson, but the former had better control of the sphere. As the umpire called the game the score stood two all and the hundred spectators were anxious to see the result.

In the evening about fifty couples participated in a dance gotten up by the guests of the Jubilee House, and some of their visitors. One of teh features was a dance called the Virginia reel, introduced at the Point for the first time by the Americans. The party enjoyed themselves until 12 o'clock. About forty people came to the Point on Saturday evening to spend Labour Day and to try their luck with the finny tribe, with which they had very good success.

The following are a few who came to the Point on Saturday evening—Miss Maud Roberts, Miss K. Burke, Miss Mabel Brown, Miss A. Kylie, Miss E. Kylie, Miss Nellie Gunn, Miss Annie Slade, Miss Emmie Pane, Miss Annie Gilman, Messrs. J. Gunn, C. Gunn, C. Reid, and several others.

On Monday the following left for their homes—Mr. and Mrs. C. Harrison, Hampton, N.Y. Mr. H. Bloom, Jack Goldstein, Louis Goldstein and David Greenberg left for Rochester after spending two delightful weeks at Jubilee. The party took with them the full limit of lunge and bass and were much pleased with the Point.

Mr. G. Pakenham had a very busy time with his launch Buster white at he Point, taking parties out for a all. No matter how the weather was he was always on hand ready for a sail. The remaining guests will be sorry to see him leave for home to-morrow.

One of the most entertaining guests at the Point during the past two weeks was Mr. David Greenberg of Rochester, better known as Mr. Ta?t, who tips the scales at 298 pounds, and what he does not know about lectures is not his fault.

Mr. Gilman has a big moonlight excursion billed for Wednesday night, and the C. G. E. excursion will be held Sept. 12.

Grapewin's Chorus.
—The chorus to be seen with Charley Grapewin this year, in "The Awakening of Mr. Pipp," has been the moving cause of much favourable comment all along the line, as it is said to be truly a most capable one. Good to look upon and made up of fresh, sweet voices that can do ample justice to the several concerted numbers of the play. Mr. Grapewin looks upon his chorus as a useful adjunct, and acting on this idea has devoted much time to make it something more than a simple "line up" of girls.

MILITARY TATTOO AT CAMP

Barriefield Heights Resound With Music of the Bands—Seven Thousand People There.

WERE SPLENDID FIREWORKS

Kingston, Sept. 10. — Special.—Fully 7,000 people were assembled on Barriefield Heights Wednesday evening, the occasion being the annual military tattoo of the massed brass and bugle bands of the camp, assisted by the 14th Regimental Band of Kingston. The tattoo certainly merited the large crowd, and those who saw and heard it will never forget it, and to those who had never before witnessed one it was a revelation. The people commenced coming at 6 o'clock and from then until 8.30 they came in a steady stream, on foot, in runabouts, in phaetons, in large three-seated rigs, in cabs, in automobiles, in skiffs and in motor boats; in fact, they came any way they could as long as they got there.

The plot of ground chosen for the tattoo was quite a distance from the camp, to prevent any trouble with the horses. A finer plot of ground for such an affair could not be found on the heights than the one selected. It was roped off and a line of soldiers kept the people outside the ropes.

At 8 o'clock the hill was black with people. There was no light up to this time, other than the pale rays of the moon, and as one coming down the road, passing through the tented cities on both sides of the road, heard the pawing of horses, the flapping of tents, once in a while a bugle call, and then was suddenly brought in sight of the great mass of people drawn up in a square, without a light to distinguish one another by, it made one think what the soldiers were really for, and wonder for a moment if they had been engaged in a pitched battle. About 8.15 the multitude began to wonder why the tattoo did not begin, when suddenly the strains of the 14th Regimental march were heard, and into the enclosure marched the Kingston Rifle bandsmen, under Bandmaster Walker. After the 14th the other bands came in, each playing its own regimental air, until they arrived at their post, then one band's regimental march was taken up and played by the band that preceded it into the enclosure, so that when the eight bands were in the enclosure all were playing the regimental march of the last regiment to enter. The bands entered in the following order: 14th, 16th, 40th, 45th, 46th, 47th, 49th and 57th. The following programme was rendered by the massed bands and was greatly enjoyed: "British Grenadiers," "United Empire" (Waldmere) "In Old Quebec" "Dominion Grand March," "Rule Britannia," "Nearer My God to Thee," and "God Save the King."

During the intermission between the musical numbers, the large enclosure was turned into a veritable elves play ground, by one of the finest exhibits of fireworks ever seen in this section. The display was simply magnificent. Giant rockets would sail hundreds of feet up into the dark night to shower hundreds of many coloured stars down upon the grounds; large fountains would make the complete square bright by their many coloured lights, making a very pretty scene. Hundreds of other devices, roman candles, wheels, and many others, were used. Two large free balloons were filled and sent up near the first of the performance, and they could be seen for a long time, until they finally became so small they could not be told from one of the many stars that passed peacefully down on the night's gathering.

The tattoo of 1908 will certainly linger in the minds of all as the best one yet, and every citizen, last evening, expressed the same feeling. Everything that could be done was done by Col. Gordon and his staff for the comfort of the public, and they succeeded, even beyond the hopes of the citizens, who are not always easy to please. The affair was over by 9.45 o'clock, but it was quite late before the thousands were all home.

The arrangements for the tattoo were in charge of Maj. Canon Starr and Capt. Hughes. These two energetic officers deserve great credit for the success of the affair.

PARDONED CONVICT GAZES IN WONDERMENT AT THE GLIMPSES OF THE WORLD HE GETS AFTER AN IMPRISONMENT OF TWENTY-FIVE YEARS BEHIND THE BARS

Takes a Child-Like Interest in the Tall Buildings and Trolley Cars —Becomes Frightened by the Rush of Automobiles Through Chicago Streets.

NEW WORLD OPENS TO HIM

When John Gales learned that his twenty-seven years' of imprisonment in the Joliet penitentiary, was at an end and he was summoned into the warden's office to receive a new suit of clothes, a ten-dollar bill and his railway fare to Chicago, it caused no particular excitement in his mind.

He packed up his little belongings in the cell where he had been imprisoned for so many years, gathered together the little hoard of money he had picked up from time to time, amounting to $3.50, and walked mechanically out through the corridor. Three years ago his sister had sent him a dollar, and six months ago Matthew J. Huss, a Chicago attorney, who was instrumental in getting him a pardon, gave him a half a dollar; just how he came by the other $2 Gales could not tell. The guard permitted him to say a word or two to some of his fellow prisoners on the way out, and he was then escorted into the big room where he received the state's gift from the deputy.

Gales was never a talkative man even when he first went to Chicago and knew nothing of the language of the country. And 27 years' residence in the state penitentiary under the rigid rules of the institution is not conducive to either a flow of conversation or of a rapid connection of ideas. But during that time he learned the English language so that he could converse fluently, and that was something he had not done in his early residence in Chicago previous to the crime which, but for Governor Cullom, would have sent him to the gallows. "I wonder if there will be any one here to meet me?" he remarked to the guard in a timid fashion.

Greeted by Attorney

"Your attorney is here," said the guard laconically.

"I've got a sister in Chicago, at least I did have three or four years ago," said Gales, "but she may be dead now."

The little preliminaries were soon arranged. Gales received his railway fare, his ten dollars, and donned the new suit of clothes with a naive delight, and then stepped out into the big hall. The first man to meet him was Matthew J. Huss, his lawyer, and then the waiting group of newspaper men. He smiled rather shyly, and with almost a childish simplicity shook hands with the group. Then with a stoop-shouldered shuffle, the inevitable gait of the long time convict, he walked out into the sunlight. Not once had he been outside the walls of the big prison in the last 27 years.

It was a beautiful day, about 10:30 in the morning, and as Gales looked around him, surveying the blue hills in the distance, he drew in a deep breath and apparently realized that here were no bars between him and freedom for the first time since early manhood.

The largeness of the horizon seemed to daze him, but gradually he recovered and breathed in the fresh air, free from the prison taint.

"Come on, John, we'll take an electric car to Chicago," said Mr. Huss, and the two boarded the car, which slowed down for them. It was Gales' first time aboard one of these cars, and he glanced curiously about. He leaned far out of the window and glanced eagerly at the cattle in the fields near at hand. Suddenly an automobile whizzed past and he leaned back in terror.

"Was that an automobile?" he asked.

The car passed on rapidly by small cottages of market gardeners and these seemed to interest him.

"Do people live there?" he asked. "They'd freeze in winter."

WITH A SURVEY PARTY IN THE CANADIAN NORTHWEST

After we had surveyed six townships, Jones informed us that he had made the unwelcome discovery that they had been surveyed at a wrong angle, and he would have to do the work all over again. This entailed a loss of six weeks, but the work was accomplished, and great was our chief's disgust at finding that he might have saved himself the trouble as the Inspector of Surveys had passed his work whilst we were on another part of the prairie, and had certified it as correct. Occasionally the thought comes to me that when at some future time settlers take up land in that section, there will be dismay in the Crown Lands Department of the Province. In such case, if the officials will apply to me, I will enlighten them as to the true cause of the trouble.

Jones Goes to Medicine Hat

When this work was ended Jones determined to make a trip to Medicine Hat, in order to present his report and get a further contract from the government. He started off on foot, carrying a satchel containing food, etc., on his back, to tramp the 120 miles that lay between us and the railway. We didn't see him again for six weeks. Many were the surmises during that time as to what he was doing. Some were of the opinion that he had skipped out, leaving us to make our way back to civilization as best we could. Others again thought that he must have got lost on the prairie, and horrible visions were conjured up of the man lying stiff and stark at the foot of some desolate gully, his eyes staring fixedly at the heavens, whilst prairie wolves and birds of prey hovered in unpleasant proximity around and above him. Day followed day, and week followed week, and as the weather was fine and there was plenty to eat, and our pay went on, whether we worked or not, we were really not very much exercised in our minds as to whether our beloved chieftain returned to us till the snow flew. Gill made an early but ineffectual attempt to run the camp on his own account, but the squelching he received deterred him from any further efforts in that line. We passed our days in various amusements; fishing for gold — eyes and shooting at pike that owing to the drought and consequent drying up of smaller water courses, had got imprisoned in the deeper pools of these tributary streams.

For this purpose we used the one gun that there was in the camp. On one occasion three of us were strolling along the bank of the stream, engaged in the above-mentioned pastime, when we came to a place where a large pike was swimming restlessly round and round in a pool, endeavouring to find an outlet from its prison. The man carrying the gun fired and up came the pike floating motionless on top of the water. It was a fine specimen and its captor held it up admiringly. "Golly! look at the teeth of him, boys," he said, "My, but if he was alive, them there grinders of his would play hob with my fingers, heh?" As he said this he put his digits into the fish's mouth. The pike had, in reality, been only stunned by the report of the gun, and the sequel can be easily imagined. Its teeth closed quickly on the man's fingers, and the yell of anguish that arose at the selfsame moment reverberated for some time amid the surrounding hills. The poor fellow's antics as he danced about, yelling and swearing, with the fish hanging on to his fingers, were funny enough to witness, but he himself failed to see where the humour of it came in. The bites were severe ones and serious enough to incapacitate him from using his hand for weeks.

Jones Returns to Camp

Just when we had come to the conclusion to break up camp and move to the railway, Jones returned to the fold. Of all the haggard, miserable, half-starved, God-forsaken looking beings that have ever obtruded themselves on my vision in my journey through life, none came anywhere near the spectacle that Jones presented when he staggered into camp on that memorable occasion. He simply reeled into the tent and flopped in a heap on the ground. "Give me some grub," he ejaculated feebly, and it was not long before the cook, who was as tender-hearted as a woman with any one in distress, had a plentiful repast set before him. During all the time he was eating, he kept his eyes fixed on the ground, never raising them from a certain spot, and never uttering a word. He seemed for the time being to be half-demented. We withdrew outside and left him to himself. Many opinions were offered as to his condition, but Hookey was nearest the mark when he observed sagely, "Boys, he aint any crazier than he always was; any man, mad or sane, can generally say somethin', but that there critter is so goldarned weak that he can't even swear,—let alone speak." It was two or three days before our chief was strong enough to set the gang at work again, and he never vouchsafed a word to anyone, either as to the cause of his long absence or as to the reason for the peculiar condition in which he returned to camp. On these points he was as mum as an oyster. He told us, however, that he had obtained a contract for six more townships. These lay on the opposite side of the Red Deer to that on which we had been working, so our first duty was to make a raft and ferry the goods across. I, as being the only one in the party who had shown a partiality for a bathe during the entire survey, was looked upon as the only one competent to get the camp outfit across the water. A small raft was made, and, at five in the morning, of what turned out to be a very cold, windy day, I began the work entrusted to me. There never was a crowd of men whose instincts were so thoroughly antagonistic to getting wet. Jones was the only one who helped at all, and even he got tired of the element after an hour or two in it. As for myself, I was in the water steadily from 5 a.m. to 9 p.m., and got about as chilled as a man well could without being frozen into a mummy.

The Indian Burying Place

There was a nice little grove of cottonwood which appealed to us all as a likely place for a camping ground, and we made haste to select a spot in it suitable for a camp. But when we penetrated to the centre of it we came upon a sight that soon made us hark back to the open prairie. This was nothing less than two or three rough platforms hung in the trees above our heads, which swayed and creaked mournfully in the breeze. None of us had the curiosity to climb up and discover what they supported, but we came to the conclusion, rightly or wrongly, that they held the bodies of departed braves, and quite as much in deference to our own feelings as to a reverential attitude towards the departed, we elected to pitch our tents in the midst of more cheerful surroundings. It was at this spot that the cook made another weird essay in the fields of poesy, this time being urged by his passionate muse to write on Love. I copied it into my diary as a specimen of what a lunatic, an otherwise sane man, can become when he allows his imagination to run riot through his intellect:

Ah, Love! with what strange glamour thou surrounds us!
How meekly man, proud man, doth at thy footstool bow!
One wayward glance from heaven to hell will send us,
And when you smile 'tis death at one fell blow!

Woman, thy winning smiles we blindly follow!
The way you tease our hearts beats Old Nick hollow!
'Tis all the same with peasant, prince or Hottentot,
Angels we are made by your love divine; your scorn turns us savage as Pi-a-Pot."

Pi-a-Pot was at that time one of the chiefs of the Crees.

(To be continued.)

BETTER THAN EVER

Charley Grapewin in "The Awakening of Mr. Pipp."

Charley Grapewin, the inimitable, is back in town, and yesterday, before two large audiences at the Grand, he showed theatre-goers just how funny a thing a man may be when he starts out to drown memory in wine. Charley Grapewin and Mr. Pipp are a combination to make glad the heart of man, which loveth light and frivolous amusement. It is difficult to say anything new about Mr. Grapewin and his charming wife in the famous musical farce, "The Awakening of Mr. Pipp," because it has been presented here several times and everybody knows just how good it is, and Mr. Grapewin's "the morning after the night before," is as luminous and as realistic as ever, and his recovery as pathetic and side-splitting.

The production this season is by far the best that has been seen here, and the company the strongest that has ever supported the popular principals. There is an stronger and prettier chorus, and plenty of work is found for them. The young ladies were the cause of much favourable comment, as the chorus is made up of fresh, sweet voices, that can do ample justice to the several concerted numbers of the play. Mr. Grapewin looks up on his chorus as a useful adjunct and acting on this idea has devoted much time in making it more than a simple "line-up" of girls. The "gossips" turn made a particular hit with the audience and evoked the greatest hilarity.

Besides the stars—Mr. Grapewin and his clever wife—there were two who added to the enjoyment by their good work—Eddie Genaye, "messenger boy," and Vera DeFord, as "Dropsy."

A novelty in the chorus in the last act was the introduction on the part of one statuesque young lady of the famous sheath gown, which didn't seem as terrible after all, as rumour had led the imagination to believe. This will probably be the last time Mr. Grapewin will appear in "Mr. Pipp," and those who want to see him in it should book early.—Toronto Globe.

GIRLS WHO WORK

Girls who work for their living are especially exposed to the dangers of organic feminine disorders. Standing all day, or sitting in cramped positions; walking to and from their places of employment in bad weather all tend to break down their delicate feminine organism.

No class of women are in need of greater assistance, and thousands of letters like the following demonstrate the fact that restores the feminine system to a strong, healthy, normal condition.

Miss Abby F. Barrows, of Nelsonville, Ohio, writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was very sick, had dull headaches, pain in my back, and a feminine weakness. I had been to several doctors and they did me no good. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me well and strong, and I can do most any kind of work. I am in better health than I ever was, and it is all due to your medicine."

Miss Lillian Ross, of 530 E. 84th St., New York, writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I had a female trouble, nervous headaches, and was tired all the time, and could not sleep. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me feel so much better that I hope every woman who suffers as I did will try it."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for feminine ills, and has positively cured thousands of women. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice.

At sight of the naked weapons there was confusion, wherein the commands of the deputies mingled with the shrieks of the women, the crash of overturned chairs and the sound of tramping feet, as the crowd divided before Glenister and swept back against the wall in the same ominous way that a crowd in the street had once divided on the morning of Helen's arrival. The trombone player, who had sunk low in his chair with closed eyes, looked out suddenly at the disturbance, and his alarm was blown through the horn in a startled squawk. A large woman whimpered, "Don't shoot," and thrust her palms to her ears, closing her eyes tightly.

He lowered himself down over the dance era.

Glenister covered the deputies, from whose vicinity the bystanders surged as though from the presence of lepers.

"Hands up!" he cried sharply, and they froze into motionless attitudes, one poised on the lowest step of the stairs, the other a pace forward. Voorhees appeared at the head of the flight and rushed down a few steps only to come abruptly into range and to assume a like rigidity, for the young man's aim shifted to him.

"I have a warrant for you," the officer cried, his voice loud in the hush.

"Keep it," said Glenister, showing his teeth in a smile in which there was no mirth. He backed diagonally across the hall, his boot heels clicking in the silence, his eyes shifting rapidly up and down the stairs where the danger lay.

From her station Helen could see the whole tableau, all but the men on the stairs, where her vision was cut off. She saw the dance girls crouched behind their partners or leaning far out from the wall with parted lips, the men eager, yet fearful, the bartender with a half polished glass poised high. Then a quick movement across the hall suddenly diverted her absorbed attention. She saw a man rip aside the drapery of the box opposite and lean so far out that he seemed in peril of falling. He undertook to sight a weapon at Glenister, who was just passing from his view. At her first glance Helen gasped, her heart gave one fierce lunge, and she cried out.

The distance across the pit was so short that she saw his every line and lineament clearly; it was the brother she had sought these years and years before she knew or could check it the blood call leaped forth.

"Drury!" she cried aloud, at which he whipped his head about, while amazement and some other emotion she could not gauge spread slowly over his features. For a long moment he stared at her without movement or sign while the drama beneath went on, then he drew back into his retreat with the dazed look of one doubting his senses, yet fearful of putting them to the test. For her part, she saw nothing except her brother vanishing slowly into the shadows, as though stricken at her glance, the curtains closing before his livid face, and then pandemonium broke loose at her feet.

Glenister, holding his enemies at bay, had retreated to the double doors leading to the theater. His coup had been executed so quickly and with such lack of turmoil that the throng outside knew nothing of it till they saw a man walk backward through the door. As he did so he reached forth and slammed the wide wings shut before his face, then turned and dashed into the press. Inside the dance hall loud sounds arose as the officers clattered down the stairs and made after their quarry. They tore the barrier apart in time to see, far down the saloon, an eddying swirl as though some great fish were lashing through the lily pads of a pond, and then the swinging doors closed behind Glenister.

Helen made her way from the theater as she had come, unobserved and unobserving, but she walked in a dream. Emotions had chased each other too closely tonight to be distinguishable, so she went mechanically through the narrow alley to Front street and thence to her home.

Glenister meanwhile had been swallowed up by the darkness, the night enfolding him without sign or trace. As he ran he considered what course to follow—whether to carry the call to his comrades in town or to make for the creek and Dextry. The vigilantes might still distrust him, and yet he owed them warning. McNamara's men were moving so swiftly that action must be speedy to forestall them. Another hour and the net would be closed, while it seemed that whichever course he chose they would snare one or the other—either the friends who remained in town or Dex and Slapjack out in the hills. With daylight those two would return and walk unheeding into the trap, while if he bore the word to them first then the vigilantes would be jailed before dawn. As he drew near Cherry Malotte's house he saw a light through the drawn curtains. A heavy raindrop plashed upon his face, another followed, and then he heard the patter of falling water increasing swiftly. Before he could gain the door the storm had broken. It swept up the street with tropical violence, while a breath sighed out of the night, lifting the litter from underfoot and pelting him with flying particles. Over the roofs the wind rushed with the rising moan of a hurricane, while the night grew suddenly noisy ahead of the tempest.

He entered the door without knocking to find the girl removing her coat. Her face gladdened at sight of him, but he checked her with quick and cautious words, his speech almost drowned by the roar outside.

"Are you alone?" She nodded, and he slipped the bolt behind him, saying:

"The marshals are after me. We just had a 'run in' at the Northern, and I'm on the go. No—nothing serious yet, but they want the vigilantes, and I must get them word. Will you help me?" He rapidly recounted the row of the last ten minutes, while she nodded her quick understanding.

"You're safe here for a little while," she told him, "for the storm will check them. If they should come, there's a back door leading out from the kitchen and a side entrance yonder. In my room you'll find a French window. They can't corner you very well."

"Slapjack and Dex are out at the shafthouse—you know—that quartz claim on the mountain above the Midas." He hesitated. "Will you lend me your saddle horse? It's a black night, and I may kill him."

"What about these men in town?"

"I'll warn them first, then hit for the hills."

She shook her head. "You can't do it. You can't get out there before daylight if you wait to rouse these people, and McNamara has probably telephoned the mines to send a party up to the quartz claim after Dex. He heard the voice of Bering as it thundered on the golden sands, and knew that the first great storm of the fall had come. Henceforth he saw that the violence of men would rival the rising elements, for the deeds of this night would stir their passions as Aeolus was rousing the hate of the sea.

He neglected to bolt the house door as he entered, but flung off his dripping coat and, seizing pad and pencil, scrawled his message. The wind screamed about the cabin, the lamp flared smokily and Glenister felt a draft suck past him as though from an open door at his back as he wrote:

I can't do anything more. The end has come, and it has brought the hatred and bloodshed that I have been trying to prevent. I played the game according to your rules, but they forced me back to first principles in spite of myself, and now I don't know what the finish will be. Tomorrow will tell. Take care of your uncle, and if you should wish to communicate with me, go to Cherry Malotte. She is a friend to both of us. Always your servant, ROY GLENISTER.

As he sealed this he paused, while he felt the hair on his neck rise and bristle and a chill race up his spine. His heart fluttered, then pounded onward till the blood thumped audibly at his ear drums and he found himself swaying in rhythm to its beat. The muscles of his back cringed and rippled at the proximity of some hovering peril, and yet an irresistible feeling forbade him to turn. A sound came from close behind his chair—the drip, drip, drip of water. It was not from the eaves, nor yet from a faulty shingle. His back was to the kitchen door, through which he had come, and, although there were no mirrors before him, he felt a menacing presence as surely as though it had touched him. His ears were tuned to the finest pin pricks of sound, so that he heard the faint, sighing "squish" of a sodden shoe upon which a weight had shifted. Still something chained him to his seat. It was as though his soul laid a restraining hand upon his body, waiting for the instant.

He let his hand seek his hip carelessly, but remembered where his gun was. Mechanically he addressed the note in shaking characters, while behind him sounded the constant drip, drip, drip that he knew came from saturated garments. For a long moment he sat, till he heard the stealthy click of a gun-lock muffled by finger pressure. Then he set his face and slowly turned to find the Bronco Kid standing behind him as though risen from the sea, his light clothes wet and clinging, his feet centered in a spreading puddle. The dim light showed the convulsive fury of his features above the leveled weapon, whose hammer was curled back like the head of a striking adder, his eyes gleaming with frenzy. Glenister's mouth was powder dry, but his mind was leaping riotously like dust before a gale, for he divined himself to be in the deadliest peril of his life. When he spoke the calmness of his voice surprised himself.

"What's the matter, Bronco?" The Kid made no reply, and Roy repeated, "What do you want?"

"That's a hell of a question," the gambler said hoarsely. "I want you, of course, and I've got you."

"Hold up! I am unarmed. This is your third try, and I want to know what's back of it."

"Damn the talk!" cried the faro dealer, moving closer till the light shone on his features, which commenced to twitch. He raised the revolver he had half lowered. "There's reason enough, and you know it."

Glenister looked him fairly between the eyes, gripping himself with firm hands to stop the tremor he felt in his bones. "You can't kill me," he said. "I am too good a man to murder. You might shoot a crook, but you can't kill

"You can't kill me," he said. "I am too good a man to murder."

a brave man when he's unarmed. You're no assassin." He remained rigid in his chair, however, moving nothing but his lips, meeting the other's look unflinchingly. The Kid hesitated an instant, while his eyes, which had been fixed with the glare of hatred, wavered a moment, betraying the faintest sign of indecision. Glenister cried out exultantly:

"Ha! I knew it. Your neck cords quiver."

The gambler grimaced. "I can't do it. If I could, I'd have shot you before you turned. But you'll have to fight, you dog. Get up and draw."

Roy refused. "I gave Cherry my gun."

"Yes, and more, too," the man gritted. "I saw it all."

Even yet Glenister had made no slightest move, realizing that a feather's weight might snap the gambler's nervous tension and bring the involuntary twitch that would put him out swifter than a whip is cracked.

"I have tried it before, but murder isn't my game." The Kid's eye caught the glint of Cherry's revolver where she had discarded it. "There's a gun. Get it!"

"It's no good. You'd carry the six bullets and never feel them. I don't know what this is all about, but I'll fight you whenever I'm heeled right."

"Oh, you black hearted hound!" snarled the Kid. "I want to shoot, but I'm afraid. I used to be a gentleman, and I haven't lost it all, I guess. But I won't wait the next time. I'll down you on sight, so you'd better get ironed in a hurry." He backed out of the room into the semidarkness of the kitchen, watching with lynxlike closeness the man who sat so quietly under the shaded light. He felt behind him for the outer doorknob and turned it to let in a white sheet of rain, then vanished like a storm wraith, leaving a parched lipped man and a zigzag trail of water, which gleamed in the lamplight like a pool of blood.

CHAPTER XVIII.

GLENISTER did not wait long after his visitor's departure, but extinguished the light, locked the door and began the further adventures of this night. The storm welcomed him with suffocating violence, sucking the very breath from his lips, while the rain beat through till his flesh was cold and aching. He thought with a pang of the girl facing this tempest, going out to meet the thousand perils of the night. And it remained for him to consider his part as she bore hers, smugly.

The last hour had added another and mysterious danger to full measure. Could the Kid be jealous of Cherry? Surely not. Then what else?

The tornado had driven his trailers to cover, evidently, for the streets were given over to its violence, and Roy encountered no hostile sign as he was buffeted from house to house. He adventured cautiously and yet with haste, finding certain homes where the marshals had been before him peopled now only by frightened wives and children. A scattered few of the vigilantes had been taken thus, while the warring elements had prevented their families from spreading the alarm or venturing out for succor. Those whom he was able to warn dressed hurriedly, took their rifles and went out into the drifting night, leaving empty cabins and weeping women. The great fight was on.

Toward daylight the remnants of the vigilantes straggled into the big blank warehouse on the sandspit and there beneath the smoking glare of lanterns cursed the name of McNamara. As dawn grayed the ragged eastern skyline, Dextry and Slapjack blew in through the spindrift, bringing word from Cherry and lifting a load from Glenister's mind.

"There's a game girl," said the old miner as he wrung out his clothes. "She was half gone when she got to us, and now she's waiting for the storm to break so that she can come back."

"It's clearing up to the east," Slapjack chattered. "D'you know I'm gettin' so rheumatic that ice water don't feel comfortable to me no more."

"Uriatic acid in the blood," said Dextry. "What's our next move?" he asked of his partner. "When do we hang this politician? Seems like we've got enough ablebodied piano movers here to tie a can on to the whole outfit, push the town site of Nome off the map and start afresh."

"I think we had better lie low and watch developments," the other cautioned. "There's no telling what may turn up during the day."

"That's right. Stranglers is like spirits—they work best in the dark."

As the day grew the storm died, leaving ramparts of clouds hanging sullenly above the ocean's rim, while those skilled in weather prophecy foretold the coming of the equinoctial. In McNamara's office there was great stir and the coming of many men. The boss sat in his chair, smoking countless cigars, his big face set in grim lines, his hard eyes peering through the pall of blue at those he questioned. He worked the wires of his machine until his dolls doubled and danced and twisted at his touch. After a gusty interview he had dismissed Voorhees with a merciless tongue lashing, raging bitterly at the man's failure.

"You're not fit to herd sheep. Thirty men out all night and what do you get? A dozen mullet headed miners. You bag the mudhens and the big game runs to cover. I wanted Glenister, but you let him slip through your fingers—now it's war. What a mess you've made! If I had even one helper with a brain the size of a flaxseed, this game would be a gift, but you've bungled every move from the start. Bah! Put a spy in the bull pen with those prisoners and make them talk. Offer them anything for information. Now get out!"

He called for a certain deputy and questioned him regarding the night's quest, remarking finally:

"There's treachery somewhere. Those men were warned."

"Nobody came near Glenister's house except Miss Chester," the man replied.

"What?"

"The judge's niece. We caught her by mistake in the dark."

Later, one of the men who had been with Voorhees at the Northern asked to see the receiver and told him:

"The chief won't believe that I saw Miss Chester in the dance hall last night, but she was there with Glenister. She must have put him wise to our game or he wouldn't have known we were after him."

His hearer made no comment, but when alone rose and paced the floor with heavy tread while his face grew savage and brutal.

"So that's the game, eh? It's man to man from now on. Very well, Glenister, I'll have your life for that, and then—you'll pay, Miss Helen." He considered carefully. A plot for a plot. If he could not swap intrigue with these miners and beat them badly, he deserved to lose. Now that the girl gave herself to their cause, he would use her again and see how well she answered. Public opinion would not stand too great a strain, and although he had acted within his rights last night, he dared not go much further. Diplomacy therefore must serve. He must force his enemies beyond the law and into his trap. She had passed the word once. She would do so again.

"Hecla" Furnaces

No dust can escape through "Hecla" Fused Joints. They are absolutely tight and will remain so. That is what makes the "Hecla" the safest and most sanitary furnace to buy. It supplies only pure and fresh warm air, without a trace of gas or dust.

The "Hecla" is economical in the consumption of fuel. The Steel Ribbed (Patented) Fire Pots, which have twice as much radiating surface as any other style of fire pot, draw a great deal of heat from the fire that in other furnaces would be sent out of the chimney.

Our catalogue tells more about these and other exclusive features of "Hecla" construction. 59

Examiner Special

Warsaw, Sept. 9.—One of the most delightful picnics of the season was that of the Warsaw and Cottesloe Presbyterian Sunday schools held in Mr. Geo. Tucker's beautiful grove on the afternoon of Labour Day. Prior to the serving of refreshments, some two hours were spent in races and games, many of the former being warmly contested, especially the men's running event.

Havelock Yardman Breaks Ribs In Jumping From Engine; News Of The Strike Situation

Examiner Special

Havelock, Sept. 4.—The local junior football team journeyed over to Marmoria on Friday night of last week in answer to a challenge from the junior team of that town for a football match. When they arrived there they found a senior deputation consisting of members of their senior team, one man from Madoc and one from Deloro, awaiting them. Never daunted, they lined up for battle and succeeded in holding their much heavier opponents for some time by their fast play. In the second half, Marmora succeeded in scoring a goal off a corner which was indeed, foul, but they would listen to nothing to that effect. No more goals were scored, so the game ended 1—0 in favour of Marmora. The following was the Havelock line-up:

Goal—Herrington.
Backs—Livingston, Warner.
Halves—Bryans, Buchanan, Barrie.
Centre—Barlow.
Right wing—Armstrong, Frost.

The return game will be played at some future date when the Havelock team hope to put it over their eastern neighbours.

Mr. F Haig, of town, yardman on the C.P.R., here, happened with an accident on Monday night which will lay him up for a few weeks. He was riding up on the engine to the west end to turn a switch and jumping off while the engine was still running, tripped on the switch and fell forcibly, thereby breaking three ribs. Mr Haig is doing very well.

The strike situation in Havelock remains just about the same; as yet there is no break in the ranks of the strikers, although there are several men from Toronto working in their places. A large number coming down here to work have been persuaded to return by having their fare paid, while others have been given jobs about town. All the supplies for the strikebreakers are brought from Peterborough. They live in cars near the shops. There are several detectives on duty here at present. The trains have been running late recently, but that is on account of the exhibition.

The ruins of the fire are being cleaned up and appearance seems to show that new buildings will soon be put up in their places. Mr. S S Joyce has already got the wall made for a new building, the same size as the old one. Mr. Coon has stated that he will rebuild at once.

Work is very slow at Swift & Co's ice house here on account of the strike. The ice company have decided to ship their goods on other lines until the strike is settled. Generally six men are employed at the ice house while only one man is doing the work now.

Fires have been raging all over the north country lately. The forest back of Round Lake is afire and as there is very little rain, there is nothing to stop it, and it may do a great deal of damage if rain does not soon set in.

The duck hunter is at present searching the lakes and rivers in this vicinity and shooting ducks and some things that are not ducks. It is also reported that they cannot tell wild duck from tame ones and everything points to tame ducks being a very high price this fall.

The last of the berries have been picked for this year. It is eight years since this vicinity has seen such large berry crops. From strawberries to thimbleberries there have been plentiful crops, although sometimes it looked doubtful with a very strong sun and no rains to counteract its rays.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Jackson and children of Cobalt, are visiting friends in town.

Mr. E Maidens, of Belleville, formerly of town, is in town for a few weeks.

Messrs. H Barrie, H Thompson and O Herrington left on Monday for the training camp at Kingston.

Miss Tillie Campbell is visiting friends in Toronto.

Messrs. W Herrington and A Innis, of the Parry Sound branch of the C.P.R., spent this week at their homes in town.

THE KEENE FAIR OUTLOOK

Examiner Special

Keene, Sept, 8.—Mrs. Susan Taylor is visiting friends in Bowmanville.

Miss Agnes Doris returned Monday from spending her vacation in Rochester.

Miss Bessie English, Ottawa, is the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. John Drummond.

The steamer Rainbow will run its annual three days' trip to Stony Lake next week, leaving Tuesday morning, returning Thursday. Tuesday and wednesday nights will be spent at Mount Julian Hotel and Wednesday will be spent sailing around the Kawartha Lakes.

Mrs. J Campbell, Mrs. Dolby and Miss Jean Dolby, Orillia, who have been the guests of Mrs. A Campbell, returned home Tuesday.

A large number of Keene people are attending the Toronto Fair.

Miss Clara Campbell is the guest of Mrs. W J Mein, Peterborough.

For the convenience of those wishing to attend the Toronto Fair the Grand Trunk Railway is running the early morning train from Campbellford instead of from Peterborough, getting into Toronto at 10.30 a.m., and returning, leaving Toronto at 7.05 p.m., during the second week of the Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. A E Wood are attending the Toronto Fair.

Miss Amy Drummond returned last week from visiting relatives in Toronto

Miss May Collins and Mr. Joseph Collins, Douro, visited at the home of Mrs. John O'Keefe, Sunday.

Mr. Charles Hall, Monaghan, spent Sunday in Otonabee.

Keene Fair will be held Tuesday and Wednesday Oct. 6th and 7th. The Agricultural Society is in excellent shape, financially, and every year is a little ahead of the previous year, as regards exhibits and attendance. The fair grounds are now the property of the Society, the balance having been paid off after last fair and the directors have been, on account of their excellent financial position, enabled to offer much better prizes than heretofore.

The Post Office Department is asking for tenders for carrying the mail twice daily between Keene Post Office and Keene Station. The present contractor is carrying it for fifty dollars a year, which figures out about sixteen cents a day for a trip of eight miles. It is said that this is the lowest amount paid anywhere by the Post Office Department for carrying the mail that distance and even at that figure it is higher than it was some years ago. The mail carrier runs a stage and carries a load each trip of either passengers or freight and also handles the express. As the revenue from these sources is considerable the competition has been very keen and has resulted in cutting the salary down very low. Mr. I McNeven the present mail carrier, however, has decided not to accept the contract for the coming four years at the old figure.

The Great Art.

Culture is the ability to use learning intelligently and effectively—in doing sensible and beautiful, rather than startling, things. As the poet says, "Of all the arts, great music is the art to raise the soul above all earthly storms." To the truly cultivated, the New Scale Williams Piano lays bare the secrets of the world's best music. Its grandeur of tone, superb action, and sympathetic touch, enable the performer to interpret every mood of the composer. Mechanically, the New Scale Williams is absolutely faultless. "I predict for it a distinctive place among the great pianos." —Ben Davies. Mr. Davies' prediction has come true. To day, the New Scale Williams enjoys a prestige that is the admiration of the music-loving world. In the homes, on the concert stage, in the studios of the teachers and artists, it is the honored guest. It is safe to say, that among the great pianos, the New Scale Williams is greatest. 5

NO MORE HEADACHES

Suffered From Constant Headaches—Cured by "Fruit-a-tives" When Doctors Failed.

"I was a sufferer from fearful headaches for over two years, sometimes they were so bad that I was unable to work for days at a time. I took all kinds of medicines, was treated by physicians, and yet the headaches persisted. I was rarely free from headache. A short time ago I was advised to try "Fruit-a-tives" and I did so with, I must confess, very little faith, but after I had taken them for three days my headaches were easier and in a week they left me. After I had taken a box of the tablets my headaches were quite cured. My appetite was always poor and my stomach bad, and now my appetite is splendid and my digestion is excellent. I had become thin and weak from the constant headaches, but now not only have I been cured of all these awful headaches, but my strength is growing up once more, and I feel like a new man. I have taken in all three boxes of "Fruit-a-tives." I am exceedingly grateful to "Fruit-a-tives" for curing me, and I give this unsolicited testimonial with great pleasure, as I hope thereby some other sufferer of headaches will be induced to try "Fruit-a-tives" and will be cured."

(Sgd.) B. Cornell.

"Fruit-a-tives" is now put up in the new 25c trial size as well as the regular 50c boxes. Write Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, if your dealer will not supply you.
